So. Methodist won the S.S.Y.M.C.A. Intermediate Church softball league championship last Thursday with a 12 to 5 victory over Washington Ave. E. U. B. Lefty Carter again pitched superbly although he weakend in the last two innings when Washington Ave. scored five runs. John Kirby blasted a home run for Washington.

So. Methodist won the championship in the Jr. softball league Friday with a 7 to 0 forfeit victory over St. Leo's.

On Thursday evening Aug. the 18th all managers of teams in both leagues are invited to attend a party at the S. S. Y. Park in honor of both championship teams and those men who acted as umpires during the past season.

Novena Devotions At St. Ladislaus

The Rev. Father Reihl cordially invites the public to attend the Novena Devotions to the Infant of Prague, which are being held each Wednesday evening at 7:30 in St. Ladislaus Church, Columbus. The Church at 277 Reeb Ave. is close to both the Parsons Avenue and the South High St. bus lines.

Devotion to the Infant Jesus has become universal, having originated in Prague in the year 1620. Many extraordinary and miraculous favors have been granted through the devotion to the Child Jesus.

Let's Explore Ohio

EARLY CANALS AND ROADS

The southwestern corner of Ohio is rich in history. It was at Cincinnati that the second settlement in the Northwest Territory was established in a real estate bargain second only to the purchase of Manhattan Island from the Indians.

Matthias Denman bought 740 acres of land, now downtown Cincinnati, for $125 back in 1788 for the purpose of establishing a town and a ferry across the Ohio River.

Fort Washington was built here in 1789 and became the base for most of the military expeditions into the Indian country to the north by General St. Clair, General Wayne, General Harrison and the others who finally secured the western frontier for Ohio settlements. Many motorists each year visit the monument on the site of Fort Washington in Cincinnati.

Homes of four United States Presidents are in or near the Queen City: William Howard Taft in Cincinnati; William Henry Harrison and his grandson Benjamin Harrison at North Bend, just west of the Ohio River metropolis; and Ulysses S. Grant at Point Pleasant, just a few miles east of Cincinnati on the Ohio River.

One of Ohio's first roads from Toledo along the Indians' Miami Trail, ended at Cincinnati as did a branch road off Zane's Trace from Chillicothe. This city was also the south terminal of the Miami and Erie Canal that connected with Lake Erie at Toledo. This canal, whose course is now a busy Cincinnati street underlain by an incompleted subway, set off the German section which was commonly known as the "Over the Rhine" area.

In 1847, Ohio's historian, William H. Howe, described Cincinnati's location as: ". . . 950 miles from New York by Miami and Erie Canal, Lake Erie, the Erie Canal and the Hudson River," the route followed by many of the immigrants who settled in western Ohio. The Cincinnati and White Water Canal extended 25 miles to the westward to connect with the White Water Canal of Indiana. The site of old Fort Finney, built by the Kentuckians at the mouth of the Great Miami River in 1785, is but a short distance down the Ohio from Cincinnati off Route 50.

Route 127 to Hamilton and Route 4 from there to Middletown follow the path of the early Toledo road and parallels the route of the Miami and Erie Canal which supplied waterpower for industries in these cities as well as transportation for the products of the area.

The history of Hamilton, like that of many other Ohio cities, is closely tied up with the early military expeditions into the Indian country. General St. Clair built Fort Hamilton on the bank of the Great Miami River where today can be seen a stone monument marking the site.

The Warren County Canal to Lebanon entered the Miami and Erie Canal at Middletown.

North and west of Hamilton is Oxford where Miami University was established in 1809 and where Western College for Women, one of the first women's colleges, is located.

Ohio Leads Nation As Lake Builder

By the end of the year the Ohio Division of Conservation expects to have completed one of the greatest lake building programs ever attempted by any state in the nation.

During 1949, alone, the Division will add to its lake-construction credit, all in a single year, 12 new lakes either completed and filled with water or in some stage of actual construction.

These will be in addition to the lakes constructed before 1943 and those completed since the close of World War II as a part of the Division's post-war program to meet the demands of the hunting, fishing and vacationing public.

Five lake-construction contracts have been awarded since the first of the year.

A lake of about 400 acres has now been completed in Hocking County; another of about 180 acres is 95% completed in Pickaway County; a 150 acre lake in Morgan County is 80% complete; a 505 acre lake in Knox County is now under contract for construction to begin immediately and the construction has started on a 187 acre lake in Butler County.

In Clermont County, Stonelick Lake of about 200 acres has been completed and is partially filled with water. Cowan Creek lake in Clinton County with about 800 acres of water is complete and being filled. The dam for a lake of about 700 acres in Athens and Morgan Counties known as Burr Oak Lake nearing completion in cooperation with U.S. Army Engineers. Work on the proposed lake of about 2000 acres on Rocky-fork in Highland County is expected to begin this fall. Construction is expected to start on a 103-acre lake in Defiance County and a 167 acre lake in Washington County by November leaving the Division with only one other proposed lake site for a lake in Clark County, where actual construction may not begin until shortly after the first of the year.

Preliminary surveys are being made for a lake site in Crawford County.

Most of the lakes included in the post-war construction program have been the headwater type constructed primarily for fishing at the headwaters of streams to assure pollution-free water sources.

Since the end of the war, lakes completed and now open to public fishing and limited recreation are Madison Lake of 107 acres in Madison County; a 47 acre lake in Perry County; Adams Lake in Adams County with 43 acres of water and a lake in Brown County with 202 acres of water.

Lakes constructed prior to 1943 by the Division include Van Buren Lake in Hancock County with 60 acres of water; Kiser Lake in Champaign County, 585 acres; Jackson Lake in Jackson County with 243 acres of water and Harrison Lake in Fulton County with 105 acres of water. Others are Roosevelt, Scioto County with 40 acres, Jefferson, 50 acres and Decker Lake, Miami County, 15 acres.

According to Conservation Commissioner H. A. Rider, the Division has run out of suitable lake sites and would like to locate headwater lakes in about three more "dry" areas in the State and consider the job of building lakes, on a "Wholesale" basis at least, completed. "After that," he said, "we'd like to build one or two lakes a year if we can find suitable locations without converting good farm land into lakes."

Cub Pack Visits Penitentiary

Cub Pack, No. 84, and their leaders under the direction of Den Dad Mr. Mohoney, were escorted through the Ohio State Penitentiary last week, thus giving the boys an incite on the workings of a State Institution.

This is the first of several tours arranged for the boys of this growing group of South Side Youth organizations. It is interesting to note, that even during the Construction Period at Saint Pauls Evangelical and Reformed Church, these lads and their leaders still had their monthly meeting, using the choir room of the Church in the emergency. Pack and Committee Meetings will go on as scheduled with temporary rooms made available each time.

More Liberal Hunting Regulations

REGULATIONS

The Ohio Conservation and Natural Resources Commission last week tentatively adopted hunting and trapping regulations for the 1949 season.

Some of the drastic restrictions imposed on sportsmen during the past two years because of game shortages were liberalized in the tentative rules which will be made official when the Commission meets on September 9 after nesting and game population surveys have been completed providing accurate information on which regulations are based.

Hunters who have had fewer hunting hours in the field because of the 9 to 4 daily hunting hours of the past two years will welcome the 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. (EST) hours adopted by the Commission for rabbit pheasant and grouse shooting.

In addition to adding an hour to the hunting day, seasons in most cases were increased by several days.

Present game population estimates indicate that hunters might enjoy more liberal regulations this year with no serious damage to the game brood stock in the opinion of Commission members generally and members of the Advisory Council from the seven conservation Districts.

The Commission concurred in all migratory bird and waterfowl regulations as set for Ohio by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service of the U.S. Dept. of the Interior.

Squirrel hunting regulations, adopted officially at the Commission's August meeting 'remain unchanged' from last year. The season will be September 15 to September 30, both dates included with a daily bag limit of 4 and possession limit, 4. Hunting hours will be from daylight to dark.

All other regulations are subject to official adoption in September and all seasons include both the opening and closing dates.

For rabbit the season will be November 15 to December 26, 8 more days than last year; daily limit of 4 and possession limit, 4. The pheasant season is scheduled for November 15 to November 25 with a daily limit of 2 cock birds and a possession limit of 2. For grouse the season wil be November 15 to November 30, five more days than last year with daily and possession limits the same as for pheasant.

Skunk was returned to open-season status following two years of protection and may be taken during the trapping season, November 15 to January 15. Mink and muskrat in the Lake Erie trapping district may be taken through March 15.

The bag and possession limit on raccoon hunted by dog and gun was changed from 2 raccoon per hunting party to 2 for each hunter.

The closed season on woodchucks was changed from the March 1 to June 15 period to March 1 to June 1 giving groundhog hunters 15 days more shooting than last year.

Economic Highlights

When, in his inaugural address, President Truman called for a "bold new program" which would eventually banish "hunger, misery and despair" from the free nations of the world, the repercussions were heard around the globe. The President spoke in highly generalized terms and gave no details. But it was clear to all that this was a tremendous concept, which would require many years to accomplish even in small part, and that the problems and the costs would be incredibly vast and complex.

Since then, the program has been endlessly discussed, and from all sides. Some experts, who are sympathetic with the President's humanitarian purpose, have come to the view that the problems may be insoluble—and that even the desirability of the program is subject to grave doubt. One of these is William Vogt, the scientist whose challenging and controversial book, "Road to Survival," in which he dealt with the exhaustion of natural resources, caused something of a bombshell a year ago. Mr. Vogt considers the Truman program in an important article in the Saturday Evening Post of July 23, called "Let's Examine Our Santa Claus Complex."

Mr. Vogt points out that 1,500,000,000 people "with living standards far below ours are concentrated in the so-called undeveloped areas." A high percentage of them are illiterate. They know next to nothing of modern science. If we gave them tools and seed and other assistance there is no guarantee that the gifts would be properly used.

But even if this were to be overcome, there is far more to the problem than money and tools. Mr. Vogt believes that the undeveloped lands are "intrinsically poor and require far greater investment of capital, labor and management to produce a much smaller return than could be had in the United States." They lack good soils, usable timber—the most basic essentials of what we consider proper living standards.

Finally, if we should set out to remake much of the world in our own image, we will run into a problem that might prove the most difficult of all—the faiths and traditions of proud peoples with cultures older than ours, who seem primitive in our eyes but are not in their own. Mr. Vogt says, "We bring down prices by standardizing. A potter in Mexico's Tlaquepaque, on the other hand, with a distaste for monotony, charges more for standardized work. If we mechanize and standardize his work, change him from a creative artist to a machine tender, shall we be raising his standard of living, and will he like it?" Our idea of what civilization is, in other words, is not shared by everyone else.

Let's Make Better Pictures

By Albert B. Gregg

Why not start printing your own pictures? You'll have more fun and get a bigger kick out of making your own prints than you had in taking the pictures in the first place. It isn't difficult. Next time you finish a roll of film, send it to the corner drugstore to be developed only—no prints—you'll make them yourself.

While it is possible to make good prints without purchasing anything more than a couple bottles of cheap chemicals and a package of paper, you should have just a little equipment. Here is a list to start:

A small printing frame, a 25 watt frosted bulb, a safelight bulb, a 16-ounce graduale, dektol developer, fixing solution, and a package of contact printing paper. That's enough to get started. You can use glass or enamel pans from the kitchen.

Mix your developer and fixing solution according to the directions on the packages, and you are ready to start printing. Place your safelight bulb so you can see your equipment—place the frosted bulb so it will light the printing frame. Clear off a space on the kitchen table or a table in the basement—place a few ounces of developer in one tray water in a middle tray, and fixing solution in the third tray. Place the negative to be printed in the printing frame with the glossy side faced out (always, regardless of contact or projection printing, have the emulsion, or dull side of the negative toward the paper). Place the emulsion side of the paper next to the negative and go ahead. Make your first prints. If you are not thrilled with it, either leave the print and negative at the Booster office or mail it in. I'll try to help you make it better next time.

Summer Breakfasts

In hot weather, eating less than usual may become a vicious circle, says the Columbus Milk Council. A light supper and a restless night are often followed by an inadequate breakfast, and the result is a feeling of exhaustion and no appetite by lunch time. Breakfast is a good point in the 24 hours to break this "vicious circle." It is usually a little cooler then and it is easier to get up earlier to spend enough time at the breakfast table to eat a good meal. A big glass of citrus fruit juice, whole grain or enriched cereal and toast, an egg several times a week, a glass of milk for each member of the family, and tea or coffee if desired, make an adequate breakfast. Plan now to eat a breakfast that will supply energy to keep nerves and head steady, and help to overcome some of the worst effects of "a hot spell."

COOL DRINKS

Cool drnks are a "must" in hot weather for health and comfort, says the Columbus Milk Council. Older children and adults drink as thirst dictates, while babies and younger children must be watched to be sure that they get enough water to balance the extra amounts lost in perspiration.

When fruit juices, milk, buttermilk, and milk shakes are chosen for summer drinks, the amounts of vitamins, minerals and even protein in the diet are increased, but when soft drinks are selected they add nothing but sugar and total calories. In many homes, the use of soft drinks in hot weather cuts down on the amount of important foods that the family is able to afford, and the sugar in these drinks tends to dull already finicky appetites. A refrigerator stocked with citrus fruit juice or tomato juice, or a pitcher of homemade lemonade, and the full quota of milk for each child and adult in the family will provide a variety of thirst-quenching drinks that promote good nutrition and cost no more than an equal quantity of soft drinks.

Oddity Of The Past Uncovered

Engineers uncovered a rare and pleasing oddity while constructing the New Church for Reverend Paul C. Kaefer at 225 East Gates Street. The old building which served so well in the past half century, was originally the South Side Shooting Club, and tying in the roof of the old with the all New Building was the cause of much concern to the Church Council.

The ravages of time, it was thought, might make the entire roof unsafe, and a new one necessary. However, when the Construction Engineers entered the space above the ceiling, they found one of the best jobs of reinforcing they ever saw. Whoever was responsible for the work done years ago, had an eye for the future, and built the roof to hold a long time.

In addition to the regular wooden beams, a closely woven system of cast iron pipes was installed, and so there was no undue strain on any part of the building, and if any part should weaken due to moisture or age, a secondary part was there to secure the job.

The Ultra Modern type of Construction of today brought great praise to the old timers of yesterday, for a job well done.

Buzzin With Bea

By Bea Lewis

We had a card from Eph J. Schottenstein, who is vacationing in Michigan. It seems he is finding the fishing excellent, as he reminds us that he told us that he would catch plenty of Pike. Mr. Schottenstein also tells us that he is enjoying the beautiful and varied scenery, for which Michigan is noted.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cohen of 935 Wilson Ave., on August 8th. The mother, a South Side girl and graduate of South High School was Betty Ann Flannigan before her marriage. Mother and daughter are doing nicely.

Mrs. Emma Borcher of 1152 Jaeger St., has returned from her vacation. We talked to Mrs. Borcher yesterday and she said she had a wonderful time, feels rested, and is glad to be back on her job. She will be pleased to have her friends stop in and see her at Anne Stephens Hat Shop.

We are sorry to hear that 9-year-old Steve Gotshel of 437 W. Mithoff St., was bitten by a dog. This should warn other boys and girls to be careful at this time of the year as dogs get hot and cross during these hot days and are more likely to bite.

Mr. Gorney Nelson of 654 Markison Ave., was seriously injured when he walked into the side of an automobile. Mr. Nelson was taken to St. Francis Hospital where he was treated for a broken leg and severe lacerations about the face. Mr. Nelson will be laid up for some time.

L. B. (Bert) Engle of 1061 City Park Avenue had a birthday Saturday, August 13th...As usual Mrs. Engle baked the large traditional birthday cake, although a ten inch cake pan is used, Bert says that is entirely too small, as it does not have nearly enough space for the candles. The Engles came to Columbus in 1922, when Bert entered employment with The Kampmann Costume Works Co., owned by their son, Norwood Jim. They were all former residents of Logan, Ohio. Bert is well known on the South Side, and has many friends who remembered him with letters, cards, presents, and many personal calls from his friends both Saturday and Sunday. He was formerly in the service of The Old C.H.V. & T.Ry., and The Hocking Valley Ry., as a Telegraph Operator and Train Dispatcher.

Norm Yoder is a Brother Moose of Frank's and he and his wife live at 245 Orchard Lane in Clintonville. We hope the Yoders have a pleasant visit with "Dude Ranch" and the boys.

SOUTH SIDE SETTLEMENT GROUP ATTENDS CAMP

The above group of girls are those from the South Side Settlement who attended camp in the Hocking Hills. The Steelton Merchants Association sent six of this group to camp, paying all their expenses, and a like amount of girls were sent from the St. Stephens Settlement House to various Catholic Camps. The girls attended the camps for a period of two weeks.

The Fisherman

He'll gather together his line and net,
And on the bank he'll set and set.
Waiting patiently from morning till night.
For that most important bite.
He'll wait along the cooling stream,
Consoled in thought or in a dream.
But ever alert, hopeful of a strike,
Assuring himself that the fish will bite.
But whether or not, his cork goes down,
He contendly waits and waits around.
Until finally he decides to roam
In the direction where he calls home.
We can all learn a lesson from this man;
Yes, from the low and humble fisherman.
That patience is a virtue worth possessing,
And that if we have it, we have a blessing.
For, how often do we rush here and there,
Giving ourselves no thought nor care.
Racing against time as onward we go,
For what? Well, really we don't know.
If we'd only stop just to realize,
How foolish we are; how unwise.
We would slow up as much as we can,
Become patient, like the fisherman.

By Charles W. Widmaier.

Walter Shott Thanks Voters

I would certainly be ungrateful if I did not take this opportunity to express my gratitude to the voters of the South Side for their overwhelming support in my behalf in the recent Primary election. I received a larger vote in the First Ward than any other candidate for City Council. It is my comforting thought to know that so many people have expressed such confidence in me. To all my friends on the South Side, I wish to say that I will try to merit your support in the November election, and if elected, I will serve the best interests of all the people of our city.

Ideal Sportmen's Club

The Ideal Sportmen's Club made the trip to Lake Erie Saturday Night and all day Sunday. The fellows on the night trip caught more fish than the ones on the day trip. John Sabo, the club president, was on the night boat trip, but he only caught two fish all night. But John, a man with a strong mind, was not going home until he had some fish. It was too early for the fish stores to be open so he went on the day trip too. The only thing he got then was some lost sleep. Harry Coverdale caught a lot of Lake Erie rock bass. The kind that break your line and you talk about them. But he did get a big mouth bass 16 inches long, so don't make any remarks if he should corner you or lay on your stomach telling about the 18 or by then 20 inch bass he got. Carl Berke, the club treasurer, can't seem to do any good unless he's alone. He could have tried some hot peppers. Well, that's some of the incidents of the lake trip and it was not for members only. There are a lot of others that go on the trips and take part in some of the other things we do. A Crow Shoot is being planned and a lot of other things are coming up in the near future. Get interested in these things. Be a good sportsman in the field or around the stream. Help our Conservation.

Corner Stone Laying Planned

Reverend Paul C. Kaefer will soon announce the date for cornerstone laying at the New St. Pauls Evangelical and Reformed Church, 225 East Gates Street An elaborate program is being set up for this great occasion which will be held some time during September. The stone itself has been applied for, and the necessary date and inscription is being placed. However, the contents of the sealed box are of great importance, and unusual care is being given the selection.

This New Church will definitely be a show place, with the fine quality of workmanship so far uncovered. The Reverend Kaefer and his entire Church Council are taking personal pride in every phase of construction, so that when the doors finally open to the Worshippers at the first Service, they will find a true Religious Center surrounded by the finest Youth and Social Center in the Great South Side.

The Joint Worship Service with Gates Fourth Methodist last Sunday was well attended, and the spirit of co-operation between these two fine congregations was noted by the Reverend Kaefer from the Pulpit.

This Union Service will continue next Sunday, after which the Congregation of Saint Paul's Evangelical and Reformed will return to Schiller Park, where Sunday School will be held as usual. In the very near future, the two congregations will again join at Gates Fourth under the direction of Reverend Hicks, who will preach during the vacation of Reverend and Mrs. Kaefer.

"Women are funny. I had a girl get real mad at me one time just because I changed my mind."

"Can you think of any reason for her anger?"

"Well, we were eloping and I changed my mind and took the ladder away when she was about half way down from the second floor window."

HUNGARIAN MINISTER FLEES REDS FILLS SOUTH SIDE PULPIT

HUNGARIAN MINISTER, Rev. Nicholas Szule Sewell at his pulpit in the Hungarian Reformed Church. Rev. Sewell is using the Hungarian Bible he salvaged by keeping it in his brief case. Communists removed his wife's Bible, and all their religious books before their luggage left Hungary.

Last Sunday a Hungarian minister who fled from behind the iron curtain, became a preacher at the Hungarian Evangelical and Reformed Church E. Woodrow and Washington Ave.

The Rev. Nicholas Szule Sewell of Nagyveng, Hung., 30 miles from the Russian border in Hungary, preached his second sermon here last Sunday.

The secularly minister was once chaplain of the Hungarian West Front—the Kozseg.

When asked about conditions in Hungary he said he had received many warnings not to speak against the communists and because he has many relatives he must censor his speech unless they may disappear and not be heard from again.

Soon after he arrived in this country four months ago, he began receiving warnings at his church in McKeesport, Pa., where he was associate minister, over the telephone not to say anything against the Reds.

He thinks it is wonderful to be able to have freedom of speech and freedom to worship as you please.

The Communists have recently turned against Protestants as they had previously against the Catholics and abolished all religious teaching in the schools. Religious training was abolished in the High School where he taught.

Spies are everywhere in Hungary. People dare not speak. Those who do live between life and death.

It is known that the communists have a complete file of every person. The cards are of different colors. Cards of green designate you are suspected of being anti-Communist.

"That is why people are so afraid. The police know everything about them always."

The Rev. Sewell speaks perfect English, due to two previous visits in this country, once as an exchange student in the Princeton Theological Seminary.

It took a year to receive exit permits for himself, his wife and four children: Judy, 8; Kay, 7; Nicky, 6, and Stephen, 3. The permits were granted just two days before their passports were to expire.

He said "Officials thought I could not make the Queen Mary that late. It was sailing from Liverpool in two days.

But the hectic flight was made by plane with the help of friends and ocean liner officials. Rev. Sewell and his family were admitted as non-quota immigrants because he is a minister. He has been awarded a scholarship to Princeton University which he hopes to use next year.

In speaking of Cardinal Josef Mindszenty, who was sentenced to life imprisonment for treason last year, Rev. Sewell said, "He is a national hero in the hearts of most Hungarians."

"Cardinal Mindszenty," he further said, "is greatly respected by Protestants and Catholics alike. Hungarians are deeply religious."

"But now they are afraid." Rev. Sewell further said. "There must be no difference between Catholics and Protestants if Christianity is to prevail. We must help one another."

Let's Make Better Pictures

For you folks who would like to develope your own film at home but who don't have the place for building a darkroom this idea may be of value. For the first two years of my commercial photography life I developed my film in the basement with only a box for a darkroom. I built a box of Masonite with one side open. This side was covered by a piece of black cloth into which my wife sewed two sleeves. All edges of the cloth were fastened to the box except the bottom which was loose and extended below the bottom edge of the box. Place the trays or tanks and the exposed film in the box through the opening between the cloth and the box. A clock and safelight may be placed on top of the box. You work through the sleeves and produce exactly the same results as in any elaborate darkroom.

If you have any quests about building such a darkbox, drop a line to the Booster.

WHAT CAMERA

Always of interest to camera folks is the subject of cameras. With hundreds of cameras on the market of all sizes, shapes, and descriptions there is certain to be arguments about which camera is the best. When you refer to the size of a camera, you mean the film size. Cameras range from postage stamp size to great engraving jobs weighing as much as a man. If only big and little cameras were used, it would be easy to decide. Your needs would dictate. But what about the 35mm. the 2¼x3¼, 2½x2½, 3¼x4¼, and 4x5 cameras? The 5x7 and the 8x10 sizes usually are professional sizes.

It is largely a matter of personal likes. Among the advantages of the small or miniature equipment are compactness, greater number of exposures on one roll, extreme depth of field and ease of operation. Among the disadvantages are the impracticability of retouching and the small size, while the miniature camera may be cheaper to operate, often the operator because of this cheapness, shoots indiscriminately and, while he gets more shots per dollar, gets far fewer good pictures than he would, if his costs were to be greater, exorcise more care in composing his scene and exposing.

The larger sizes have advantages. The contact prints are large enough without enlarging for filing in the album. The negatives may be retouched. The 2¼x3¼ seems to me to be an ideal size for the person who wants nice pictures. It will enlarge to normal sizes better than will the 35mm. I do not like the square 2¼x2¼. Few pictures look well exactly square so part of the negative is lost in making usually proportioned prints.

I took two cameras overseas with me, a 2¼x3¼ Medalist for black and white photographs and a Contax for transparencies and made hundreds of good shots on each. I enlarged several of the 2¼x3¼ to 11x14 without any trouble.

If you are considering the purchase of a camera, I would suggest that you take a look at a 2¼x3¼ as a good compromise. Oftentimes, you can secure good used cameras. I would rather have a good used camera with a good lens than a lower quality instrument with less exact lens at the same price.

Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life

It is a mystery what Jack Richards and Dick Stewart will think up next to do when they combine their zany talents with such as above results. Jack Richards and his Flip Four entertain and play for dancing nights at the new Ritz Club, 2013 Lockbourne Rd. So many patrons of the Ritz Club have requested a night be set aside for the Hollywood Square Dance craze that, starting Tuesday, August 16th, this will be a weekly Tuesday nite feature. There will be round and square dancing with free instruction for those desiring to learn this new craze. Richards has added a well-known caller and dancer for this special night and as usual the Flip Four will present their zany entertainment built which is guaranteed to get a big belly-laugh from everybody.

Y Park Square Dance

Another square dance for South Side boys and girls will be held at Y-Park Friday, Aug. 19. Don Harris orchestra will play and Jim Wagner will be the caller.

These summer square dances held every other Friday have served provide wholesome recreation for many from the South Side.

Let's Explore Ohio

EARLY CANALS AND ROADS

COURTESY—THE STANDARD OIL CO. OHIO.

Cleveland's shipping industry began even before the city was established.

As early as 1760, there was a trading post at the mouth of the Cuyahoga River to facilitate transhipment of flour and bacon brought overland from Pittsburgh and then by water to the military post at Detroit. Ten years later Moses Cleaveland's party from Connecticut landed at this point on Lake Erie and laid out the city of Cleveland.

The first stage coach line from Cleveland to Columbus was opened in 1820 and soon other stage lines were started to Pittsburgh and Buffalo over the primitive roads through the wilderness. But in spite of favorable location and resources Cleveland failed to grow much until after the Ohio and Erie Canal was opened. In 1825 Cleveland had but 500 population. In fifteen years 26,512 people lived in this city. Along the canal other cities such as Akron sprang up and prospered.

The early canals combined with the lake shipping facilities to make possible the meeting of iron ore and coal in the northeastern section of Ohio to produce the steel industry at Cleveland, Warren and Youngstown. Portions of the Ohio and Erie Canal still carry water to many industries along its route.

Hundreds of miles of canals coursed through thirty-seven Ohio counties from 1825 to Civil War days. Travelers rode the horse-drawn canal boats and visited Ohio's beauty spots that today delight motorists on our modern highways. Aqueducts carried the canals across rivers and creeks at hundreds of spots. The Tinker Creek aqueduct on Canal Road near Cleveland and the locks not far away are points of interest for automobile tourists today.

The Portage Lakes at Akron, lakes well known to the Indians and the early pioneers, supplied water for the operation of the Ohio and Erie Canal as the canal boats were locked across the highland to and from Lake Erie.

The northeastern portion of Ohio is covered with a network of good roads where one hundred and fifty years ago there were only Indian trails and pack trails of the pioneers who settled the Western Reserve. Motorists today find many points of interest in this section of the state, from the vast Pymatuning Lake on Route 6 at the Pennsylvania line to the falls of the Cuyahoga River at Akron, and from Cleveland's busy harbor to Youngstown's famed Mill Creek Park. Mosquito Lake on Routes 87, 46, and 88 and the Chardon Lakes around Chardon on Routes 6 and 44, provide fishing and boating recreation of unequaled quality. Many motorists believe that the Berkshires of Ohio, the hills around Burton on Route 87, make up one of the most beautiful scenic portions of this state.

Program To Increase Game Approved

The Conservation Commission, which became the Wildlife Council last week under the new State Department of Natural Resources has placed its stamp of approval on the Division's Wildlife Habitat Development Program inaugurated in 1947 by approving the expenditure of $500,000 for the program's fiscal year operation ending in July of 1950.

Wildlife Council members are convinced that the game population has responded most favorably to the program throughout the 88 counties and therefore voted to continue it for another year.

Habitat improvement and restoration of unlimited artificial propagation and indiscriminate stocking. The present program does, however, provide a minimum of artificial propagation and stocking of brood stock, fundamental and practical wildlife research, predator control in some areas and consistent hunting and trapping regulations based on known facts and only such restrictions necessary to safeguard the brood-stock. Also it provides for setting aside or removing from public hunting only such areas for refuge purpose as are needed to provide undisturbed nesting and winter cover and a substantial food supply for wildlife.

More than 600 areas have now been established in Ohio consisting of areas of approximately 300 acres for pheasants and tracts of from 50 to 75 acres for rabbits. Each area has been leased for a five year period from landowners who are paid on a crop-value basis. Approximately $190,000 was spent this year for crops in fields surrounding these established habitat areas to provide unharvested hay and legumes for undisturbed nesting and food for wildlife.

Funds to operate the program, known officially as 49-19, come primarily from federal Pittman Robertson Federal Aid to Wildlife appropriations and are used to maintain and develop areas already set up and to provide additional areas where needed. It is expected that the proposed crop-allotment program of the federal government which may provide many acres of uncultivated land may eliminate somewhat the need of purchasing additional areas next year.

In accordance with the Council's established program and policy for game, the rules and regulations for the coming hunting season were based on game populations and the need for protecting broodstock.

Inasmuch as the game population survey of the Wildlife Research Unit of Ohio State University on small farm game indicated some increase, the Council felt justified in liberalizing hunting and trapping rules and regulations for the coming hunting season.

ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY!

Packaged Spaghetti Dinner Is Real Chef's Triumph

A packaged spaghetti dinner makes an easy and substantial main dish for a dog-day menu. Serve it with a variety of quickly cooked vegetables—summer squash, green peas or corn on the cob. Or start with a cup of jellied consommé or a wedge of melon as a first course. Then bring on the spaghetti dinner with a big green salad. End up with a fruit dessert, and you'll have a meal that is simplicity itself to prepare but is satisfying and appetizing.

The packaged dinner contains uncooked spaghetti, a can of grated Parmesan-style cheese, and concentrated spaghetti sauce in an 8-ounce bottle. The rich sauce is seasoned with a chef's skill that makes the spaghetti menu something outstanding. It comes in either of two styles, with meat or without. And there is enough spaghetti in each package, with cheese and sauce to go with it, for two or three servings.

THE BEAR BEHIND !

DON'T ROCK THE BOATS

The National Federation of American Shipping has called on Congress for prompt enactment of a Nationally supported Long Range Shipping Legislative Program which would aid materially in relieving unemployment in 12 metropolitan areas including Boston, Providence, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Hampton Roads, Mobile, New Orleans, Seattle, Portland (Oregon) San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The Federation says these 12 metropolitan areas are substantial shipbuilding centers, looking to the construction of merchant and naval vessels for a substantial part of their economic livelihood. It added that employment in private shipyards on the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific Coasts and in the Great Lakes area is almost at the zero mark.

ACHESON AND VANDENBERG

The Secretary of State is doing his mightiest to convince Congress to vote $1,450,000,000 for an arms-aid program—to our war chums abroad.

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan is leading the drive in Congress to cut the program to a limited size and scope. He and Acheson are waging a tough battle, and there seems no likelihood that these political giants will compromise. Chances are that Congress will go the limit, and dish out all the big money—in one, or more, shiploads.

LEWIS WELFARE FUND

The John L. Lewis's welfare fund is now paying benefits of more than $100,000,000 a year. The income, derived from a tax of 20 cents a ton on all coal mined, was $90,891,905 for the year.

Benefits paid to coal miners and their families amounted to $104,880,785.

A deficit of $13,988,880 resulted from the year's operation.

Miss Burton, Mr. Donavin Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Burton, 240 Southwood-av, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Phyllis Jean, to Richard Earl Donovan.

Mr. Donovan is the son of Mrs. John F. Donovan, 132 E. Gates-st, and the late Mr. Donovan. He attended South High School and West Palm Beach (Fla.) High School. He is attending Ohio State University and is employed by the Lustron Corporation.

Miss Burton is a graduate of South High School and is associated with the State of Ohio, Department of Public Welfare, Division of Social Administration.

No date has been set for the wedding.

To Marry September 3rd

Mr. and Mrs. William Timcoe, 1489 N. 5th St, announce the troth of their daughter, Jean, to Mr. Harold C. Robinett, 1708 E. Kossuth St., son of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Robinett.

The bride-elect is a graduate of North High School and is employed by the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. Mr. Robinett is a graduate of South High School and is employed by Culter's Drugs.

The informal wedding will take place Sept. 3 at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride-elect has asked Mrs. Ted Fluhart to be her only attendant while her fiance has asked Mr. Ted Fluhart to serve as best man.

Joe: I'll meet you at the golf course."

Bob: "Okay; I'll be waiting there for you. How will I know when you get there?"

Joe: "I'll make a mark on the side walk."

Bob: "All right, and if I get there first, I'll rub it out."

There Is None So Blind!

The ex-haberdasher from Independence, Mo., when interviewed on former president Herbert Hoover's speech in which he said "thru government spending and taxes our nation is blissfully driving down the back road to collectivism and is on the last mile."

When this question was put to President Harry Truman he laughed and asked: "What was that? Say that again. It sounds funny to me. I don't know what that is, but I don't think it is so."

These are the kind of remarks of belittlement, or should we say asininity, that comes from the mouth of the "Little Man in the White House" against the remarks on his 75th birthday of that great humanitarian, ex-president Herbert Hoover.

These are the remarks of a president who raised his own salary against a president who never accepted a cent of salary.

These are the remarks of Harry Truman against Herbert Hoover, who for the last 30 years has been called on commission after commission to do big tasks time and time again for our country. Who time after time has served his country with no pay and even paid his own expenses.

It sounds just a little ridiculous from the mouth of our "Red Herring President."

In view of such facts as the case of Madam Kasenkina, Judy Coplan, Gerhard Eisler, the spy trials in New York, the atomic bomb exposure, the Alger Hiss cases and many others, Red Herring and other dumb remarks are not in order.

It is about time to stop and think and not be like the farmer who locked his barn door after the horse was stolen.

Big men don't try to be funny with such remarks as our President has made on a serious subject. They carefully study the statement and then give intelligent answers.

Certainly intelligent men don't act like elementary school children.

"There is none so blind as those who won't see."

THE ATOMIC MYSTERY

Four years have passed since the dropping of the atomic bomb on Hiroshima—and not very many people know what a great mystery atomic energy is. Anyway we believe that this great American secret is in safe hands—despite all the gossip and contradiction to that belief.

Besides that, it is common sense to keep a few bombs in storage for our old enemy Stalin and his Communists. There doesn't seem to be much hope of ever making friends with the Russians along the lines that are now being pursued.

COMING UP

Believe it or not the average American is paying out $1 in Federal State and local taxes for every $4.10 earned.

Senator Byrd of Virginia has a lot of support for his suggestion that all Federal expenses be cut 10 per cent by the Government.

Setting the Bridal Buffet Table

Bells and bows of tulle and ribbon top a proud wedding cake. The bridal motif is further carried out in the eggshell translucent Belvidere pattern of Lenox china where a dainty pink ribbon ring is twined with tiny blue forget-me-nots. The satin rayon damask cloth of traditional bride's white is a handsome background to gleaming silver.

Plan a memorable table setting for the most memorable occasion in a lifetime—the wedding. Whether it is a simple or an elaborate wedding, this is the time to display your fine Lenox china, silver and linens.

The rules for your table arrangement are simple but rigid.

1. The bride's table must be covered with a white cloth.

2. The wedding cake is the one indispensable requirement and should be set in the center of the table as the principal decoration or centered on a separate draped stand at the side of the long table.

3. The menu, of course, will determine the china, silver and glassware. Here, as on all correct table settings, only those pieces which will be used are set out.

4. Punch or champagne should be placed on a separate table by itself, except at a small wedding where it is set on the main buffet table to balance the tea tray.

With suitable accessories, you will find a very simple pattern of fine china will lend itself as gracefully as a formal pattern to the bridal buffet setting. This is because fine china has a lustrous translucent body that polished silver and gleaming linens highlight. In fine china such as the Lenox Belvidere pattern shown here, you have the same exquisite body, the same superior materials and workmanship by the same skilled craftsmen as is found in the White House Service and Lenox museum pieces you see throughout the world.

HOW BIG IS IT?

What we would like to know is how President Truman can be right in asking for $1,450,000,000 for military aid. A whole bunch of Senators and Representatives don't know either. But you are taking no chances when you ask any one if he has any inside information as to whether all that dough would stop a Russian war.

About the only sensible thing that we have read in the papers is that a small group of Senators, including Taft, express the belief that the danger of such an amazing use of American money may eventually lead to a race with Russia that will end in war.

BOOM OR BUST

There seems to be more confidence in the belief that our country will not suffer a very heavy decline in industry for the rest of this year. Some of the leading authorities on our National conditions seem to share the belief that employment may yet climb to about 59,000,000 because there is now a continuing need for much merchandise that is hard to get. But do not expect a "boom" after the bottom has been reached in the current decline. The prophets have all been interviewed and the results are that they see good business for this fall and winter.

TENDER MEAT

Official Government fact-finding reports say that hog prices may drop so low in the Fall and Winter that the Government will buy pork to hold hog prices at the support level required by law. Well, a lot of us don't like pork very well and that may mean that other meat prices will fix things up.

COTTONSEED LOAN PROGRAM

Details of the cottonseed loan program through which the Government will support the price of 1949 crop cottonseed at 90% of August 1 parity price of $55 per ton is announced by the Department of Agriculture. Loans will be made at the rate of $49.50 per ton on clean, safely-stored cottonseed having a moisture content of 10% or less.

THE LONG AND THE SHORT OF IT

Washington is in hands of politicians. Strangely enough statesmanship is at an absolutely low ebb in our National Capital.

IN DEAR OLD WISCONSIN

Senator Wiley of Wisconsin told the Senate that "the day is gone when the farmer in Wisconsin or anywhere else in America would be content to be a second-class citizen, so to speak. All of us who have lived and worked on farms know the back-breaking labor and hours which the farmer and his family put in. We know that if there is anybody on God's green earth who deserves a higher standard of living, it is those men and women who produce the nation's food and fibers."

The Senator proceeded to challenge Congress to pass legislation to improve the standard of living of the Nation's farmers. He added: "We've got to make the farmers life more interesting, more comfortable . . . We've got to bring in electricity to more farms, more conveniences to the farmer's housewife and children." He told the Senate that over 90 per cent of the farms in his dairyland State have electricity. He added a tough one when he told the Senate that in many areas of Wisconsin the farmers are getting only about 6 cents for a quart of milk, while the same quart sells in the big cities for 18 to 20 cents.

"How can the farmer possibly buy the products produced by the city laborer or sold by the country store?" he challenged.

The senator enumerated many great injustices that have fallen upon the farmers in his and other States, and he implored Congress to do something to restore proper returns to farmers who sell their products at low, and more low, prices.

QUITE OFTEN

A wise-cracker, who was very wise in such things, once wrote: "The big difference between a night club and the old-time saloon: In the old-time saloon, a wistful little girl would pull at your sleeve and whisper, "Daddy, dear Daddy, come home with me now," and you would not pay any attention to her.

"In a night club a wistful little girl pulls at your sleeve and whispers, "Daddy, dear Daddy, come home with me now," and you do."

News In The World Of Religion

Recent cables to the United Board for Christian Colleges in China (New York City) from all eight of the Christian colleges now in communist-occupied areas in China indicate that these mission-supported institutions are continuing their regular work with no essential changes in curriculum or personnel. The eight colleges are Cheeloo, Ginling, Hangchow, Hua Chung, Nanking, St. John's Soochow, and Yenching. One report states that these institutions "are coming through the turn-over relatively unscathed, and there is as yet no evidence that they will not be permitted to continue." Recent requests have been received from Yenching University and the University of Nanking for new teachers to be sent to the field in time for the beginning of the fall semester.

The number and skills of the expert physicians, now in D.P. camps in Europe and hoping for resettlement in America, is without parallel in human history, asserts Church World Service (214 East 21st St., New York City), which is trying to find them new homes and practices through American Protestant Churches. In pleading for communities to make provision for these physicians, Dr. Stanley I Stuber says: "They possess the qualifications and qualities demanded by any country to improve the health of its citizens. Too many of these doctors are emigrating as laborers in order to maintain themselves and families. There are legal barriers against foreign doctors in most states. However, there are places, where they are welcome and needed. Indiana, Washington and the District of Columbia admit physicians with foreign credentials for examination for license without reference to citizenship. Connecticut, Illinois, Maryland, Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, and Rhode Island admit foreign physicians for examination after they have taken out 'first papers'. Colleges could well consider some doctors for teaching positions. Others could help a D.P. doctor take the required additional work to qualify in their states. Mission boards, denominational and other institutions in particular, can find here a rich resource of trained and experienced Christian physicians."

In every country in the World, except Turkey, the number of Christians has increased during the past quarter of a century, according to a recent survey of the International Missionary Society, London, England. In the so-called "mission lands" the increases during the period have been remarkable. In Nigeria, the Belgian Congo, the Panama Canal Zone, and Brazil most notable gains have been made by Protestant missions. In Nigeria the number of Christians having connection with the Anglican mission has risen from 147,000 in 1925 to 411,000 in 1948. In the Belgian Congo, the Christians associated with the Presbyterian Church in the United States have increased from 44,087 in 1925 to 134,580 in 1949; those associated with the Regions Beyond Missionary Union from 2,515 to 32,396. In the Panama Canal Zone, the Protestant Episcopal Church has grown from 1,667 in 1925 to 16,652 in 1949. The Methodist Church of Brazil has increased from 12,570 in 1925 to 35,113 in 1949; the Presbyterian Church of Brazil from 34,073 to 94,706.

The agape, or meal of fellowship, common in the early Christian church, has been revived in the church of England parish of Hilgay, Norfolk, as a means of promoting unity among members of different Christian denominations. Fellowship meals were introduced by the Rev. G. I. F. Thompson, rector of Hilgay, who was authorized to proceed with the plan by the Rt. Rev. Harold E. Wynn. The only conditions for participation are "baptism and some guarantee of personal discipleship." "The true service of unity is Holy Communion," says Mr. Thompson, "but until denominational barriers are lifted, the agape is the nearest permissible approach to perfect unity in worship. This is distinct from the Holy Communion and is not a sacrament. Bread is broken at the altar rails and then put into baskets which are handed from pew to pew."

Since the liberation of Norway from German domination, 100 new parishes have been organized, according to information released by the Rev. Alf Hauge, Lutheran leader in Oslo. Many of the new congregations, however, are of a provisional nature and without regular appropriations from the government or the benefits of the government pension program. The total number of pastors in Norway today exceeds 4,000. In 1900 there were 3,129 and in 1938, 3,895. It is likely that the churches will have to permit some women to serve as ministers in order to fill all pulpits because of the relative lack of theological students.

Miss Helen Ey Married Recently

St. John's Evangelist Church was the scene of the nuptials of Miss M. Helen Ey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ey, 863 S. Ohio Av, and Mr. Thomas J. O'Connor, son of Mrs. J. A. O'Connor, 422 Clinton St, July 2 at 10 a.m. with Msgr. F. W. Burkhart officiating.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown accentuated by a net yoke edged with a design of seeded pearls. A crown of white satin and seeded pearls held her three-quarter length veil of illusion. She carried a prayerbook adorned with white roses.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were her attendants, Miss Irene Ey, sister of the bride, as maid of honor; Mrs. Mary Louise Gillivan and Mrs. Mary Ellen Corbett, cousins of the bride, as bridesmatrons, and Martha Maddox, cousin of the bride, as flower girl. The flower girl was dressed in blue marquisette and carried pink roses, while the others wore pink marquisette gowns fashioned with lace berthas and lace inserts in the skirts. Lace hats and bouquets of white daisies intermingled with stephanotis completed their attire.

Following the ceremony a breakfast was held at Hoffman's Gardens and later a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The new Mrs. O'Connor is a graduate of St. Mary's High School and Mt. Carmel Hospital School of Nursing. She is employed by Dr. Alexander Pollack. Mr. O'Connor is a graduate of St. Charles High School and attended Ohio State University. He is employed as a draftsman at the Lenox Furnace Co.

Thurston, 246 E. Duncan st, on June 26 at 4:30 p. m. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. George S. Schultz.

Escorted down the candlelit aisle by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white marquisette over satin, fashioned with a square draped neckline bordered with a lace ruffle. Two side panels of lace tiers cascaded down the sides from the long fitted bodice to the hem of the skirt, which was styled with a partial peplum and a graceful train. An orange blossom held in place a double fingertip veil of bridal illusion. The bride wore pearls, a gift of the groom, and carried a white prayerbook covered with an orchid.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Harold Jamieson of Fort Recovery, O., cousin of the bride, who wore a gown of pink marquisette. The bridesmaids, Miss Thelma Schumacher and Miss Jo Ann Fiora, wore gowns of pastel green. Their ruffle hats were of matching marquisette and they carried colonial bouquets.

Predicts Oranges Will Disappear From Grocery Stores In Four Years

QUICK-FROZEN orange juice concentrate is ready for shipment (above) just a few hours after tree-ripened oranges are picked in nearby groves (right).

Know-how gained in 20 years of research is changing the orange-buying habits of the consumer.

In another four years, according to Howard F. Lochrie of Birds Eye frosted foods, few women who want orange juice for drinking purposes will go to the trouble of carrying oranges home from the neighborhood store.

"Every day," explains Mr. Lochrie, "more women are learning the many advantages of the 6-ounce container of orange juice concentrate. They've learned, for example, that the concentrate eliminates the need for space to store a dozen oranges. It also does away with the time-consuming job of cutting and squeezing oranges. Eliminated, too, is the messy job of garbage disposal. In addition, the use of tree-ripened oranges in frozen concentrate assures the best in natural flavor."

Mr. Lochrie put his company's years of know-how to a challenging test recently when a group of leading food writers and commentators visited the Lake Wales, Florida plant where its quick-frozen concentrate is made. The experts were given a blind-fold test and asked to distinguish between a glass of freshly squeezed orange juice and one of the concentrate. Most of the experts not only couldn't tell the difference but actually preferred the concentrate.

"We have worked for 20 years to capture the elusive flavor and vitamins of fresh oranges in a convenient and easy-to-use form," stated Mr. Lochrie. "The food experts and Mrs. Homemaker now agree that in our 6-ounce container, providing 1¼ pints of juice when reconstituted, we have succeeded. It has money saving advantages too."

Washington Week

By Chas. L. Egenroad

Washington, D. C.—"Your going is another evidence of our determination to help our great friend in the Orient in her aspiration to exemplify the democratic way of life."

These were the words of President Truman in a letter to John R. Blandford as the latter accepted the mission to China on January 30, 1946, to set up a budget system for the Republic of China.

They were weasel words and had about as much foundation as those of the late President Roosevelt at Yalta as reported by Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell in the "Stilwell Papers."

He quoted F. D. R. as follows:

"Well, I think they (Russia) consider they've got enough as it is. You can put a 100 million more people into Siberia. Stalin doesn't want any more ground. He's got enough."

Then, James Byrnes, in his book "Speaking Frankly," put the lie to those words in his report on the Chinese discussions at Yalta when he wrote:

"In all, nearly 300,000 square miles of territory have been acquired (by Russia) since 1939, bringing the area of the Soviet Union to 8,455,939 square miles. . . ."

Ever since the Yalta sell-out the China problem has been entangled by a continuous flow of weasel words.

The record crawls with them.

Again in Mr. Byrnes' book we find the author asserting that President Truman said the United States wanted Dairen as an open air port, but that Roosevelt, at Yalta, had insisted China would retain control of Dairen.

Then came the oft-quoted and oft-interpreted China policy as set down by Mr. Truman in a December 15 1945, statement:

"The Government of the United States believes it essential: (1) That a cessation of hostilities be arranged between the armies of the National Government and the Chinese Communists and other dissident Chinese armed forces. (2) That a national conference of representatives of major political elements be arranged to develop an early solution which will bring about the unification of China. The United States believes that peace unity and democratic reform in China will be furthered if the basis of this Government is broadened to include other political elements in the country."

On January 7, 1947, General Marshall issued this statement:

"It is also to be hoped that during this interim period the door will remain open for Communists or other groups to participate if they see fit to assume their share of responsibility for the future of China.".

For two years those statements were openly interpreted as outright requirements in our policy that Communists have a part in the Government of China.

Not until March 11, 1948, at a press conference, did Mr. Truman deny that his administration advocated inclusion of Communists in China's government.

That is just some of the evidence of Mr. Truman's "determination to help our great friend in the Orient in her aspiration to exemplify the democratic way of life."

The climax to this sell-out came the other day when Mr. Truman slammed the door on any further aid to China.

Economic Highlights

Times change, and so do economic theories. This is well illustrated by an article in U.S. News & World Report describing present government fiscal policies. It begins: "Reflation—revived inflation—is to be sought by government from here on out. Deflation, mild and brief, has proved too much for the White House to accept without trying to bring a turn back toward inflation."

Various stratagems will be employed—if the President has his way—in an effort to accomplish this. To quote the News again, "The expressed hope is that, if the plan succeeds, it will not result in a new inflation of prices. The objective, instead, is an expanded use of credit."

Mr. Truman's ideas on the subject were expressed, in part, in his Midyear Economic Report to Congress, and in his last radio talk to the nation. First of all, he is holding tenaciously to his belief in the wisdom of big spending, even though a deficit results. For the current fiscal year, he wants a budget of about $42,000,000,000 which, it is reliably estimated, will mean a government operating loss in excess of $5,000,000,000.

He has, however, apparently changed his mind on the $4,000,000,000 tax increase he formerly favored. Some think he would even find tax decreases in certain fields acceptable. Sentiment in Congress would seem to favor this.

Not so long ago, the White House backed a "tight money" policy. Here, too, the President's stand seems entirely different now. Stock market margin requirements have been reduced. The controls on installment buying have been abandoned. Both the President and Congress favor liberalized credit plans for new housing.

As the U.S. News sums it up, "Policies of government, basically, will be aimed at stimulating a broader use of borrowed money, both by Government itself and by private individuals and industry. The plan to revive prosperity, the President predicts, eventually will lead to a national income of $300,000,000,000."

The President's Council of Economic Advisers put the situation in these words: "The mere fact that the Federal government is currently withdrawing well-over $40,000,000,000 a year from private-income channels and is disbursing a like or even greater amount into the market and income stream means that the government is already the most influential single factor in the current operation of the economy." The unanswered question is how long this kind of spending beyond income can be maintained without exhausting the nation.

Michigan's Upper Peninsula

By Frank "Dude Ranch" Koch

Well—we're off for the Upper Peninsula. Dick, Bobby and yours truly. Just finished packing three pieces of heavy luggage. We didn't do it all by ourselves; we had lots of help to see that Dick's dungarees and wool shirt weren't left out and Bobby's swim trunks, and their pajamas for use on the train from Detroit to Mackinaw City. Paper Hankies had to be packed in the small bag that contained all the necessities of train travel and a couple play suits for Dick and Bob just in case our baggage was left on the platform at Toledo or Detroit and didn't arrive when we did. (The hankies are for "Dude Ranch's" hayfever). Two sisters, Anna Dicker and Lottie Koch saw to it that my own long underwear was safely tucked among the sweaters and bathrobe and woolen sox that we will need around the first of September.

There's four pads of stenographer's note book for use in writing this column while in the Upper Peninsula. We couldn't overlook the Phlueger Ocean City reel for our Muskie fishing and the accessories that go with it. And that stuff that you put one drop in each eye to relieve the eye symptoms of Hay Fever and to retard the flow of the mucus thru the nostrils.

There's a couple of flashlights for use in case you don't sleep well and have to take a "walk" during the night. And Carpenter tools; we'll need those for building a couple of pieces of rustic furniture we'd planned and drew blue prints during the past winter. Might pack a few green tomatoes to take along, also. They'll ripen in a few days. And out of the back yard here at Frebis and Fourth, they'll taste better than those trucked into the Upper Peninsula from down below. The shipped tomatoes up there are soggy and sour, raised on the ground and full of sand, while those here in Columbus are clean and firm, (unless they bounce our baggage around too much). Think we'll pack some dry beans for a Chilli feast on one of the cool days we'll have later in September. Guess that's about all the packing to be done so we'll close the lids and tag each piece of luggage.

We called Johnny Grassie about three hours ago, to see if he could take our baggage to the depot, and do you know what happened? He had his car already packed and was leaving in one-half hour for Canada. Brother George Koch of Handley Plumbing Co. is out fishing and took the pick-up with him. Johnny's going to Canada, and Johnny Young of Young's Grill has no water in his car radiator, so we probably will have to hire some stranger to tote our bags to the depot. Could be we put Dick's wagon on the back of the bike; put our bags in it and have Dick pump the thing up to the Depot, but wottle we do with the wagon when we get there? Is there a taxi driver in the house? Maybe we'd better take a TAXI!

The next column read in the Booster will have been written in the Upper Peninsula. There we will have first hand information about the doings of the various personalities and cronies and hope to write nothing but things of interest to you. If we catch a big fish; we'll tell you about it. If we catch nothing but Buckeye Lake size fish—well you won't read a thing about it. But with the deep-sea tackle we plan on using we'll either catch big ones or else. Dick and Bob tell me they're going to show their Dad up when we get on Brevort Lake. They say they're going to show us that they can catch fish even on that broken down tackle we keep at the "Dude Ranch" the year around. Gosh we hope they're only kidding. But it could happen up there in the U.P. We know of an eleven year old boy, fishing with his Dad; who snagged and landed a five and one-half pound Walleye and the old man didn't even get a nibble. The boy was fishing with a cane pole for perch and his dad was using the expensive type tackle and angling for Walleyes exclusively. So the old man was showing the boy how to get the big ones and it turned out to be vice-versa.

You'll be hearing from us from the Upper Peninsula next week. If we don't catch any fish, we'll take you on a Scenic Tour.

A near-sighted man was walking along a country road when a strong gust of wind carried his hat away. He gave chase, but the faster he ran, the faster the hat seemed to go.

A woman screamed from a nearby farmhouse: "What are you doing?"

The man replied that he was trying to retrieve his hat.

"Your hat!" exclaimed the woman. "There it is over by the stone fence; now you stop chasing my little black hen."

PEACHES FOR WINTER

Fresh peaches to eat now and to can for winter meals.

By BETTY NEWTON

As soon as peaches become plentiful on the market it is wise to can or freeze them for winter desserts, salads and garnishes. Of course, there are many delicious ways to use them right now, too.

Pickled Peaches

2 lbs. brown sugar
1 qt. vinegar
1 oz. stick cinnamon
4 qts. peaches
1 Tbsp. cloves

Boil the sugar, vinegar, and cinnamon together until they begin to look syrupy. Wash the peaches and rub off fuzz. Stick 1 or 2 cloves in each peach and drop the peaches into the syrup. Cook until easily pierced with a fork. Put them into jars, pour the syrup over them, filling each jar, and seal while hot. Allow the jars to cool and store. The peaches may be peeled if desired. It may also be more convenient to cook only part of the peaches in the syrup at one time, cooking the remainder after these have been taken out and put into jars.

Dutch Peach Cake

1 C. sifted all purpose flour
1½ tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
1 Tbsp. sugar
¼ C. shortening
1 egg
¼ C. milk
3 peaches, peeled, pitted and thinly sliced
½ tsp. cinnamon
¼ tsp. nutmeg
2 Tbsp. sugar
2 Tbsp. melted butter or margarine
½ C. currant jelly

Sift together first 4 ingredients. Cut in shortening with 2 knives or pastry blender until like coarse corn meal. Stir in combined egg and milk with fork. Spread in greased baking dish 12 x 8 x 2 inches. Arrange peaches, slightly overlapping, in parallel rows, on top, with straight edge pushed half way into dough. Sprinkle on combined cinnamon, nutmeg, 2 Tbsp. sugar. Top with butter. Bake at 400 degrees for 40 to 45 minutes. Remove from oven; beat jelly with fork; spread on top. Serve warm, cut in squares, alone or with ice cream. Makes 6 servings.

News In The World Of Religion

Recent cables to the United Board for Christian Colleges in China (New York City) from all eight of the Christian colleges now in communist-occupied areas in China indicate that these mission-supported institutions are continuing their regular work with no essential changes in curriculum or personnel. The eight colleges are Cheeloo, Ginling, Hangchow, Hua Chung, Nanking, St. John's Soochow, and Yenching. One report states that these institutions "are coming through the turn-over relatively unscathed, and there is as yet no evidence that they will not be permitted to continue." Recent requests have been received from Yenching University and the University of Nanking for new teachers to be sent to the field in time for the beginning of the fall semester.

The number and skills of the expert physicians, now in D.P. camps in Europe and hoping for resettlement in America, is without parallel in human history, asserts Church World Service (214 East 21st St., New York City), which is trying to find them new homes and practices through American Protestant Churches: In pleading for communities to make provision for these physicians, Dr. Stanley I Stuber says: "They possess the qualifications and qualities demanded by any country to improve the health of its citizens. Too many of these doctors are emigrating as laborers in order to maintain themselves and families. There are legal barriers against foreign doctors in most states. However, there are places, where they are welcome and needed. Indiana, Washington and the District of Columbia admit physicians with foreign credentials for examination for license without reference to citizenship. Connecticut, Illinois, Maryland, Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, and Rhode Island admit foreign physicians for examination after they have taken out 'first papers'. Colleges could well consider some doctors for teaching positions. Others could help a D.P. doctor take the required additional work to qualify in their states. Mission boards, denominational and other institutions in particular, can find here a rich resource of trained and experienced Christian physicians."

In every country in the World, except Turkey, the number of Christians has increased during the past quarter of a century, according to a recent survey of the International Missionary Society, London, England. In the so-called "mission lands" the increases during the period have been remarkable. In Nigeria, the Belgian Congo, the Panama Canal Zone, and Brazil most notable gains have been made by Protestant missions. In Nigeria the number of Christians having connection with the Anglican mission has risen from 147,000 in 1925 to 411,000 in 1948. In the Belgian Congo, the Christians associated with the Presbyterian Church in the United States have increased from 44,057 in 1925 to 134,580 in 1949; these associated with the Regions Beyond Missionary Union from 2,515 to 32,396. In the Panama Canal Zone, the Protestant Episcopal Church has grown from 1,567 in 1925 to 16,652 in 1949. The Methodist Church of Brazil has increased from 12,570 in 1925 to 35,113 in 1949; the Presbyterian Church of Brazil from 34,073 to 94,306.

The agape, or meal of fellowship, common in the early Christian church, has been revived in the church of England parish of Hilgay, Norfolk, as a means of promoting unity among members of different Christian denominations. Fellowship meals were introduced by the Rev. G. I. F. Thompson, rector of Hilgay, who was authorized to proceed with the plan by the Rt. Rev. Harold E. Wynn. The only conditions for participation are "baptism and some guarantee of personal discipleship." "The true service of unity is Holy Communion," says Mr. Thompson, "but until denominational barriers are lifted, the agape is the nearest permissible approach to perfect unity in worship. This is distinct from the Holy Communion and is not a sacrament. Bread is broken at the altar rails and then put into baskets which are handed from pew to pew."

Since the liberation of Norway from German domination, 100 new parishes have been organized, according to information released by the Rev. Alf Hauge, Lutheran leader in Oslo. Many of the new congregations, however, are of a provisional nature and without regular appropriations from the government or the benefits of the government pension program. The total number of pastors in Norway today exceeds 4,000. In 1900 there were 3,129 and in 1938, 2,895. It is likely that the churches will have to permit some women to serve as ministers in order to fill all pulpits because of the relative lack of theological students.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown accentuated by a net yoke edged with a design of seeded pearls. A crown of white satin and seeded pearls held her three-quarter length veil of illusion. She carried a prayerbook adorned with white roses.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were her attendants. Miss Irene Ey, sister of the bride, as maid of honor; Mrs. Mary Louise Gillivan and Mrs. Mary Ellen Corbett, cousins of the bride, as bridesmatrons, and Martha Maddox, cousin of the bride, as flower girl. Escorted down the candlelit aisle by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white marquisette over satin, fashioned with a square draped neckline bordered with a lace ruffle. Two side panels of lace tiers cascaded down the sides from the long fitted bodice to the hem of the skirt, which was styled with a partial peplum and a graceful train. An orange blossom held in place a double fingertip veil of bridal illusion. The bride wore pearls, a gift of the groom, and carried a white prayerbook covered with an orchid.

Predicts Oranges Will Disappear From Grocery Stores In Four Years

QUICK-FROZEN orange juice concentrate is ready for shipment (above) just a few hours after tree-ripened oranges are picked in nearby groves (right).

Know-how gained in 20 years of research is changing the orange-buying habits of the consumer.

In another four years, according to Howard F. Lochrie of Birds Eye frosted foods, few women who want orange juice for drinking purposes will go to the trouble of carrying oranges home from the neighborhood store.

"Every day," explains Mr. Lochrie, "more women are learning the many advantages of the 6-ounce container of orange juice concentrate. They've learned, for example, that the concentrate eliminates the need for space to store a dozen oranges. It also does away with the time-consuming job of cutting and squeezing oranges. Eliminated, too, is the messy job of garbage disposal. In addition, the use of tree-ripened oranges in frozen concentrate assures the best in natural flavor."

Mr. Lochrie put his company's years of know-how to a challenging test recently when a group of leading food writers and commentators visited the Lake Wales, Florida plant where its quick-frozen concentrate is made. The experts were given a blind-fold test and asked to distinguish between a glass of freshly squeezed orange juice and one of the concentrate Most of the experts not only couldn't tell the difference but actually preferred the concentrate.

"We have worked for 20 years to capture the elusive flavor and vitamins of fresh oranges in a convenient and easy-to-use form," stated Mr. Lochrie. "The food experts and Mrs. Homemaker now agree that in our 6-ounce container, providing 1¼ pints of juice when reconstituted, we have succeeded. It has money saving advantages too."

Washington Week

By Chas. L. Egenrood

Washington, D. C.—"Your going is another evidence of our determination to help our great friend in the Orient in her aspiration to exemplify the democratic way of life."

These were the words of President Truman in a letter to John R. Blandford as the latter accepted the mission to China on January 30, 1946, to set up a budget system for the Republic of China.

They were weasel words and had about as much foundation as those of the late President Roosevelt at Yalta as reported by Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell in the "Stilwell Papers."

He quoted F. D. R. as follows: "Well, I think they (Russia) consider they've got enough as it is. You can put a 100 million more people into Siberia. Stalin doesn't want any more ground. He's got enough."

Then, James Byrnes, in his book "Speaking Frankly," put the lie to those words in his report on the Chinese discussions at Yalta when he wrote:

"In all, nearly 300,000 square miles of territory have been acquired (by Russia) since 1939, bringing the area of the Soviet Union to 8,455,929 square miles. . . ."

Ever since the Yalta sell-out the China problem has been entangled by a continuous flow of weasel words.

The record crawls with them.

Again in Mr. Byrnes' book we find the author asserting that President Truman said the United States wanted Dairen as an open air port, but that Roosevelt, at Yalta, had insisted China would retain control of Dairen.

Then came the oft-quoted and oft-interpreted China policy as set down by Mr. Truman in a December 15 1945, statement:

"The Government of the United States believes it essential: (1) That a cessation of hostilities be arranged between the armies of the National Government and the Chinese Communists and other dissident Chinese armed forces. (2) That a national conference of representatives of major political elements be arranged to develop an early solution which will bring about the unification of China. The United States believes that peace unity and democratic reform in China will be furthered if the basis of this Government is broadened to include other political elements in the country."

On January 7, 1947, General Marshall issued this statement:

"It is also to be hoped that during this interim period the door will remain open for Communists or other groups to participate if they see fit to assume their share of responsibility for the future of China."

For two years those statements were openly interpreted as outright requirements in our policy that Communists have a part in the Government of China.

Not until March 11, 1948, at a press conference, did Mr. Truman deny that his administration advocated inclusion of Communists in China's government.

That is just some of the evidence of Mr. Truman's "determination to help our great friend in the Orient in her aspiration to exemplify the democratic way of life."

The climax to this sell-out came the other day when Mr. Truman slammed the door on any further aid to China.

Economic Highlights

Times change, and so do economic theories. This is well illustrated by an article in U.S. News & World Report describing present government fiscal policies. It begins: "Reflation—revived inflation—is to be sought by government from here on out. Deflation, mild and brief, has proved too much for the White House to accept without trying to bring a turn back toward inflation."

Various stratagems will be employed—if the President has his way—in an effort to accomplish this. To quote the News again, "The expressed hope is that, if the plan succeeds, it will not result in a new inflation of prices. The objective, instead, is an expanded use of credit."

Mr. Truman's ideas on the subject were expressed, in part, in his Midyear Economic Report to Congress, and in his last radio talk to the nation. First of all, he is holding tenaciously to his belief in the wisdom of big spending, even though a deficit results. For the current fiscal year, he wants a budget of about $42,000,000,000 which, it is reliably estimated, will mean a government operating loss in excess of $5,000,000,000.

He has, however, apparently changed his mind on the $4,000,000,000 tax increase he formerly favored. Some think he would even find tax decreases in certain fields acceptable. Sentiment in Congress would seem to favor this.

Not so long ago, the White House backed a "tight money" policy. Here, too, the President's stand seems entirely different now. Stock market margin requirements have been reduced. The controls on installment buying have been abandoned. Both the President and Congress favor liberalized credit plans for new housing.

As the U.S. News sums it up, "Policies of government, basically, will be aimed at stimulating a broader use of borrowed money, both by Government itself and by private individuals and industry. The plan to revive prosperity, the President predicts, eventually will lead to a national income of $300,000,000,000."

The President's Council of Economic Advisers put the situation in these words: "The mere fact that the Federal government is currently withdrawing well-over $40,000,000,000 a year from private-income channels and is disbursing a like or even greater amount into the market and income stream means that the government is already the most influential single factor in the current operation of the economy." The unanswered question is how long this kind of spending beyond income can be maintained without exhausting the nation.

Michigan's Upper Peninsula

By Frank "Dude Ranch" Koch

Well—we're off for the Upper Peninsula. Dick, Bobby and yours truly. Just finished packing three pieces of heavy luggage. We didn't do it all by ourselves; we had lots of help to see that Dick's dungarees and wool shirt weren't left out and Bobby's swim trunks, and their pajamas for use on the train from Detroit to Mackinaw City. Paper Hankies had to be packed in the small bag that contained all the necessities of train travel and a couple play suits for Dick and Bob just in case our baggage was left on the platform at Toledo or Detroit and didn't arrive when we did. (The hankies are for "Dude Ranch's" hayfever). Two sisters, Anna Dicker and Lottie Koch saw to it that my own long underwear was safely tucked among the sweaters and bathrobe and woolen sox that we will need around the first of September.

There's four pads of stenographer's note book for use in writing this column while in the Upper Peninsula. We couldn't overlook the Phlueger Ocean City reel for our Muskie fishing and the accessories that go with it. And that stuff that you put one drop in each eye to relieve the eye symptoms of Hay Fever and to retard the flow of the mucus thru the nostrils.

There's a couple of flashlights for use in case you don't sleep well and have to take a "walk" during the night. And Carpenter tools; we'll need those for building a couple of pieces of rustic furniture we'd planned and drew blue prints during the past winter. Might pack a few green tomatoes to take along, also. They'll ripen in a few days. And out of the back yard here at Frebis and Fourth, they'll taste better than those trucked into the Upper Peninsula from down below. The shipped tomatoes up there are soggy and sour, raised on the ground and full of sand, while those here in Columbus are clean and firm. (unless they bounce our baggage around too much). Think we'll pack some dry beans for a Chilli feast on one of the cool days we'll have later in September. Guess that's about all the packing to be done so we'll close the lids and tag each piece of luggage.

We called Johnny Grassie about three hours ago, to see if he could take our baggage to the depot, and do you know what happened? He had his car already packed and was leaving in one-half hour for Canada. Brother George Koch of Handley Plumbing Co. is out fishing and took the pick-up with him. Johnny's going to Canada, and Johnny Young of Young's Grill has no water in his car radiator, so we probably will have to hire some stranger to tote our bags to the depot. Could be we put Dick's wagon on the back of the bike; put our bags in it and have Dick pump the thing up to the Depot, but wottle we do with the wagon when we get there? Is there a taxi driver in the house? Maybe we'd better take a TAXI!

The next column you read in the Booster will have been written in the Upper Peninsula. There we will have first hand information about the doings of the various personalities and cronies and hope to write nothing but things of interest to you. If we catch a big fish; we'll tell you about it. If we catch nothing but Buckeye Lake size fish—well you won't read a thing about it. But with the deep-sea tackle we plan on using we'll either catch big ones or else. Dick and Bob tell me they're going to show their Dad up when we get on Brevort Lake. They say they're going to show us that they can catch fish even on that broken down tackle we keep at the "Dude Ranch" the year around. Gosh we hope they're only kidding. But it could happen up there in the U.P. We know of an eleven year old boy, fishing with his Dad; who snagged and landed a five and one-half pound Walleye and the old man didn't even get a nibble. The boy was fishing with a cane pole for perch and his dad was using the expensive type tackle and fishing for Walleyes exclusively. Maybe the old man was showing the boy how to get the big ones and it turned out to be vice-versa.

You'll be hearing from us from the Upper Peninsula next week. If we don't catch any fish, we'll take you on a Scenic Tour.

A near-sighted man was walking along a country road when a strong gust of wind carried his hat away. He gave chase, but the faster he ran, the faster the hat seemed to go.

A woman screamed from a nearby farmhouse: "What are you doing?"

The man replied that he was trying to retrieve his hat.

"Your hat!" exclaimed the woman. "There it is over by the stone fence; now you stop chasing my little black hen."

PEACHES FOR WINTER

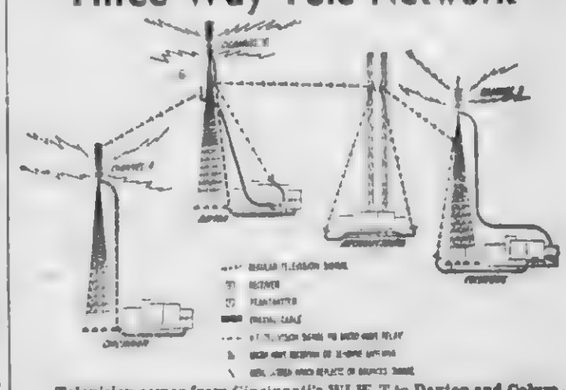
Fresh peaches to eat now and to can for winter meals.

By BETTY NEWTON

As soon as peaches become plentiful on the market it is wise to can or freeze them for winter desserts, salads and garnishes. Of course, there are many delicious ways to use them right now, too.

Pickled Peaches

2 lbs. brown sugar
1 qt. vinegar
1 in. stick cinnamon
4 qts. peaches
2 Tbsp. cloves

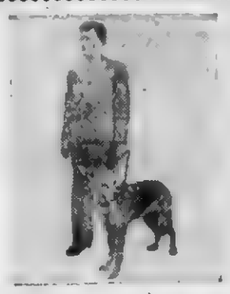


Boil the sugar, vinegar, and cinnamon together until they begin to look syrupy. Wash the peaches and rub off fuzz. Stick 1 or 2 cloves in each peach and drop the peaches into the syrup. Cook until easily pierced with a fork. Put them into jars, pour the syrup over them, filling each jar, and seal while hot. Allow the jars to cool and store. The peaches may be peeled if desired. It may also be more convenient to cook only part of the peaches in the syrup at one time, cooking the remainder after these have been taken out and put into jars.

Dutch Peach Cake

1 C. sifted all purpose flour
1½ tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
1 Tbsp. sugar
⅓ C. shortening
1 egg
½ C. milk
3 peaches, peeled, pitted and thinly sliced
½ tsp. cinnamon
½ tsp. nutmeg
2 Tbsp sugar
2 Tbsp. melted butter or margarine
¼ C. currant jelly

Sift together first 4 ingredients. Cut in shortening with 2 knives or pastry blender until like coarse corn meal. Stir in combined egg and milk with fork. Spread in greased baking dish 12 x 8 x 2 inches. Arrange peaches, slightly overlapping, in parallel rows, on top, with straight edge pushed half way into dough. Sprinkle on combined cinnamon, nutmeg, 2 Tbsp. sugar. Top with butter. Bake at 400 degrees for 40 to 45 minutes. Remove from oven; beat jelly with fork; spread on top. Serve warm, cut in squares, alone or with ice cream. Makes 6 servings.



Three-Way Tele Network

Television comes from Cincinnati's WLW-T to Dayton and Columbus by means of this network, operated by the Crosley Broadcasting Corporation. Programs of all types, including NBC network features, are picked up at Dayton on a receiver, reinforced at the WLW-D transmitter, and then sent on to WLW-C. Midway between WLW-D and WLW-C the signal is again boosted by a special tower and transmitter at Mechanicsburg.

"Phantom of the Opera" At the Southland

"Phantom of the Opera," the Technicolor terror-classic, reaches a thrilling climax as Claude Rains, as the "Phantom" reveals himself to Christine, portrayed by Susanna Foster. Nelson Eddy is co-starred with the two popular players in the enthralling production which will be shown Friday and Saturday at the Southland Theatre. The co-feature will be "Ali Baba and the Forty Theives," in Technicolor, and starring Jon Hall and Maria Montez.

"Tower of London" At Victor Theater

Sunday only the Victor Theater is showing "Tower of London" with Basil Rathbone and Vincent Price. This is a re-issue which has been brought back by popular request. The second picture is "The Man Who Claimed His Head" with Claude Rains and Joan Bennett. If you missed these two pictures, now is your chance to see them. News completes the program.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater presents Sun., Mon., Tuesday presents "Neptune's Daughter" Starring Esther Williams and Red Skelton. For those who enjoy grace, beauty and romance these are Esther Williams and Ricardo Montalban, and a bevy of scantily clad glamor gals in a masterfully staged production with handsome sets and backgrounds and Technicolor photography.

The Seekers of Music will enjoy Xavier Cugats' orchestra and for all these is comedy as only Red Skelton can serve it. Also playing is "Some of the Best" a M. G.M. Featurett.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

ONE of the most revolutionary projects of President Truman's welfare state program is his so-called national compulsory health insurance. It is not insurance and it will not improve health. Taxes in the sum of $6 billion a year are to be levied, for the most part on payrolls, and to be paid out by a Washington bureau to give free medical care to everyone in the United States, including the millions who are completely able to pay for it themselves. Doctors, nurses, dentists and other health personnel would soon become, in effect, employees of the Federal government. The cost to the taxpayer (and everyone would be a taxpayer through the payroll deductions) would probably be far more than $6 billion. Experience in England and elsewhere shows that, when medical services are free, everyone insists on treatment for the most trivial causes. Doctors are so swamped that those in real need get very poor service indeed.

A recent Brookings Institution survey shows that we have the best health record of any country in the world, except for a few small countries which do not have our wide variation in conditions and types of people. Our free system of private medicine has produced the best doctors in the world, and there are more of them per unit of population than in any other country.

Certainly our system can be improved, but why destroy it when it has succeeded better than any other? Freedom has been the key to the success of the American Republic. This is no time to abandon it for state-directed systems in any field. Nothing could intrude the Federal bureaucracy into the daily lives of every American family more than this national medical socialism.

THERE are many other things government can do to improve our system. Government and the medical profession have done a great job in the field of preventive medicine. Many of our worst scourges like typhoid have been driven out. We are appropriating millions to check cancer, tuberculosis, heart disease and venereal diseases.

The Senate has passed a bill to help States to provide periodical inspection of the health of children in public, parochial and private schools. The Senate Committee has approved a bill to aid States to extend their local public health units to cover the entire State.

We found after the war that our facilities had fallen behind. The Federal government is aiding the States and private hospitals so that adequate hospital facilities may be available to all. The Senate Committee has recommended an increase in this aid to hospital construction, and also a bill to aid medical and other schools so that they may educate more doctors, dentists, nurses and other health personnel.

• • •

WE are studying plans also to aid the States and localities in providing free medical care for those unable to pay for it. The obligation of local government to do this has been recognized everywhere, but there have been gaps in the performance, particularly in rural districts, and a better job should be done. If government confines free service to those unable to pay their way, we do no more than Anglo-Saxon people have always done for hundreds of years.

We are also studying the encouragement of voluntary health insurance funds so that real health insurance can be obtained at prepaid cost by all those who desire to protect themselves against calamity illness and excessive charges.

There are those who are opposed to the Federal government giving any aid to States, cities and counties. Admittedly, health is primarily a local responsibility, but many States are poor and none has the tax resources of the national government.

I know of no other way to fill up the gaps in our system or quickly to effect substantial improvement. All Federal aid legislation which I have sponsored or approved leaves complete control of administration in the States. Local self-government is absolutely essential to the maintenance of freedom in a country as large as the United States.

"Return of Wildfire" At Ideal Theater

Sunday and Monday the Ideal Theater will show "Return of Wildfire" with Richard Arlen and Mary Beth Hughes. The story is plausible and the characters and plot believable. It is an adroit blend of a wild horse saga and a standard galloper plot. In the latter phase there are several new twists, which are refreshing without detracting from the expected ingredients. The picture is loaded with thrills, drama and romance. Another asset lies in the color photography. Also showing is "Bad Boy" with Lloyd Nolan and Jane Wyatt. News and cartoon complete the program.

Russell Presents "Ma and Pa Kettle"

Sunday and Monday the Russell Theater presents "Ma and Pa Kettle" with Marjorie Main and Percy Kilbride. The story is built around the comic characters created by Betty MacDonald in "The Egg and I". Miss Main is again the hard-working sharp-tongued Ma Kettle and Percy Kilbride is the shiftless, laconic Pa, parents of a brood of 15 noisy youngsters. Pa enters a slogan contest to win a new tobacco pouch but, instead, wins a prefabricated house with modern improvements operated by pushbuttons. You'll howl at them in this comedy. Also showing is "Rose of the Yukon" with Steve Brodie. A cartoon completes the play bill.

Quail Accepts Game-Bird Title

The mystery of whether the bobwhite in Ohio would become a gamebird or remain a songbird has now been settled. The Ohio Legislature in its closing session passed the bill giving the quail gamebird classification. The law becomes effective 90 days from its passage.

For the past 36 years no bird or animal in Ohio has provided so much material for "cracker-barrell" and "curbstone" conversation. Until 1913 the quail was a protected game bird in Ohio but the legislature that year officially placed it on the songbird list.

No one knows just why the bird was ever made a songbird but every two years the legislature battled with the question but the quail always came through as a songbird.

So long as the bird remained a songbird the Division of Conservation did not feel justified to spend the hunter's license money to manage or propagate it any more than they could manage robins or bluebirds or other song birds.

Game officials of the Division of Wildlife expect to manage quail with very little additional expense by making adjustments in the Wildlife Habitat Development Program in operation for the past two years. This same program that is proving so beneficial to the population of other small game is expected to improve quail habitat and food conditions.

The law provides that although quail will be treated as a game-bird, there will be no open hunting season for a period of ten years. Since winter cover and food are the limiting factors in maintaining and restoring quail populations, extensive preparations are being made by Division of Wildlife game officials.

H. A. Rider, Chief of the Wildlife Division this week ordered an extensive program of winter feeding for every covey of quail that can be located in the state.

SGT.: "My wife is reducing. This morning she touched her toes twenty times without bending her knees. Can your wife do that?"

Cpl.: "This morning my wife touched the floor with her chin without bending her knees."

Sgt.: "How in the world did she do that?"

Cpl.: "She fell out of bed."

Is Your Appetite Fatigued? Try Jellied Wine Bouillon

Jellied Bouillon is a chef's treat for heat-weary appetites. Dressed up with avocado and smoothly flavored with California wine, it is a most refreshing way to begin a summer luncheon or dinner. You won't need to go to a fine restaurant for it, either. Prepare it easily at home by following this simple recipe:

JELLIED AVOCADO BOUILLON
(Serves 6)

2 tablespoons plain, unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
2 (10½ oz.) cans condensed bouillon
½ cup California Sherry Wine
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Salt and pepper to taste
1 medium sized avocado
Lemon wedges

Soften gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes; dissolve over hot water. Mix bouillon, Sherry, lemon juice, salt and pepper; add dissolved gelatin; chill until slightly thickened. Peel avocado and cut in very tiny dice; fold into gelatin mixture; chill until firm. At serving time, spoon into bouillon cups. Serve lemon wedges as an accompaniment.

Ice Cream — Homemade and Delicious

Drop a hint that dessert is pie a la mode and you'll see a sparkle in every pair of eyes. And if you add that the ice cream is homemade, food will disappear like a jet propelled plane passing a given point so as not to delay for one moment the ecstacy of eating homemade ice cream on pie.

Making ice cream is very simple. Just get a few five-ounce containers of ice cream powder mix at your grocer's. Sprinkle the contents of one container over cold water, mix and freeze in your refrigerator tray. Make more than one tray if you choose, and vary the flavors to suit your fancy. With the makings in these little containers on your pantry shelf, ice cream delights need never be further away than your refrigerator.

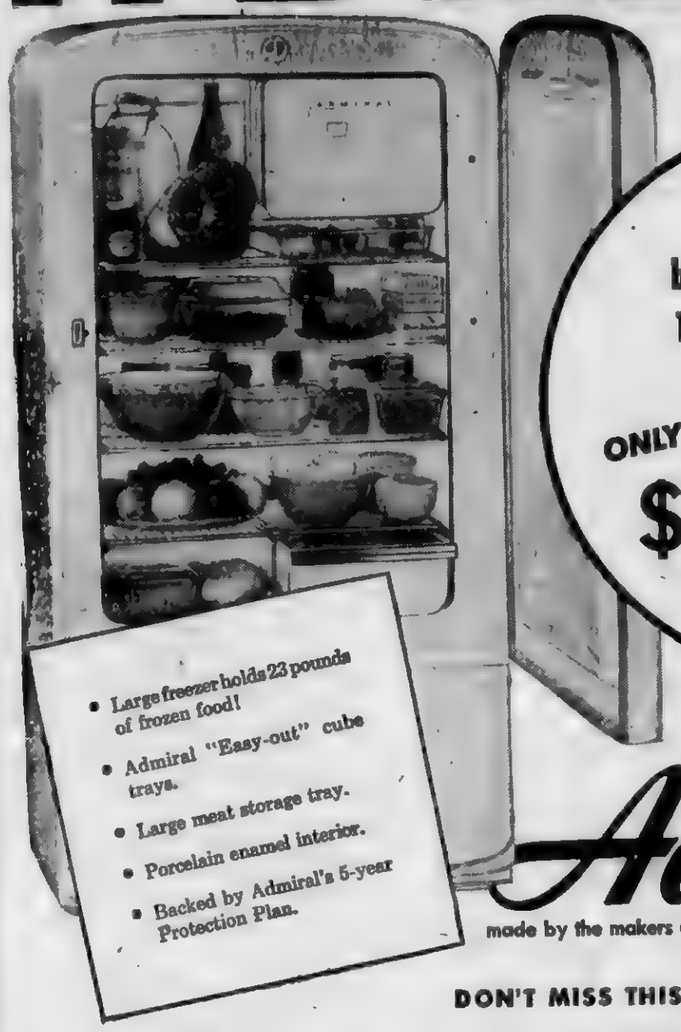
A Spider In The Paper

Many years ago Mark Twain was editor of a small-town newspaper. A reader wrote in saying that he had found a spider in his paper, and wanted to know if that was an omen of good or bad luck. Mark Twain answered: "Finding a spider in your newspaper is neither good nor bad luck. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."



Retailing has come a long way since those days, and the art of advertising has undergone great development. And advertising, by stores or any other kind of business, is a typical outgrowth of the competitive system. It is the best possible means of reaching the people who want goods and services, of urging the merits of one brand as against another, and of encouraging the consumer to go to some particular retail outlet. That it benefits the consumer goes without saying. No storekeeper could longer charge an excessive price with competitors offering in print the same or an equivalent product at a lower price. And deceptive advertising always defeats its own purpose. The wise merchant advertises aggressively, but he bases his story on appeal, not fiction.

The growth of the chain systems did much to encourage retail advertising. The chains advertised their merits in the search for trade—and the independents did the same thing in order to hold and to expand their own business. This was good for all concerned—consumers, stores, and newspapers.

Salesmanship is a driving force in keeping the American economy running. Advertising is the heart of it.

That Wicked Profit Motive

One of the most intelligent discussions of what socialism can do to a nation has been written by Dorothy Thompson, in a newspaper column. It deals specifically with the British situation, but what is true there is also true in all the totalitarian economies.

"The present practical confiscation of profits stops the building of new capital, interest in profits is killed, and wages, interest and dividends are knocked away," writes Miss Thompson. "Actually not production, but production costs, are rewarded. The businessman is interested to raise, not lower, costs in order to make the net taxable revenue small, not large. . . . .

"Socialist planning always shows its worst failures, not in production figures, but in the price level. The enterpriser, exchanging profits for security, in the form of fixed prices and subsidies, stops caring about costs . . . A rigid economy follows, in regard to all the elements of production, which shows inelasticity in responding to consumers' shifts . . .

"No one can accuse Socialists of the wicked 'profit motive.' They genuinely desire 'the welfare of the masses.' But this righteousness regarding their own motives induces a peculiarly irritating smugness, blinding them to the fact that 'noble' bureaucratic costs can greatly exceed 'wicked' profits, and that the welfare of the masses has to demonstrate itself by facts, not theories."

We are being urged to follow much the same path that Britain has chosen. A determined campaign is on to nationalize industry, as in the case of light and power. An equally determined campaign would have us accept a compulsory health insurance scheme that differs only in detail from England's enormously costly experiment in this field. The advocates of cradle-to-the-grave security—at a cost which no one can estimate—are beating the drums throughout the land. And, in spite of the tremendous burden of taxation that stifles our initiative, no real effort has been made to cut the cost of government.

Every socialist or communist proposal is based on the appealing fiction that by eliminating profit we will advance the welfare of the masses. Yet, in every case, precisely the opposite result has been achieved. It is not an accident that our high wages and high living standards have been gained under the profit system. The system has its faults—but socialism, as the record proves, has infinitely more and some of them are beyond correction.

Washington Week

Washington, D. C.—Lest we forget!

"Give us a Democratic Congress and we will take action against monopoly."

President Truman promised it on September 30, 1948, in Louisville, Ky. The Eighty-First Congress, after seven months, has taken no action whatever on anti-monopoly legislation. There was not even a Small Business Committee set up in the Senate until recently.

On October 29, 1948, in Yonkers, N. Y., Mr. Truman thundered: "If you want to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act, then you had better go to the polls next Tuesday and vote the Democrat ticket straight.

A Democrat Senate has refused to repeal the act and the Democrat House hasn't yet taken up labor legislation since repeal failed months ago.

"We favor legislation assuring that the workers of our Nation receive equal pay for equal work regardless of sex." (Democrat platform.)

No action in either House on such legislation.

"We intend to go forward with the development of our natural resources, by such means as soil conservation, reforestation, the utilization of our water resources and the development of great waterways like the St. Lawrence Seaway." (President Truman, October 13, 1948, Superior, Wis.)

So far, no action yet in either House on St. Lawrence Seaway or Columbia Valley development.

"With a Democrat President and a Democrat Congress . . . we will be unified for the expansion of social security, the improvement of our educational system and the expansion of medical aid." (President Truman, October 13, 1948, St. Paul, Minn.)

Social Security expansion is still in a House Committee and no action has been taken in the Senate.

A Federal-aid-to-education bill passed the Senate back in May, but is hopelessly bogged down in the House.

The determination to attain the goal of equal rights and equal opportunity must be resolute and unwavering. For my part, I intend to keep moving toward this goal with every ounce of strength and determination I have." (President Truman, October 29, 1948, Harlem, N. Y.)

An anti-lynching bill is in a House Committee; and an anti-poll tax bill passed the House but administration leaders in the Senate have refused to put it to a vote. An anti-segregation bill passed the House April 4, but there has been no action in the Senate. Finally a fair employment practices bill is tied up in the House Committee.

"We need controls on inflation. A Democrat Congress will give us these controls." (President Truman, October 23, 1948, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.)

Ah, yes, lest we forget!

A WAR COULDN'T BE WORSE

Washington, D.C., August—Our Government has sought peace at any price. Threats of a new war have been hurled into every conference and gathering of the Nations. Our own United States has been overrun by Russian Communists, enemies and spies. At the same time Russia and its yellow dogs, who claim to be regular human beings, have proved that they are about 99 per cent liars and traitors.

Our country is not a capitalistic Nation. We want no country's territory. On the contrary our Nation has poured billions of dollars into plans of Americans to restore peace on All the Earth.

Getting right down to facts, All our Americans are the best people in the WHOLE WORLD. We have plenty of troubles of our own, and we fuss and fumble, and even go off on the wrong track. But—now be honest—we fall for bad plans and causes, and our leaders in public affairs quarrel and abuse each other—but as a rule most of our damning and cussing results from honest differences of opinion. Our most nonsensical home battles are about higher wages, strikes and increased costs of everything. We have been throwing our money around, playing Santa Claus to undeserving governments 'round the World.

But, WE ARE THE BEST PEOPLE in the World—and if things come to a crisis, and another war, we are pretty apt to tell Stalin & Co. to go chase themselves before we get really mad and feed them up on atom bombs.

WHO SAYS "SOAK THE RICH"?

In view of the hammering which our home-grown brand of left-wingers has been directing against sales taxes as a source of Government revenue, the recently approved budget of the Russian Government must come somewhat as a surprise.

While the confused Commies clamor that sales taxes are anti-democratic and unfair to our working people, the Supreme Soviet of the U. S. S. R., ("The People's Democracy," that is) provided that sales taxes on the necessities of life will furnish almost three fifths of the total planned revenue for the year. These levies range from 30 per cent to more than 200 per cent on some articles.

For instance, the tax on toilet soap reaches more than 300 per cent. The felt boots worn by many Russians are taxes from 13 per cent to 47 per cent—depending on the part of the country where the boots are sold. Vodka imbibers have to fork over a 600 per cent tax on their favorite drink. On the basis of past years, it is estimated that the Soviet Union will take from two-thirds to three-fourths of the income of each average wage-earner in taxes and forced loans.

In marked contrast to the sales tax burden levied on the laboring people of Russia, the approved income tax scale favors most higher bracket groups who will actually pay a lower rate than they would in the United States under our present tax laws. (And this while our local brand of Communists cry "Soak the Rich!"). There is only a mildly graduated tax on incomes up to about twice what the average workman makes. Above this amount, the surtax is 13 per cent for all incomes, no matter how high they go.

All of this, we must be reminded, is complete contradiction of the tax policies advocated for our own country by those who would have us believe that Russia can do no wrong.

They were showing snapshots...

OUR LUMBERMEN SHORT-CHANGED BY PLAYING SANTA CLAUS TO BRITAIN

Congressman Mack told Congress [illegible] that the [illegible] State of Washington, the State of Oregon [illegible] curtailed production schedules. There is, in consequence, [illegible] unemployment in the lumber industry in these two States."

Mr. Mack explained that Great Britain has turned to Canadian mills. Why? "One of the principal reasons for this is that Great Britain is using ECA dollars our taxpayers give her, buys almost exclusively in Canada."

As proof of the pudding" is the proof of this statement, Britain shipped [illegible] feet of lumber to the United Kingdom, while the lumber states of Oregon and Washington, America's two greatest lumber producing States, shipped a combined total of only 7,800,704 feet of lumber to the United Kingdom.

WHEN IS A LOBBYIST NOT A LOBBYIST?

About 1,600 lobbyists hang around the National Capital—trying to switch votes of Senators and Representatives "to their side."

Well, there are a lot of people who go up on the Hill and express their honest convictions to Senators and Representatives. They have a perfect right to do that!

Evidently, lobbyists are paid representatives of different interests. They make the rounds of hallways, and argue specifically for their piece of legislation. That may be all right part of the time, but not all the time.

Ohio Peaches Now On Sale At Local Markets

Red blushes don't make ripe peaches—nor are hard peaches always green!

Homemakers who remember these facts, says Alma Garvin, Extension nutritionist at Ohio State University, will do a better job of buying peaches for canning or freezing.

Pointing out that Ohio's peach crop is ripening faster and earlier than usual this year, Miss Garvin suggests that "now's the time to can or freeze peaches."

"Look at the background color when buying peaches," she says. "If it's an unbroken green, the peach may develop a pale color and will shrivel as it ripens. If the skin has started to change from green to white or yellow, the peach is mature and should ripen satisfactorily."

Varieties recommended by Miss Garvin for freezing include Golden Jubilee, J. H. Hale and Hale Haven, with the latter two also excellent for canning. Champion variety peaches are good for eating fresh, while Rochester will freeze satisfactorily.

After the peaches are purchased, Miss Garvin outlines the following steps to save the quality and make the processing easier:

Put fully ripe peaches into the refrigerator at once. Leave those not quite ripe out at room temperature until ripened.

For easy peeling, dip firm, ripe peaches into boiling water a minute or so, then quickly into cold water.

Wash and peel peaches only shortly before using them

Lemon juice sprinkled over freshly peeled peaches will keep them from turning dark.

SOUTH SIDE TO HAVE NEW POSTOFFICE

Ideal Sportsmen's Club

J. Jordan, member of the Ideal Sportmen's Club, holds the record catfish caught this year around the Club. Wednesday night, Jordon got an 8½ pound catfish from Big Walnut Creek. He said he tied into one that broke his line. There's word started that Geo. Lankey, the secretary of the Club, better get a boat rented at Lake Erie for the club members and some outsiders who are ready to go again. It seems Al Trimmer, a member of the club, is giving up ground hog hunting for fishing. Good luck Al.

Letters of the People

Columbus, Ohio
Aug. 19, 1949

Editor of Booster
Dear Sir:

Most of the people heard Ex-Pres. Hoover or read about him, how he told about conditions here in the U. S. how the New Dealers have been destroying millions of dollars worth of food each year, while thousands of people go hungry. They talk about what our Soldiers did in Europe and Japan and what the F.B.I. are doing. We have signed petitions by the millions but they have been ignored. There are something like 550 Congressmen and Senators. I wonder if enough honest Americans got in there and threw out the New Dealers if they'd be Lawbreakers. I hope we don't have to wait until teh 1950 election before something is done. If some people rob a store to feed their families who are hungry, they are arrested, but the crooks employed by our government can take millions.

Today, if you live to be 100 years old, you're really old, but think of those who will go to an everlasting hell if they don't change their ways soon.

Raymond Freck,
474 E. Beck St.
Columbus 6, Ohio

Courses for Leaders of Camp Fire Girls

You are invited to join other outstanding women serving the youth in your community, to find many new avenues of endeavor opened to you and to be a vital part of a national youth organization.

Training courses for new leaders will begin this fall.

Correction

There was an error in the J. and R. Coal Co. as that ran last week in the Booster. The ad read Ohio 5 in. Lump $5.00. The ad should have read Ohio 5 in. Lump $8.00. J and R Coal Company were in no way responsible for this error.

We Are Proud Of Our Community

Charge of open gambling, prostitution and disorderly liquor spots operating openly in the South-East Side, the Rev. Robert O'Dell, pastor of the Morgan Memorial Presbyterian Church last Friday called upon Mayor James Rhodes and city officials to cleanup the section between E. Main and E. Beck Sts.

Two places specifically mentioned were the Frank Hix Lunch, 185 E. Main St., and the Welcome Inn, S. Fourth and Jackson Sts.

The headlines of a downtown newspaper screamed across its front page: "Charge Vice Rampant on Southeast Side."

Certainly, there are a few disorderly places in our community, but prostitution and gambling is practically extinct.

What seems strange to us is that the newspapers don't know that 185 E. Main St. and S. Fourth and Jackson St., according to the telephone book, are classed in the downtown area.

It would seem that if the Rev. O'Dell wants to crusade that he could start on N. High St. from the Union Depot to E. Second Ave., E. Main St. and E. Cherry St. from S. High St. to Parsons Ave., which are a constant source of trouble to the marchants of those districts and to police officials.

Every organization of the South Side has protested to the downtown newspapers against adverse publicity and headlines, mentioning of South Side juvenile delinquency, vice, crime, prostitution, and gambling which in reality is in the downtown area.

Certainly, we have some spots in the South Side that would bear a little cleaning up but we could also mention some in the area close to Rev. Robert O'Dell's church.

Evidently the Rev. O'Dell has overlooked his first duty to his church and that is to go out and bring these people into his church for the redemption of their souls, rather than locking them up.

Let's look at the good things in our community such as where all the churches go together and hold union services in the summer.

Our splendid Y.M.C.A. camp and such men as Cap Hoover. Our many ministers and priests in the community who are serving God and our community.

Our many fine groups, such as the Steelton Merchants Ass'n, South Side Civic Ass'n, South Side Merchants, the Council of South Side Organizations and the South Lions Club.

The many fraternal groups such as the St. Leo's Foresters, Knights of Pythias, Southgate Masons, Druids, Moose and Eagles. And the splendid work they are doing for the community.

The South Side is the best side of the city because it has the best credit rating, it has more homes occupied by the owners and more homes owned free and clear of debt.

You don't find vice among this type of people.

We are proud of the South Side and their many splendid accomplishments, of the many public spirited citizens and their fine work for the benefit of the community.

We know that South Siders are proud of their community and they have every reason to be so.

Reeb To Register Pupils Early

Reeb Avenue Elementary School is now ready to open its 1949-50 school year according to Prin. C. O. Callahan, who will be in the school office next Wed., Thurs., and Fri., Aug. 31, Sept. 1 and 2 from 9:00 to 12:00 for registration of new pupils from Kindergarten thru the 6th grade. Call GA 1326 for an appointment.

All pupils, who will be 5 on or before Dec. 31st, should be registered immediately at the school office so that vaccination against small pox and immunization against diphtheria may be taken care of before school opens Tues. Sept. 6th. Parents are reminded of the importance of early registration, too, in order to avoid the rush of business on the opening day of school.

Mr. Callahan, who is also Dean of the Columbus Bible Institute, suggests that anyone interested in systematic training in the Bible and related subjects should call LA 61181 as the 1949-50 catalog is now available for the evening classes opening Mon. Sept. 12 at 748 Dennison Avenue, just opposite White Cross Hospital on the west side of Goodale Park.

Veterans Insurance Rebate Information

Veterans of World War II in this area will be able to secure application forms for the National Service Life Insurance dividend on Monday, August 29, E. C. Strickland, Manager in Charge of the VA Office at 209 South High Street, announced today.

Mr. Strickland emphasized that August 29 is the earliest possible date for filing, as any applications which are postmarked with a date prior to August 29 will be discarded by the VA and will not be processed. Application forms will be available at the local Columbus VA Office, 209 South High Street. In addition, the application forms may be obtained at the post offices, veterans organizations, the American Red Cross, and veteran centers. The forms are comparatively simple, Mr. Strickland disclosed, requiring only the veteran's name, address, sevrice serial number, and insurance number. Mr. Strickland further pointed out that the application can go forward without the insurance number. However, processing such applications will require an indexing operation in Washington and will undoubtedly involve more time than an application which is completely filled out.

Veterans were advised to search all old papers from VA pertaining to insurance in an effort to have the insurance policy number available when the application is completed. During the war years, Mr. Strickland said, wives, mothers, fathers, and other relatives who had been designated as beneficiaries by servicemen often received notification of this action, and in many cases the insurance number of the veteran may be secured from those old forms if they are still available.

Inasmuch as the insurance number will expedite the processing of the forms, Mr. Strickland urged all veterans to make an earnest search for the number, but if they can not locate it, application forms will be accepted. Regular working hours for the local VA office are 8:00 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., Monday through Friday.

When the forms are distributed on the first day, the local VA office, 209 South High Street, will remain open until 9:00 p.m. on Monday, August 29, Mr. Strickland revealed.

Musical Instruments Needed

Do you have a muscial instrument not in use? If you do, there is a boy or girl at Barrett Junior High School who would like to use it. Many instruments are needed at Barrett for the children anxious to learn but unable to buy an instrument.

Last year 184 students at Barrett received free instruction on various musical instruments. Fifty of these students shared the 35 instruments now owned by the school. This meant that in many cases the same instrument was played by 2 or 3 players.

This year there will be a greater demand to use school instruments. This is where you come in. If you have an instrument not in use and would like to give it to Barrett, call Mr. H. L. Germain, the Barrett Instrumental Instructor at Ga-7634. This way you will be helping some deserving youngster learn to play a musical instrument.

Kiddies Fishing Contest

The kiddies' fishing contest, being sponsored as a part of the Division of Wildlife Ohio State Fair exhibit, is expected to be one of the principle features of the fair, at least for the youngsters.

E. L. Wicklif, Chief of the Fish Management Section of the Division, announced this week that facilities have been stepped up this year to handle 10,000 young fishermen throughout fair week, August 27 through September 2.

The contest originated in 1940 and has in years past accommodated some 3500 to 4000 fishermen but because of limited facilities many youngsters were turned away even after spending several hours in the waiting lines.

Fishing is open to everyone under 18 years of age and there is no charge. Bait, poles and stringers will be furnished and the fish caught will be wrapped and iced until "going-home" time. Division of Wildlife game protectors will assist the fish management officials with the project, and ample standing room will be provided for the onlookers.

In addition to the fishing contest, the Division of Wildlife exhibit will be housed in two large tents in the twin lakes area of the southeast corner of the fair grounds.

George Emmett, in charge of the Division's big display, said this week that a 60 to 90 foot tent will contain the biggest and most complete wildlife displays in many years and another tent, 60 by 140, will house a panorama of displays depicting year 'round activities of the Division.

Hunting License On Sale

Approximately 600,000 hunting and trapping licenses for the 1949-50 season are now on sale thruout the state. The new license becomes effective September 1.

Any owner of lands within the State who has been a resident of Ohio for one year, also the tenant or children of the tenant, or manager, if having resided within the state for one year, residing on such lands, may hunt or trap thereon without a hunting and trapping license. All others are required to purchase and carry a license and display identification tag on middle of back while hunting or trapping.

Squirrel hunters will have the most immediate need for the new license. The season opens September 15 and runs thru September 30 both dates inclusive. The daily bag limit will be 4 and possession limit 4, no change from last year. Hunting hours will be from daylight to dark.

Again this year the hunting and trapping digest of rules and regulations will not be available until late in October.

The Wildlife Council will delay official adoption of hunting and trapping laws until September 9, following the completion of new and population surveys to determine as accurately as possible just how liberal the rules can be without killing off the brood stock.

Washington Week

By Chas. Egenroad

Washington, D. C.—

Certain elements close to the White House must have had this slogan in the back of their minds during the last Presidential campaign:

"What this country needs is a good five percenter."

At any rate, Senators Joseph R. McCarthy (R. Wisc.) and Karl E. Mundt (R. S. Dak.) have brot to light in Senate Committee hearings some rather interesting "five per cent deals" in which expensive gifts have been passed around in high capital circles.

It seems, from the evidence, that American businessmen seeking Government contracts must hire "insiders" with influence to run interference—for 5 per cent of the earnings of their clients.

This influence may reach into the White House, or, it may reach into the Maragon building—pardon us—Pentagon Building!

5 Per Cent—A Way of Life

The fact is, unimitated businessmen have long needed some experienced help in wading thru endless red tape to get Government business and have come to recognize the 5 per cent commission remuneration practice as a way of life.

However, until this investigation "blew off the lid," the practice had not included deep freezers as gifts to Presidential aides, for, the President's own private home in Missouri or to Supreme Court Justices.

Up to now, it is quite apparent that it has been a case of never having been caught in the act. Which brings to mind a statement President Truman made on June 7, 1948, which went like this:

"I have been in politics a long time, and it makes no difference what they say about you if it isn't so.

"If they can prove it on you, you are in a bad fix, indeed.

"They have never been able to prove it on me!"

Vaughan "Takes the Rap."

By the President's own reasoning, Major General Harry H. Vaughan, the President's aide, who admits having asked for and accepted the deep freezers, is in a bad fix.

Two former officials of the Federal Housing Administration certainly must be watching the deep freeze proceedings with more than casual interest.

Several weeks ago it was disclosed they had accepted television sets as Christmas gifts.

They were promptly fired.

If any firing is done because of the freezers it certainly would have to involve General Vaughan, the President's closest friend and campaign advisor, for he has attempted to accept all the blame.

Of course, it would be difficult to fire a Supreme Court Justice or a member of the Presidential family, so it would probably be the General who walks the plank—alone!

New Radio Program To Begin

Columbus radio listeners will have an unusual opportunity shortly to hear a program of real entertainment and educational value.

This program, FAMILY CLOSE-UP, is a series of poignant, human, documented dramatizations of real-life stories stressing family problems and their solutions. Its New York City broadcasts have aroused unusual public interest. Beginning Sunday, September 11, (5:00-5:30 p.m.) a 13 week series will be heard locally through the courtesy of Radio Station WCOL and the Family and Children's Bureau, a Community Chest Agency.

Eastern critics praise FAMILY CLOSEUPS The New York Herald Tribune says:

"One of the most surprising and encouraging things about radio in the last couple years is its eagerness . . . to grapple with the toughest of subjects. Family counseling, for example, has come a long way from the lamentable John J. Anthony . . .

"These little dramas (FAMILY CLOSEUPS) taken from actual case histories, start at the end, the break-up point in a family relationship and proceed backward to the beginning where the break-up started . . . At the end of each story, it emphasized that there's no miraculous cure-all for family emotional problems, that there is still hard work and heartbreak ahead. It's a very candid series and, even if these are not your problems, they'll teach you a lot about people in general."

The Brooklyn Eagle says:

"The people who set out their troubles on this absorbing program—and who find solutions the hard but realistic way—are no different from you and me. And therein lies the power and the truth in these dramas . . . Even for the person who may never come to the point of seeking the professional help demonstrated on FAMILY CLOSEUP the series can be helpful . . . Listen to FAMILY CLOSEUP, you'll find it an unusual experience."

The idea is a worthy one. The program is ready to go. But there is still something missing and that's where we need help. If we wait for people to casually turn a dial to find FAMILY CLOSEUP a lot of them aren't going to know the program is on the air until the series is almost over. Many of them will never know that they will receive some entertainment and help good from the program.

Let's Make Better Pictures

Thursday the daughter of a friend of mine called. The family was to leave Saturday for Canada for a two-weeks vacation. Nancy had a 35mm camera which her father had brought back from Germany. Nancy didn't know how to operate the contraption. Would I take a few minutes to tell her how to get good pictures with it. After two and a half hours Nancy's notes contained basic information on several factors each of importance in making pictures. I could have showed her how to load and unload the camera and advised her to follow the directions with the film. She had a fine precision instrument. Why not try to get out of it more than the offerings of a Brownie?

On any fine camera there are several gadgets to set. If you don't know how to set them or why, you might better have a Brownie which, at least, will get pictures most of the time. Let's look at these levers and see what they are for and how to determine how to use them.

There is the distance setting which controls the spacing between the lens and the film. There is the diaphram setting which controls the area of the opening through which the light passes from the subject through the lens to the film. There is the shutter setting which controls the time the light is allowed to pass through the lens. All these are valuable. Add the variables of light intensity and film emulsion speed, and you have all the variables concerned with the camera itself.

To secure a good final photograph you must have proper exposure, correct focus, adequate depth of field, and proper shutter speed. Of course the subject must be good.

Proper exposure means the correct combination of film, light intensity, diaphragm opening and shutter speed. If any of these factors are changed, you must alter one or more of the others. If the light drops to one half value, you can use a film with twice the speed or open the diaphragm to twice the area or slow up the shutter speed one half. Few people can judge light values closely enough to make negatives of nearly constant density without an exposure meter. If you take many pictures, get a meter. They cost from a few dollars to a week's pay check. Any meter is better than most people's judgment.

Correct focus means that the lens is at such a distance from the film that the image of the subject will be registered sharply on the film. Some cameras are of fixed focus. The focus cannot be altered. Some cameras have a distance scale. With this equipment you estimate the distance or measure it before adjusting the camera. Some cameras are equipped with range finders. When accurate, exact settings are the rule.

Adequate depth of field is possible by control of the diaphragm. Depth of field is the depth of the sharp part of your negative. Focussed at any given spot or distance, a lens will produce an apparently sharp image on the film for a certain distance in front of that spot and a certain distance behind it. The distance will depend on the diaphragm setting. The smaller the opening, the greater will be the distance or depth of field. The farther away the point of focus, the greater will be the depth of field. No rule can be made as to proper depth of field. Some photographs require extreme depth, while others require shallow fields. Depth of field scales or charts are available for lens of various focul lengths. It is wise to study the one which fits your camera. Keep a copy with the camera—Use it.

Proper shutter speed means choosing the proper shutter setting and is self-explanatory. A still object can be photographed by a time exposure. A dancer's actions can be recorded on the film without blurr only by extremely short exposures.

Experience allows the photographer to choose between a faster shutter speed with a larger opening and the slower shutter speed with the smaller opening. For general photography choose the shutter speed which will stop the action and close the diaphragm to allow the proper exposure. In some cases you must choose where to sacrifice.

Each factor should be studied separately by those who are interested. This will present the basis for study. I'll be glad to go into more detail for any of you who would like to drop a note to the Booster.

ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY!

Sylvester Says:

"Lined up, wall to wall, homes built last year would reach farther than from New York to San Francisco to half way to Honolulu in the Pacific."

A U. S. Government survey of the housing situation reveals that the home building industry last year constructed more new homes in less time than were ever constructed in any country. Over 950,000 homes were built during 1948.

Jam-Filled Coil

Hidden spiral of jam and a candied fruit and nut icing put this coffee cake into the dessert class.

Better allow for seconds when you serve jam-filled coffee cake coil with its attractive fruit-and-nut studded icing.

Make this special occasion bread from a basic sweet yeast dough, using enriched flour for the added B-vitamins and iron it provides. Let dough rest about ten minutes before shaping so that it will be easier to handle. To fashion the coil, roll the dough out to a long thin strip, spread jam over surface, then roll up tightly. Coil the jam-filled roll into a cake pan, putting the sealed edge down. This keeps jam from oozing out and also gives the top of the coffee cake a smooth appearance.

After baking, apply a thin glaze of confectioners' icing to highlight the coil. If desired, chopped fruits and nuts may be pressed into the icing for special occasions. Despite these extras, jam-filled coil makes an economical ending to a luncheon or dinner menu.

JAM-FILLED COIL

1 package yeast, compressed or dry
¼ cup lukewarm water
½ cup milk
2 tablespoons shortening
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
2½ cups sifted enriched flour (about)
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
½ cup jam
½ cup Confectioners' Sugar Icing
2 tablespoons chopped candied fruit
2 tablespoons chopped nuts

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Scald milk. Add shortening, one-fourth cup sugar and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Add one cup flour. Mix well. Add egg and lemon rind. Beat well. Add softened yeast. Mix well. Add enough more flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until satiny. Place in greased bowl. Cover and let rise until doubled (about one and one-half hours). When light, punch down. Let rest 10 minutes. Roll out to strip three inches wide and one-eighth inch thick. Brush with melted butter or margarine. Spread evenly with jam. Roll up into tight roll. Coil into greased nine inch layer pan, long seam side is down. Let rise until doubled (about one hour). Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Remove from pan. Glaze with Confectioners' Sugar Icing. Sprinkle with chopped fruit and nuts. Makes one nine-inch coffee cake.

August Fishing Considered Only Fair

Creel census reports reaching Division of Wildlife headquarters in Columbus show that fishing generally throughout the state for the first part of August has been only fa

Catches were reported as good at Indian Lake in Logan county, at Portage North in Summit County; Seneca Lake in Guernsey and Noble Counties and in Shade river in the southern part of the state.

In those waters where fishing was rated as fair or good, the catches ranged from 75% to 95 bluegills. Periodic rains and cooler weather typical of the early fall season is expected to improve fishing generally.

"I'm A Millionaire"

Tho I haven't much money,
And am burdened with care.
My skies above are sunny,
So, I'm a millionaire!
I can be proud of good health,
Life to me, has been fair.
I don't envy those with wealth,
'Cause, I'm a millionaire!
Why shouldn't I always smile,
When I've friends here and there?
They help to make life worth while,
Say, I'm a millionaire!
So take away all the money;
All the gold everywhere.
Just leave me skies that are sunny.
I'll be a millionaire!
Take away all the riches,
For here is my solemn prayer;
Truly, my only wish is,
That you too, are a millionaire!

By Charles W. Widmaier.

News In The World Of Religion

By W. W. Reid

"Today it is an urgent and continuing mission of our churches to sharpen the sense of moral obligation, to mitigate national pride and pretention, to urge our people to a steadfast exercise of our enlarged responsibilities," says a recent statement of the Federal Council of Churches. "In opposition to those who would seek to solve our problems merely by increasing our military power or by resting our security upon a monopoly of atomic weapons, we shall insist that our security rest in a more perfect mutual support of all freedom-loving peoples and in through their local newspapers, two worlds."

With the cooperation of the national agencies of the Advertising Council, the United Church Canvass (interdenominational; 214 E. 21st St., New York City) is planning a nationwide publicity campaign to foster attendance at churches and synagogues during the month of November. Radio, newspaper advertising, billboards, television, and magazines will be used in the effort—contributed as a national service by the agencies of the Advertising Council. Dr. Karl Quimby and Dr. Stanley L. Stuber are the Canvass representatives in charge of the movement. Local churches and synagogues will "tie into" the effort through dtheir local newspapers, radio stations, etc.

"The greatest opportunity for Christian advance in the western hemisphere is in Brazil," according to the American Bible Society. "Here, in a country larger than the United States and rich in resources and with a rapidly growing population of 45,000,000, Evangelical Christianity has been growing faster than anywhere else in the world. Local churches are imbued with a strong missionary spirit and the leadership is struggling to care for the incoming thousands of pupils."

After forty-five years of association with the missionary enterprise of the Methodist Church—twenty-five of those years as executive head of the Division of Foreign Missions of the Board of Missions and Church Extension—the Rev. Ralph Eugene Diffendorfer, D.D., LL.D., will retire from that post on August 31. But he will still be associated with the missionary cause, for he will give the next few years to the direction of the Japan Christian University Foundation, Inc., of which he is the president. This Foundation is planning the erection of an all-Christian interdenominational and international university near Tokyo, Japan, and will raise some $10,000,000 for its erection and partial endowment from American friends . . . Dr. Diffendorfer, a native of Hayesville, Ohio, has long been regarded as American Protestantism's leading missionary statesman, and has been active not only in Methodist circles but in the Foreign Missions Conference of North America, the International Missionary Council, and World Council of Churches. More than 75% of Methodism's present staff of missionaries were recruited during his years in office; and he has helped shape missionary policy in South America, India, China, Japan, Korea, the Philippines, Africa, and in parts of Europe. His services to Methodism covered the period ofthe depression, the second World War, the post-war period, and the problems of many kinds growing out of these worldwide situations.

The Communists are not going to have an easy time in forcing upon the common man of China either the political or the economic program favored by Moscow, in the opinion of Dr. Roderick Scott, Congregational Christian educator and missionary, who has known China through thirty years. Dr. Scott is now on furlough in Auburndale, Mass. "The Chinese are much like the eastern Europeans and cannot be pushed around," he says. "They are like Missourians and have to be shown. The success of the Chinese Communist is not due to their Communism, but rather to their being 'the party of the unfinished revolution', thus appealing to both the patriotic and the reform groups . . . . The Communists are working mostly in the rural areas, promising peace and greater prosperity, but the orthodox party program calls for industrialization, which can only mean taxes on the peasant group to create industry, for which China has neither raw materials, money nor machinery. These things will have to come from the West. The orthodox Communist position is against schools, and the Chinese are highly education-conscious." Dr. Scott believes that Chinese Christians have no intention of giving way to the Communists He feels that it is in China alone that Communism will meet a liberal Christianity and this will create a situation of great interest to all Christian people. "The result may be a modification of Chinese Communism," Dr. Scott adds.

Michigan's Upper Peninsula

By Frank "Dude Ranch" Koch

Well—we finally made it! Dick, Bobby and myself. It took 21 hours to make it on the train this year. We stopped every place along the route but Shadesville; and if we were heading south, we'd probably made that stop.

I'm not going to tell you the temperatures are as low as 47° and high as 76° because I don't want you to think it's cool up here. Bobby and yours truly have colds, but Dick, being the stronger of the three, manages to hold his own so far.

Lots of Columbus people at the Massey House this year. We met the Beckers from S. High St.—the Williams', the Feyes and daughter, Carol. The Williams' also had their daughter, Catherine along. The women of this South Side party (Columbus) caught 25 panfish last week that weighed over 14 lb. The men took nine trout on one trip out and eleven on another. Their catch of Great Northern Pike and small mouthed bass was 14 and 12 respectively.

Not being satisfied with the weather this week the party of Five — Guided by Lawrence Massey, Manager of the Massey House at Brevort Lake, decided to try the waters around Beaver Island for Small Mouths. They had eaten, or given away most of their fish up to now, (except the big ones that usually get away) and that's why they decided on the trip by air to Beaver Island.

The party left their cottages here at Massey's at 5:30 a.m. on Wednesday, August 17th, arriving at the Mackinac County Airport at 6:00. They had their breakfast down there and took off at 7:00 o'clock in two planes for Beaver Island arriving there at about 7:30 a.m. It rained all during the air trip and also for about one and one-half hours after they arrived.

After fishing the Bay at Beaver and not being satisfied with their catch, they chartered a boat piloted by Capt. Roland J. McCann of St. James, Beaver Island, Michigan. Their prize catch was taken from Capt. McCann's fishing boat. These, we believe, are already packed for shipment to Columbus. Now listen to this:—there were nine Bass and they weighed over 30 lbs. Yours truly was at the Massey House when the party came in from the Mackinac County Airport and we witnessed the count and weighing of this catch, and checked same.

The party tells me that Dana Williams sort of hogged the May West life jackets in the one plane while flying over the Straits of Mackinac. He, however, turned over the jackets to the rest of the party after landing on Beaver Island. The landing was made by both planes on a clearing—an emergency field. After boarding the Capt. McCann boat for the final burst of this fishing trip, Williams wished he had not been so generous with the life belts because the water was really rough.

All members of the party except Mr. Massey are members of the South East Conservation Club of Columbus. Those included in the party were: Mr. George Becker, 2103 South High St., truck gardner for a number of years on the South Side, and known by many readers of the Booster as a Celery, lettuce and tomato grower in these parts.

John Robertson of Rt. 2, New Vienna, a Stock Breeder with a reputation in his locality; John Fayes of 1707 Columbus St., who is in Executive Service at Morehouse Martens Dept. Store.

Dana Williams of 1506 Eastwood Ave., an interior decorator.

The two pilots who piloted the five and two passenger planes on the trip were Mr. Frank Blake and Walter Schmidt, both affiliated with the Peninsula School of Aeronautics. Blake and Schmidt operate the Flying School at the Mackinac County Airport.

I would like to add here that the tomatoes (green ones, that is) that our brother, John Koch sent up with the Thomases, now occupying the "dude ranch" are ripening so that we always have one or two on the table up here. We hope Lottie and Annie and the gang at Young's Grill and the Landmark will be a little patient until we have a little time to spend on letters and post cards. That goes for those viewing the Video at B. & G. (Herm Isally) and Nick Suciescy (Thurman Grill). Johnny Knoll could have been up here just as well as not but he didn't have enough time to make arrangements. Emerich, also, but Emerich might get here, yet.

All those guys mentioned above catching fish and we don't even have our license yet. TSK-TSK-TSK! We wish Mr. C. R. Walcutt were here to relax and enjoy the climate with his entire staff! How about coming up, C. R.?—

Waiting Period Reduced

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 25—The waiting period which must be served by an unemployed worker before he may become eligible for unemployment benefits has been reduced from two weeks to one by amendment to the Ohio Unemployment Compensation Law, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today.

The amended law, which becomes effective on Monday, August 22, specifically provides that no person can collect benefits for or during the one-week waiting period and that the first week for which benefits may be drawn is actually the second week of unemployment.

The BUC cited the example of a man who becomes newly unemployed as of Friday, August 26, 1949. The man visits his local Ohio State Employment Center on Monday, August 29, and applies for benefits. If he is found to be legally eligible to collect benefits, the week beginning Sunday, August 28, is his waiting period and the first week for which he may draw benefits is actually that beginning Sunday, September 4. This latter week is the man's second full week of unemployment.

Under the amended law, no person may serve a waiting period during any week or weeks for which he is legally disqualified from drawing benefits. For example, law disqualifies a person who is discharged from his job with just cause from drawing benefits for the week of discharge and the next four weeks.

Such a person could not—under the law—serve his one-week waiting period during the week of discharge and the following four weeks. If he were found to be legally eligible for benefits, the first week during which he could serve his waiting period would actually be his sixth week of unemployment and the first week for which he could collect benefits would actually be his seventh week of unemployment.

Watch Rats Save Dogs

Dog owners were warned today that strict rat control is the only answer to a disease that has stricken hundreds of dogs throughout Columbus and Franklin County this summer.

The warning came from Columbus and Ohio health officials as well as private practicing veterinarians.

The disease was identified as leptospirosis, known in humans as infectious jaundice. It is found in the waste matter of rats and is picked up by dogs that kill rats or eat food contaminated by rats. It is thought dogs also may catch the disease from following rat trails.

By contaminating food and water supplies, rats can also give the disease to humans. There is no record of humans contracting the disease from dogs.

Dr. Joseph Drayer, deputy Columbus Health Commissioner, explained that the disease can be eliminated by common sense sanitation precautions that will rid a neighborhood of rats.

These precautions include: tight covering of garbage cans; elimination of rubbish piles and other possible nesting places of rats.

Symptoms of leptospirosis in dogs are similar to distemper. Warning signs are coughing, diarrhea, reddened eyes and loss of appetite. Dogs showing such symptoms should be given immediate medical attention, Dr. Drayer said.

Dr. Drayer warned that rat control depends upon the full cooperation of everyone in the neighborhood.

"One person who fails to cooperate in removing rat nesting places will be responsible for the infestation of the entire neighborhood. It has been proved by statistics that for every rat you see, there probably are 100 more lurking in the vicinity."

WASHINGTON REPORT

By SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

THE reports of the Hoover Commission for the reorganization of the government were fully submitted to Congress by May, 1949. They constitute the most complete survey of our huge government operations that has ever been made and, if fully carried through, would remove many duplications, reduce expenses and increase the efficiency of the government.

But there can be no single bill to carry it out. Many of the changes must be made by the President without Congressional authority. Congress was asked to pass a bill giving the President power to submit reorganization plans to Congress, and Congress has given that power by statute. But there are half a dozen matters which still must be dealt with by Congress itself. In addition to passing the Reorganization Act, Congress has passed the bill amending the unification act, giving additional authority to unify the three military services. It has also passed bills reorganizing the State Department and setting up a General Services Agency.

Several other bills prepared by the Administration are now under consideration. In every case these bills depart somewhat from the Hoover recommendations.

Apparently, the Bureau of the Budget has taken upon itself the responsibility of revising the Hoover plan and vetoing those parts it does not like.

* * *

THE President has now submitted seven plans under the Reorganization Act, which must be acted on by August 20. Plans 3 to 7 inclusive will probably be approved, but they cover a very minor part of the Hoover recommendations.

Plan No. 1 purports to carry out the Hoover recommendation to create a Department of Welfare with a new cabinet officer administering social security and education to eliminate some of the tremendous waste involved in present medical and hospital activities.

What it does, however, is simply to elevate the Federal Security Administration into a new department and put Oscar Ewing in the Cabinet.

This plan also continues the domination of medical activities by those interested primarily in welfare. Mr. Ewing testified that he was opposed to a separate medical administration so that, if we approved this plan, we would never see any other plan removing medical activities from the new department to a united medical administration.

Two years ago, I introduced a bill to set up a Department of Health, Welfare and Education, but I provided an Under Secretary for each activity and made each practically autonomous, the Under Secretary reporting directly to the cabinet officer.

At the state and local levels, health, welfare and education are generally entirely separate. The only basis for combining them in one federal department is to get a secretary who would represent their interests in the President's cabinet.

If this plan it turned down, the people should know that Congress is not disapproving the Hoover plan, but is attempting to prevent the use of its prestige to carry out Administration policies directly in conflict with it.

If the Administration's plan is turned down, the people should know that Congress is not disapproving the Hoover recommendations, but is attempting to prevent the use of its prestige to carry out Administration policies directly in conflict with it.

* * *

PLAN No. 2 has also created much opposition because it does not carry out the Hoover Commission recommendations, except in the one matter of transferring the Bureau of Unemployment Security from the Federal Security Administration to the Department of Labor. This has been a favorite project of the Administration, repeatedly defeated by Congress, but it was picked out as the one part of the Hoover recommendations to be put into the Reorganization Plan No. 2. Those who are opposed feel that it would lead to a letting down of the bars in the administration of unemployment compensation. The Hoover Commission did consider this objection, however, and overruled it.

The general character of the plans submitted by the President seems to indicate that little attention is being paid to Hoover Commission recommendations where they really effect savings, or eliminate bureaus, or where they conflict with Administration policy. Congress can rectify this by passing its own statutory reorganization bills, and should do so.

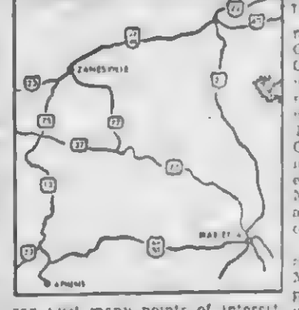
Let's Explore Ohio



EARLY CANALS AND ROADS

THE Y-BRIDGE AT ZANESVILLE

Zanesville's unique Y-bridge marks one of Ohio's most historic spots. This was the crossroads of the early west. The Shawanese War Trail, from the Indian capital of Chillicothe to the Mingo Junction crossing on the Ohio River, forded the Licking and the Muskingum Rivers at this point. Painted Indian war parties of Delawares and Chippewas from the north passed this same place along the Cuyahoga and Muskingum War Trail on their raids against the Kentucky settlements.

Two of Ohio's earliest east and west roads, the National Road and Zane's Trace, now Routes 40 and 22 respectively, cross this Y-bridge. Pre-Revolutionary War settlers on horseback and in wagons traveled the north-south road through the wilderness from Marietta to Cleveland over this same crossroad. And when the Ohio and Erie Canal was built in 1825 it also passed through Zanesville and connected with the canal boat line that used the Muskingum River to Marietta.

Buckeye Lake, the Licking Reservoir of early Canal days, only twenty miles west of Zanesville, attracts many Ohio fishermen as does the Senacaville Reservoir on Routes 146 and 313 to the east.

Nine miles below Zanesville on Route 77, along the Indians' Muskingum Trail, is Duncan's Falls where the great Shawnee nation built their famous Old Town village, the home of Chief White Eyes, who was a friend of the white settlers. President Garfield once taught school near Duncan's Falls.

On the way to Marietta, oldest permanent white settlement in the Northwest Territory, the motorist can visit many points of interest such as the Devil's Tea Table [illegible] McConnelsville and Coal- [illegible] and the Big Bottom Mon- [illegible] Stockport the site of an [illegible] here of white settlers [illegible] County, whose county- [illegible] ta was formed in [illegible] st county in Ohio. Original [illegible] county extended from the Ohio River to Lake Erie and included present-day Cleveland and Sandusky and occupied more than half of the entire state. The home of General Rufus Put- [illegible] nam, superintendent of the Ohio Company, is still to be seen in the Campus Martius [illegible] Museum which also contains the River Museum and its fine collection of models of early Ohio River boats. The old Ohio Company Land Office, built in 1788, is still standing in Marietta. The Mound Cemetery is in the midst of ancient Mound Builders earthworks which are among the best known works of this ancient people.

Fort Harmar, built in 1785 across the Muskingum River from Marietta was the first military post built by United States forces in Ohio and had a prominent part in all of the early military expeditions that finally won the Northwest Territory from the Indian nations.

Not far off Route 50 on the way to Athens site of the oldest college in the Territory, Ohio University, is Ohio's Natural Bridge which attracts many motorists. The section north of Athens toward Zanesville has many attractions for the historically minded Ohioan, for this is an area thickly populated by Indian villages in the early days.

"The Beautiful Blonde from Bashful Bend"
Betty Grable and Cesar Ramero

Amigos' at Southland 'Dumbo and 'Saludos

Walt Disney's "Dumbo" and "Saludos Amigos" will be shown Sunday through Tuesday at the Southland Theatre. The second feature will be "Coast Guard" starring Randolph Scott and Frances Dee.

In "Dumbo" there is the lovable sail-eared baby elephant who plays the title role; Timothy Mouse, his doughty pal; the Five Black Crows, a comedy team of raucous birds; the haughty dowager elephants, and finally Casey Junior, spunky little engine that pulls the circus train over rocky terrain.

Two older and popular favorites, Donald Duck as a typical Yankee tourist in South America, and Goofy as a gaucho, are featured in the fast moving, "Saludos Amigos," along with Joe Carioca, a gay Brazilian parrot and Pedro, a brave little mail plane that hucks the towering Andes Mountains.

Russell Theater Shows "The Beautiful Blonde From Bashful Bend"

Sunday and Monday the Russell Theater presents "The Beautiful Blonde From Bashful Bend" with Betty Grable and Cesar Romero. The picture is a technicolor comedy which portrays Miss Grable as a temperamental, trigger happy dancehall gal who is constantly in trouble with the law. Also showing is "G-Men" with James Cagney. A cartoon completes the bill.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater presents Sun.-Mon. & Tues. "The Beautiful Blonde from Bashful Bend," starring Betty Grable, as a straight shooting dancehall gal, who gets in trouble because she repeatedly plugs a judge in the derriere.

La Grable has plenty of opportunity to display the celebrated gams, which established her as No. 1 pinup girl. The picture was written, directed, and enacted strictly for laughs. Also on the bill is another Top Hit Picture, "Johnny Allegro" starring George Raft.

Lady: I'm thinking of suing my husband for divorce."
Lawyer: "What are your charges?"
Lady: "You tell me yours first."

"Return of October" At Ideal Theater

This Sunday and Monday the Ideal Theater will show "Return of October" with Glen Ford and Terry Moore. This is a technicolor whimsical romantic comedy based on the premise that, when they die, the souls of good men may return to earth in the bodies of animals-in this instance a racehorse. "Streets of San Francisco" with Robert Armstrong and Mae Clark plus news and cartoon complete the program.

Capital University Registration To Begin

The centennial anniversary school year at Capital University is scheduled to get under way with the freshmen week program on Sept. 12, President Harold L. Yochum announced this week.

Capital University came into existance as the result of the reorganization of the former Evangelical Lutheran Theological seminary and preparatory school founded by the former Joint Synod of Ohio and other states at Canton in 1830. The seminary and preparatory school was moved from Canton to the more central location of Columbus in 1831, when the population was about 3,200.

By 1850 Columbus had become university conscious and a group of local citizens discussed the idea of re-organizing the seminary and preparatory school along the lines of the standard European university pattern. This idea was well received, the re-organization took place, and on March 2, 1850, a charter was secured from the Ohio Legislature creating an institution for the promotion of learning, religion, and morality, to be known as Capital University. The new university was to consist of a school of letters, (liberal arts), a school of law, a school of medicine, and the erstwhile theological seminary was to become the school of theology in the university.

The new board to operate the university consisted of many prominent representatives of the citizens of Columbus and of the church body. Dr. Lincoln Goodale gave the land at Goodale and High Streets on which a large and modern building for those days was erected. Dr. William Reynolds from the University of Pennsylvania was secured as first president of the University: Senator William Steward, Secretary of War under Lincoln, delivered the dedicatory address; and Jenny Lind, the famous Swedish nightingale, gave the University its first endowment from the proceeds of a concert in the old Opera House.

The newly founded University enjoyed considerable prosperity in its first years, prosperity that was short-lived because of the pre-Civil War panic and other factors, largely economic, which came into the picture to influence the future course of the University.

As a feature of the observance of the centennial, the Board of Regents has authorized the writing and publication of a complete history of the first 100 years of the operation of the university. The history will be off the presses in 1950.

A number of pre-centennial events are scheduled during the fall semester. Chief among these events is the convocation service which will be held at chapel time on Monday, Sept. 19, which officially opens the school year. Dr. S. C. Michelfelder, Secretary of the Lutheran World Federation of Churches, Geneva, Switzerland, will deliver the address at the convocation service.

Another pre-centennial event is the dedication of the new science building, which will take place on Oct. 7. Dedication details are being worked out and will be announced later.

Applications which are in process of being filed indicate that the total enrollment for the 1949-50 school years will remain around last year's figures of 1,100. The enrollment in the theological seminary is expected to be 120, the largest in the history of the seminary. Pre-matriculation statistics indicate that women may slightly out-number the men this fall. Usually from 30 to 40 states in the nation and a number of foreign students are represented in the enrollment.

All new students are being asked to report to the campus for room assignments on Sunday afternoon and Monday, Sept. 11 and 12. Freshmen orientation will take place during the rest of the week with registration for classes on Saturday, Sept. 17. Old students will register on Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 14 and 15. The theological seminary will open on Sept. 19. The annual pre-school faculty conference will be on Sept. 12 and 13.

The Admissions Office has notified prospective students who have applications in process to complete them promptly. The office has also announced that a limited number of additional applications from local students, who require no housing, can still be accommodated.

College Daze—
"What shall we do tonight, Dick?"
"Well, Gene, let's toss for it. If it's heads, we'll go to a movie; if it's tails, we'll call on a couple of girls; and if it stands on edge, we'll study."

8 Acts of Vaudeville At Palace Theater

The much publicized New York RKO vaudeville bill from the New York RKO Palace will come to the local RKO Palace Thursday, Aug. 25 for four days, Thursday through Sunday. It is the plan of the RKO management to bring in the top eight acts of each month's show from the New York Palace Theater to the Columbus RKO house with a first run feature film. One stage show will be presented each month on a trial basis.

First of the big 8 act vaudeville shows direct from the New York Palace Theater is thoroughly representative of variety entertainment for it has comedy, singing, dancing, acrobatic acts and novelty presented by new talent names well known to screen, stage and television fame as well as performers who were stars during the hey-day of New York Palace vaudeville and who are still at the top of their profession. The old-time favorites include Pat Rooney, Sr., most imitated dancer in show business, who just turned 70 years of age; and the two "wild gals from the West," Fanny and Kitty Watson.

Also featured on the four-day stage revue will be Wally Brown, comedy star of stage, screen and radio; the Chords, presenting a parade of spotlight bands; Bob Hammonds Birds, unusual novelty act; Dolinoff & Raya Sisters, European dance novelty, who appeared with such success on television that "Life Magazine" gave them a full page spread; Berk and Hallow, tap dancers.

As this show will be in the real tradition of vaudeville, announcers will be used to announce the acts instead of a master of ceremonies, and the band will be located in the pit. The second vaudeville show from the Palace New York will be presented next month.

A top-notch screen attraction, "Roughshod" an adventure story starring Robert Sterling and Gloria Grahame will accompany the "in person" stage program.

"Well," sighed Little Emily, "I will either have to make up my mind to stay in, or make up my face to go out."

Glasses have a profound effect upon a person's vision, especially when they have been filled too many times.

"Why did you sell your alarm clock?"

"It kept going off while I was asleep."

National News Service

Washington, D. C., August—A year ago the correspondent for this newspaper followed the trail of the Governor of Maryland and a numberless lot of volunteers when they crowded over the waste land owned by Mrs. Nellie V. Thrasher in Frederick County, Maryland. Everybody pitched in to remake the widow's farm into an agricultural unit. The Governor of the State was the cheer leader and when these wide acres were all made over the waste land started on its way to prove that modern agriculture can turn over the rough land and develop into rich farms in one single year.

A little more than a year ago Mrs. Thrasher had to buy hay for her cows. There had just been a wheat failure on the farm. But now a year later barley yields average 20 bushels per acre and corn on the farm this year is excellent.

These broad acres in this new conservation wonder are known as Mrs. Thrasher's farm but today that farm is worth $26,400 twice the value it was a year ago.

Mrs. Thrasher likes the new plan, and would not like to return to the old system of square fields running up and down hill.

"Business is good," she told a group of newspaper men who were taken to see the farm.

Pointing to the back pastures that sweep up the side of Catoctin Mountain, Lawrence H. Crickenberger, general manager of last year's overhauling job, said these fields are just about covered now with a stand of good pasture grasses.

Gullies that once marred the beauty of the hillside are hardly noticeable, and in another few months should be completely healed.

TIME FOR ANOTHER BOSTON TEA PARTY?

Whether Congress adjourns at the end of August is uncertain as we go to press. The record of the 81st Congress is not one to be proud of. According to our calendar there is still time to remedy and improve the confusion and do- nothing- about- anything ways of our legislative body.

One bill the people are anxious to see passed is the measure which would repeal Federal taxes on margarine. It has been passed by the House of Representatives, favorably reported out of the Senate Finance Committee and is now collecting dust while waiting to be scheduled on the Senate calendar for a vote.

Is the entire country to suffer this discriminatory taxation because of a few relentless rebels from dairy territory? Years ago a tea party made history when unfair taxation got in the way of the peoples' rights. Will we again have to resort to such drastic measures to force margarine tax repeal?

BEARDSLEY RUML SPEAKS UP

Beardsley Ruml was top prophet a few years ago when he bloomed out in New York as author of "Pay-As-You-Go."

He admits in an article in Collier's that some people may follow the downward path and go broke, but: "Collectively, as Nations certainly not."

"This year and next year," he said, "more of us, perhaps many more of us, will go broke individually than in the years just past. Because, in the first place, there are more of us. But, more important, customers are back in the saddle where they belong, and they are again making distinctions between horses, jackasses and mules."

Ruml said the nation would not suffer a depression.

"No," he said, "too many basic changes have taken place in our economic system to permit the Nation to go broke again—unless there is war, or exhaustion of our natural resources. We must keep these two possibilities constantly in mind and guard against them.

CHARGES AGAINST 1949 SUGAR QUOTAS

The Department of Agriculture issued its monthly report on the status of the 1949 sugar quotas for the various sugar-producing areas supplying the U. S. market. The report shows that the quantity of sugar charged against the quotas for all offshore areas, during January-July, amounted to 3,538,158 short tons, raw value, as compared with 2,947,713 tons charged against such quotas through July 31 of last year.

HOOVER'S SPEECH RANKS WITH LINCOLN'S

(Put This In Your Scrap Book)

Herbert Hoover's speech at Palo Alto warned Americans they were riding to a "dead-end . . . on the last mile to collectivism."

"Think of the Next Generation" he pleaded. Government spending, he declared, threatens to "rob posterity of its inheritance."

He said the average citizen works 16 days a year to support the Government and pay its bill, and that proposed additional spending would add another 20 days' work.

"You might want to work for your family instead of paying for a gigantic bureaucracy," he challenged.

Seven times during his address he summed up his points with those words—"Think it over."

Mr. Hoover said:

"The American mind is troubled by the growth of Collectivism throughout the World.

"We have a few hundred thousand Communists and their fellow travelers in this country. They cannot destroy the Republic. They are a nuisance and require attention. We also have the doctrinaire Socialists who peacefully dream of their Utopia.

"But there is a considerable group of fuzzy-minded people who are engineering a compromise with all these European infections. They fail to realize that our American system has grown away from the systems of Europe for 250 years. They have the foolish notion that a collectivist economy can at the same time preserve personal liberty and constitutional government . . .

"Most Americans do not believe in these compromises with Collectivism. But they do not realize that through governmental spending and taxes, our Nation is blissfully driving down the back road to it at top speed . . ."

"Aggression of groups and agencies against the people as a whole is not a process of free men," he declared. "Special privilege either to business or groups is not liberty . . . our officials are forced to think in terms of pressure groups, not in terms of need of the whole people. Think it over."

Highlights of Herbert Hoover's 75th birthday address included:

No Nation grows stronger by subtraction.

Along this road of spending, the Government either takes over, which is socialism, or dictates institutional and economic life, which is fascism.

Most Americans do not believe in compromises with Collectivism. But they do not realize that through government spending and taxes our Nation is blissfully driving down the back road to it at top speed.

The steady lowering of the standard of living by this compromised Collectivist system under the title "austerity" in England should be a sufficient spectacle. It aims at a fuller life but it ends in a ration.

We have not had a great socialization of property. But we are on the last mile to Collectivism through government collection and spending of the saving of the people.

Thinking and debate on these questions must not be limited to legislative halls. We should debate them in every school. We should resort to the old cracker barrel debate in every corner grocery.

FARM AIDS

A measure has been approved unanimously by a group headed by Senator Clinton P. Anderson to provide for a sliding scale of price support for basic crops of from 75 to 90 per cent of parity. A commodity would have to be subject to full production controls to be eligible for top supports.

(The Aiken law—Section II of the present farm law—which goes into effect January 1 unless repealed, would provide for price supports from 60 to 90 per cent of parity—with a floor of 72 percent no crops for which acreage controls and marketing quotas have been adopted.)

The committee voted down a proposal to permit Brannan to test his plan on potatoes, wool, mohair and tung nute.

The Brannan Plan would permit nonstorable, or perishable farm products to be sold in the open market. If that price should be below the support level, the Government would make up the difference to the grower in cash. At present the Government buys surplus commodities to hold up the retail prices.

WASHINGTON, D. C. HAS ITS OWN IRON CURTAIN

The District of Columbia was established under the authority and direction of acts of Congress approved July 16, 1790. In 1801 laws were passed for the Government of the City of Washington. All necessary offices were established, including a City Council. There was a Mayor of Washington elected by the people.

This form of local Government continued until 1871. In that year a Territorial form of Government was created by Congress, consisting of a Governor, a Board of Public Works, a Board of Health, and a Legislative Assembly. The District had a Delegate in the House of Representatives, and the District's 22 officials were elected by the people.

The District had a delegate in Congress until March 4, 1874. Then Congress destroyed the lawful rights of the people guaranteed by the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence. On July 1, 1878, the Commission form of Government was created by an act of Congress.

The Government from that time on was administered by a Board of three Commissioners appointed by the President. The right to vote continued to be denied in the District of Columbia. How?

Slowly, and despotically, by un-Constitutional, anti-Democratic rule of Congress. It is the worst outrage that exists anywhere in the United States or any of its Territories.

Years later, when the citizens of Washington began to demand their rights, as conceded to Territories and States, the Congress put up the faint excuse that it would take a Constitutional Amendment to pull the District and its people out of its hole.

Washington's daily newspapers goose-stepped to the order of Congress that had hung America's Iron Curtain around the people who are residents of the District of Columbia.

Finally, the late lamented Eleanor Patterson came to Washington. She proposed that the lawful citizens and residents of the City of Washington join in an informal referendum to tell what they thought about the right to vote. The Washington businessmen said it would be all right with them inasmuch as Mrs. Patterson paid all of the expenses out of her pocket. That is exactly what she did, and the result was an overwhelming victory in favor of full local suffrage and full recognition of citizenship of the voters in the District of Columbia.

A few years later there was another unofficial referendum which voted again for the rights of the citizens to run and manage their own city, just as all other great National Capitals of the World have been run.

But we are a Democracy, and without any decency or shame the Congress of the United States refuses to let Washington, D. C. govern itself. To make sure that it would not govern itself the politicians slapped down an Iron Curtain—long before the Russians ever contemplated an Iron Curtain.

Democratic and Republican National Conventions continued year after year to pass resolutions to free the District of Columbia from the captivity imposed by Congress.

President Harry Truman demanded that Congress should remove the Iron Curtain and give the people of Washington their birthright. But even though he was applauded and supported by some of the strongest Senators and Representatives in Congress, there was no improvement in the local Government.

The funniest, most fraudulent, hypocritical, cock-eyed proposals for different forms of Government popped up in Congress. These counterfeit propositions all pretended that they were meant for "home rule" in Washington. They were 100 per cent worthless, because they shifted new schemes to allow Congress to hold the political plunder of Government jobs. The so-called Auchincloss bills called for the restoration of the Delegates in Congress. But the politicians kicked. There was the LaFollette scheme for "home rule," which was as bad as the Auchincloss scheme. In fact, every kind of a known fraud was rigged down on the rights of residents of our city. The [illegible] of Independence and the Constitution and the Bill of Rights were thumb-nosed.

All that is needed, and the best Senators in Congress have said so time and time again, is an act of Congress to restore the rights of Washington as they existed in 1878 when the District of Columbia was a Territory.

Lottie said in her letter to "Dude Ranch" Koch, another brother, that they are rainmakers. It rained when they vacationed in Cincinnati last year. The Jolly Six Club composed of six ladies who organized a social club about three years ago are still meeting and having a lot of fun together. Ladies of the Club made it a habit to entertain on their birthdays the other members of the club. Mrs. Norma Montague of 400 E. Whittier St., who celebrated her birthday in July and Mrs. Rosa Trott of 884 City Park Ave., who celebrated her birthday this month both entertained the other members of the club, each served a six o'clock supper, after which games were played by the group and prizes were awarded the lucky winners. Both Mrs. Montague and Mrs. Trott received some lovely gifts on their birthdays. Members of the Jolly Six Club are Mrs. Norma Montague, Mrs. Rosa Trott, Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. Edna Wickleff, Mrs. Roy Adams, and Mrs. H. B. Hoefer. Ho Hum, nothing news does get a little stale, especially if it's written about the same guy so often, but this is too good to let pass. We were called today by Carl Franklin and Harold Radcliff of Danny's Variety Store who wish to present with a few Boosts and Rose Boosts to Wallace Hopkins' new daughter, Sandy. Wish we had more room for the Boosts to Wallace Hopkins for the Large Photo of the Lake Erie Bass he caught on the Pymatuning Lake Trip. Wallace was the envy of the Lake Erie Bass Fishermen when he displayed the trophy about the biggest bass caught. Carl and Hal Hoover have just returned from their cottage where Wallace's mother-in-law says the bass she's told them that they were throwing for fish bigger ones than Wallace and Ray Sr. has ever caught. Carl thinks Hopkins should stick to being the South Side's best dressed advertising man and leave the fishing to others with a little more know how. All I can say is that Sage Lake must be a lot of fun as everyone who has been there this summer certainly seems to have enjoyed themselves.

We have mentioned Clarence Mowry and his "Dad Takes" social time in order to no. but it has come to us that "Dad Mowry" who is 81 years old, really got going with Clarence to Sage Lake but, in spite of his age, enjoys the trip and the fishing as much as the youngsters. Sorry "Dad" that we didn't know about your going along before.

Vacation Is Over For Our Youth

Tuesday will see another year started for our youth of our community when they answer the call of the bell and they march into the school rooms for another year.

Mama will rig little Johnny or Mary up in their Sunday best; brush away a few tears and realize that time doesn't wait, that they must get ready for life's work.

Some of our older children will be talking of quitting school. How foolish they are.

For the average person quitting school before they receive a college education receives $30,000 less than the college graduate.

School days are happy days. Ask any oldster and he will tell you he would do far differently if he could live his youth over again.

You, the parents of our youth in school, have a sacred trust to see that our children have more education, so that they can have life easier by getting more education so they can serve the country and live better and easier themselves.

The school bell means a better way of living.

Labor Day And Its Meaning

by C. R. Walcutt

Labor Day will be celebrated Monday to honor the men who labor.

For some reason thru the years it has come to represent those who labor with their hands.

In recent years it has come to mean a day for union labor to celebrate their achievements and gains.

We like it the first way, as a day to honor all those who labor.

The doctor or the surgeon who works from 12 to 16 hours a day is as much a laborer as the low-next pick and shovel man. The surgeon has to be a mechanic, but unlike the modern meaning of mechanic he dares not make a mechanical error or it may be your life. While a mechanic making a part for a machine, if it is imperfect, the part will be rejected and it may be replaced.

The merchant, the manufacturer and the executive, the professional man, also labors but it is with his brain. True, it is not so much with his hands, but brain labor can be more fatiguing than physical labor.

The farmer struggling to feed the people of our country has both brain labor and physical labor plus the worry of weather conditions.

The mechanic labors to see that the people of this country can have the modern machinery and household appliances to make things easier for all of us.

The bus driver who transports us to work. The truck driver or railroad man who hauls the food and equipment so that our people can live better, is just as important as any other trade or profession.

So, in observing this Labor Day, let us remember that no matter what you may do to earn your livelihood, you must labor.

In fact, when you celebrate this Labor Day, you are not only honoring yourself but all your fellowmen.

Last, but not least, we must not forget the man who cannot take this day off for rest. By that we mean the doctor, the bus driver, the railroader, the power house man and all others who labor on Labor Day that our lives may go on in a normal way.

Fall Fishing Tips

Just because fishing in Ohio lakes and streams during July and August has been poor, is no reason for fishermen to pack away their tackle. There's plenty of good fall fishing ahead.

That's the good word from Bill Kah, assistant editor of the Ohio Division of Wildlife's monthly publication, The Ohio Conservation Bulletin.

"Fishermen will just have to fish a little harder," Bill claims, "and use a little more know-how."

During the extremely hot days of late August, fish are found in the deep spots, far away from the warm surface water. Fishermen who try to catch fish in the fall of the year at the same depth and with the same bait which produced good catches in the spring, will experience empty stringers most of the time.

"To catch fish, you must fish where the fish are," Kah says, "and fish, like people, just aren't hungry when the weather is usually hot no matter what bait is offered so naturally the catches are bound to be smaller until cooler weather."

Artificial bait casters when fishing the streams should always cast upstream leaving the downstream spots undisturbed as much as possible until they can get to them.

"Catfish anglers," Bill says, "will make better catches when streams are rising, bringing fresh supplies of natural food than when the waters are going down."

Ohio Waterfowl Season Opens Oct. 21

Ohio waterfowl hunters will have 10 more days of hunting this year than last. The season opens at 12 noon eastern standard time and continues through November 29. Daily hunting hours after the opening day will be from one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset.

H. A. Rider, Chief of the Ohio Division of Wildlife, announced today that recent passage of the federal Duck Stamp Bill, provides for an increase in the duck stamp fee from $1 to 2. Hunters over 16 years of age are required to have a stamp in addition to the regular hunting license. Hunters must sign across the face of the stamp and attach it to their hunting license.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service expects the 1949 Stamp sales to exceed last years record figure of 2,000,000. The stamps which had sold for $1 since 1934 are expected to be available at post offices soon. Ohio is not a leading state in the production or kill of waterfowl. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1947, it ranked 24th among the states in the number of stamps purchased with a total of 37,105 stamps.

It is estimated that 26,000,000 ducks were killed in 1946 in the United States, but only a small number, in comparison, were killed in Ohio.

Ohio State Students Forty-five Religious Denominations

Among the 29,612 enrolled during that period were Christians, Jews, Hindus, Moslems and Buddhists.

More than 22 per cent of the entire student body were affiliated with the Methodist Church. Catholics numbered more than 12 per cent of all the Ohio State students.

Top seven religious denominations, in numbers represented at the Ohio [illegible] were Methodists, [illegible] Churches, 6,861; Presbyterians, 2,832; Lutherans, 1,780; Jewish, 1,586; Baptists, 1,137; and Episcopalians, 938.

Economic Highlights

The celebration of Herbert Hoo

notable fact that, among the flood of congratulatory messages sent out on the anniversary, there were many from men high in Democratic as well as Republican councils. One of the warmest, indeed came from President Truman.

In the birthday speech Mr. Hoover dwelt on the great problem of government spending, on the confiscation of resources through heavy taxation, on the danger of socialization by indirection, and on the decay of individual freedom that, in his opinion, would follow the creation of a welfare state in this country. He used conditions in England, with her grim austerity as an example.

Regardless of one's views as to policy, no one can doubt that Mr. Hoover is a great authority on the administration and the fiscal affairs of the huge Federal establishment. The voluminous Hoover Commission reports, made under his direction and chairmanship, mark the first real effort to blueprint a detailed course for achieving greater economy and efficiency without sacrificing any essential governmental function.

When the reports which go in to every department and branch and division and ramification of the government—first began to appear, even the people who favored them most strongly were doubtful if they would be placed into practical effect on any extensive scale because opposition immediately arose from bureaus affected. Now, the outlook is much brighter. President Truman has ordered that a number of them about 75 per cent of the whole be adopted, and he is expected to order more. Congress is very serious in economizing others. Outside of political circles, sentiment in favor of them seems overwhelming.

The drop in business and the huge Federal deficit we are expected to run this fiscal year have given great impetus to adopting the Hoover Commission's comprehensive plans. If all of them are eventually accepted, the saving is forecast at $4,000,000,000 — and, moreover, the government would befar more efficient. They stand out as a crowning work in a long life largely given to the public service.

NATIONAL NEWS SERV
BOTTOM OF THE BARREL
By J. E. Jones

The law requires Congress to adjourn July 31, except in time of war, or other emergency. But Congress does along with billions of dollars in appropriations still awaiting action. Our Government has squandered almost $2,000,000,000 more than its income. The President has been calling on Congress for more taxes to meet continued spending. And if the present razzle dazzle scheming and deficit spending is not checked and the chances are against it the current year will total five or six billion.

The Department and Bureau chiefs are the main backers of the Administration's waste of money. Congress grudgingly surrendered. The Democrats claimed the RIGHT of PARTY POLITICS. They stood by the President hoping to buy up labor union votes.

The Hoover Commission laid down a PLAIN and practical plan that would save $5,000,000,000 a year for the American Government and the taxpayers. There was a tremendous whooping of approval for grand old Herbert Hoover.

Nevertheless our so called "Capitalistic National" shelled out its money and drove the United States to the edge of bankruptcy.

There isn't a "great corporation" in the United States that would use as poor judgment in management of its affairs as have the Democrats who rule America.

YOU, yes YOU, are being penalized for more and more taxes. YOU are a victim of reckless, senseless strikes brought on by LABOR BOSSES - and these strikes have pyramided the costs of everything. Everything costs more.

We are having hard times, now and no relief in sight. Right here in Washington one wonders how wage workers and their families can get enough to eat; how they can buy clothes. Thousands of little barrels have been scraped to the bottom. Even Your Capital is on the "ragged edge."

WASHINGTON REPORT
By SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

THE President's speech in Miami in which he insisted that the Military Assistance Program for 11 nations be adopted as submitted to Congress did not produce any convincing arguments to change the convictions of Congressmen or Senators. The House voted to cut the program in half. Senator Vandenberg agrees substantially to the House figure, but would authorize a similar amount to be contracted for the second year. Both Committees curtly declined the demand of the President that he be given discretionary power to extend military aid to any country or government in the world. They have also limited the proposal for giving away army surplus without counting it as an appropriation.

At Miami the President fell back on the old generalities and tried to smear the opponents of European arming with the opprobrious epithet of isolationists. Of course, isolationism can hardly be charged against anyone like myself who favors a warning to the USSR that if they attack Western Europe we will be in the war against them.

In the European Recovery Program, we decided that financial aid would enable the European countries to achieve much faster economic recovery and improved standards of living, and thereby block communism. It is clear that arms aid can only make it less effective for these purposes.

The State Department admits that the people of these countries will "unquestionably accept further sacrifices required to permit sufficient funds to be realized from non inflationary sources to finance the internal cost of this increased military production program." In short, the increased standard of living, which the ERP is supposed to produce, is to be cut by the Military Assistance Program.

THE President tries to answer this argument by stating that "to continue the momentum of this economic advance, it is necessary now to remove the obstacles created by the fear of military aggression." With due respect for the President, this is nonsense. Even in December when I was in Europe, there was little fear of Russian attack, and the willingness to invest money seemed to be greatest in Italy which has no defense against Russia at all with or without the Military Assistance Program.

The increased American expenditure on the other hand is dangerous to the American economy because it increases an existing deficit by another billion dollars this year, and no one knows how much in the future. The one essential for European recovery and defense is a prosperous America. We cannot stand increased taxes, and probably not even the burden we now have.

From a military standpoint, the evidence presented to the committees has not been impressive. There is no guarantee that the arms aid proposed will really enable these countries to defeat an all-out Russian attack, yet the wide extent of the program is certainly calculated to alarm the Russians, especially when accompanied by such sensational moves as the recent visit of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to Europe.

• • •

THE President protests that our action is purely defensive and says "we are building defenses so that we won't have to fight." This is certainly the discredited theory of the Maginot Line. In the next sentence he refers to "mobile defense forces" which can only mean defense forces that can be used in attack, as practically all arms can be now used.

Every armament race in history has been justified by the necessity of defense. I believe the program is intended to be defensive, but will it seem so to the Russians? Our best hope is that the whole program is so futile that they will not regard it as serious. But then it becomes pure waste which we cannot afford.

I believe the Atlantic Pact by itself to be a deterrent to Russian aggression, and I believe even more strongly that the all-powerful American air force equipped with the atomic bomb is ten times the deterrent of the whole Military Assistance Program. Yet, at the very moment the Administration is insisting on scattering American arms in Europe, it is opposing the idea of a 70-group American air force.

Expect Feeder Cattle Prices To Stay High

No sharp decline in feeder cattle prices is expected this fall, say extension economists at Ohio State University.

This may come as bad news to many Ohio feeders who have been waiting hopefully that feeder prices would drop when the fall movement of range cattle approaches the peak.

Record supplies of feed grain in prospect for the 1949-50 feed year, however, indicate another strong demand for replacement cattle this fall, particularly in areas where grain storage facilities will be inadequate.

Rather sharp decreases in the slaughter of cows, heifers, and calves in recent months, the economists explain, would indicate that commercial breeders are holding larger numbers of "she stock" for herd replacement. This will tend to reduce the number available as stockers and feeders.

Strong demand for feeder and slaughter cattle will create competitive bidding between producers and slaughterers for two-way grass cattle and strengthen feeder cattle prices, they predict.

Continuation of the present narrow spread between feeder and grain-fed cattle prices through the fall and early winter months is also possible. Sharp increases in pork supplies, as well as the strong demand for two-way grass cattle, the economists say, will probably prevent any further drops in low grade cattle prices.

This means, they conclude, that money made by feeding cattle during the balance of this year and in early 1950 will have to be made in the feed lot and through good management and feeding practices.

The farmer, back from the country fair with a new horse, found the animal refused to eat or drink. The farmer's eyes gleamed hopefully.

"By golly, I've got a real bargain if he's a good worker," he exclaimed.

Washington Week

Washington, D. C. — Senator William E. Jenner, (R. Ind.), recently said:

"The Administration here in Washington is as confused as a boy trying to find the bubblegum he dropped in a hen house."

Senator Scott Lucas, the Administration's Senate floor leader, virtually confirms Senator Jenner's evaluation of the situation every time he blames the Southern Democrats and Republicans for the long and inactive First Session of the 81st Democrat Congress.

If Senator Lucas wishes to place the blame where it really belongs he need only read President Truman's speech of March 21, 1939, before the Missouri State Legislature.

At that time President Truman was a new member of the United States Senate, and had returned to his native State to tell the Legislature all about his job in Washington.

In the course of his remarks he said:

'I found out very soon after I had settled down to a study of my duties that the business of a good legislator is not to get things done quickly and efficiently, as a good administrator has to do, but to prevent, if possible, the enactment into the law of the land many crazy and crackpot measures."

That is just what the 81st Congress is doing; preventing enactment into the law of the land many "crazy and crackpot measures" which seem to come from the White House.

As President, Mr. Truman has constantly been at loggerheads with the legislators on Capitol Hill. During the Democrat-controlled 79th Congress the fight began. He really got into full battle array during the Republican 80th Congress, which he lampooned as the "worst in history."

Now the 81st Congress, again controlled by a heavy Democrat majority, is constantly under fire from the White House.

Has Mr. Truman forgotten what he said in a letter to the St. Louis Star-Times on March 6, 1944, about the treatment of Congress by the late President Roosevelt when the latter talked tough to Congress in a tax bill veto message?

Mr. Truman, then a Senator, wrote in that letter:

"Had the President returned the tax bill with a plain statement that he did not think it produced enough revenue—I don't think there's a doubt in the world but what both the Senate and the House of Representatives would have supported the veto, but when he attacked the integrity and the intelligence of the Senate and the House of Representatives he got just exactly what was coming to him . . ."

The chickens have come home to roost—with the gum.

A candid comment by one of World War II's veterans: "During my three years overseas, I had many exciting and interesting experiences—most of them true."

Michigan's Upper Peninsula

By Frank "Dude Ranch" Koch

We took a trip down to St. Ignace last Saturday to do a bit of shopping and just look around. State Street is widened to afford room for cars waiting to board the Ferry Boats across the Straits of Mackinac. Some storerooms have a "new look" new front installed. Bill Albright had to alter his filling station to make room for the Street widening.

George Shore has a shed built on his lumber yard dock. That's one of the first things you notice as you come in to dock on the big ferry boats. The Nicolet Hotel has a "Paul Bunyon" log cabin erected on the lawn next to the Liquor Store. Parking meters line the left side of State Street (north bound) while to your right towards the Lake shore, all you can see is "No Parking" signs, big boats and of course, water.

Lots of new overnight cabins have been erected on U.S. Route 2, both north and southbound out of St. Ignace. The town's growing! The thing that impressed me most, however, was the way Jimmie La Roque has his drug store decked out in all new modern showcases etc. The place looks about twice its size. Many new and useful articles have been added to his shelves in keeping with Jimmie's idea of satisfying his many local and out of town customers regardless of their individual tastes. If and when you come to St. Ignace, drop in Jimmie's place and brouse around. We'll guarantee you will find something useful that you have failed to find elsewhere, and his prices are within reason.

Strolling northerly up State St. we couldn't pass The Homestead Cafe. Yes—Bob was behind the bar as usual. We didn't get to say hello to Betty because she wasn't around. Oliver Vallier, owner, couldn't be located either, but we paused for about an hour and finally left St. Ignace, stopping at Chuck and Harry's at Evergreen Shores. Chuck wasn't around either, so we continued toward Allenville, Moran and Brevort Lake. At Moran, Dick had to see if his bike arrived. It did, so we had to get the Freight agent to open up. (It wasn't train time yet). Dick rode the bike the four miles from Moran to the lake. Only got turned around once at Duke's corner. Here he turned right instead of left, but found his mistake when unfamiliar houses and barns appeared. Dick was at the Lake when we arrived in the Car. I don't have to tell you he was happy. He waited almost a week for that bike ride!

These next two weeks will be bad for fishing. The reason? Why—these two weeks before Labor Day are the weeks the younger high school set usually spend their time around here. There'll be Speed-Boat Racing to see who can burn up their Dad's outboard motor first, or tear a hole in a hull on a dead-head or a pile of rocks. They'll play. "Ring - around - the-rosy" around your boat when you're still fishing for Bass, etc. Half of us are going to have the most darn fun!

• • •

If you plan to come up to the U.P. this fall and decide to take the Scenic Highway to the left on leaving the Dock, keep a sharp lookout for the road to Brevort Lake after you round the curve northwest of Fort Aux Chenes. You don't see the road until you're on top of it and traveling at a high rate of speed, the road will look like a trail going into the woods. You won't see the Lake, Allenville and Moran Sign either. It's a little larger than a jumbo post card. So, look sharp!

A lot has been said about having this turnout improved and larger approach signs erected, but to date, nothing has been done about it. We think the County Board of Supervisors and the State Highway Dept. should get together on this problem and work out some kind of a solution. When a person who's made hundreds of trips on this particular route overshoots the road and winds up in the little village of Brevort miles up the line, you KNOW something should be done about it. It's not only tough to find the road from the Highway, it's also hard to find the Highway approach from the road. Only marker on the road approaching the Highway is the Stop sign at U.S. 2 and that's behind a clump of brush!

Economic Highlights

The celebration of Herbert Hoover's 75th birthday was a remarkable event on several counts. When he left the Presidency his public popularity was at a low ebb, and many thought that he was bound for obscurity. But history has a way of confounding prophets, and that was true in Mr Hoover's case. In the intervening years he has mellowed, grown in stature and influence, and earned the wide respect and admiration of the country as a whole. It is a notable fact that, among the flood of congratulatory messages sent him on the anniversary, there were many from men high in Democratic as well as Republican councils. One of the warmest, indeed, came from President Truman.

In the birhtday speech Mr. Hoover dwelt on the great problem of government spending, on the confiscation of resources through heavy taxation, on the danger of socialization by indirection, and on the loss of individual freedom that, in his opinion, would follow the creation of a welfare state in this country. He used conditions in England, with her grim austerity, as an example.

Regardless of one's views as to policy, no one can doubt that Mr. Hoover is a great authority on the administration and the fiscal affairs of the huge Federal establishment. The voluminous Hoover Commission reports, made under his direction and chairmanship, mark the first real effort to blueprint a detailed course for achieving greater economy and efficiency without sacrificing any essential governmental function.

When the reports—which go into every department and branch and division and ramification of the government—first began to appear, even the people who favored them most strongly were doubtful if they would be placed into practical effect on any extensive scale because opposition immediately arose from bureaus affected. Now, the outlook is much brighter. President Truman has ordered that a number of them—20 or 25 per cent of the whole—be adopted, and he is expected to order more. Congress is very seriously examining others. Outside of political circles, sentiment in favor of them seems overwhelming.

The drop in business and the heavy Federal deficit we are expected to run this fiscal year have given great impetus to adopting the Hoover Commission's comprehensive plans. If all of them are eventually accepted, the saying is forecast at $4,000,000,000 — and, moreover, the government would befar more efficient. They stand out as a crowning work in a long life largely given to the public service.

NATIONAL NEWS SERV ---- -
BOTTOM OF THE BARREL
By J. E. Jones

The law requires Congress to adjourn July 31, except in time of war, or other emergency. But Congress drives along with billions of dollars in appropriations still awaiting action. Our Government has squandered almost $2,000,000,000 more than its income. The President has been calling on Congress for more taxes to meet continued spending. And if the present razzle-dazzle scheming and deficit spending is not checked--and the chances are against it—the current year will total five or six billions.

The Department and Bureau chiefs are the main backers of the Administration's waste of money. Congress grudgingly surrendered. The Democrats claimed the RIGHT of PARTY POLITICS. They stood by the President hoping to buy up labor union votes.

The Hoover Commission laid down a PLAIN and practical plan that would save $5,000,000,000 a year—for the American Government and the taxpayers. There was a tremendous whooping of approval for grand 75-year-old Hoover.

Nevertheless, our so-called "Capitalistic Nation" shelled out its money and drove the United States to the edge of bankruptcy.

There isn't a "great corporation" in the United States that would use as poor judgment in management of its affairs as have the Democrats who rule America.

YOU, yes YOU, are being penalized for more and more taxes. YOU are a victim of useless, senseless strikes brought on by LABOR BOSSES — and these strikes have pyramided the costs of everything. Everything costs more.

We are having hard times, now -- and no relief in sight. Right here in Washington one wonders how wage-workers and their families can get enough to eat; how they can buy clothes. Thousands of little barrels have been scraped to the bottom. Even Your Capital is on the "ragged edge."

The public is invited. Rev. Geo. Scott, the pastor, will perform the ceremony.

Michigan's Upper Peninsula

By Frank "Dude Ranch" Koch

We took a trip down to St. Ignace last Saturday to do a bit of shopping and just look around. State Street is widened to afford room for cars waiting to board the Ferry Boats across the Straits of Mackinac. Some storerooms have a "new look" new front installed. Bill Albright had to alter his filling station to make room for the Street widening.

George Shore has a shed built on his lumber yard dock. That's one of the first things you notice as you come in to dock on the big ferry boats. The Nicolet Hotel has a "Paul Bunyon" log cabin erected on the lawn next to the Liquor Store. Parking meters line the left side of State Street (north bound) while to your right towards the Lake shore, all you can see is "No Parking" signs, big boats and of course, water.

Lots of new overnight cabins have been erected on U.S. Route 2, both north and southbound out of St. Ignace. The town's growing! The thing that impressed me most, however, was the way Jimmie La Roque has his drug store decked out in all new modern showcases etc. The place looks about twice its size. Many new and useful articles have been added to his shelves in keeping with Jimmie's idea of satisfying his many local and out of town customers regardless of their individual tastes. If and when you come to St. Ignace, drop in Jimmie's place and brouse around. We'll guarantee you will find something useful that you have failed to find elsewhere, and his prices are within reason.

Strolling northerly up State St. we couldn't pass The Homestead Cafe. Yes—Bob was behind the bar as usual. We didn't get to say hello to Betty because she wasn't around. Oliver Vallier, owner, couldn't be located either, but we paused for about an hour and finally left St. Ignace, stopping at Chuck and Harry's at Evergreen Shores. Chuck wasn't around either, so we continued toward Allenville, Moran and Brevort Lake. At Moran, Dick had to see if his bike arrived. It did, so we had to get the Freight agent to open up. (It wasn't train time yet). Dick rode the bike the four miles from Moran to the lake. Only got turned around once at Duke's corner. Here he turned right instead of left, but found his mistake when unfamiliar houses and barns appeared. Dick was at the Lake when we arrived in the Car. I don't have to tell you he was happy. He waited almost a week for that bike ride!

* * *

These next two weeks will be bad for fishing. The reason? Why—these two weeks before Labor Day are the weeks the younger high school set usually spend their time around here. There'll be Speed-Boat Racing to see who can burn up their Dad's outboard motor first, or tear a hole in a hull on a dead-head or a pile of rocks. They'll play "Ring - around - the-rosy" around your boat when you're still fishing for Bass, etc. Half of us are going to have the most darn fun!

* * *

If you plan to come up to the U.P. this fall and decide to take the Scenic Highway to the left on leaving the Dock, keep a sharp lookout for the road to Brevort Lake after you round the curve northwest of Fort Aux Chenes. You don't see the road until you're on top of it and traveling at a high rate of speed, the road will look like a trail going into the woods. You won't see the Lake, Allenville and Moran Sign either. It's a little larger than a jumbo post card. So, look sharp!

A lot has been said about having this turnout improved and larger approach signs erected, but to date, nothing has been done about it. We think the County Board of Supervisors and the State Highway Dept. should get together on this problem and work out some kind of a solution. When a person who's made hundreds of trips on this particular route overshoots the road and winds up in the little village of Brevort miles up the line, you KNOW something should be done about it. It's not only tough to find the road from the Highway, it's also hard to find the Highway approach from the road. Only marker on the road approaching the Highway is the Stop sign at U.S. 2 and that's behind a clump of brush!

Washington Week

Washington, D. C. — Senator William E. Jenner, (R. Ind.), recently said:

"The Administration here in Washington is as confused as a boy trying to find the bubblegum he dropped in a hen house."

Senator Scott Lucas, the Administration's Senate floor leader, virtually confirms Senator Jenner's evaluation of the situation every time he blames the Southern Democrats and Republicans for the long and inactive First Session of the 81st Democrat Congress.

If Senator Lucas wishes to place the blame where it really belongs he need only read President Truman's speech of March 21, 1939, before the Missouri State Legislature.

At that time President Truman was a new member of the United States Senate, and had returned to his native State to tell the Legislature all about his job in Washington.

In the course of his remarks he said:

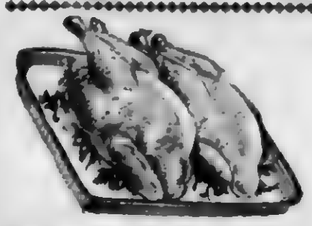
'I found out very soon after I had settled down to a study of my duties that the business of a good legislator is not to get things done quickly and efficiently, as a good administrator has to do, but to prevent, if possible, the enactment into the law of the land many crazy and crackpot measures."

That is just what the 81st Congress is doing; preventing enactment into the law of the land many "crazy and crackpot measures" which seem to come from the White House.

As President, Mr. Truman has constantly been at loggerheads with the legislators on Capitol Hill. During the Democrat-controlled 79th Congress the fight began. He really got into full battle array during the Republican 80th Congress, which he lampooned as the "worst in history."

Now the 81st Congress, again controlled by a heavy Democrat majority, is constantly under fire from the White House.

Has Mr. Truman forgotten what he said in a letter to the St. Louis Star-Times on March 6, 1944, about the treatment of Congress by the late President Roosevelt when the latter talked tough to Congress in a tax bill veto message?



Mr. Truman, then a Senator, wrote in that letter:

"Had the President returned the tax bill with a plain statement that he did not think it produced enough revenue—I don't think there's a doubt in the world but what both the Senate and the House of Representatives would have supported the veto, but when he attacked the integrity and the intelligence of the Senate and the House of Representatives he got just exactly what was coming to him . . ."

The chickens have come home to roost—with the gum.

A candid comment by one of World War II's veterans: "During my three years overseas, I had many exciting and interesting experiences—most of them true."

WASHINGTON, D. C. GETS THE BOOT

Home Rule for the Capital of the United States has been buried by Congress for the present season. The same kind of kicking around by Congress has been going on for 75 years. That's all that We Washingtonians look for.

Home Rule could be enacted in 30 days, simply by passing a law in the two branches of Congress. Really the only active man in the Government, ready at any time to restore the rights of residents to vote and have their own city officials and Members of the two branches of Congress is President Harry Truman. HE speaks right up in meetings and insists that Washington, D. C. should have equal rights with States. That is ONE ISSUE HE IS ABSOLUTELY RIGHT ABOUT. Shake, Harry!

With recent publication in 12 new languages, some part of the Bible has now appeared in 1100 languages and dialects. The American Bible Society lists some of the new languages as Fanti, Karre, Mundag, Nosu, Panaie, Bamileke, Barrow, Eskimo, Batua Gondi, Keripako and Terena . . Can you tell where they are spoken?—

"Svenska Morgonbladet," well-known free - church Christian newspaper of Stockholm, Sweden, will celebrate its sixtieth birthday next summer. In honor of that occasion the paper will send forty of its readers and several editors on a trip to the United States, where, especially in New York, Washington and Philadelphia, they will visit places and scenes of importance, including churches, religious institutions, colleges, and church hospitals.

"A great sense of loneliness has gripped the American people," says Dr. Louis H. Evans, Hollywood (California) Presbyterian leader. "Seventy per cent of our population has moved to other cities since the last war. They have broken ties of church, kindred and community. They feel no one cares. The church must pursue these migrants of body and soul to every trailer, middlesex village and farm, hamlet and city with the love of Christ. New churches must spring up everywhere as hearthsides for the souls of men. The burden of the heavy taxation in this country arises largely from our failure to change the human heart. Education, secular, increase our capacities for destruction while yielding us few safeguards against the destructive functioning of our clever minds. Of all the billions of dollars, skimmed off the peoples' money in taxes, not one dollar of it may be used for the maturation of the human soul! Billions for medical work, for leather punching, art, schooling in the languages, but not one dollar is available to the church for its all important task. From the treasuries of the people of God alone it comes and we must go back and ask for more and more!"

The leading English-speaking denominations in South Africa—Anglican, Congregational, Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist, and Churches of Christ have jointly set up a School of Theology, Livingston House, at Rhodes University, Grahamstown. Two years ago four of these denominations established cooperatively a department of divinity at Rhodes University College, with an English Congregationalist as professor. The number of students increased so rapidly that a full-time Church of Scotland minister was added. There are also part-time lecturers for the Anglican, Presbyterian and Methodist sections. One Dutch Reformed student has been enrolled.

At the close of a recent visit to China, and conferences with Chinese leaders of the Christian church, the noted world-traveller, author, and churchman, Dr. Sherwood Eddy, takes the view that "the church is now forced to return to apostolic conditions under which the early Church thrived." He quotes a pastor from Shensi Province where churches have been cooperating in communist-held territory for ten years, that pastors are free to lead their churches under four conditions: their mode of living must be like the common people in dress, dwelling and food; they must earn their living by farming, trade or industry, since preaching is not regarded as a "productive" vocation; their character must be Christ-like, as testified to by their neighbors in the recurring trials and purges conducted by the communists; and their faith must be apostolic, fearless, sure of the Gospel, patient under persecution, and ready to die for their faith if necessary—as the communists themselves are ready to die for theirs.

* * *

"It was felt that it would be impossible for some Christians to adjust themselves to the new social order which had arisen, partly because these Christians have not borne witness to the evils of the old order," says Dr. Eddy. "Many Christians will have to adopt new methods and new ways and sometimes a new spirit." He believes also that "the churches and individual Christians will survive in China as they have in Soviet Russia; medical missions can probably be carried on as long as we are willing to support them; Christian education, while probably tolerated at first, will gradually be eliminated. Education will be regarded as a function of the state for training in citizenship, and completely dominated by communist propaganda. Indignant that Chinese scholars, knowing their artistic writing for some 3,500 years, have left 400 million illiterate peasants in poverty and ignorance, the communists will gradually introduce compulsory education."

South W.S.C.S. Casserole Luncheon

The WSCS of South Methodist Church will meet at the church Thursday September first with Missionary Study at 11:00; Casserole Luncheon at 12:00 followed by the regular business meeting with Mrs. Blanche Griffin presiding in the absence of our President, Mrs. Nadine Wagner.

Police Probe Should Continue

We hope the people of the South Side will not seriously condemn the whole Columbus Police Department for acts of brutality charged against certain members of that department.

We realize that there are probably cases of brutality and abuse against citizens of our city by the department. If proven, you will find a few officers out of the 369 guilty.

We believe that the probe should go on and those men who are guilty should be removed. An officer who ever uses his authority when given a billy and blackjack for sane, sensible use is not competent to be on any police force.

We will admit that it is necessary some times for the officer's own protection but that should only be in isolated cases.

We believe that Chief Frank Harrison should do everything possible to said the probe rather than hamper it, for the very reason that when completed, it will eliminate the weaknesses in his department.

Here in the South Side we have had numerous good officers who are a credit to the department. For instance, let's take Sgt. Ed Mundy who is in charge of the Juvenile Squad. His work with the Juvenile delinquents and also with the Junior Police in our community, has been outstanding.

Then, too, the work of A. C. Wilson (who is sometimes called Rareback) we have had the privilege to watch over a period of seven years. Never in that time have we known him to use his billy or blackjack. He is respected by every one in the community.

There have been numerous other officers who have worked here and been transferred to other parts of the city, but in a period of seven years, we have heard of very few cases of abuse in our community.

Let us look at the good work the police do in protecting our city and not judge that department by the few officers who certainly should and will be removed from the force by Mayor James A. Rhodes and Director C. C. Cole.

Probably less than 10 police officers of the force are guilty of abuse.

Let's give the other 359 men on the force the praise and cooperation they deserve.

Certainly in over 10,000 drunk cases a year, the cases of brutality are very little.

Certainly the Columbus Bar Ass'n, with its more than 500 attorney members, knows that judgment can not be passed before the evidence is all heard.

The Bar Association should not pre-judge as they have been doing in these cases.

PRELUDE TO COMMUNISM

In one of his recent speeches, Winston Churchill had this to say about the acts of the Labor Government in Britain, and the men who head it: "They have squandered the reserves and resources which have been gathered in the past and have darkened and narrowed the future of every man, woman and child in this famous island.

"It is all the more amazing that they should have brought us down like this and given us such hard times during four years when they have not only been eating up our savings, but have enjoyed the enormous advantage of outside help on a scale never known in the history of any country in time of peace."

Britain's great wartime Premier then observed that the United States and Canada have loaned and given England some $7,000,000,000, and added: "Our socialist spendthrifts and muddlers have dissipated every overseas asset they could lay their hands on and, in addition, have exacted and extracted from our people a higher rate of taxation than was required at the very height of the war."

It is true that Mr. Churchill spoke at a political meeting, in his capacity as the leader of the opposition. It is also true that Britain's most acute problems stem from forces and events which were beyond the power of any party to prevent or control. But these facts do not in any way undermine validity of what he said. The fanatic drive toward socialism and regimentation at any cost, coupled with government seizure of such basic enterprises as the coal mines, the electric industry, banking, and the rest, has sapped the energy and the will of the British people, no less than their economic resources. It has almost totally destroyed incentive. It has turned practically everyone into a ward of the state. Only the bureaucrats and politicians can make major decisions.

At other times Mr. Churchill has warned that Britain's present course could end in actual communism. The fact that Mr. Atlee and other British leaders are men of good will must not blind us to that truth. When government takes over all power, all resources, all the instruments that sustain life, the stage is set for the dictator—the man on the white horse. And the police state, backed by the concentration camp, is created.

What will finally happen to a once-great, once-free England remains to be seen. In the meantime, we can profit by her tragic example. When we destroy free enterprise and establish socialism, we directly endanger all the other freedoms too.

YOUNG MEN AREN'T WAR CRAZY

One thing is certain and that is the young men in America are opposed to war. The oldsters who will not be called, or drafted—and in millions of cases the grown-ups of the last war who want matters settled peacefully with the Russians, Communists, and political tyrants around the world.

The American Government and its rulers know that the people of the United States have the best wishes and intentions for peace throughout the distraught old world. So, let's understand the young and middle aged men who have faced guns, cannons and all the devices of killing.

A lady of more'n 70 years has inspired this piece for home-town editors across our Nation—and so, I, your Washington correspondent, am passing her philosophy and ideas along. Personally, this same correspondent believes she has hit the bull's eye, and is converted, too.

GRASS ROOT EDITORS SCOOP THE DICTIONARY

GRASSROOTS is a Very Big Word, "but you can't spell it," and if you look in the dictionary you probably won't find it, either. All the big-fish journalists use the unborn word when they want to high-hat local newspapers— just as they did years ago when Sydney Smith blurted out his opinion that "I have no relish for the country; it is a kind of healthy grave." The Chinese had a proverb: "If you have not lived in the country, you do not know what hardship means."

Way back, 150 years ago, William Cowper reported progress: "God made the country and made the town." The country was beginning to be recognized.

Eventually grass and roots were accepted as relatives under the skin, and farmers, conservationists, homesteaders, and others welcomed the towns, villages, and counties as co-partners.

Thus, "grass roots" spread over most areas of the United States. The grass roots automatically became the backbone of the greatest Nation on earth.

Consider this explanation which the National Industries News Service has, right now in the Fall of 1949, transmitted to more than 1,000 editors of weekly and daily papers in every State of the Union. Our Grass Roots is the power that makes the wheels go 'round.

TAFT-HARTLEY LAW

The Taft-Hartley Act has been in effect two years. The National Labor Relations Board and the courts have been interpreting this law and applying it to actual cases. Some provisions are still unexplored.

Congress didn't change a syllable of the law this year. The White House and labor unions worked for repeal. Senator Taft tried to make some changes, tho' not nearly enough to suit labor unions. When his program won in the Senate, labor leaders and Democratic party leaders suddenly lost interest.

Rather than allow Senator Taft to improve the law—with a Republican bill that kept injunctions and other big Taft-Hartley features—they chose to let it stand.

The non-Communist provision is perhaps the most thoroughly interpreted part of the Taft-Hartley Act. Union officials must sign non-Communist oaths or else a union can't charge an employer with an unfair labor practice. It can't even get on a ballot in a plant election.

The effect has been that most non-complying unions have been squeezed, raided, defeated and weakened to the point where lately even extreme left-wing unions have been falling into line. The only major unions which haven't complied are the United Mine Workers, the AFL International Typographical Union, and a handful of CIO leftist unions.

Some provisions have been clarified. For example, the question of mass picketing. The NLRB has ruled that picketing violates the act if it results in "physical obstruction" of a plant entrance but that vile name-calling on a picket line isn't in itself a violation.

The Taft-Hartley act bans mass picketing by banning restraint and coercion of employes. The law doesn't contain the term "closed shop" either, but it bans the closed shop by banning discrimination against non-union workers.

Labor Leaders Go Gunning For Taft

It seems that organized labor's memory is short lived, especially if the heads who are avowed members of the opposite party seek to railroad a man like Robert Taft out of his present position in the U. S. Senate because of labor heads' dislikes.

It seems that Philip Murray and William Green, violently disagree with Taft, because of the Taft-Hartley Law.

Of course, it is the privilege of both of these men to fight Taft. But they should say to organized labor: "Men, you know we are democrats. We have never voted for a Republican and we expect you to kick in $2 per head whether you think Taft is wrong or right."

We remember back when the railroad men were threatening to strike and President Harry Truman said "If they strike we will draft them into the Army."

It was on that occasion that Taft single-handed held out for the railroad men and against Truman and won the fight for them.

We have not heard of any one being hurt by the Taft-Hartley bill, except it has curbed the power of some of the labor heads.

If that has been done we believe that labor heads should be regulated the same as capitol has been.

It is easy enough for union leaders to call a strike but it is always the wife and children of the men who strike that have to suffer.

Personally we believe that when strikes are called that union officers of whatever union they may belong to should draw the same strike benefits as their striking members. Then there would be less strikes pulled to impress their members for the soul purpose of their importance.

Certainly there are cases of where strikes are necessary because of the fact that there are good employers and bad ones.

But, to raise a fund of $750,000 to defeat a man who has in the past helped labor, because the union heads say so, is just a little asinine.

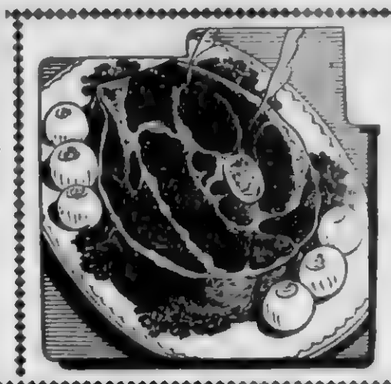
We frankly say to labor where they are underprivileged and underpaid, you should belong to a union. It is for your own protection and benefit. But,—don't let any union officer tell you how to vote and assess you on any issue that is against your own conscience.

We wonder if Wm. Green thinks he can take $750,000 and buy an election?

There is just as much danger of labor leaders dictating, as there has been in the past of capitol dictating.

Let each laboring man study this Taft attack out carefully and say: "Has Taft hurt me or benefited me? Has the Taft-Hartley bill kept my wages high and have I lost any days' pay from striking which it will take years to recover?"

Then, vote as your conscience dictates for or against Taft. That is your privilege.



If the Green-Murray crowd are so set on defeating Taft, why don't they bring out a known labor leader on the Democratic party and bring it to a test instead of running some one outside of labor whatever his name may be. Then, they will have an actual test of how the people of our country feel. That is the American way to let the majority rule

Boss: "Shame on you. Do you know what we do with office boys who tell lies?"

Boy: "Yes, sir. When they get old enough the firm sends them out as salesmen."

Griddle Cake Breakfast

Start cool days with a platter of tempting hot cakes enhanced by broiled pineapple and peach slices.

The brisker the morning, the better the appetite. That's why griddle cakes are top favorites for [illegible] breakfasts.

Give hot cakes extra glamour for a special treat by serving them with broiled pineapple, apricots or peaches. Sure cheerful meat, sausage, bacon, ham, or lamb kidneys are generally preferred to round out a griddle cake meal.

Besides pleasing the family, griddle cakes can be relied on for much good food value. Enriched flour is a good source of calcium, B-vitamins and iron, plus protein and food energy to keep morale high.

This recipe makes medium-thick griddle cakes. Folks who like the "thin ones" may add more liquid to the batter. In any case, the rule for light tender pancakes is the same as for other quickbreads—stirring batter only until ingredients are thoroughly mixed.

GRIDDLE CAKES

2 cups [illegible] sifted flour
4 teaspoons [illegible] powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg
1 cup [illegible]
2 tablespoons melted shortening

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Beat egg slightly and add milk. Add to flour mixture, stirring until flour is moistened. Add shortening. Bake on ungreased, hot griddle.

Makes about 30 four-inch cakes.

I sat alone in the moonlight,
Forsaken by women and men,
And murmured over and over—
"I'll never eat onions again!"

"So your brother's at Harvard. What's he studying?"

"Nothing They're studying him!"

"Johnny Allegro" At Southland Theater

International Mobsters menace George Raft and Nina Foch in "Johnny Allegro" which is coming to the Southland Theatre Wednesday. The companion feature will be "A Woman's Secret," starring Maureen O'Hara and Melvyn Douglas.

Ideal Theater Presents "A Song Is Born"

The Ideal Theater will present Sunday and Monday, "A Song Is Born" with Danny Kaye and the hottest men in music—Benny Goodman and Tommy Dorsey. Danny Kaye is at his best in this technicolor comedy. It is a mad, merry, mirthful mixup of gals, gangsters and glorious music. "The Case of the Baby Sitter" with Tom Neal and Allen Jenkins is the second picture. News and cartoon completes the play bill.

"Date With Judy" At The Russell Theater

Sunday and Monday the Russell Theater presents "Date With Judy" with Wallace Beery and Jane Powell. This technicolor picture has tunes and laughs that will please the entire family. The story is of the life of a family with three high school age youngsters. If you missed this delightful picture, now is the time to see it. The second picture is "In The Navy" with Abbott and Costello. A cartoon completes the program.

STATES' RIGHTS

"A HOT POTATO IS HARD TO COOL." That is classic literature originating in the South.

In Northern Maine the natives boast they have the bluest skies which keeps their greenest earth at exactly the right temperature for growing potatoes. Maine potato growers in Aroostook and other counties have convinced the Federal Government of their superiority, and $64,100,000 was spent by the Department of Agriculture in just one section of Maine to support potato prices at 90 per cent parity. That came to about $700 for each person in the roaring county of Aroostook.

Now if some one could prove that States' Rights should be made as liberal in other regions the Dixiecrats might chip-off more Government aid for their cotton.

AND—how about peanuts that reach all expectancies in Virginia and other parts of the South? Those crops are being boosted a little by Government—but naturally the home State of Real Statesman Harry Byrd needs some of the Agricultural gravy before potatoes run away with all so-called "parity payments."

Sign in a chem lab reads: "This is a LABORatory not a labORATORY."

Columbia Theater

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday the Columbia Theater will present "Africa Screams" with Abbott and Costello. In this picture, you will see America's favorite comedians invade darkest Africa. The timid Costello is forced to join an African expedition and is trapped in a lion's cage. He is captured by man-eating cannibals and aided by an enamored orangoutang while the disgusted Abbott stews. Abbott and Costello have an excellent supporting cast for this comedy. Also showing is "Jigsaw" with Franchot Tone and Jean Wallace.

Hobby Show

Here's something special for persons who have passed their 60th birthday. It's the Golden Age Hobby Show, to be held in the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts September 16, 17 and 18.

Entries may include examples of handicraft, art work, painting, needle work, whittling or carving, interesting collections or other types of exhibits.

There will be no fee for submitting entries. Only rules are that each exhibitor must be past 60 years of age and must be a resident of Central Ohio.

A special show for the exhibitors, including the awarding of prizes, will be held Thursday evening, September 15, the night before the official opening. Prizes of $100 have been donated by The Columbus Citizen.

Full details about the Golden Age Hobby Show may be obtained by writing or calling the Franklin County Council of Social Agencies, 12 South Third Street, Columbus, co-sponsor and supervisor of the show.

"Neptunes Daughter" At Southland Full Of Laughs

There's a laugh a minute, a song every other minute, and plenty of romantic hi-jinks in between in the latest Technicolor musical, "Neptune's Daughter," which brings a star-studded cast to the Southland Theatre Sunday through Tuesday.

Esther Williams in the kind of costumes which made her famous (bathing suits, to you) and Red Skelton impersonating a South American polo star, aided and abeted by such laugh-getters as Betty Garrett and Keenan Wynn, the romantic Ricardo Montalban and the rhythmic Xavier Cugat and his orchestra, set the pace for a howling comedy of mistaken identities set against a lush background of bathing beauties, melodic interludes, and polo thrills.

The second feature with this will be "Lost Tribe," a thrilling jungle picture starring Johnny Weismuller and Myrna Dell.

Father: "Now, Willie, be a good boy while I'm gone."

Willie: "Okay, Pop, I'll be good for a quarter."

Father: "Why, son, when I was your age I was good for nothing."

"Duke of Devilment" Duke Stewart is up to his usual crazy capers with the assistance of Jack Richards and Johnny Casbarro. All are members of Jack Richards' frantic "Flip Four" appearing every night except Monday at the Ritz Supper Club, 2013 Lockbourne Rd.

Anything for a laugh is the "Flip Four" motto and the above routine is guaranteed to get a big laugh.

Tuesday nights are devoted to the new Hollywood Square Dance craze with free instruction for those desiring to learn this new craze.

Sylvester Says:

"Here's one reason for over-crowded homes. But don't be kidded. The building industry is taking up the slack between war time population increases and housing needs."

Last year, the greatest in home building world history, the building industry constructed enough homes to house the combined populations of Detroit, Baltimore, Boston, Indianapolis and Atlanta.

If you like to think in terms of wide open spaces, then consider this: you could house the total populations of these 7 mountain states: Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Nevada in the homes built by private industry during 1948.

"STATIC"

By Lawrence Wilte

During World War I America's greatest composer, Irving Berlin, wrote a song called "Oh, How I Hate To Get Up in the Morning." Little did he dream that some day it would be the theme of the world's most famous dog, Lassie.

The wonder animal, a late riser, and trained to do radio broadcasts in the afternoon for the last couple seasons, will have to "reform" this season. When "The Lassie Show" returns to NBC on Saturday, September 3, it will be heard at 11 a.m., (e.d.s.t.), and Lassie will have to be on hand early for rehearsals. Rudd Weatherwax, Lassie's owner and trainer, who will again be her radio narrator, says that after the premiere—when the collie has learned why she was awakened so early—she won't mind. "Lassie loves broadcasting, and when she finds out we're going to the NBC studio in the morning, she'll be eager to get going early," Weatherwax says.

Bob Hawk, who returns to CBS with his quiz show from Hollywood Monday, August 29, at 10:30 p.m., has finally selected the supporting cast for the new season. Announcers will be Charles Lyon and George Barclay, the bandleader will be Irving Miller, and the Four Lemacs will be a Hollywood singing quartet formerly known as the Crew Chiefs. . . With Red Foley back from vacation, NBC's "Grand Ole Opry" will have two vocal stars on Saturday night, August 27. The visitor sharing honors with Red will be the "Lovesick Blues" man, Hank Williams. A yodeling Alabama sensation, Williams' "Lovesick Blues," played and yodeled in his unique style, is the most popular record in the nation's juke boxes, according to Billboard magazine's survey, with his waxing of "Wedding Bells" and the "Mind Your Own Business" running close behind.

LIVE WIRES: When Vic Damone returns to the air this fall he will be heard over NBC on Sunday nights in the spot now filled by Horace Heidt's opportunity show . . . ARMS PLANS FOR EMERGENCIES

The arms program will be straightened out and will be so arranged as to meet any emergency. "How much money will the Congress vote?" The $580,495,000 cut made by the House indicates sober judgment, more than anybody looked for.

Of course you don't need to believe it, but just keep track of a very noted citizen. We pause to remind our readers that Henry A. Wallace has risen form near-obscurity to remark that the arms plan threatens world peace and will lead to economic disaster. We wish Hank Wallace might assure us that "economic disaster" lies in the future. Every indication is, Henry, that E.D. has been peeking and dodging around the corners for a long time.

WORDS ABOUT WASHINGTON

The latest estimate indicates that the population of the District of Columbia is 863,000. This is some more—200,000—than in 1940, a 30 per cent increase. In the same period the suburban areas saw a 234,000 increase in population, a 77 per cent jump.

The total population of the metropolitan area increased steadily from 967,000 on April 1, 1940, to 1,386,000 on July 1, 1944.

And it is the biggest "No Vote" City in the World. Congress captured the Capital in 1878.

THRILLING STORY OF WELLS FARGO

Edward Hungerford wrote the best of all the books about railroads during his lifetime. He multiplied the friends of the Baltimore and Ohio, the New York Central, the Erie; and he was at the top of the railroad exhibits at World Fairs and expositions. His literature was at the very TOP of all railroad history and there is no one today to compare with Edward Hungerford's achievements.

He died a year ago, and left a new monument of history to cap all the achievements of his lifetime. The correspondent of this newspaper and Edward Hungerford were close firends over a period of many years. And that is the reason why this reference to this marvelous gem of literature has been prompted by him. The history of Wells Fargo began in 1852, when the Wild West was at its wildest. California still throbbed from the effects of the gold discovery when the new express company was organized by Henry Wells and William G. Fargo. It soon became an institution on the exhuberant mining frontier, sending its mails in the packs of Pony Express riders, and helping to make the Concord coach a symbol of American restlessness. In its green, iron-bound boxes was shipped incalculable wealth from the gold fields. The publishers are Random House, New York City.

By 1866 the company controlled a stage-coach empire from the Missouri River to the Pacific. The turning point, however, was approaching, and with the completion of the transcontinental railroad the first and liveliest phase of Wells Fargo's history was ended.

Hungerford wrote with much spirit about the old West, its mining camps, desperadoes, railroad wars and such. His pages are enlivened also by sketches of colorful personalities; Stage-coach drivers and operators, bandits and detectives, financiers and company executives. One might wish for a more realistic appraisal of Wells Fargo policies, but in spite of any shortcomings, this is an indispensable record of a notable subject of Americana.

ARTHUR KROCK REPORTS

A settled distrust of the words and methods of the Administration in seeking legislation is at the root of the growing disposition of Congress to deny or fundamentally to revise programs submitted by the President. This feeling which manifests itself on both sides of the party aisle, was expressed in both the foreign and domestic field. It has been solidifying for a long time. It took form in the Senate's defeat of Reorganization Plan No. 1 and the sharp downward revision by the House of the Administration's rearmament bill for co-signers of the North Atlantic Treaty and other nations.

WHO PROFITS MOST?

Who gets the profits that American industry earns?

The easy, pat answer is to say that a bunch of millionaires get practically all of it. That answer is a prime favorite in left-wing circles which are out to destroy the free enterprise economy. And it's about as wrong as an answer can be.

A short time ago a survey was made of the 428 largest American companies which report their ownership. These concerns have a total of 18,000,000 stockholders.

Two out of every three dollars paid in dividends go to people whose income from all sources is less than $100 a week. After paying their personal income taxes, they retain 83 per cent of the dividends they receive.

Only one dollar out of three goes to people with more than $100 a week—and, of course, only a very small proportion of that dollar is taken in by the "rich." Furthermore, the taxes paid by the "rich" average something like 80 per cent. The survey says that after income taxes, the "rich" can keep and spend only four per cent of all dividends paid by corporations.

Read the report of any typical corporation. Most of the "take" is paid out in wages and for supplies. The government usually comes next, with a big tax bill. The stockholder gets one of the smallest cuts—half or less of the amount paid in taxes. And most of the stockholders, in addition, are people of modest means, who work for a living, and have invested their savings in productive enterprise for security in old age.

"TOP STOVE MEAL"

Beef rolls, new potatoes and garden green beans made an ideal "Top Stove Meal."

By BETTY NEWTON

Cut down the added heat in your kitchen by having "one-dish meals." They will save you time and reduce your dish washing time. Be sure, too, that the skillet or Dutch oven in which you cook your meal has a tight fitting lid. Then add a green salad and fresh fruit for dessert and your meal is ready.

Beef Rolls with Vegetables

1½ lbs. round steak (cut ½ in. thick)
2 C. well seasoned bread dressing
Salt
Pepper
1 lb. green beans
8 small new potatoes

Wipe meat with a damp cloth and cut in 4 to 8 pieces. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. On each place a mound of dressing. Spread dressing evenly and roll each piece like a jelly roll with the dressing inside. Tie or fasten with toothpicks. Roll in flour and brown in hot fat in a heavy skillet or Dutch oven. Raise meat up and insert trivet. Add ½ C. water. Cover and cook over simmer flame about 1 hour, or until almost tender. Add potatoes and green beans and more water, if necessary. Cook 30 minutes or until tender. Serve at once. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

American Steak

1½ lbs. round steak (cut thin)
½ C. boiling water
½ C. chopped onion
2 C. grated carrot
½ C. minced [illegible]
½ C. diced salt pork
1 C. noodles

Divide steak into 6 servings. Cook salt pork until crisp. Lift out of fat and mix with onions, carrots, and green pepper. Season and divide into 6 portions. Put one on each piece of steak. Roll steak around filling and tie securely. Roll in flour and brown in fat from salt pork. Add ¼ C. water and cover. Cook over simmer flame until tender. About 15 minutes before serving, lift meat out. Add 2 C. of water and noodles. Steam until goodles are done. Reheat meat on top of noodles. Makes 6 servings.

More People Use Community Shoe Repair Service

More and more people are taking advantage of their neighborhood shoe repair service shops than ever before, reports Fred Abraham, manager of the Boston Factory Shoe Repair, 1904 Parsons Ave.

Mr. Abraham said the community shops not only use better materials but also give much better and more dependable service than downtown shops. The genial manager of the Boston Factory Shoe Repair served several years as a repairman in large downtown shops and is familiar with their methods. He declared people are gradually learning they can get the most for their shoe repair money in their own neighborhood than anywhere else in the city.

School Time

By Edward L. Hoon

We took our young son, Eddie, to school this week and got him started in the first grade. It's a good school. He was eager to go. I'm sure he has a fine teacher.

This first day of school is a bitter-sweet experience for parents. I noticed several mothers dabbing at their eyes as they hurried away down the walk. Youngsters seem to grow up so quickly after they start to school. Babyhood is gone forever.

I think everyone automatically makes comparisons with the school they attended. I did. But it was quite different than the day back in 1921 when I entered the first grade in the old Ohio Ave. school in Sebring, O. Youngsters haven't changed much. Some were frightened, some noisy. A few shed tears. The schools and teachers, though, are nothing like they were years ago.

When I started to school, my teacher was fresh from just one year of training in a normal school. She had trouble getting her charges settled at the scarred and battered old desks which had seen many years of service even before 1921. The room was typical for those days, poorly lighted and made even worse by those drab brown walls which "didn't show the dirt."

I remember that the boy who sat next to me was older than the teacher. His uncle, a local fruit man, had brought the lad from war-ravaged Greece. There were no special citizenship classes or night schools in those days. This big 20-year-old boy wanted to learn enough English and history to get his papers. He had to sit on top of his desk for several days until the janitor brought him a man-sized table and chair. Incidentally, he learned quickly and finished all four grades in our little school during that first year.

When I took Eddie to school I was quite interested in seeing his 1949-model teacher and classroom. There certainly was plenty of illumination with fluroscent lights supplementing the large windows. There were no desks fastened to the floor, but little groups of chairs and tables which could be moved about.

Miss Gearhart, the teacher, rather startled an old baby-sitter like me the way she got the children interested immediately in looking at pictures or drawings. But she explained that a year of kindergarten helps youngsters learn how to get along happily together in a classroom when they start to first grade.

The principal told me later in the hall that Eddie's teacher is starting her 17th year of teaching. This experience, plus a master's degree in education and five years of specialized college training, explained to me her expertness in handling children.

In many ways, this first year of school is the most important of all to a child. There may be some doubt about the state of the world today, but, believe me, the school up at the end of our street is a far better one than the old Ohio Ave. school which I went to.

WHAT IS NEWS?

WE DO NOT CHARGE

The South Side Booster is in need of neighborhood news.

We never in any case charge for any news article. This service is absolutely free to you.

What is news? It is that boy or girl's birthday party. Have you or your parents celebrated or are celebrating their Silver or Golden Wedding Anniversary? Has somebody in your neighborhood a hobby?

How about that vacation you have just come back from?

Have you a pet animal or bird which has unusual ability to do certain tricks?

How about your bridge, swimming, or other parties. You may not think them interesting, but they are interesting to the people of your community.

How about that bundle of joy that just arrived recently at your home? Surely your friends would like to know if it is a boy or girl and what the youngster's name is.

That fraternal meeting: the civic or service club, your P. T. A.; your sewing club and what you are doing should be in our paper. How about your Missionary Society, the Holy Name, and Alter Society meetings?

Any of these, if they are interesting to you, are interesting to Our South Side Community.

This is what constitutes news. With your help, The South Side Booster can serve the Community better by publishing all neighborhood news.

For your convenience, our address is 1542 Parsons Ave. or you may call Ga 9262 or Ga 71121.

You may leave the news at our office. After hours fold your news copy, or put it in an envelope and insert it in the slot in our front door.

Remember there is never any charge for news.

Sheldon Ave. must be a pretty nice street to live on as we have news of a group of neighbors who have enjoyed each others company all summer long and who have had some wonderful evenings of fun and relaxation playing euchre evenings in their backyards. They have had such good times together that they have decided to call themselves the "Sheldon Ave. Euchre Club." The members are Mr. and Mrs. Dave Shawn, Mr. and Mrs. Traphagan, Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Bill McCullough. The partners are mixed couples (no husband and wife playing together). From what we hear the ladies really are the champs and have given the boys a hard way to go. With the evenings getting shorter the Backyard sessions will have to end. Prizes have never been awarded, but the group feels so sorry for Dave Shawn's tough luck that they voted to award Dave a good cigar as a consolation prize—(watch out, Dave, it may be loaded). All kidding aside, the group thinks they are pretty good, even good enough to take on a few challengers. Here's your chance for some fun Euchre players, the rest is up to you.

Let's Make Pictures

By ALBERT B. GREGG

A photographer must be a gadgeteer. And most of the gadgets he makes. The little tricks employed in the darkroom mean better pictures.

How do you keep your paper developer from oxidizing before you use it, when you do not make many pictures? Some people keep adding marbles to the bottle as the developer is used thereby replacing the oxygen which would fill the top space above the developer. I blow my breath into the bottle. The breath contains a large portion of carbon dioxide. Substituting carbon dioxide for the oxygen prevents some of the normal deterioration. Force out the oxygen by a hard blow (No wisecracks, please)

You can dodge either contact or projected prints. The contact printer must have a ground glass or opal glass diffuser between the bulb (or bulbs) and the glass of the printing frame, and it must be so arranged that you can place ground glass, broken glass, or tissue paper on it. These materials hold back the light through that area without causing absolute blackness. This reduces the exposure on the area above the material. You can build up any pattern you may require.

In enlarging, many gadgets are employed for local manipulation of exposure, either to hold back or to add to the exposure. Various shaped and sized pieces of cardboard, Scotch taped to wires are extremely handy for holding back light from small areas. Etched glass will soften an area. The two hands cupped together with a small hole at the bottom makes an excellent arrangement for adding exposure to a small area. A piece of cardboard with a ragged hole punched in it is also handy for this work. You can vignett a head through such a gadget. Of course, the store vignetter with adjustable opening is a very superior piece of equipment and should be in every darkroom in which serious work is being done.

I'll be glad to help any of you Booster readers make any of these gadgets to help you make better pictures.

Vacation Baggage

MISS NANCY MICHAEL

Did your return from your vacation with some extra baggage? We're talking about those unwanted pounds that somehow tacked themselves on your otherwise good figure. If that's the case (and it can happen to the most important of us), something about it right away. But please do nothing drastic that will destroy all the benefits a summer vacation afforded.

Easy does it, is the way, with diet exercise. Here are a few suggestions for getting rid of those extra pounds without losing pep or lowering resistance. First, eat three well-balanced meals a day. By skipping a meal, you'll often more than make up for it by overeating the next meal, or piecing. Don't omit the foods needed for health. Three glasses of milk; fresh fruits and vegetables, a potato, an egg; a breakfast cereal; and meat, fish or cheese daily add up to fewer calories than are needed on any reducing regime. And, these foods are the mainstay of good nutrition. Control your appetite for the "energy" foods that can be limited in quantity or safely banished from the diet. If you are still hungry between meals, eat larger portions of fruit and vegetables at your meals, or save a piece of fruit or a glass of milk from the basic food listed and eat them between meals. Lastly, walk more and exercise some, but not to the point of exhaustion.

Five or ten pounds gained over a short period of time through overeating and lack of exercise can be safely lost at the rate of about two pounds a week by following the suggestions listed. If you have been overweight for a long time or need to lose more than a few pounds, then visit your physician and follow his advise, it will please and surprise him!

The Real Joys of Life

The real joys obtained in life,
Are not those that we may suppose.
Victory won in fighting strife,
Is where all the real joy grows.

Happiness obtained when we succeed,
After many a trial and care
Proves that we've done a real noble deed,
Because we then find that we're somewhere.

We must always be on the beam and alert,
To face whatever may lie before us.
And as at times it may even hurt,
It does help to earn each happiness.

So, I want to go say a sermon,
But a fact found to be based on real
A truth that's well worth learnin',
And from facts, we cannot remain aloof

— Charles W. Widmeier

Beulah Park To Open September 10

With an eight-race card topped by the running of the Autumn Purse, Beulah Park opens its 24-day fall meeting of thoroughbred events Saturday, September 10, at 2:15. p.m.

That post time will prevail every day throughout the session, which will end Saturday, October 8th. In deference to Little Brown Jug Day at Delaware, O., there will be no racing at the Grove City course Thursday, September 22.

The Autumn Purse—the September 10 feature—will be an allowance affair at the distance of six furlongs. Supplementary headliner on the inaugural card is to be The Grove City Purse at the route of one and one-sixteenth miles.

Among the larger stables on the grounds awaiting the bugle call are those of Joe Frankie, with 10 head; Walton Lewis, 11; R. A. Mattingly, 13; E. A. Moran, 11; Gale Osborne, 20; Rudy Tryon, 10; Ray Wagner, 10; Jack Williams, 10, and Frank Wood, 10.

The jockey colony includes Dudley Richards, who rode exceptionally well last winter and spring at Mexico City and B. L. Harper, who has ridden his share of winners since invading Ohio in July.

Officials in charge of the meet include: Stewards—Tom Sanford, E. W. Stribling and Robert W. Saxton; Racing Secretary—E. W. Bury; Assistant Racing Secretary—B. H. Held; Clerk of Scales—Raymond Wymer and Starter—Tom Brown.

Set for the final day of the meeting, October 8, is the annual renewal of the $5000 Ohio Championship at the distance of one and one-sixteenth miles. The winner of the Ohio Championship last year was Beau Nash, owned by I. J. Collins of Lancaster, Ohio.

Florida's St. Pete Popular Spot

St. Petersburg, Fla., Sept.—(Special) The annual trek of sun seekers from the cities, villages and hamlets of America to Florida's Sunshine City is under way again, with hundreds of families arriving early to place their children in St. Petersburg's open air schools. The common cold, curse of northern winters, is virtually unknown to the lucky youngsters who spend their school hours in buildings with outside corridors and wide open windows, and frolic on sun drenched playgrounds.

That St. Petersburg will be the most popular resort in the South this winter is a foregone conclusion, in the opinion of travel experts who noted last year's phenomenal increase of 20 per cent in tourist arrivals here, while other areas showed a falling off, due to economic conditions. Moderate accommodation costs was the principal reason, but the recent "discovery" of Florida's west coast as by far the most scenic part of the state increased the momentum of visitors.

Two immense construction projects one almost completed and the other soon to be started, promise to open this section of Florida to the greatest influx of visitors and permanent residents the country has seen in many years. The projects are the new gulf coast highway, connecting St. Petersburg with the Middle West, and the highway's most important link, a 13-mile $18,500,000 bridge tying the city with the Florida mainland and the Tamiami Trail.

The new highway, U.S. 19, continues through St. Petersburg as the most direct route to America's newest and most glamorous public domain, the Everglades National Park, comprising thousands of square miles of tropical jungle, and the only such areas in the United States.

Among those who visited St. Petersburg last winter from Franklin County, Ohio, were Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Beaty, Miss Ethel Beery and Mrs. Olive B. Crabbs of Canal Winchester; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Graessle and I. W. Holmes of Grove City; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Abbott, Dr. and Mrs. Charles L. Dolle and Mrs. Ruth Kohlepp of Westerville; Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. DeVoss and Mr. and Mrs. Garfield DeVoss of Harrisburg; Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Rea of Galloway; and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lewis of Reynoldsburg.

Columbus was represented in St. Petersburg by 413 visitors, and Worthington by twenty-one.

A HARVEST OF VITAMINS

Garden fresh, colorful vegetables are filling our Columbus markets these days, the prices are right, and the vitamins in them are Nature's best By serving them often, buttered, creamed or with spices, your family will enjoy these flavorful foods and never suspect they are eating them for their rich vitamin content. With the approach of winter, with its threats of colds and other respiratory infections, you can help yourself and family build up body resistance by including foods that are good sources of vitamins A and C.

Ruby ripe tomatoes are fairly bursting with vitamin C. Two good sized tomatoes, eaten raw in a salad or "out of hand" will fill your day's requirement for this perishable nutrient that cannot be stored in our bodies. A serving of raw cabbage provides half of your vitamin C needs for the day and is one of our cheapest sources. Of course, our year round standby is citrus fruit, of which only 1 serving is necessary.

Green and yellow vegetables advertize their high vitamin A content by the deepness of their color. A serving of carrot, or your garden broccoli (that keeps bearing long after first frost) will fill your vitamin A need for the day. Greens, such as swiss chard and beet tops, are excellent sources of this vitamin on our markets now. Washed, broken in smaller pieces when necessary, and cooked in a small amount of boiling water in a covered pan until just tender, these greens make a pleasant addition to your fall menus. Butter, enhancing the flavor of corn and squash, also adds to the vitamin A content of these Autumn favorites.

For better health for every member of your family, and particularly the children, eat the vitamin A and C rich foods every day. Vegetables and fruits, plus your daily quota of milk, will supply health protecting vitamins and minerals from Mother Nature's Autumn harvest.

A MENU OF HARVEST

Autumn brings plenty of opportunity to "pep up" those daily and fruits. Season your menus with a bit of imagination.

CREAMED CHICKEN IN ACORN SQUASH

3 Acorn squash; salt and pepper; Butter.

Wash the squash. Cut in halves lengthwise. Scrape out pulp and seeds. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Dot with butter. Place in a baking pan. Add a little hot water; Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 50 to 60 minutes or until tender.

3 Tbs butter; 1½ cups milk; 1 ½ to 2 cups diced chicken; 4 Tbs flour; ¼ cup chicken stock; Salt and pepper.

Melt butter in a double boiler. Stir in flour. Add milk and chicken stock all at once. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Fold in chicken. Season with salt and pepper. Serve in squash. Six servings.

GRAPE SOUFFLE

3 cups Concord grapes, washed; ⅛ tsp salt; 1 Tbs lemon juice; 1/3 cup sugar; 2 Tbs. cornstarch; 3 egg whites.

Crush grapes in saucepan with fork. Simmer for about 15 minutes or until soft. Press through sieve. Mix sugar, salt and corn starch. Add to sieved grapes gradually, stirring to blend. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened and clear. Add lemon juice. Cool. Fold grape mixture into stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into buttered baking dish. Place in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven (325 degrees F.) for 40 to 45 minutes. Serve with Custard Sauce. Six servings.

Curly Head In Minutes

With the coming of Spring, the trend in hair-styling is toward a short, softly curled, simple hairdo suitable for life in the great outdoors. Today this is easily accomplished at home with the new fast-curl capsules. The capsule is dissolved in a glass of water into which the comb is dipped, then combed through the hair before setting in pin curls. No previous cutting is necessary. Here a charmer views her "Curly Head," the result of her efforts with one of these quick, new home hairdressing aids.

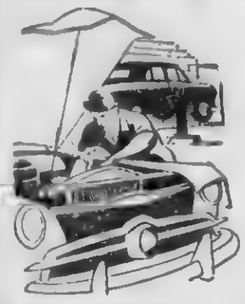
Luscious Peach Shortcakes

Shortcakes continue in popularity, for juicy fresh peaches now on the market make the topping for a rich biscuit base.

Fresh peaches can be enjoyed in many desserts throughout the season, but few are more popular than shortcakes. Since peaches are usually more economically priced than berries, peach shortcake is a good dessert treat for the modest budget.

The individual shortcakes pictured are made just like biscuits, except that a little sugar is added to the dry ingredients to make a slightly sweet foundation. If larger shortcakes are preferred, cutting the rolled dough with a three-inch cutter should make enough to serve six.



Healthful eating is beautifully packaged in this peach shortcake, for the enriched biscuits contribute B-vitamins and iron, the juicy peaches vitamins A and C.

Spoon sweetened sliced peaches liberally over hot buttered biscuits for a luscious summer dessert.

PEACH SHORTCAKES

2 cups sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
⅓ cup sugar
6 tablespoons shortening
⅔ to ¾ cup milk
Sweetened sliced peaches
Butter or margarine

Sift together flour, salt, baking powder and sugar. Cut or rub in shortening. Add milk to form a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead gently one-half minute. Pat or roll out one-half inch thick. Cut with two and one-half inch biscuit cutter. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Split crosswise. Spread bottom layer lightly with butter or margarine. Cover with sweetened peaches and replace top layer. Cover with more peaches.
Makes about nine shortcakes.

A WEEKLY COLUMN

conducted by Claud C. Ruch
Educational Director, Childcraft Advisory Service

Most of you mothers of small babies worry needlessly when your little ones don't start to sit up or to walk or talk as early in life as the baby in the house next door or the apartment upstairs.

Before you begin to wonder whether or not there may be something wrong with little Mary or Bill, read what one of the country's leading authorities on "The Baby's First Year" has to say on this subject:

Claud C. Ruch

"As in all other aspects of development, babies vary a great deal with respect to the time when they begin to do certain things."

That is the expert opinion of Dr. Donovan J. McCune, Professor of Pediatrics at Columbia University and Childcraft writer.

An attending pediatrician at the Babies Hospital in New York City, he has the opportunity to observe hundreds of infants closely every year.

According to Dr. McCune, "babies seem to follow the same general pattern of development, despite differences in the time of beginning." Here is the outline he gives for their progress:

1. When lying on his abdomen, the newly born infant can usually raise his head briefly, but cannot do so if he is lying on his back.
2. During the first four months, he can lift his head backward with greater and greater efficiency, but he usually cannot lift it forward until he is about four months of age.
3. A month or two later, at from five to six months, he can sit upright with a little support.
4. By seven or eight months, a baby can maintain a sitting posture without aid for a short time and pull himself back into it if he falls over.

IT'S SNACKTIME

Do you worry because your young child insists upon eating between meals, that he never seems to get filled up? Many children have small capacities for food and it may be impossible for them to eat enough at breakfast or lunchtime to keep bright and happy until the next meal. Research has proved that between meal feedings do not affect your child's appetite for the next meal. In fact, snacks make it easy to include more protein foods so necessary for growing children. Here are a few hints on feeding that ever-hungry child of yours.

Milk has proved one of the best choices for mid-meal snacks. Try offering a cupful of milk and a few graham crackers. You've seen this type of "lunch" served in our schools and kindergartens, so keep a good supply of the fixin's at home too. Vary the type of cracker by using the great selection offered in your stores such as: wheat, soya, or cheese crackers, plain wafers or soda crackers.

Fruits and vegetables provide a tasty twosome with milk. These foods furnish real nourishment with lasting benefits. Remember that a ten o'clock and four o'clock snack should not become an excuse for skimping on other meals. Snacks differ from "piecing" if they are served more than two hours before regular mealtime and if they are never too sweet. Between-meal snacks, wisely planned, can be an important part of building and maintaining good nutrition for children.

THE POLICY OF DOG EAT DOG

Washington, D. C., September-The President and Congress seem to be getting together on measures to achieve World peace. In the past few years our "international economic policy" has been little better than a confusion of ideas among politicians. We mean no disrespect in saying that Democrats and Republican leaders were about as dumb as the rest of us.

President Truman in his address to the American Legion Convention in Philadelphia said: "World prosperity is necessary to our own prosperity here in the United States. . .the Nations of the World face new problems." Most of Europe has broken down —others are on the ragged edge.

The President told the Legion that organized Communists have attempted to achieve economic and political domination of the World. He lambasted those ruffians and warmongers.

The President assumes to "know all about it." Anyhow, he has been learning fast. Meanwhile he and Congress are getting together, and they are resolved that the time has arrived when the World must stop resorting to what he correctly terms a "policy of dog-eat-dog."

The Administration and Congress are agreed that the United States will not desert Britain. Our ancient foe of the Revolution is now our chum, and there is no strong force in America that is unfriendly to England. There has been a lot of talk, but the general understanding in our Capital is that the English Government will not be bashful about asking Uncle Sam for all it wants. And they'll get it!

We are spending money by the billions and $1,450,000,000 is being set aside to help friendly European Nations retool war plants.

This correspondent is happy to carry word to editors of local dailies and weeklies throughout the United States that petty politics have been laid aside in wholesale quantities during recent weeks. There are growing agreements and partnerships in the Senate between Connally, Tydings, Dulles, Byrd, Vandenberg and a host of other leaders.

MAN AS A MACHINE

A good healthy man, working a full 8-hour day, can produce about ¼ horsepower continously. This is equivalent to carrying 396 bags of cement up a 100-foot hill in 8 hours. (What man can do it?) Yet this amount of work is equal to the total heat of only 1 pint of fuel oil—says F. G. Shoemaker, consulting engineer of G.M.'s Detroit Diesel Engine Division.

One gallon of fuel in a Diesel engine equals eight men working for 8 hours, or about 2c per man per day for fuel. Liquid hydrocarbons are the most concentrated form of power now available. Two thirds of the fuel the engine burns is oxygen which is distributed free in the air all over the earth.

By contrast, food for man runs about $1.00 per pound for solid fuel, $5 per 4/5 quart for liquid fuel. As an engine, man weighs about 700 pounds per h.p. It is easy to see that a strong back is a very inefficient source of power and that manpower is highly expensive.

However, man as a machine, does have some points in his favor. He is a complete, self-contained, totally enclosed power plant, available in a variety of sizes and reporducible in quantity. He is relatively long-lived, has most major components in duplicate, is weatherproof, amphibious, runs on a wide variety of fuels, has thermostatically controlled temperature, circulating fluid heat, evaporative cooling, sealed lubricated bearings, audio and optical direction and range finders, sound and sight recording, audio and visual communication, and he is equipped with brain controls.

It is this last item—brain control—that gives man his unique advantage over other forms of power. It is this factor which permits him to govern and coordinate the effort of more efficient work-producing machines. It is the ever-increasing use of new machines and power sources to do man's work that has raised the American standard of living to the highest on earth.

POLICE STATE IN ACTION — Czechoslovakia Under Reds

If a case history of the Communist method is wanted, no better example can be cited than the fate of Czechoslovakia today. Created by the influence of the Western nations after World War I, the Republic of Masaryk was betrayed in the opening phases of World War II. When the war ended, there was high hope that this freedom-loving nation might be restored to its vigor and its influence in Central Europe. But the second betrayal was quickly in evidence, and today the people of Prague are despairing for their future. Insidiously, the Communist Party infiltrated the posts of power and now rules the country as it chooses, while the Czech people wonder bewilderdly how it ever happened.

This week, the announcement from Prague that the government is threatening to close more than a hundred monasteries and convents if they do not seek state approval and further ordering all religious groups to declare their loyalty to the present regime comes as neither shocking nor unexpected. This is part of the Red pattern. Seizure of control from within, followed by the destruction of all possible sources of opposition to the government—these are the unvaried formulas of the communist technique.

How long the West can sit by and accept the endless recurrence of these conditions without protest remains to be seen. If the process is repeated often enough, the Communist ideology will conquer the world by default, just as it once appeared likely that Hitler would conquer Europe.

RECOMMENDS SPRINKLER IRRIGATION

The majestic office of the Department of Interior says that sprinkler irrigation is a method for a logical development in the future of some reclammation projects and offers a major means of conserving limited water supplies in the areas of the West. Commissioner of Reclammation Michael W. Straus says the water supply is the primary limiting factor in crop production and that the possibility of extending the limitation by sprinkling irrigation is great. So, that is a better recipe than simple turning on the hose.

MORE JOBS

Membership of labor unions now ranks a total of 15,000,000 the highest in history. Estimates by the Government are that 1,-000,000 new jobs for union and non-union workers will develop during the next few months. We've had lots of hard times during the turn of the years. Don't get excited, don't be misled, there'll be plenty of jobs ahead.

GOING AHEAD, GOOD

Argentina, Brazil, Venezuela, Dominican Republic and Haiti, are getting their full share of the DP's and immigrants.

COMMUNIST TRIAL NEARING END

For thirty-two weeks the nation has been following the trial of a group of alleged Communists on charges of conspiracy against the Federal government. No case has reached so deeply into the thinking of so many men and women as this. The Federal Judge charged with the hearing of the evidence and the jury sitting in judgment have demonstrated incredible patience through days of harrowing monologues by the defendants and their counsel.

Within the past week, a defense witness admitted in reply to questions addressed to him by the Judge that America is subject to the communist law that "capitalism must give way to socialism through revolution and that a peaceful evolution is impossible." Certainly the inferences flowing from such a doctrine must shock the complacency of many so-called American "liberals" who look with kindly condescension upon most of our Communists and fellow travelers.

As the trial moves forward an anticipated conclusion, the people of our country who are willing to read, analyze and interpret the evidence must realize that this is no child's play. The subversives among us are determined people, and unless we decide that our way of life is worth the effort required to preserve it, they will not stop at half-measures in their attempt to destroy it.

LET'S NOT GIVE UP ON CHINA

The Administration's defeatist attitude on China finds no reflection in the current thinking of the Republican Party. It is well that this is so because the Federal Government appears to be giving up the ghost in the Chinese affair. Our tremendous sacrifice in the Pacific area was dictated by our policy of maintaining a free Chinese Republic, but with the collapse of effective resistance in the northern areas of the country, our policy vanished like the snows of yesteryear.

Today, for the first time since the flight of Chiang kai-shek and the end of our various missions to the East, an organized effort is being made to change our Administration's outlook on the future of China. A group of Republicans who are leading the fight on this issue have started an effort to incorporate some form of help to Nationalist China into the military aid program. If there is to be any hope for a change in the fortunes of war in the Orient, it must obviously come from Uncle Sam

The Government has taken the dim view that there is no way in which our money may be spent usefully or successfully against Communism in China. If we adopt this position in China, we shall not only lose this great nation as a source of friendship, but we shall simultaneously forfeit our hold on Indo-Chinese sympathies and endanger the cause of the Western World throughout all of Asia.

Organization Month At St. Pauls

September has been set by the Reverend Paul C. Kaefer as organization month. The Church Council will hold the first meeting, followed by the Dorcas Society. These meetings will all be held in the Old Church Building and will be preparatory to those scheduled for the New Building a month later. Steel I Beams for the floor in the New Structure have been shipped from the Bethlehem Mills and should be installed this week, after which flooring and brick work will begin. Joint Union Services between Saint Pauls and Gates Fourth Methodist, at the latter Church with the Reverend Hicks officiating, were highly successful and the bonds of friendship between these two Gates Street congregations have been further tightened.

The Reverend Paul C. Kaefer will return this week from his Summer Lecture Tour, during which he was chosen as Sky Pilot for the Mens Camp in North Western Ohio. These business men will attend the New Church in a body, sometime this fall. Announcements of this date, along with the date of Cornerstone Laying will come from the Reverend Kaefer this week.

Opening of Revival At Sunshine Mission

A two weeks Revival will open this Sunday morning at Sunshine Mission, 116 Barthman Avenue. It is being conducted by the Rev. Appleman and Smith with special singers and evangelists. Services will be held each evening at 7:30 p.m. An ordination service will be conducted this Sunday at 1:30 p.m. followed by a Song Fest at 2:30 p.m. Various groups of singers and musicians will participate.

Bible Institute Announces Faculty

The Columbus Bible Institute, thru its dean, Mr. C. O. Callahan, has announced the calendar and subjects which will be offered during the Fall Quarter which opens Monday, Sept. 12 at 6:30 p.m. The 1949-1950 catalogs have just recently been placed in the mail and are available to all interested parties. This is the 7th consecutive year that C.B.I. has provided Columbus and vicinity with an inter - denominational training school for Christian workers. During the past school year 120 men and women from 46 different churches were registered.

Those listed on the faculty are: Harold B. Allison, Mary L. Ashbrook, W. E. Ashbrook, Stella Beckley, Alice L. Bodle, C. C. Clawson, Elizabeth Clawson, William Corven, Claud C. Crawford, Harold Haffey, Marguerite Haffey, Elizabeth Hetherington, Thomas Hubbard, Phebe Nisbet, W. A. Nisbet, Paul E. Rodgers, Ercell M. Ruler, W. Howard Schoof, and Harry Shepard.

The detailed class schedule follows: Monday, 6:30—Bible Introduction 101 and Bible Geography 201; 7:50—Missions 101, Doctrine 201, and Greek 101; 8:50—Music 101; Tuesday, 1:30 -Evangelism CC 101; 6:30 Survey 101 and Christian Evidences 201; 7:50—Survey NT-04. At 7:30 each evening a brief Chapel service is held to which all are invited.

Columbus Bible Institute is catering to the laymen and laywomen as well as pastors and mission workers. In fact, any person, no matter how limited the previous secular education might have been, will be given personal attention so that the most helpful subjects may be selected.

You may be one of the thousands of church people who have wished that you might be of more value in the Lord's service but do not feel capable. If so, we want to talk to you for we believe that we are in position to give you real help.

This work is not of men. We are merely the tools that God is using for this particular work. All of our workers are giving of their time and talents voluntarily without pay of any sort. We urge you to make your connection with C.B.I. a matter of prayer and then act as you are led no matter how much courage it may take or how much of a sacrifice you may have to make. If you really give yourself into Christ's hands He will never forsake you. His Holy Word gives us this positive assurance. Call LA61181, WA 1475, or MA 0063 for complete information, or, better yet, come to 748 Dennison Avenue on Sept. 12th or 13th and see for yourself.

Bringing Health to Siam

"The Legendary Doctor of Siam," who has been in that country for the past forty years as a missionary of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., and for the past two years, as the only missionary doctor there, has had the supervision of seven hospitals and a leprosy colony, is now in the United States for a well-earned furlough. He is Dr. Edwin C. Cort, medical missionary, whose title was earned by his stupendous labors to bring health to the people of Siam. During the past two years, he has distributed to hospitals, dispensaries, and clinics, over 10,000 pounds of medical and relief supplies received thru Church World Service, has treated 145,000 patients in one province, and organized relief teams in nine others.

Women's Rights?

Differences of opinion on the right of women to take part in Church of England services were revealed when the Houses of the Convocation of Canterbury met jointly to receive a report from a committee appointed to study the question. The committee declared that to allow licensed laywomen to take part in statutory services such as Morning and Evening Prayer, would be a departure from "the age old order of Christian life," and would constitute "a hindrance to the reunion of Christendom." The Archbishop of Canterbury said, "I should not argue that a woman is by nature of such a kind that she is incapable of taking in church a position of leading prayers, reading the word of God, or giving an address." No action was taken.

To Erect New Schools

Indicative of the advance program of missionary service which the Methodist Church is projecting in Africa, the Board of Missions is seeking five experienced young builders and construction engineers to plan and supervise the erection of new schools, hospitals, and churches in the Belgian Congo, Mozambique, Southern Rhodesia, and Angola. They are being recruited for three years of service each. According to Bishop Newell S. Booth, of Elisabethville, B. C., they will need to train African natives as masons, carpenters, brickmakers, and makers of furniture, as well as find and haul much of the raw materials from the forests and mines. Dr M. O. Williams, Jr., at 150 Fifth Ave., New York City, is in charge of finding the builder teachers.

"Euro American techniques and Euro American social conceptions have invaded the strongholds of self-sufficient native economies and social organizations, and have created dissatisfaction, derangements, and demands," notes Professor W. A. Anderson, rural sociologist of Cornell University. "These have culminated in upsetting the total rural equilibrium which now expresses itself in the new nationalisms of Syrians, Indians, Burmese, Chinese, and others. The chief implication for Christian rural missions is that a real program must be developed soon or missions may take over those elements of Western culture that they want, and ignore the others. The peace will be church rendering their own religious conceptions or attitudes relevant implications along the"

'Church in Town & Country'

A National Convocation on the Church in Town and Country will be held Nov. 8 to 10 in St. Paul's Methodist Church, Lincoln, Neb., with ministers, laymen, editors and farm and rural leaders in attendance. The convocation will be under the auspices of the Commission on Town and Country of which Dr. Elliott L. Fisher is chairman; sponsored by the Home Missions Council of North America, the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America and the International Council of Religious Education. The program will include Dr. Fisher; Dwight Eisenhower of the U.S. Department of Agriculture; Mrs. Marjorie McKee of the Woman's Society of Christian Service; Methodist Church; the Val Peter [illegible] Dr. Paul Vogt, [illegible] Political Science, Louisiana State University; Dr. Mordecai W. Johnson, President of Howard University; Dr. Mark A. Dawber, head of the Home Missions Council; Paul W. Post, of the Church Federation Information may be secured from the Committee on Town and Country Church, 297 Fourth Ave., New York 10, N. Y.

World from Methodist Bishop [illegible] Ward, in Shanghai, China, is that all Christian missionaries and workers are well and conditions are normal in that city now under communist control. He says that missionaries are now being given passes, enabling them to move from city to city in their work; and that Methodist youth institutes are being held according to schedule. There was an attendance of 200 at a youth institute in Nanking, and it was possible to hold a daily training conference for laymen in the same city. A cablegram from Methodist Bishop Z. T. Kaung, from Peiping, gives the information that all workers are well, that the institutions of the church are continuing to serve; but that while evangelistic services are normal in the cities, they are "not going so well in the country." (He does not amplify the phrase.)

In the United States the church operates 885 elementary schools, 71 secondary schools, 13 colleges, a medical school, a theological seminary, correspondence school, 15 nursing schools, a school of dentistry, and chair of medical technology and physical therapy. Dr. George T. Harding III, of this city last year accepted the appointment of president of the denomination's College of Medical Evangelists at Loma Linda, California.

The Seventh-day Adventist educational system has grown out of the belief in the harmonious development of the physical, mental and spiritual powers and of the close relationship between the [illegible] of separation of church and state as set forth in the Scriptures. They believe in a distinctive education for the youth which meets the standard of the state as well as the church, but they are opposed to governmental financial aid. The school system is entirely supported by the church with an annual $75 average per capita expenditure last year for educational purposes.

Seven Day Adventists Add Addition to School

A concrete block addition to the Seventh-Day Adventist grade school building at Union and Ryan Avenues is under construction this month. The 22x30 ft. room with cement and asphalt tile flooring will be completely fireproof. The older part of the building will be remodeled.

On Tuesday, Sept. 6, the opening day of school, there were 21 children enrolled in the first 4 grades of this school and 24 enrolled in grades 5-8.

Miss Fern Lane, 2300 Adler Rd., the teacher of the lower grades, has taught in the school for the past 5 years. She is a graduate of the Normal School of Washington Missionary College, Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Robert O'Connell, 241 N. Vine St., Worthington, who is becoming her third year of teaching the upper grades of this school, is a graduate of O.S.U. College of Education. She has had many years of teaching experience, 7 of which she taught in the Grandview High School.

The Columbus Seventh - Day Adventist Church has conducted a church grade school for over 10 years. The present building was constructed in 1941 during the administration of the late Pastor J. F. Olmstead. The plot of ground on which the present school building is located was given to the Seventh-Day Adventist Church Oct. 12, 1911 by Samuel M. Seibert and Sarah A. Seibert. An additional lot was purchased by the church Oct. 14, 1944.

This school is one of over 3,750 educational institutions conducted by Seventh-Day Adventists. The denomination operates a world-wide chain of schools from kindergarten thru college, including advanced and medical schools with an enrollment of over 170,000 students, more than 10,000 of these are in the college, junior college and graduate schools. In the U.S. the church has established a system of [illegible] to train young people for [illegible] pastors, Bible workers, [illegible] school was organized in

Parsons Ave. Library Gives Entertainment

Wednesday morning, August 31 the Parsons Avenue Branch Library entertained approximately two hundred "49'ers" with a flannelgraph, "The Little Train That Won a Medal," to celebrate their having "struck gold" by reading at least twelve books during the summer. Each child received a diploma and a "bag of gold." Of the 443 children in the reading club, 239 "struck gold." Those who did not attend the party may receive their diplomas by calling at the library.

WASHINGTON REPORT

by SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

LAST week the House of Representatives passed a bill raising the minimum wage from 40 cents an hour to 75 cents an hour. The minimum wage law sets a floor under the wages which are paid in interstate commerce and therefore affect competition between the states. This minimum wage law is not intended for organized employees. The Taft-Hartley law and the Wagner Act require the employers to deal with a single representative of all their organized employees, and this results in a condition where the organized workers can count on receiving the economic rate—that is, the wage representing the real value of the labor they perform. The minimum wage is intended only to protect unorganized workers against a condition where they have to accept less than they are really entitled to.

Unfair wages may be a result of deliberate economic oppression, or they may be simply a result of custom, which is very powerful especially in the smaller communities. The purpose of the minimum wage is not to give anyone more than his work is really worth, but only to see that he gets what any work is worth. The laborer is worthy of his hire.

If we tried to give workers more income than other people are willing to pay for the result of their labor, we would simply put these workers out of their jobs. No employer under our system can afford to pay people more than their work is really worth.

There was a very vivid example of this in Puerto Rico where the New Dealers tried to apply the American minimum wage rate to the needlework industry back in 1935. The result was to put 100,000 people out of work for 10 years and destroy the industry.

* * *

OTHER workers have an interest in a proper minimum wage in manufacturing which competes with workers in other states. The product of unduly low wages either puts the manufacturers in other states out of business, or forces them to reduce the wages to their employees. This is the main basis for action by the Federal government.

Its power, however, is confined to interstate commerce where this competitive situation exists. It does not properly extend to farms, or retail stores or local service agencies. Store employees in New York City are not affected by wage rates for store employees in Ohio. These are properly the subject of legislation in New York or Ohio, but not in Washington.

The original Wage-Hour law expressly exempted retail stores, but the Wage-Hour Administration has tried to whittle away that definition. The bill passed by the House of Representatives exempts retail stores, hotels and service agencies. The Bill recommended by the Senate Committee does not reaffirm this exemption, but I am inclined to think it will be put into the bill on the floor of the Senate.

* * *

THE rate fixed by the House bill and the Senate Committee is 75 cents an hour. I receive many complaints from small towns in rural sections against this rate, but I do not see why it is unreasonable in those fields where the Federal government has proper jurisdiction.

Wages in manufacturing industries have increased from 63 cents an hour in 1939 to $1.38 an hour today, an increase of 118%. Bituminous coal miners have increased 120%. The building trades have increased from 93 cents an hour to $1.93 an hour. Altogether, workers in organized industry have increased on the average at least 115%. The proposed increase in the minimum wage is only 87½%. Surely, the inequality which always exists between workers because of the character of work they do should not be increased.

Roughly, we are fixing the minimum wage at about one-half the average wage in organized industries. I believe that, in view of the tremendous purchasing power created by this average wage, employers can afford to pay 75 cents an hour in interstate jobs.

Remember that the cost of living has increased 70% since 1939, and the proposed increase in the minimum wage will give the less productive worker a much smaller improvement in his standard of living than that received by the organized worker since 1939.

FORT MEIGS, WEST OF PERRYSBURG, OHIO, On State Route 65, was the site of a battle during the war of 1812. A high stone was shaft erected in 1908 in recognition of the men who fought there. Surrounding the shaft is a state park which pleasure seekers, such as Joan Arbogast, in foreground, and Phyllis Turner, both of Tiffin, can visit.

Miss Eyerman Mr. Finneran Wed Sept. 3

A blue and white background of gladioli and delphinium formed a pretty setting for the marriage Saturday morning, Sept. 3, of Miss Marilyn Marie Eyerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Eyerman, 837 E. Columbus-st, to Louis Edward Finneran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Finneran, 195 N. Oakley-av., The nuptial high mass took place in St. John's Evangelist Church with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Frederick W. Burkhart officiating.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of lustrous ivory satin, styled with an off-shoulder collar and extremely full skirt ending in a cathedral train. A pleated satin band held her fingertip veil, and she carried a cascade of white orchids, stephanotis and roses. Her single strand of pearls was a gift of the bridegroom.

Wearing identical white taffeta gowns with hoopskirts were: Miss Lorita Eyerman, who was maid of honor for her sister, and the bridesmaids, Miss Kathleen O'Connor and Miss Joan Slattery. Their large white hats had blue streamers and they carried blue fans with white roses and carnations. John and Susan Hensel were miniature bride and groom.

Robert Finneran served his brother as best man, and ushers were: Clarence Eyerman and Lea Krause. Raymond Buechner was the soloist.

The bride's mother wore a royal blue dress, while Mrs. Finneran selected a pearl gray dress. Both mothers wore corsages of white roses.

A breakfast for 75 guests was held at the Seneca Hotel, and a reception for 300 guests was held that evening at the home of the bride's parents.

The former Miss Eyerman is a graduate of St. Joseph Academy and is associated with the Orr, Brown and Price Co. Mr. Finneran, a graduate of Aquinas High School is associated with the Fairmont Creamery Co.

After a short wedding trip, for which the bride wore a navy suit with white accessories and a corsage of white roses and stephanotis, the new Mr. and Mrs. Finneran will be at home at 835 Columbus-st.

"In the hills, when you get married you take your wife right home and tie her to the plow."

"Is that so?"

"Yup, in the hills when a woman marries she really gets hitched."

Miss Zschach Is Married to Mr. McVay

A candlelight ceremony in St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church united in marriage Miss Joan Elizabeth Zschach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene H. Zschach, 614 E. Gates St., and Mr. Don McVay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray F. McVay 165 S. Roys Ave.

Baskets of gladioli, palms and candelabra trimmed the altar for the four-thirty service on August 7, performed by Dr. Arnold E. Klick.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floral organdy gown. A crown of seed pearls and sequins held her veil of illusion. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses.

Miss Joan Fischer was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Dolores Bauer, Miss Jean Wagner, Miss Pat Wise, and Miss Jeanne Zschach, cousin of the bride, in taffeta gowns of pink, green, blue, yellow and orchid, respectively. Their gowns were styled with fitted bodices coming to points in the front with very full circular skirts and sweetheart necklines. They wore net and lace-covered hats matching their gowns and carried colonial bouquets of roses and maline matching their gowns.

Best man was Mr. Ray F. McVay, Jr., brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Mr. Richard Bangs, Mr. William C. Bauer, Mr. Harry N Long, Jr., and Mr. Lloyd F. Zschach, brother of the bride.

The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Holshacher, Noe-Bixby Rd., Reynoldsburg.

The bride is a graduate of South High School and is associated with the University Branch of the Ohio National Bank. Mr. McVay is a graduate of Jackson Township High School, Grove City, and is attending Franklin University. He is employed as a junior accountant by Kenneth L. Hahn.

The couple is living at 786 Ebner Street.

"The Green Promise" At Southland Theater

The romances of modern farming is the inspirational theme around which has been woven the drama of "The Green Promise," which will open Sunday at the Southland Theatre for a three-day run.

Starring Marguerite Chapman, Walter Brennan, Robert Paige, and Natalie Wood, the picture deals with the reformation of a suspicious and domineering old farmer who has no use for modern agricultural methods. A stormy love affair between Miss Chapman, as the farmer's daughter, and Paige, as a County Agricultural Agent, to modernize Brennan's management of the farm are the principal ingredients of the story.

The companion bill will be "The Judge Steps Out" starring Alexander Krox and Ann Sothern.

'Whispering Smith' At Ideal Theater

Any new Alan Ladd picture is big movie news, but, when, in addition, fans are offered Ladd in a large-scale Western filmed in technicolor, that is big news. "Whispering Smith" starring Alan Ladd will be presented at the Ideal Theatre on Sunday and Monday. Co-starring with Ladd are Robert Preston, Brenda Marshall and Donald Crisp.

The picture is based on the novel by Frank H. Spearman about a soft-spoken railroad detective with nerves of steel. Set in the West in the 1890's, the story concerns Whispering Smith's activities as he tries to put an end to the looting of wrecked trains before the well-organized killer-bandits put an end to him.

Ladd as the two-gun shooting hero, adds another colorful character to include in his enviable gallery of film he-men. Also on the bill is "Lone Wolf and His Lady" starring Ron Randell and June Vincent. News and Cartoon.

"El Paso" at Russell Theater

Sunday and Monday the Russell Theater will present "El Paso" with John Payne and Gail Russell. Here's the kind of outdoor entertainment you will enjoy. It sizzles with the thrills and excitement found only in the rugged west. The story concerns a man without a conscience, in an era when there was no law but the gun and there was a price on every head. The second picture is "I Cheated the Law" with Tom Conway. A Disney Cartoon completes the bill.

Columbia Theater

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday the Columbia Theater presents "Any Number Can Play" with Clark Gable and Alexis Smith. The story is of a professional rambler — the more honorable kind—and the script leaves it up to the audience to decide whether it is a justification or an indictment of his kind and their trade.

This is a role tailor-made to Clark Gable's talents. He is more adventurous and more devastating than ever. The second picture, "It Happens Every Spring" stars Ray Milland and Jean Peters. These are two good pictures you won't want to miss.

New Entertainment At Tom's Old Tavern

Tom's Old Tavern Cafe located at 1830 Parsons Ave. has engaged "The Question Marks", a fine three-piece string orchestra to play for the entertainment of their guests.

Tom's Old Tavern specialize in fine foods, special attention given to fine luncheons, featuring fast service.

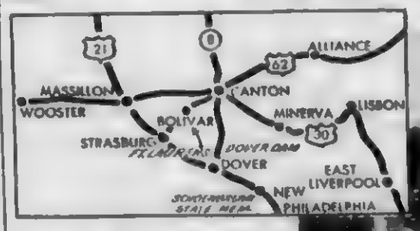
Let's Explore Ohio

EARLY CANALS AND ROADS

George Washington's scattered Revolutionary War armies faced the British forces pushing against the Americans from the east, the north and the south and beyond Fort Pitt the British at Detroit were a constant back door threat with their Indian allies. In the year 1778, Gen. Washington sent a small military force to build a fort in the Ohio country to block off this threat.

The site chosen for Fort Laurens was the ancient Indian ford on the Great Indian Trail to the west where it crossed the Tuscarawas River near the present town of Bolivar. This trail, now followed by Routes 151 and 212 from Mingo Junction on the Ohio River to Bolivar and Route 250 to Wooster, was the war path followed by the Indians in their raids upon each other and upon the settlements in Pennsylvania in the early days. The main north and south road used by the pioneers after the Revolutionary War, now Route 21, passed near old Fort Laurens as did the Ohio and Erie Canal which opened up this section to settlement.



Motorists today find many points of interest in this portion of Ohio where the Muskingum Conservancy District lakes and reservoirs provide opportunities for hunting and fishing and other outdoor recreation. From the Portage Lakes near Akron and Lake Milton and the Berlin Reservoir northeast of Canton, south to the Tappan Reservoir, this area contains such fishing waters as the reservoirs of Beach City, Dover, Atwood, Leesville, and Guilford Lake and Jefferson Lake.

The Tuscarawas River valley has historical as well as scenic attractions for the motorist today. On the fourteen-mile stretch of the river south of New Philadelphia the three Christian Indian villages, Schoenbrunn, Gnadenhutten, and Salem, were located Today the reconstructed Schoenbrunn village (first white settlement in Ohio, founded 1772) and the Gnadenhutten monument, marking the site of the Indian massacre, are tourist attractions.

Zoar Gardens and the King's Palace museum at Zoar mark the site of the German socialist settlement established in 1817. The Custer monument at the birthplace of the great Indian fighter of the west is at New Rumley north of Cadiz and McCook House on Route 9 near Carrollton, home of the Fighting McCooks of Ohio, is now a Civil War Museum that interests many motorists, as does the Pres. McKinley Memorial at Canton.

The early canals had an important influence on this part of Ohio. Akron owes its existence to the canal. Canton opposed the canal's construction and for years lagged behind Massillon which welcomed the canal. A branch canal eventually was built to Canton and a canal extended from Bolivar to East Liverpool where Ohio's pottery industry was established in 1840.

An early historian stated that: "Before the building of the Ohio Canal, the people were wretchedly poor for want of a market. Wheat brought twenty-five cents per bushel and had no outlet except by wagon to Cleveland and Pittsburgh." Motorists today touring this section find it difficult to imagine the conditions of the early pioneer days of Ohio.

Dover Dam forms one of 14 reservoirs of Muskingum Conservancy District

"The Green Promise" At Southland Theater

The romance of modern farming is the inspirational theme around which has been woven the drama of "The Green Promise," which will open Sunday at the Southland Theatre for a three-day run.

Starring Marguerite Chapman, Walter Brennan, Robert Paige, and Natalie Wood, the picture deals with the reformation of a suspicious and domineering old farmer who has no use for modern agricultural methods. A stormy love affair between Miss Chapman, as the farmer's daughter, and Paige, as a County Agricultural Agent, to modernize Brennan's management of the farm are the principal ingredients of the story.

The companion bill will be "The Judge Steps Out" starring Alexander Knox and Ann Sothern.

'Whispering Smith' At Ideal Theater

Any new Alan Ladd picture is big movie news, but, when, in addition, fans are offered Ladd in a large-scale Western filmed in technicolor, that is big news. "Whispering Smith" starring Alan Ladd will be presented at the Ideal Theatre on Sunday and Monday. Co-starring with Ladd are Robert Preston, Brenda Marshall and Donald Crisp.

The picture is based on the novel by Frank H. Spearman about a soft-spoken railroad detective with nerves of steel. Set in the West in the 1890's, the story concerns Whispering Smith's activities as he tries to put an end to the looting of wrecked trains before the well-organized killer-bandits put an end to him.

Ladd as the two-gun shooting hero, adds another colorful character to include in his enviable gallery of film he-men. Also on the bill is "Lone Wolf and His Lady" starring Ron Randell and June Vincent. News and Cartoon.

"El Paso" at Russell Theater

Sunday and Monday the Russell Theater will present "El Paso" with John Payne and Gail Russell. Here's the kind of outdoor entertainment you will enjoy. It sizzles with the thrills and excitement found only in the rugged west. The story concerns a man without a conscience, in an era when there was no law but the gun and there was a price on every head. The second picture is "I Cheated the Law" with Tom Conway. A Disney Cartoon completes the bill.

Columbia Theater

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday the Columbia Theater presents "Any Number Can Play" with Clark Gable and Alexis Smith. The story is of a professional gambler — the more honorable kind—and the script leaves it up to the audience to decide whether it is a justification or an indictment of his kind and their trade.

This is a role tailor-made to Clark Gable's talents. He is more adventurous and more devastating than ever. The second picture, "It Happens Every Spring" stars Ray Milland and Jean Peters. These are two good pictures you won't want to miss.

The NBC "Cavalcade of America" returned to the air (August 30) and will be heard on Tuesday nights this year instead of Mondays. The opening program starred Raymond Massey in "Wire to the West." Incidentally, the series will be heard only in the East and Midwest until the end of daylight saving time; on Sept. 27, it will start broadcasting coast to coast over NBC...Don't be surprised if Garry Moore, who will have a half-hour afternoon show on CBS this fall, takes over the quiz-master role from George Murphy on NBC's Sunday night "Hollywood Calling" Show. He's talking terms with NBC now. . . Jack Benny and Mary Livingstone, Morton Downey and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jordan (Fibber McGee & Molly) returned to the U. S. last week on the Queen Mary. They'll all be busy in a few weeks getting their fall shows in shape . . .The "Grand Ole Opry's" comedy duo, Minnie Pearl and Rod Brasfield, give their off-mike talents to charity this month with appearances scheduled at veterans' hospitals, a crippled children's home and several youth organizations.

WATT'S WATT: The Quiz Kids will return to NBC on Sunday, Sept. 11. Bob Hawk, whose quiz returned to CBS on Monday nights, says that bridge is the perfect pastime for women, because it gives them something to think about while they talk!. . . Screen ster Robert Montgomery's news commentary series will be heard over ABC Thursday nights beginning this month. . . Gabriel Heatter's Opportunity Hour, to turn up new radio and video talent, will be heard on Saturday nights starting Oct. 1, over the MBS network. Winners will receive radio and TV contracts... QUIZ TIPS: We think the film of fortune on NBC's Sunday night, "Hollywood Calling" is "The Glass Key"...Is the "Sing It Again" phantom voice on CBS, Saturdays, Connie Mack or Walter Brennan?...The secret saying on CBS' "Hit The Jackpot" Tuesdays, sounds like: "Five o'clock shadow."

TV TOPICS: Tex and Jinx McCrary's CBS-TV "Preview" sponsor will drop them on Sept. 12 in favor of Allen Funt's "Candid Camera."...NBC-TV's week-night Caravan show is scoring some of the most sensational news beats in TV. Let's Explore Ohio

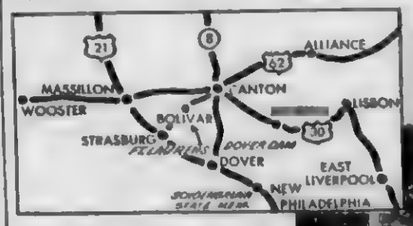
George Washington's scattered Revolutionary War armies faced the British forces pushing against the Americans from the east, the north and the south and beyond Fort Pitt the British at Detroit were a constant back door threat with their Indian allies. In the year 1778, Gen. Washington sent a small military force to build a fort in the Ohio country to block off this threat.

The site chosen for Fort Laurens was the ancient Indian ford on the Great Indian Trail to the west where it crossed the Tuscarawas River near the present town of Bolivar. This trail, now followed by Routes 151 and 212 from Mingo Junction on the Ohio River to Bolivar and Route 250 to Wooster, was the war path followed by the Indians in their raids upon each other and upon the settlements in Pennsylvania in the early days. The main north and south road used by the pioneers after the Revolutionary War, now Route 21, passed near old Fort Laurens as did the Ohio and Erie Canal which opened up this section to settlement.



Motorists today find many points of interest in this portion of Ohio where the Muskingum Conservancy District lakes and reservoirs provide opportunities for hunting and fishing and other outdoor recreation. From the Portage Lakes near Akron and Lake Milton and the Berlin Reservoir northeast of Canton, south to the Tappan Reservoir, this area contains such fishing waters as the reservoirs of Beach City, Dover, Atwood, Leesville, and Guilford Lake and Jefferson Lake.

The Tuscarawas River valley has historical as well as scenic attractions for the motorist today. On the fourteen-mile stretch of the river south of New Philadelphia the three Christian Indian villages, Schoenbrunn, Gnadenhutten, and Salem, were located. Today the reconstructed Schoenbrunn village (first white settlement in Ohio, founded 1772) and the Gnadenhutten monument, marking the site of the Indian massacre, are tourist attractions.

Zoar Gardens and the King's Palace museum at Zoar mark the site of the German socialist settlement established in 1817. The Custer monument at the birthplace of the great Indian fighter of the west is at New Rumley north of Cadiz and McCook House on Route 9 near Carrollton, home of the Fighting McCooks of Ohio, is now a Civil War Museum that interests many motorists, as does the Pres. McKinley Memorial at Canton.

The early canals had an important influence on this part of Ohio. Akron owes its existence to the canal. Canton opposed the canal's construction and for years lagged behind Massillon which welcomed the canal. A branch canal eventually was built to Canton and a canal extended from Bolivar to East Liverpool where Ohio's pottery industry was established in 1840.

An early historian stated that: "Before the building of the Ohio Canal, the people were wretchedly poor for want of a market. Wheat brought twenty-five cents per bushel and had no outlet except by wagon to Cleveland and Pittsburgh." Motorists today touring this section find it difficult to imagine the conditions of the early pioneer days of Ohio.

Dover Dam forms one of 14 reservoirs of Muskingum Conservancy District

Miss Edna Windsor Is Married To Mr. Genteline

An improvised altar decorated with white gladioli, ferns and ivy flanked by seven branch candelabra, was the setting for the marriage of Miss Edna Martha Windsor and Mr. Charles Joseph Genteline on Aug. 7 at 8 o'clock.

The Rev. Dr. Horace R. Weaver, uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Fenner, 226 E. 17th Avenue.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in traditional white satin, made along princess lines with ruffles of white lace at the sweetheart neckline and long pointed sleeves. The full skirt ended in a long cathedral train. The same gown was worn by her aunt, Mrs. William R. Clark, the former Jeane Fenner, at her marriage. The hand embroidered veil had been worn also by Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Horace Weaver, the former Lenore Fenner. Her white prayer book, given her by her godmother, Mrs. Clarence Feasel, was topped with a purple throated white orchid.

Her three attendants wore identically styled dresses of pleated marquisette. Margaret Windsor as maid of honor wore blue, shading from dark to very light, with silver accessories. Mrs. Donald Hubbard wore shaded green with gold accessories, and Delores Zeigler wore peach with white accessories. Each carried arm bouquets of contrasting roses and wore flower arrangements in their hair. Joanne Genteline, as flower girl, wore yellow organdy and carried a basket of petals.

Mr. Louis Heimerl acted as best man. Ushers were Mr. Thomas Genteline and Mr. Dale Johnson.

Hostesses were Mrs. Frank L. Fenner, Jr., Mrs. Horace R. Weaver, Mrs. William Clark, Mrs. George Carter, Miss Dolly Zeigler and Miss Marrianne Zeigler.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Windsor of 269 Siebert St., and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Genteline, 975 S. 5th St.

Miss Burton is a graduate of South High School and is associated with the State of Ohio, Department of Public Welfare, division of social administration.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Kishler-Ross Rites Read at New Lexington

A number of guests from Columbus attended the wedding Sunday afternoon in New Lexington of Miss Jo Ann Kishler, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Albert Nelson Kishler of New Lexington, and Mr. John Bayha Ross, son of Mrs. Cutler A. Bollard, 944 S. Ohio Ave., and Mr. Clarence Crump Ross of Willoughby. The ceremony was read at 4:30 in the First Methodist Church. The Rev. A. Rodeheffer officiated at the double ring service.

Among the guests from here were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bayha, maternal grandparents of the bridegroom; Dr. C. C. Ross, his paternal grandfather; Dr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Shepard and Dr. and Mrs. Paul S. Ross, his uncles and aunts; Mrs. Christian Allen Jensen, his sister; Mrs. Merle E. Kishler, an aunt of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. James O'Reilley, Mr. Cutler A. Bollard, Mr. Frank Koby, Mr. and Mrs. Don Wilder and Miss Marjorie Mason.

For her wedding, the bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of deep ivory satin, fashioned with a fitted long-waisted bodice, a picture neckline edged with self-material and interlocking loops and long full sleeves with similar loops. The very full skirt fell over an ivory satin hoopskirt, and extended into a long cathedral train.

The bride's only jewelry was the traditional bride's pin of her sorority, Alpha Chi Omega, and the bridegroom's gift, a gold topaz necklace. The bridal veil of imported ivory illusion fell from a Juliet cap of Chantilly lace. The bride's corsage was of orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Albert Nelson Kishler, Jr., of 1345 Highland St., the bride's sister-in-law, was matron of honor. Miss Elizabeth Newlon of New Lexington, the bride's cousin, and Miss Dorothy Jean Myers of Steubenville, were her bridesmaids.

The attendants wore floor-length gowns of taffeta, styled alike. Their fitted bodices were fashioned with cap sleeves and deep necklines accented in both back and front with turned-back pointed reveres. Their wide circular skirts fitted smoothly over the hips, and were each detailed with a wide band of the dress material, forming an apron effect in the front, and narrowing into two stiffened peaks at the back waistline suggestive of a diminutive bustle. The matron of honor's dress was plum color and the bridesmaids' were of pompadour pink. The young women also wore small crownless bonnets of taffeta, matching their gowns. They carried colonial bouquets.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kishler chose a fuchsia colored crepe afternoon dress, with black and white accessories and a gardenia corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a dark blue sheer afternoon dress, with dark blue and pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink camellias.

The bride's home was the scene of the reception following the ceremony and assisting hostesses were Miss Carolyn Conaway and Miss Charlotte Richards of New Lexington, Miss Carol Darling of Crooksville, and Miss Lois Poulson of Thornville.

The bride is a graduate of New Lexington High School and attended Ohio Wesleyan. She was graduated in June from the College of Commerce at Ohio State University, and is a member of Alpha Chi Omega and Phi Chi Theta Sororities.

Mr. Ross was graduated from Willoughby High School and is now a senior in the College of Commerce at Ohio State. He served in the U. S. Navy for more than three years during the war.

For her wedding trip, the bride wore an emerald green tailored crepe dress and belted wool topcoat of the same shade. Her accessories were dark brown and she wore an orchid from her bridal bouquet pinned at her shoulder. The young couple's trip will take them to the du Pont Lodge in Cumberland Falls State Park, Ky., and into the Smoky Mountains.

After October 1, the new Mr. and Mrs. Ross will be at home at 236 W. Ninth Ave.

Columbus, O., Sept. 8—Thoroughbred racing returns to Beulah Park Saturday, Sept. 10, for a 24-day meeting which will end Saturday Oct. 8, with the renewal of the $5000 Ohio Championship at the distance of one and one-sixteenth miles.

President and General Manager Robert J. Dienst has announced that post time for the first race every day will be 2:15 p.m. There will be no racing at the Grove City course Thursday, September 22, which is Little Brown Jug Day at the Delaware, O., harness races.

Workmen are now busy putting the finishing touches on Beulah Park and its environs. Beulah's racing strip has been completely resurfaced and early arrivals among the horsemen have been loud in their praise of the condition of the track.

A new club-house veranda, with a concrete flooring, has been constructed and is certain to be the cynosure of all eyes on opening day.

Co-features on the first day's racing card are the Autumn Purse at six furlongs and the Grove City Purse at one and one-sixteenth miles.

Despite the fact that Beulah's stabling capacity was enlarged to accommodate 718 horses with the erection of two concrete barns last spring, stall space is at a premium.

Gale Osborne will be at the popular Central Ohio course with his stable of 20 horses. Among the horsemen shipping from Dade Park are Floyd Shultz and R. E. Gowin. Shultz introduced Jockey Job Dean Jessop to racing and Jessop went on to win the national riding championship in 1945. Gowin's stable includes the aptly-named Plentituff, winner of the Governor's Handicap at Beulah last May.

WASHINGTON WEEK

by Charles L. Egenroad

Washington, D. C.—If the Democrats running the show around this town had their way about it the people of the United States would be taught that half-a-Congress is better than none at all.

In fact, Democrat Senate Leader, Scott Lucas, of Illinois, is so muddled up about what goes on when he tries to perform some such slight-o'-hand trick that it took one of his own Democrat colleagues to pull him out of a legislative bear-trap into which he recently stumbled.

Lucas was busy explaining that he was not being a party to delaying action by the 81st Democrat Congress when he voted to permit the House of Representatives to take a 30-day recess.

He opined that the House of Representatives had a right to do whatever it wished.

His argument appeared sound as long as he was the only one talking. But Lucas made the mistake of yielding the floor to Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D. Colo.) for the question.

"Mr. President, I understood the Senator from Illinois to say that the House can go its way and the Senate can go its way and that it is none of our business what the house does. If that be true, why was the provision inserted in the Constitution requiring the permission of the other House whenever one House or the other wishes to adjourn or take a recess for more than three days?

Later, during discussion of important appropriation bills now in conference between the two Houses and which must lie idle during the House three-day recess periods, Majority Leader Lucas brushed off the seriousness of the situation with the comment:

"I undertake to say that we would get no results during the next 21 days, four weeks or 30 days with respect to the bills which have been mentioned because there would not be enough conferees in the city to confer."

While this jockeying was taking place by the Democrat majority in both Houses of Congress to delay action, Democrat party propagandists, beginning with the President, cried that the "coalition" is to blame for the inaction.

A study of the Senate vote on the recess resolution passed by the House of Representatives, shows clearly who wanted the House to remain in session and get bills out of conference and who wanted the House to go home for 30 days.

The Senate Majority leader voted to let the House go home. The other 24 who voted the same way included 23 Democrats.

Most Capitol observers agree that New Deal leaders cannot let Congress go home because it has done nothing, so must delay final action on appropriation measures to hold Congress here and make it appear that an effort was made to pass socialist state program which the Administration knows it cannot get through this Congress.

Michigan's Upper Peninsula

By Frank "Dude Ranch" Koch

Ran into hizonner "ALGIE" Phillips, mayor of St. Ignace, the other day while talking to Ernie Seward about the Mackinac County Conservation Club. We asked hizonner why he didn't furnish us with the information we requested last May or June and he claimed he received no such request. I also wrote Georgie Michalka on the same subject and likewise—no answer. Maybe the mail service is getting bum.

I really think hizonner is trying to pull my leg. He should know better than that. Then, too, he wouldn't do a thing like that to a fellow Conservation Club member.

The County Roads up here are lousy. Excellent place to break in a new car. The Norman Yoders are practically breaking their Pontiac "8" convertible to pieces but they love this country.

The Yoders and Wrights arrived at the "Dude Ranch" last Thursday. They will spend a week here and then take Dick and Bobby Koch home for school while "Dude Ranch" Koch (Frankie to you) will stay until the hay fever season expires. The weather has been mild to cold, but little rain to date. Norm Yoder and Dick Wright are out fishing for pike and muskies. They're the most patient fishermen in these parts. We surmise all novices possess this patience, but they're catching on quick. Me—if I don't get nagged onto a big one in a couple hours, I'm ready to call it quits for a spell and try again; but not those birds. They're stickers.

The Yoders and the Wrights are neighbors up Clintonville way. Norm and Lois Yoder live at 245 Orchard Lane, while the Wrights, Loretta and Dick, live at 250—across the street. Mrs. Yoder is assistant purchasing agent at Mt. Carmel Hospital, while Norm is in Visional Re-habilitation, State Dept. of Public Welfare. The Wrights are busy raising a family. Loretta occupies most of her time raising and caring for son, Stephen, who is 14 months old. Husband Dick, is recuperating from a Railroad accident. (He sure picked a swell place to recuperate). We hope they bring in a mess of fish.

We hope the Staff of the Booster and our friends around Youngs' Lunch, Landmark, Thurman Grill and B. & G. are patient until we have more time to write to each personally. Next week we shall write about our tour of Mackinac Island, the Soo Locks, and the rest of the Upper Peninsula. The train will be in in about an hour. We'll have to make it to meet our deadline. See you next week.—

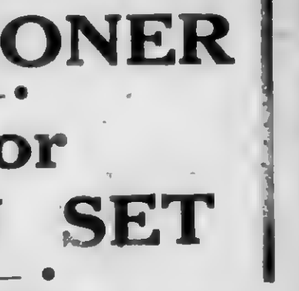
Sylvester Says:

"Don't be fooled. Things are not as bad as they look."

More homes per hour are being built here than anywhere else on earth. We have more telephones, bathtubs, radios, electrical power, automobiles and square footage of housing per person than any country on earth.



You can build a home here without a government permit—in England you cannot.

Here tens of thousands of homes are being built for investment and rent—in France they dare not.

Socialized housing in Europe has meant less housing. Government controls on industry have always been followed by less production; less comfort and convenience for the masses.

UPPER ARLINGTON vs SOUTH AT MAHAFFEY STADIUM

$5,000 More Needed For South Hi Stadium

Originally planned to spend $20,000 to improve the Mahaffey Stadium at South High School, they now find that the expense on that improvement will run approximately $25,000.

The increased cost has been due to the raise in pay for building construction men plus increased cost for materials necessary to complete this project.

The stadium committee has found it necessary to sell $5,000 more in bonds to pay for the increase in costs.

The students of South School will attempt to raise this money from sale of non-interest paying bonds.

The officials of the stadium association want it distinctly understood that this is not a donation.

These stadium bonds are a good investment because it is an investment in the youth of our community.

These bonds will be retired from the athletic receipts from admission to football games and other sports.

They should all be retired within a five-year period.

We feel that there are many people who consider the stadium bonds are a gift which they are not. South High wishes to stand firmly on its feet and pay for what they get.

Actually what you are doing is giving the interest from the money on these bonds for the money you loan them.

If you bought $100 worth of bonds at 2½% and the bonds were not retired until the fifth year, you would be giving $2.50 per year.

Let's raise this $5000 in the next thirty days.

Call South High School or the South Side Booster. We will have a South High School student to call on you and issue a receipt.

Buy South High School Stadium bonds.

Invest in our South Side youth.

Hoover Young To Head Council

The Council of South Side Organizations held their annual dinner last Thursday night at the South YMCA Park.

At the meeting the election of officers was held.

Elected to the Chairman's office was Hoover Young, who many people will remember as a former football star at South High School.

Other officers elected are: Otto Meier, Vice Chairman; Edward Brand, second vice chairman; Ross Benbow, Treasurer; M. V. (Cap) Hoover, Executive Secretary and Wm. Wacker, Secretary.

The Council of South Side Organizations is made up of 20 groups. They include school, ministerial service and civic, fraternal clubs. Organizations and Labor Unions which help to benefit our community.

The purpose of the group is for improvements and betterments of the South Side.

South Stadium Needs Lockers

The expense in improving the South High School stadium has made it necessary to eliminate the purchase of lockers for the athletes in the dressing room in that place.

One hundred metal lockers are needed for the South High athletes and the visiting athletes.

These lockers cost $10 a piece.

For those who do not want to buy Stadium Improvement Bonds we think it would be a fine gesture for parents or friends to buy a locker and dedicate them to former athletes or students of South High School.

On these lockers would be installed the name of athletes or students to whom they are dedicated.

There are many students and athletes who lost their lives in the late war whom the parents and friends would like to honor. This would be a fine chance to do that thing at minimum expense.

These lockers are just as necessary as can be to complete the stadium project.

Don't forget the lockers are a donation, the bonds are an investment.

See Mr. Cleo Dumaree, principal of South High School, Ga 3-1881 Hickory 4 and have a excellent call on you.

Flooring Started At St. Paul's

After a delay of Ten Days, the long steel beams have arrived and been installed at the St. Pauls Evangelical and Reformed Church at 221 East Gates St. so today the busy crew of workmen are hammering and sawing long sections of wood, which is forming the ceiling of the new basement and floor of the New Church. Reverend Paul C. Kaefer has personally called all his sidewalk Superintendents back from vacation, to watch the scene of Greater activity than ever before. Brick has been ordered and the actual laying of the Moss Rose colored exterior will start any day.

Church Services with the Reverend Paul C. Kaefer in charge, will be held every Sunday at Schiller Park Auditorium, thru the forepart of October. There is no doubt that before October 15 parts of the new structure will be in use, and the opening of the new basement depends on the installation of pipes from the heating plant.

Meanwhile, activity goes on in the old Church Building, with meetings being held on schedule. All organizations of St. Pauls are working on outside projects to increase their treasuries. Three branches of the Ladies Dorcas Society are selling candy, facial tissues, and cards, while a committee under the direction of Mrs. Paul Neufang had a festival in the yard of her home which was highly successful. A fish fry and the Father and Son banquet are on the docket for October and both are scheduled for the Social Hall at Gates Fourth Church. Yes, St. Pauls Evangelcial and Reformed under the guiding hand of Reverend Kaefer, is continuing to work with Gates Fourth Methodist and Reverend Hicks. There will be many affairs under the joint sponsorship of these two churches during the final stages of construction at 221 East Gates Street.

"You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift. You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong. You cannot help the wage earner by pulling down the wage payer. You cannot further the brotherhood of man by encouraging class hatred. You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich. You cannot establish sound security on borrowed money. You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than you earn. You cannot build character and courage by taking away man's initative and independence. You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves."

Young men usually have more trouble in popping the question than in questioning the pop.

Make A Yo-Yo At Schiller Park

Over at Schiller recreation center in Monte Beaver's Woodcraft Class, Yo-Yo's are being made by the youngsters. Girls and boys interested in making useful whatnots—Yo-Yo's, tops, puzzles, gliders, boats, games, dolls, false faces, tambourines, propellers, tumbling blocks, tie tacks, bookends, jumping jacks, pinwheels, art, paper craft, and painting.

A contest in "Yo-Yo spin and stunts will be held at 4 p.m. Friday, Sept. 23. All participants are required to make a Yo-Yo during the craft hours; older boys period 2 p.m. to 3:30; youngsters, girls and boys period 3:30 to 5:30 p.m., Monday thru Friday. If you are not enrolled in the Schiller Craft Club, stop by and talk it over with Monte Beaver. There's no charge of any kind, and remember, the girls and boys must live in the South Side.

Now they're crossing pigeons and canaries to deliver singing telegrams.

South Side Settlement News

Classes at the South Side Settlement will be resumed with the opening of special classes on September 19. These will be individual lessons for piano, tap dancing and baton. There will be a chorus arranged for the music pupils. Registration will begin September 19. Other club activities will be resumed on October 10, with the return of Mr. Myron Lewis and Miss Martha Bucke from their vacations.

We are pleased to announce that we have another new Staff member working with us this fall who will be in charge of girls clubs and activities. She is Miss Eva Eichwald. Also there is Helen Dallam, the music instructor. Have you read the interesting article that appears elsewhere in this paper? Miss Betty Roy will be in charge of tap and baton classes.

South Side Settlement will hold a rummage sale Sept. 17. There are many articles of good clothing which help that boy or girl going to school. Sale begins at 9:00 a.m. Saturday.

Southway Auxiliary To Meet Friday

Southway American Legion Auxiliary No. 144, will hold their regular business meeting at the Post Club room 874 S. High St. on Friday, Sept. 16.

The delegates to the state convention will give their reports at this meeting.

Barrett Jr. Hi News

Barrett Junior High School is a new experience for 183 new 7B pupils, 87 boys and 96 girls are fitting into their new classes, and are becoming very much a part of the school. Irma Sue Harp, 77 Barthman Avenue, said she got lost while looking for the Art room but now she is getting used to the building. Sue is a 7B and comes from Reeb Ave. Elementary School. Robert Elliott, 1381 South High Street, also a 7B who comes to Barrett from Southwood School, says he likes his Gym and Math, is a good eater but sometimes eats too much.

Barrett started the new semester September 6, and has an enrollment of 835 pupils. Last year's enrollment for the same period was 844, nine pupils [illegible].

Barrett has two new teachers. Mrs. Mildred Laurent is an instructor in Vocal Music, while Mr. Barclay Walker is teaching Biology.

The school has some new Audio Visual equipment which was purchased by the Barrett Parent Teachers' Association last spring. This equipment includes a film strip projector, a screen, and a wire recorder. All of these are being used for instruction in the school.

Boys and girls of Barrett Junior High School are putting on a Garden Exhibit in the main corridor of the school today and Friday. Members of the community will judge the display. Admission is free and the public is invited.

The pupils will place on display all kinds of vegetables which were grown in their own gardens this summer. Canned fruit and vegetables will also be shown.

Flower arrangements as well as single specimens will be among the many contributions.

One of the highlights will be the novelty displays of unusual vegetables and gourd collections.

The public is urged to stop in either Thursday or Friday, September 15 or 16, and see the exhibit on the first floor corridor of Barrett Junior High School.

"Yes, very much" is Rudolph Gutheil's answer when asked if he likes the United States. Rudolph lives at 243 Mithof Street with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Helmut Gutheil.

Rudolph landed at the New York harbor on November of 1948 with his parents and four sisters. They sailed from Bremen, Germany on the S. S. Ernie Pyle.

Although born in Hembach, Germany, Rudolph and his family lived in the small town of Krumpa, about 400 miles from Berlin, during the war.

Last winter he lived with relatives in DeLand, Florida, attending junior high school there. He entered Barrett on September 6 this fall. Rudolph prefers Barrett Junior High School to either the Florida schools or the German schools which he attended in the Russion Zone. In the Florida school they did not have Mechanical Drawing and Shops, which appeals to Rudolph. He is taking both Mechanical Drawing and Metal at Barrett. "School is better here than in Germany," says Rudolph. "The teachers are better and you learn more."

The Gutheil's flew from Berlin to Frankfort in General Clay's plane. "It was the only way we could get out of Berlin," he said.

Rudolph has a special interest in Barrett because his mother, the former Emma Schmidt, graduated from South High School when South was in the present Barrett building. Rudolph's grandfather made some of the stained glass windows in the St. Paul's Lutheran Church at Bruck and Stewart before returning to Munich, Germany where he was engaged in the importing business.

Memories of the war are all too vivid to the 13 year old Barrett student. His own home was bombed and the family was forced to move to three rooms in an old stone castle.

St. Leo's Announces Fall Plans

Leo J. Reis, of 55 Hanford St., was installed as president of the Holy Name Society of St. Leo parish, Columbus, at the June meeting of the group in the parish school hall.

Reis, a graduate of Aquinas College High succeeds Leo Hummel, 66 East Gates Street.

Also installed were Kenneth Shelton, 398 Southwood, vice president; William Gillespie, 255 East Welch Avenue, recording secretary; Andrew Theado, 177 Frebis Avenue, treasurer; and Michael Hickey, 258 Moler St., financial secretary.

New committee chairmen are Austin Dunbar, marshal; Aloysius Schneider, sick and vigil; Morris Diamond, Louis Studer and Joseph Brockmeyer, co-chairmen for program.

Among the plans for the fall season is the participation of the Society in the Dialogue Mass on communion Sundays. The Dialogue Mass demonstrates in a dramatic way the true character of the Mass as an act of community worship. It is a most effective means of overcoming a passive or implicit participation in the Most Holy Sacrifice.

Plans are being formulated for a communion breakfast to be held on October 9 in the school hall following the seven o'clock Mass. Guest speaker will be the Rev. Father John D Skalko, O. P., Moderator of the Aquinas Alumni Association. Kenneth Shelton is chairman of the breakfast.

Ideal Sportsman Club

John Sabo and Carl Berke of the Ideal Sportmens Club got a chance to test their skill last Sunday, September 4th. They were out at the Ohio State University grounds pigeon shooting and they had a lot of fun and got about 150 pigeons. Sunday, Sept. 11th, Don Bates, Carl Berke and George Lenkey Jr., John Sabo and John's friend, Bob, all took a trip to Lake Alma and Lake Jackson and all together they got better than 100 Bluegills. The fish was really hitting. Another pigeon shoot is being cooked up. If you aren't a member and you are interested, get in touch with John Sabo at Ge. 5468.

Helping Hand Meets Tuesday

The Helping Hand Sunday School Class of the Gates Fourth Church will meet at the church at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 20.

The hostesses will be Mrs. Leota Green, Mrs. Orville Rader and Mrs. Lyda Besco.

ST. MARY'S vs ROSARY AT SOUTH

Upper Arlington 27 South 0

A hard-charging line and a smooth clicking backfield combined to give Upper Arlington a 27-0 win over South in the season's lid-lifter played on the loser's field.

The Golden Bears' scored first on a 71-yd. pass-interception 2½ minutes after the game started and Arlington held the upper hand for the most part. South had its good moments but the wide-awake Bears took advantage of every break and stopped the Bulldogs cold whenever they managed to get in Arlington territory.

The flashy Doug Goodsell was the big Bear as expected but he had plenty of help from mates Dick Young, Hube Weigel and Ronnie Green, an accurate passer.

It was Young who scampered for the first score of the game after taking a lateral from Walt Hamilton, who had intercepted a pass tossed by Bob Micks.

Touchdown No. 2 came early in the second quarter and climaxed a 73-yd. drive Doug Goodsell plowed over left guard for the score and Art Miller added the second of his three conversions.

After George Goldberg ran the kickoff back 17 yards to the South 39, the Bulldogs began a drive of their own which was ended with a pass interception on the visitor's 14.

The teams battled on even terms for the third quarter but in the final period a fourth pass interception started a Bear drive which ended when Quarterback Ronnie Green went over from the two. The final tally came with only 32 seconds left on a bullet pass from sub quarter Frank Edwards to Goodsell in the end zone.

The winners led in first downs 14-9. Marion Wright and Larry Sheridan looked good in South's backfield.

Buzzin With Bea by Bea Lewis

Frank "Dude Ranch" Koch received a letter from the Norman Yoders of 245 Orchard Lane who, with the Dick Wrights of 250 Orchard, spent a week at the ranch with Frank and his two boys, Dick and Bobby. The Yoders bro't the boys home for school. The letter in part follows: "Well, we made it back to Columbus safely, but had to drive it in the rain all the way. The boys were little gentlemen all of the way and we had a good time.

"The boys stayed here over night, had breakfast here and then delivered them to their home. They hated to leave Michigan but when they got home, they took off with their friends and forgot all about the woods.

"We had a wonderful time up there and Lois (Mrs. Yoder) and Dick Wright began to have sneezing troubles when they got down to Lansing or thereabouts. The fish were good as we had the perch last night and will have the others tonight.

"I hope that you have a pleasant stay and will look forward to seeing you when you return. Give our best to Pete and tell him that we hope to see him again. Incidentally, we followed Tubby next door for a while and ate at the same place he did for breakfast. He's a jerk."

As ever,
Lois and Norm

LETTERS to the Editor

We sat in the stands and watched our boys lose to Arlington by the score of 27 to 0. We saw a well coached Arlington Team out-play our boys in every department of the game. They showed that they had been coached by men that knew what they were doing and had the respect and confidence of the boys. Their line showed that they had been coached by somebody that knew his business, not by a track or baseball coach who never played football. We saw the same plays and type of football we have seen for the past four years, we watched a good bunch of big boys report for practice and were hopeful for a good season so we could be proud of South High again after four years of defeats but now we see that it will be the same old thing. You should not let the South Boys play in the city league for they are not coached well enough to take care of themselves in a football game, and we are afraid some of them will get hurt bad before the season is over.

We would like to know why all the other High Schools have a good head coach and a line coach that played football at some fairly large school while South has coaches from little Capital, which has no great reputation. We feel that our boys have been let down in this matter and are not getting a square deal, we also feel that it is your fault for not seeing that there was a change after last year. We would like to know if you are going to do anything about this or are you going to let South High sink lower? We imagine Mr. Mahaffey is quite uneasy in his grave over what has happened to his school for he always took pride in athletics.

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Helen Camp, 999 E. Whittier Av, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Thomas Camp of Alliance, and Mr. Paul R. Brown, 635 Oak St, son of Mr. Boyd Brown, 7621½ E. Main St, and the late Mrs. Brown, on Sept. 3 at 3:30 p. m.

St. Nicholas Church was decorated with ferns, palms and lighted candles for the rites performed by the Rev. Fr. Ioachim S. Popescu.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white marquisette over faille taffeta designed with a sheer yoke and a bertha of marquisette appliqued to the yoke with an insert of imported chantilly lace. The long fitted sleeves formed points over each hand. The basque bodice extended into the bouffant skirt which was worn over an old fashioned satin hoop and cascaded into a circular train. A ruffle of the marquisette banded with the chantilly lace formed a bustle effect in back and extended down and around the entire train. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion was held in place by an open crowned sweetheart bonnet of chantilly lace trimmed with orange blossoms.

Mrs. Florence Balcas was matron of honor in a royal blue taffeta gown of Victorian style. The bridesmaids, Miss Norma Teegardin, Miss Violet Camp and Miss Barbara Lee Brown, wore gold Victorian styled gowns. They carried cascade bouquets of white carnations mingled with ivy.

Mr. George Balcas was best man. Ushers were Mr. Frances Purpurs, Mr. Don Viola and Mr. George Lalo.

More to Miss—

The regiment was treking thru the desert: It was arid and parched and not a drop of water was to be found. One recruit sat sadly on a stone, his head in his hands.

"What's the matter with him?" asked the sergeant.

"Homesickness," said Private Smith.

"We've all got that."

"Yes, but his is worse than ours. His father owns a saloon."

Ideal Sportsman Club First Meeting

The September meeting of the Ideal Sportmens' Club was opened with a movie by George Robey Jr. It was very interesting and showed us there are alot of fish here in the Ohio lakes and streams. After the movie George Robey Sr. sports writer for the Columbus Citizen and a South Sider for many years, gave a talk about farm ponds and way in which the Club could better fishing for the members.

The Club decided to take another trip to Lake Erie and the day will be October 2nd. There are to be 20 members to take this trip. If more members and outsiders want to get, let us know by or before Tuesday, Sept. 27 and there will be two boats for this trip also. This is to be the last trip of its kind this year. The Club is growing more and more every meeting so lets see some new faces. You can work better together than alone in many ways

Smart Goddess—

Student: "To whom was Minerva married?"

Professor: "My boy, when will you learn that Minerva was the Goddess of Wisdom? She wasn't married."

Miss Kaltnecker Is Married To Mr. Alexander

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Elizabeth Jane Kaltnecker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kaltnecker, 1387 S. 5th St., and Mr. Guido Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Alexander, 333 Barthman Av.

The ceremony was an event of Sept. 7 at 11 a.m. in Our Lady of Sacred Heart Church at the University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Indiana.

Antique ivory satin fashioned the bridal gown which had a fitted bodice and long sleeves. Bronte point de lyon lace studded with pearls formed a mandarin collar and a panel extending from the neckline to the hem of the front of the gown. The same lace trimmed the sleeves. The gathered skirt was extremely full and ended in a train. Her full-length veil of imported illusion matched the color of her gown and was held in place by a satin halo trimmed in orange blossoms.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Alexander, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

The former Miss Kaltnecker is a graduate of St. Mary's High School. Mr. Alexander is a graduate of Notre Dame University and is co-owner of the Palm Garden Nightclub.

A reception held at Valley Dale on Sept. 29, will honor the couple.

"Summer's Ending"

When days grow cool and the grass turns brown,
And evening shadows are quickly descending;
When early evening, the sun goes down,
We know it's a sure sign that summer's ending.

You can notice by the clothes folks wear,
And by the tan in the leaves blending
That ole Jack Frost's bite is in the air,
That it will not be long for summer's ending.

Tho we welcome autumn, it's true,
We hate to bid summer adieu.
Yet signs of fall tell to each of us,
That toward our way, autumn is wending.

So there is nothing else to say, I guess,
But a fond goodbye to summer's ending.

—Charles W. Widmaier

To Build Sanitarium

The Eastwood Seventh-Day Adventist Sabbath School will with other Adventist Sabbath Schools in North America take up a special offering Saturday to complete a sanitarium and hospital in Puerto Rico. Another project to benefit will be educational and welfare work among the Indians of South Mexico and Guatemala.

According to recent reports by Adventist leaders, Puerto Rico has a death rate twice that of ours. Ninety percent of the population have hookworm. Tuberculosis is 6 times as great, pneumonia 2½ times and malaria 90 times as great. The population per square mile is 12 times that of the United States greatly complicating the health problem.

According to Richard T. Minesinger, local pastor, $102,000 has been raised by Adventist workers in and near Mayaguez where the three storied hospital will be built. They need $200,000 more. Besides serving the immediate area, this hospital will be a training school for nurses who will be sent in other needy sectors as missionaries.

Pastor Minesinger said the Indians in Inter-America have appealed to Adventist leaders to come and establish schools among them. These Indians are descendents of a once highly civilized race. They have many traditions of a Biblical background woven into their centuries old religion. When the Spaniards arrived in Mexico in the 16th century, they found Indians worshipping before crosses. They also found stories similar to the Biblical story of creation, the flood and the crossing of the Red Sea.

Handicapped Week October 2nd to 8th

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 18.- Some 30,000 handicapped Ohioans are now either actively seeking work or are being rehabilitated so that they may enter the job market, Robert H Smith, chairman of the Ohio working committee for National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week, reported today.

NEPH Week, October 2-8 inclusive, is designed to promote the employment of the physically handicapped, veteran and non-veteran.

Quoting Bureau of Unemployment Compensation Administrator Frank J. Collopy, Smith pointed out that there were currently about 13,500 handicapped Ohioans looking for work thru the BUC's local offices throughout the state. More than 6,000 of these job seekers are handicapped veteran.

Veterans Administration estimates show that more than 11,000 Ohio veterans are being rehabilitated through college course work, on-the-job training and allied programs. The Ohio Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation reports that it processes some 5,000 handicapped individuals annually while the Rehabilitation Services for the Blind handles about 700.

Smith stressed the fact that NEPH Week committees in cities and towns throughout Ohio faced a major task this year but that this was pretty much the pattern on a nation-wide basis. The Federal Government has reported an estimated 28,000,000 Americans handicapped in some degree, some 6,000,000 members of the current labor force with significant handicaps.

As of last month, more than 150,000 physically handicapped Americans were seeking work through public employment offices throughout the nation. An estimated 1,500,000—now outside the labor force—could qualify for gainful employment if provided with the necessary rehabilitation and/or training.

September 3rd Wedding Announced

Through an aisleway trimmed with sprays of white gladioli and cortes ferns walked Miss Jo Ann Kishler, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Albert Nelson Kishler of New Lexington, to become the bride of Mr. John Bayha Ross, son of Mrs. Cutler A. Bollard, 944 S. Ohio Ave., and Mr. Clarence Crump Ross of Willoughby, Ohio.

The Rev. Mr. Edwin A. Rodeheffer read the vows Sept. 3 at 4:30 p.m. in the First Methodist Church of New Lexington, before an altar trimmed with palms, huckleberry, greenery, white gladioli and cathedral tapers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a deep ivory-toned satin dress made with a closely fitted, long waisted bodice and a wide, picture neckline outlined with interlocking loops of self-material. Similar loops inserted the full-length of the sleeves which came to points over her hands. The extremely full skirt, worn over a hoop, swept into a cathedral train. She carried fantasia orchids and stephanotis with cascade streamers of ivory satin ribbon. Her three-quarter length double tiered veil of imported illusion fell from a juliet cap of chantilly lace.

Mrs. Albert Nelson Kishler was matron of honor for her sister-in-law. Bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Ann Newton of New Lexington, cousin of the bride, and Miss Jean Myers of Steubenville. They wore taffeta gowns fashioned with tiny cap sleeves and deep necklines which were emphasized in both back and front by wide, turned-back, pointed sleeves. Their full skirts fitted smoothly over the hips and were detailed with a wide fold forming an apron effect in front and narrowing up to the center waistline in back, ending in two stiffened points which stood out in a bustle effect. The honor attendant's gown was plum colored and the others were pompadour pink. Each wore a small crownless bonnet of taffeta matching her gown. They carried colonial bouquets, the matron of honor's of Hubbard roses and ageratum and the bridesmaid's of briarcliff roses and blue delphinium.

Mr. Christian Allen Jensen was best man for his brother-in-law. Ushers were Mr. Albert Nelson Kishler, Jr., brother of the bride, and Mr. James Dale Thompson of New Lexington.

Hostesses at the reception held in the home of the bride's parents were Miss Carolyn Conaway and Miss Charlotte Richards of New Lexington, Miss Carol Darling of Crooksville, and Miss Lois Poulson of Thornville.

The bride is a graduate of New Lexington High School, attended Ohio Wesleyan University and is a graduate of the Commerce College at Ohio State University. The bridegroom is a graduate of Willoughby High School and is a senior in the College of Commerce at Ohio State University.

'El Paso' At Southland

From the rich, historical background of one of the most colorful states in the Union—Texas—comes the spectacular thrill-film, "El Paso," which is coming to the Southland Theater Friday and Saturday.

Photographed in Cinecolor, "El Paso" stars John Payne, Gail Russell, Sterling Hayden, George "Gabby" Hayes, and Dick Foran, supported by Eduardo Noriega, famous Mexican star in his American debut.

The story concerns the events in the lawless, gun-riddled town of El Paso in 1865 which changed its leading exponent of law and order into the West's most reckless killer. How he is brought back to the paths of justice and how he established law in the town is aid to make "El Paso" sensational entertainment.

Co-starred will be "Brothers in the Saddle," starring Tim Holt and Richard Martin.

Marriage Announced

The wedding of Miss Doris Cecelia Litzinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Litzinger, 851 Oakwood-av, to Joseph Francis McGuire, son of Mrs. Joseph M. McGuire and the late Mr. McGuire, took place Aug. 27 in St. Dominic's Church at Washington, D. C. The double ring ceremony took place at 9:30 a. m. with the Rev. Fr. Charles Litzinger, cousin of the bride, officiating.

For the occasion the bride wore a brown velvet suit with matching lace mitts and a shoulder corsage of brown orchids. She was attended by her sister, Miss Ada Litzinger of Washington, who wore an aqua suit with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Andrew T. Durkay Jr., of Denver, Colo., served as best man.

A wedding breakfast was held at the Old Washington Inn, Alexandria, Va.

The bride attended Franklin University and her husband is a graduate of Segis College, Denver, Colo., and the University of Colorado, Boulder. Both are employed by the Veterans Administration at Washington.

Thursday Nite Is Amateur Night At Russell Theater

Amateur Night is every Thursday on the stage of the Russell Theater in addition to the regular show. If you can sing, dance, play an instrument or entertain in any manner, make an appointment with the manager of the Russell. There is no age limit and prizes will be given to the three best amateurs each Thursday night. The person who is acclaimed the best at the end of eight weeks will receive the grand prize. Winners are selected by applause. Master of Ceremonies will be that zany comedian, Al. "Red" Shane.

Sunday and Monday, the newly decorated Russell Theater presents "House of Strangers" with Edw. G. Robinson and Susan Hayward. Also showing will be "Three Little Girls in Blue," a color picture, with June Haver. This is a double feature you don't want to miss. A cartoon completes the playbill.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "In the Good Old Summer Time" starring Judy Garland and Van Johnson. Get Mom and Pop and the Kids together for a wonderful evening of enjoyment. Stir some old memories and some new emotions as Judy Garland sings "Put Your Arms Around Me, Honey" and "I'll Be Your Tootsie-Wootsie in the Good Old Summer Time." Judy Garland and Van Johnson romanticize and everybody has a grand time. Also on the bill is "Hold that Baby" with Leo Gorcey.

Miss Saint Mr. Donahue Wed Sept. 3rd

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Saint, of 194 N. Hague-av, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Patricia, on Saturday, Sept. 3, to Richard Donahue, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Donahue, 1425 S. Champion-av. The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Fr. Dury in Holy Cross Church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding she chose a lovely gown of white satin, trimmed in Chantilly lace. The full, tulle veil was trimmed in the same lace and was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a white, mother-of-pearl prayer book adorned by a white orchid.

The bride's three sisters were her attendants: Sue Saint, in fuchsia satin, was maid of honor; Dolores Saint, in skyblue, and Margaret Saint, in gold satin, were the bridesmaids. The little flower girl, Clara Jane Imman, the bride's niece, was also in blue, and she carried a small basket of pink and blue flowers.

The best man was William Kaiser, and ushers were Bernard Saint, Richart Alsbrecht and Howard Speck.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Saint were hosts at a wedding breakfast at the Southern Hotel for 30 guests. The bride's mother wore a smart autumn suit of slate satin and a corsage of pink flowers. The groom's mother wore a taupe suit and her flowers were yellow rosebuds.

After the breakfast, the bride changed to a blue suit with brown accessories and the new Mr. and Mrs. Donahue left for a wedding trip to New York. After Oct. 1 they will be at home at 1013 Seymour-av.

Also showing is "Challenge of the Range" with Smiley Burnett and Chas. Starrett. News and Cartoon complete the bill.

Women Voters Meet Today

In announcing a membership tea to be held on Thursday, September 22 at the home of Mrs. William R. Clymer, 1987 Chatfield Road, Mrs. Victor Warken, acting president of the League of Women Voters of Franklin County, declared that all Franklin County women who are eligible to vote are eligible for membership in the non-partisan League.

"Women who are interested in public affairs, foreign relations, economics, schools, child welfare and similar problems should be greatly interested in the League of Women Voters," Mrs. Warken continued as she explained that the purpose of the League is to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government. She stated that although the League never endorses political parties or candidates, it does take stands on issues, and it has done an outstanding job in bringing about public spirited legislation.

"The League performs a great service for its members and the community thru such means as discussion groups, publications, voters service, etc. Annual membership dues are three dollars," Mrs. Warken said, adding that Mrs. John Younger, 3140 Ainwick Road, membership chairman, will be happy to answer any questions concerning the League. Mrs. Younger can be reached at Kingswood 1720.

Letter to The Booster

Just a line to say how happy we are that Delaney McBride, who underwent two operations for his back, is up and around now, with a brace on. He sure looks good, his back is as straight as anyones and he feels so proud.

Wish you could see him and his dog. He is as proud of it as a Daddy is with a new baby. The dog is with him constantly. Delaney is having school at home for six weeks until he learns to walk. He has been in a cast since the 9th of May.

We still say that the kindness of the Booster and friends of the South Side, and Mr. Clevenger's gift of the dog, was the greatest thing that ever happened to boost his courage and help his recovery. When he is around again and able to walk he wants to thank everyone personally.

P. S. While Delaney was so ill it was necessary to give him five quarts of blood. I say it was a wonderful day when the Red Cross started their blood bank, as they certainly helped our boy a lot.

Signed:
Mr. and Mrs. McBride

Thanks for your letter Mr. and Mrs. McBride. It proves to us that kind deeds are remembered long after we ourselves forget.

Miss Cowall A Recent Bride

A lovely gown of blush pink satin was worn by Miss Frances Ann Cowall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cowall, 1661 East Whittier St., for her marriage August 21 to Kenneth Solomon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Solomon, 2699 Fair Ave. The 7 p.m. ceremony took place in Tifereth Israel Temple with Rabbi Nathan Zelizer officiating.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore an imported silk illusion veil, which extended the full length of her gown's circular train, and fell from a satin cloche matching her dress. A portrait neckline, enhanced by folds of nylon tulle, and embroidered bodice and sleeves were features in the gown's design. She carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of ivy, with white roses and stephanotis.

Wearing identical hoopskirted gowns of white faille taffeta with jackets studded by rhinestones at the peter pan collars and cuffs were the maid of honor, Miss Jacqueline Cohen; the bridesmaids, Miss Nona Mindell, Miss Rita Bergsman, Miss Carolyn Silk, Miss Sheila Dennis Cleveland, and the junior bridesmaid, Sandra Cowall. They carried bouquets of rubrum lilies of ivy in a crescent shape.

Seymour Luckoff served as best man and ushers were Si Sokol, Leon Mark, Mort Rising and Sandford Solomon. At the ensuing reception for 1500 guests at the Seneca Hotel, Mrs. Cowall received in a pearl gray dinner gown while Mrs. Soloman wore light gray net over chartreuse. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

The former Miss Cowall graduated from South High School and her husband from Greenbrier Military Academy. He also attended Ohio State University and now is located at Kenny's Loan Office. After a trip to White Sulphur Springs they are residing at 775 E. Broad Street.

WHY REMEMBER?

A little blue flower will be sold on the streets of this city Friday and Saturday, September 23 and 24 to remind the citizens of our community that the war is not over for those veterans who were disabled as a direct result of war service. That little blue flower was chosen for its name. It is the Forget-Me-Not, a flower of remembrance. It has been the official flower of the Disabled American Veterans since that organization was formed in 1920. It is symbolic of the service performed by the D.A.V. in behalf of our war-time disabled veterans, their widows, and their dependents. The D.A.V. has never forgotten the wars' disabled. It is our hope that you will never forget them. And the Forget-Me-Not in your coat lapel Friday and Saturday, and the coin that you drop in the canister for the flower - means that you haven't forgotten. The money that you contribute to the Forget-Me-Not drive in Columbus goes in its entirety to help the war-time disabled in Columbus. It's your way of giving a little to those who gave a lot. Everyone of you has a right to ask what we do with the money that you contribute on Forget-Me-Not Day. Our service officers are busy today helping war-time disabled veterans of all wars in obtaining hospitalization, and other government benefits to which they are rightly entitled. This service is free of charge. The important point is that these benefits are NOT AUTOMATIC. A war-time disabled veteran MUST FILE A CLAIM IN EVERY INSTANCE. And every claim must be backed up, evidence must be submitted and substantiated. It is just as necessary, just as valuable, for a veteran to be represented by a service officer before the Rating Board of the Veterans Administration, as it is for a citizen to be represented in court by an attorney. The D.A.V. obtains much-needed benefits for our war-time disabled veterans who in many cases are unable to find immediate employment. The D.A.V. guides the war-time disabled veteran into vocational training and educational opportunities. We help him find employment. The D.A.V. does not stop with the veteran. When his widow or his dependents are in need we untangle their problems, help them get whatever assistance they are entitled to receive. The Veterans Administration, the government agency that administers veterans benefits - has recognized the value of the Disabled American Veterans and has commended our work. The Administrator of the Veterans Administration recently said: "The D.A.V. has been doing a splendid and purposeful work." This outstanding recognition from the Administrator, and our government, comes only because we have been performing a service that our government CAN NOT AND DOES NOT ATTEMPT TO PERFORM. —War-time disabled veterans need careful understanding, expert advice and assistance in interpreting regulations for filing applications for government benefits. They prefer to go to the D.A.V. for this advice and assistance because the D.A.V. is on their side of the fence. Who can better understand the problems of the war-time disabled veterans than one who himself has been disabled as a direct result of war service. Your contribution on Forget-Me-Not day will help make possible all of this service to the wars' disabled of our community. The funds realized from the sale of Forget-Me-Nots means a lot to the D.A.V., the war-time disabled, and the community itself. Every time we help a war-time disabled veteran we help the welfare of our city. So give a little for those who gave a lot. Buy a Forget-Me-Not next Friday and Saturday.

SOUTH LOSES TO GRANDVIEW 21—12

Bulldogs Lose To Bob Cats

South High's Football team lost to a scrappy, alert, Grandview eleven Friday night. The Bulldogs, handicapped by injuries, showed marked improvement over last week. South missed several golden opportunities to score. Twice the Bulldogs marched to the goal line, only to have Grandview stiffen and take over on downs. On another occasion the alert Bobcats recovered a South fumble, ending a South scoring threat. The game was a see-saw affair until the last quarter, when Butler, flashy Bobcat back, grabbed a South punt and with a fine display of broken field running sped 50 yards for his second touchdown of the evening. The Bulldogs then came to life, started to growl and in short order scored two touchdowns.

The first on a fine run by Buddy Lusear, after Tuffs pass interception on the Grandview thirty-yd. line. In the closing minutes the Bulldogs growled again, scoring on a pass from Marion Wright to Lusear. Both conversions were wide and the score wound up 21-12.

South plays East tomorrow night in what should be a bang-up game. We believe that this year the Bulldogs are going to give all the city league elevents plenty of trouble, and will wind up with the best season in several years. In case you didn't notice last week's scores, all city league teams were beaten, St. Charles 7-Central 6; Marietta, South defeated last year, trounced Aquinas 19 to 6; Linden McKinley lost to Lancaster 33 to 6, Newark steamrollered North 32 to 6, and West was snowed under by Upper Arlington 33 to 0. East was the only team not scheduled.

The Bulldogs, with two hard games under their belts, should give East a rough go. Win, lose or draw, the Bulldogs deserve credit. This year's team is playing a better brand of ball than we've witnessed in the past few years, the spirit and the will to win is evident. Let's all the South Side give them the support they need. There's always room for one more in Mahaffey Stadium.

He served on the Columbus Fire Department from 1922 to 1938 and retired from the service because of failing eye sight.

In 1939, he became blind and was placed on a small pension.

Due to the smallness of his pension, it is necessary to work. He has developed a small income from greeting cards and notions to add to his income.

Since he was not born blind it has been an uphill fight for him to get about to sell his wares.

We are asking the people of the South Side again to send us their sales tax stamps so they can again, as on past occasions, be a part of getting this worthwhile blind man a dog.

The fire department has agreed to cooperate with us in this sales tax drive and has permitted us to have sales tax stamps left at the following fire houses: Parsons and Hinman Aves., Thurman Ave. and South Fourt St., E. Livingston Ave. and Wager St., and E. Fulton and Wall Sts., or the South Side Booster, 1542 Parsons Ave., and Gregg's Photo Studio, 946 E. Whittier St.

Now, let's roll in those sales tax stamps so that Mr. Hutchinson can have his dog to lead him.

LETTERS to the Editor

To Whom It May Concern:—

We the members of the South High Football team, in response to the letter of the previous week, wish to express the true feeling of our football team. Mr. Trego and his staff have the backing of our entire team. And there is in no way any lack of LOYALTY among the players. We believe him as capable as any of the High School coaches in this district. And we will back him to the utmost of our ability whether that be in victory or defeat.

This letter expresses the full belief of our team and has been written without the knowledge of our coach or his staff.

To Whom It May Concern:—

The Student Council, the representative assembly of the student body of South High School, was called to order today by its president to discuss the letter which appeared in last week's Booster. The Council appreciates the interest of this group of South High Boosters, however, instead of using such destructive criticism, let's back the team, the coaches, the faculty, and the student body. The Council, at this meeting, gave a unanimous rising vote of confidence in our team, our coaches, and our faculty.

The Student Council of South High School
Paul Ebert, President
Marilyn Albert, Secretary

* * *

We read the article in last week's Booster by a Group of South High Boosters and we don't agree with them for many reasons. This group of South High Boosters should have spoken first to the coaches and principal of South High School and found out some facts before placing article in the Booster. For the coaches are really interested in the football team of South High School. They want the team to win for many reasons and also they have their reputation at stake. All present South High School football coaches played football in High School and on College or University teams. If a study of greater Columbus was made it would be found that over half the coaches come from small colleges. Mr. Trego was coach at Grove City High School for six years and had five championship teams. He left there as he served in the Armed Forces for three years. He gave up the chance to become principal of a high school to take over the coaching of South's football team. South has had no more injuries this year than any of the other teams in the city. We know first handed that South's team is sincere and play their football with the greatest of spirit as was proven in the last quarter at Grandview. This group of South High Boosters should have waited till the team had played a few more games before starting to condemn. With due respect to those of the past, South has not won a city championship since 1925 of which was tied. So why don't all South High Boosters be Boosters and attend the games, help also by taking to the coaches and give them a pat on the back. This will make the coaches feel a lot better and one thing certain, the coaches will know that the South Side is with them.

Signed

Some Other South Boosters.

Editor's Note—

Printed above are three letters replying to the letter published in last week's Booster. The three letters should convince the community that the Student Body and the athletic teams are 100% behind their school and the coaching staff.

Several anonymous letters have been received at the Booster office this week. We will not publish any letter without it being signed by the names of the writer or writers. Names will be withheld by request.

Rosary No Match For Ramblers

St. Mary's opened their current football season with a bang-up win over the Crusaders from Rosary. The Ramblers meant business from the opening kick-off and shortly before the end of the 1st period shoved over a touchdown on 17 yard run by Jim Moore. The second period was wide open with 3 touchdowns being scored, two by the Ramblers and one by the Crusaders. St. Mary's started it off by recovering a Rosary fumble on the Crusaders 25 yd. line. Bob Dolder threw a pass to Brown for 10 yards and another score. St. Mary's always the perfect host, then fumbled on their own 25 yard line and shortly after Jim Hayes of the Crusaders pushed over for Rosary's only touchdown of the evening. The highlight of the game come on the ensuing kick-off. Rosary kicked off to Dan Donnelly who passed it off to Harry Brown on a reverse and Brown, running like a Jack rabbit, went 85 yards without a hand being laid on him for another score and the Ramblers third touchdown.

In the 3rd period Brown again showed his speed afoot by intercepting a Crusader pass and scooting for 40 yards and the Ramblers final touchdown. The fourth period saw both teams unable to score but produced some really rugged football, with injuries to some Rosary players. Crusader halfback Johnny Carrol received a possible concussion and was taken to St. Anthony's Hospital by the emergency squad. It was an interesting game to witness and of course, the Rambler partisans were very happy over the outcome. Next week the Ramblers go to Springfield and the following Saturday they play Delaware Willis at Delaware.

Letter to The Booster

Just a line to say how happy we are that Delaney McBride, who underwent two operations for his back, is up and around now, with a brace on. He sure looks good, his back is as straight as anyones and he feels so proud.

Wish you could see him and his dog. He is as proud of it as a Daddy is with a new baby. The dog is with him constantly. Delaney is having school at home for six weeks until he learns to walk. He has been in a cast since the 9th of May.

We still say that the kindness of the Booster and friends of the South Side, and Mr. Clevenger's gift of the dog, was the greatest thing that ever happened to boost his courage and help his recovery. When he is around again and able to walk he wants to thank everyone personally.

P. S. While Delaney was so ill it was necessary to give him five quarts of blood. I say it was a wonderful day when the Red Cross started their blood bank, as they certainly helped our boy a lot.

Signed:
Mr. and Mrs. McBride

Thanks for your letter Mr. and Mrs. McBride. It proves to us that kind deeds are remembered long after we ourselves forget.

Miss Cowall A Recent Bride

A lovely gown of blush pink satin was worn by Miss Frances Ann Cowall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cowall, 1661 East Whittier St., for her marriage August 21 to Kenneth Solomon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Solomon, 2699 Fair Ave. The 7 p.m. ceremony took place in Tifereth Israel Temple with Rabbi Nathan Zeliser officiating.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore an imported silk illusion veil, which extended the full length of her gown's circular train, and fell from a satin cloche matching her dress. A portrait neckline, enhanced by folds of nylon tulle, and embroidered bodice and sleeves were features in the gown's design. She carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of ivy, with white roses and stephanotis.

Wearing identical hoopskirted gowns of white faille taffeta with jackets studded by rhinestones at the peter pan collars and cuffs were the maid of honor, Miss Jacqueline Cohen; the bridesmaids, Miss Nona Mindell, Miss Rita Bergsman, Miss Carolyn Silk, Miss Sheila Dennis Cleveland, and the junior bridesmaid, Sandra Cowall. They carried bouquets of rubrum lilies of ivy in a crescent shape.

Seymour Luckoff served as best man and ushers were Si Sokol, Leon Mark, Mort Rising and Sandford Solomon. At the ensuing reception for 1500 guests at the Seneca Hotel, Mrs. Cowall received in a pearl gray dinner gown while Mrs. Soloman wore light gray net over chartreuse. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

The former Miss Cowall graduated from South High School and her husband from Greenbrier Military Academy. He also attended Ohio State University and now is located at Kenny's Loan Office. After a trip to White Sulphur Springs they are residing at 775 E. Broad Street.

WHY REMEMBER?

A little blue flower will be sold on the streets of this city Friday and Saturday, September 23 and 24 to remind the citizens of our community that the war is not over for those veterans who were disabled as a direct result of war service. That little blue flower was chosen for its name. It is the Forget-Me-Not, a flower of remembrance. It has been the official flower of the Disabled American Veterans since that organization was formed in 1920. It is symbolic of the service performed by the D.A.V. in behalf of our war-time disabled veterans, their widows, and their dependents. The D.A.V. has never forgotten the wars' disabled. It is our hope that you will never forget them. And the Forget-Me-Not in your coat lapel Friday and Saturday, and the coin that you drop in the canister for the flower - means that you haven't forgotten. The money that you contribute to the Forget-Me-Not drive in Columbus goes in its entirety to help the war-time disabled in Columbus. It's your way of giving a little to those who gave a lot. Everyone of you has a right to ask what we do with the money that you contribute on Forget-Me-Not Day. Our service officers are busy today helping war-time disabled veterans of all wars in obtaining hospitalization, and other government benefits to which they are rightly entitled. This service is free of charge. The important point is that these benefits are NOT AUTOMATIC. A war-time disabled veteran MUST FILE A CLAIM IN EVERY INSTANCE. And every claim must be backed up, evidence must be submitted and substantiated. It is just as necessary, just as valuable, for a veteran to be represented by a service officer before the Rating Board of the Veterans Administration, as it is for a citizen to be represented in court by an attorney. The D.A.V. obtains much-needed benefits for our war-time disabled veterans who in many cases are unable to find immediate employment. The D.A.V. guides the war-time disabled veteran into vocational training and educational opportunities. We help him find employment. The D.A.V. does not stop with the veteran. When his widow or his dependents are in need we untangle their problems, help them get whatever assistance they are entitled to receive. The Veterans Administration, the government agency that administers veterans benefits - has recognized the value of the Disabled American Veterans and has commended our work. The Administrator of the Veterans Administration recently said: "The D.A.V. has been doing a splendid and purposeful work." This outstanding recognition from the Administrator, and our government, comes only because we have been performing a service that our government CAN NOT AND DOES NOT ATTEMPT TO PERFORM. —War-time disabled veterans need careful understanding, expert advice and assistance in interpreting regulations for filing applications for government benefits. They prefer to go to the D.A.V. for this advice and assistance because the D.A.V. is on their side of the fence. Who can better understand the problems of the war-time disabled veterans than one who himself has been disabled as a direct result of war service. Your contribution on Forget-Me-Not day will help make possible all of this service to the wars' disabled of our community. The funds realized from the sale of Forget-Me-Nots means a lot to the D.A.V., the war-time disabled, and the community itself. Every time we help a war-time disabled veteran we help the welfare of our city. So give a little for those who gave a lot. Buy a Forget-Me-Not next Friday and Saturday.

SOUTH LOSES TO GRANDVIEW 21—12

Bulldogs Lose To Bob Cats

South High's Football team lost to a scrappy, alert, Grandview eleven Friday night. The Bulldogs, handicapped by injuries, showed marked improvement over last week. South missed several golden opportunities to score. Twice the Bulldogs marched to the goal line, only to have Grandview stiffen and take over on downs. On another occasion the alert Bobcats recovered a South fumble, ending a South scoring threat. The game was a see-saw affair until the last quarter, when Butler, flashy Bobcat back, grabbed a South punt and with a fine display of broken field running sped 50 yards for his second touchdown of the evening. The Bulldogs then came to life, started to growl and in short order scored two touchdowns.

The first on a fine run by Buddy Lusear, after Tuffs pass interception on the Grandview thirty-yd. line. In the closing minutes the Bulldogs growled again, scoring on a pass from Marion Wright to Lusear. Both conversions were wide and the score wound up 21-12.

South plays East tomorrow night in what should be a bang-up game. We believe that this year the Bulldogs are going to give all the city league elevents plenty of trouble, and will wind up with the best season in several years. In case you didn't notice last week's scores, all city league teams were beaten, St. Charles 7-Central 6; Marietta, South defeated last year, trounced Aquinas 19 to 6; Linden McKinley lost to Lancaster 33 to 6, Newark steamrollered North 32 to 6, and West was snowed under by Upper Arlington 33 to 0. East was the only team not scheduled.

The Bulldogs, with two hard games under their belts, should give East a rough go. Win, lose or draw, the Bulldogs deserve credit. This year's team is playing a better brand of ball than we've witnessed in the past few years, the spirit and the will to win is evident. Let's all the South Side give them the support they need. There's always room for one more in Mahaffey Stadium.

Southsider Needs Guide Dog

Frank O. Hutchinson

The South Side Booster is again sponsoring a South Sider for a Guide Dog.

The man who is to receive the dog is Frank Hutchinson of 439½ S. High Street.

He served on the Columbus Fire Department from 1922 to 1938 and retired from the service because of failing eye sight.

In 1939, he became blind and was placed on a small pension.

Due to the smallness of his pension, it is necessary to work. He has developed a small income from greeting cards and notions to add to his income.

Since he was not born blind it has been an uphill fight for him to get about to sell his wares.

We are asking the people of the South Side again to send us their sales tax stamps so they can again, as on past occasions, be a part of getting this worthwhile blind man a dog.

The fire department has agreed to cooperate with us in this sales tax drive and has permitted us to have sales tax stamps left at the following fire houses: Parsons and Hinman Aves., Thurman Ave. and South Fourt St., E. Livingston Ave. and Wager St., and E. Fulton and Wall Sts., or the South Side Booster, 1542 Parsons Ave., and Gregg's Photo Studio, 946 E. Whittier St.

Now, let's roll in those sales tax stamps so that Mr. Hutchinson can have his dog to lead him.

LETTERS to the Editor

To Whom It May Concern:—

We the members of the South High Football team, in response to the letter of the previous week, wish to express the true feeling of our football team. Mr. Trego and his staff have the backing of our entire team. And there is in no way any lack of LOYALTY among the players. We believe him as capable as any of the High School coaches in this district. And we will back him to the utmost of our ability whether that be in victory or defeat.

This letter expresses the full belief of our team and has been written without the knowledge of our coach or his staff.

Signed

To Whom It May Concern:—

The Student Council, the representative assembly of the student body of South High School, was called to order today by its president to discuss the letter which appeared in last week's Booster. The Council appreciates the interest of this group of South High Boosters, however, instead of using such destructive criticism, let's back the team, the coaches, the faculty, and the student body. The Council, at this meeting, gave a unanimous rising vote of confidence in our team, our coaches, and our faculty.

We read the article in last week's Booster by a Group of South High Boosters and we don't agree with them for many reasons. This group of South High Boosters should have spoken first to the coaches and principal of South High School and found out some facts before placing article in the Booster. For the coaches are really interested in the football team of South High School. They want the team to win for many reasons and also they have their reputation at stake. All present South High School football coaches played football in High School and on College or University teams. If a study of greater Columbus was made it would be found that over half the coaches come from small colleges. Mr. Trego was coach at Grove City High School for six years and had five championship teams. He left there as he served in the Armed Forces for three years. He gave up the chance to become principal of a high school to take over the coaching of South's football team. South has had no more injuries this year than any of the other teams in the city. We know first handed that South's team is sincere and play their football with the greatest of spirit as was proven in the last quarter at Grandview. This group of South High Boosters should have waited till the team had played a few more games before starting to condemn. With due respect to those of the past, South has not won a city championship since 1925 of which was tied. So why don't all South High Boosters be Boosters and attend the games, help also by taking to the coaches and give them a pat on the back. This will make the coaches feel a lot better and one thing certain, the coaches will know that the South Side is with them.

Signed

Some Other South Boosters.

Editor's Note—

Printed above are three letters replying to the letter published in last week's Booster. The three letters should convince the community that the Student Body and the athletic teams are 100% behind their school and the coaching staff.

Several anonymous letters have been received at the Booster office this week. We will not publish any letter without it being signed by the names of the writer or writers. Names will be withheld by request.

Rosary No Match For Ramblers

St. Mary's opened their current football season with a bang-up win over the Crusaders from Rosary. The Ramblers meant business from the opening kick-off and shortly before the end of the 1st period shoved over a touchdown on 17 yard run by Jim Moore. The second period was wide open with 3 touchdowns being scored, two by the Ramblers and one by the Crusaders. St. Mary's started it off by recovering a Rosary fumble on the Crusaders 25 yd. line. Bob Dolder threw a pass to Brown for 10 yards and another score. St. Mary's always the perfect host, then fumbled on their own 25 yard line and shortly after Jim Hayes of the Crusaders pushed over for Rosary's only touchdown of the evening. The highlight of the game come on the ensuing kick-off. Rosary kicked off to Dan Donnelly who passed it off to Harry Brown on a reverse and Brown, running like a Jack rabbit, went 55 yards without a hand being laid on him for another score and the Ramblers third touchdown.

In the 3rd period Brown again showed his speed afoot by intercepting a Crusader pass and cooting for 40 yards and the Ramblers final touchdown. The fourth period saw both teams unable to score but produced some really rugged football, with injuries to some Rosary players. Crusader halfback Johnny Carrol received a possible concussion and was taken to St. Anthony's Hospital by the emergency squad. It was an interesting game to witness and of course, the Rambler partisans were very happy over the outcome. Next week the Ramblers go to Springfield and the following Saturday they play Delaware Willis at Delaware.

BUZZIN WITH BEA

Ella Smalley of 44 N. Powell, one of the cooks at the Swan Grill, has been looking forward to her vacation all summer. We have never quite known whether she has been kidding us or not, but she would tell us every morning about how she was going to give us a real fish story when she came back. Her fishing was going to be done on "Hellbranch Creek," her evenings were to be spent at "Turkey Tuttle." We asked Ella about Turkey Tuttle and she told us that it is the garden spot of the world and that when the frost is on the pumpkin and the harvest moon is hanging high, a gal there can expect most anything to happen.

Well, Ella is back to work again after her two weeks vacation, and we were all ears to hear about her exciting vacation—but it seems Ella never got there. We are sorry to say that her husband was taken ill and that Ella spent her time off nursing him back to health. Although Ella was disappointed about missing her trip, she was happy to be with her husband when he needed her.

Better luck next year, Ella. Maybe you and your husband will get that trip to "Hellbranch" and he able to take advantage of that Harvest moon on "Turtle Tuttle."

Full Calendar Planned By St. Pauls Ev. & R.

With flooring work being completed and brick laying starting, Rev. Paul C. Kaefer of Saint Pauls Evangelical and Reformed Church released several very important dates for his church. Primarily World Wide Communion will be held at Schiller Park Auditorium the first Sunday in October at the regular morning worship service, following which the Church Council and their families will meet at the Cabin of Doctor and Mrs. Coddington. This beautiful retreat in the Hocking Hills is a fine location for the meeting, at which the first definite schedule of future events in the New Church will be discussed.

Under the guiding hand of Mrs. Paul Neufang, the Dorcas Society will have a Fish Fry, open to the public, at Gates Fourth Church on October 20, and President Frank Cherry has the Menu and Entertainment all lined up for the Annual Father and Son Banquet to be held October 26. Boy Scout Troop 77 has a new temporary meeting place at Schiller Park, and Scoutmaster Glen Clingman announced several new boys entered the troop last week under the new lower age limit. Chairman Earl MacLeod received the applications of Six Boys transferring from Cub Pack 84 into troop 77, while Mr. Dicke, the Cubmaster is open for all new Cubs, eight years old and up.

Sidewalk superintendents are always welcome at 225 East Gates Street where the Carpenters are hammering and sawing, and the brickmasons are working.

The Executive Board of the Siebert Street P.T.A. at its first meeting held Thursday, Sept. 22, decided to hold its annual membership drive from Monday, Oct. 3 to Friday, Oct. 14th, 1949.

Today, more than ever before, the parents are taking a deeper interest in what their children are doing in the schools. The P.T.A. brings about a closer relationship between the home and the school and this intelligent co-operation is essential for the better training of our children.

The children of the school will participate and a prize will be given to the room with the highest percentage of membership.

All parents and friends of pupils attending Siebert St. School are cordially invited to join the P.T.A. The membership dues for one year are only 25 cents per person.

COROAIRE the sensational NEW WAY TO HEAT WITH GAS

COROAIRE with exclusive Patented features
THE GREATEST ADVANCE IN HEATING IN THE LAST 50 YEARS

HERE'S THE BIG DIFFERENCE

Imagine a heat-radiating surface of 96 sq. ft. That's the secret of Coroaire's sensational thrift. The patented venturi-type heat exchanger gives you more heat indoors, cuts up-the-chimney heat loss. There's nothing like Coroaire at any price. See how it can save money for you.

Here's the automatic heating system that makes regular furnaces and ordinary heaters completely out-of-date. Patented Coroaire is different and definitely better than any unit yet developed.

SENSATIONAL SAVINGS

After you install Coroaire, you won't believe the low figure of your gas bill. Users in the coldest part of the nation, in the coldest months of winter, report heat for the cost of a light bill, as low as $5.00 per month average for five and six room houses.

Coroaire is a miracle of post-war development. It is a completely automatic heating system that cleans, humidifies and circulates warm air. Coroaire has design and construction features no other brand can offer you. Quick and easy to install as an automatic washing machine.

SENSATIONAL COMFORT

Coroaire is completely automatic; you set the thermostat and sit — no attention required. Coroaire's automatic system tumbles air from a deep-pitch fan in a gentle continued circulation, automatically cleaned by an efficient filter ... automatically humidified for healthful enjoyment, and every room of the house is supplied with a regular temperature with no waste of fuel.

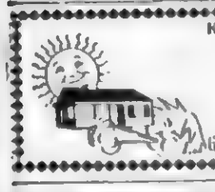
SENSATIONAL QUALITY

The heavy cast-iron heat exchanger of Coroaire and the finest automatic controls are marks of good value found only in high grade units. Quiet operation and complete comfort make Coroaire the quality leader. No other unit of this size does a complete heating job as well.

AUTHENTIC REPORTS FROM USERS PROVE COROAIRE IS THE BEST BUY FOR YOU..!

Documented proof of Coroaire economy can be found in the actual records of homeowners in the Great Lakes area. Reports like these are prevalent:

"My six-room house is heated during the coldest months for never more than $5.50 per month. Coroaire is a wonderful invention."



"After installing Coroaire we noticed a big drop in gas bills. For the season, our records show we saved nearly 50% of heating bills."

"Our change to Coroaire has saved us over $6.00 per month this winter."

The records of Coroaire economy are available to anyone who cares to investigate.

Playground Facilities Are A Farce

Promises are the easiest thing that politicians can make. They are easy to make and can promptly be forgotten.

One year ago at the Council of South Side Organizations annual dinner Mr. Ray Dietz, City Superintendent of Parks and Forestry, Mr. Nick Barack, City Director of Recreation, and Mayor James A. Rhodes, were guests.

At that meeting we were promised that all playgrounds would be put in shape with the emphasis on Lincoln Park and Southview Park.

We drove past Lincoln Park last Thursday to look over results of this summer's work.

We found that a few loads of dirt had been hauled in and graded. A few dead trees had been removed and that was all. It took Ray Dietz and his men all summer to do that and the filled in spots have not been seeded yet. This work could have been done in less than a week.

As far as play ground equipment, such as horse shoe courts, tennis courts, swings and the equipment that goes along with it, ball diamonds and other equipment there is nothing.

Then, we took a trip to the Southeast Lions playground. Of course, the place was closed. But we found that the last two weeks of the playground season that the place had been closed when it should have been open. There were weeds sticking up through the hard surface and the whole place had a general deserted condition. This playground and equipment was donated to the city by the Southeast Lions. This is Mr. Nick Barack's job.

The Southeast Lions' Club playground is located at Barthman and S. 6th Street.

During the summer we passed Kearns Playground located at S. Ohio & Thurman Aves. numerous times. A large dead tree, felled by a storm, laid across the playgrounds most of the summer. There is certainly room for better playground equipment here.

Our next visit was to Schiller Park where we found that the shelter house was in good condition and a credit to any community. But not so with the playground equipment. Double the amount of what they have is needed here.

In Schiller Park it took us 8 weeks to get a few loads of dirt to place in a low place to keep children from tripping over the sidewalk.

We then went to the new Southview Park where some ball diamonds have been built, some night lights had been placed and a few bleachers built; otherwise, the play ground is a dust bowl. No play ground equipment was in sight.

On top of this, half of the bleachers had been torn down by the children.

The playgrounds, equipment and staff are the responsibility of Mr. Nick Barack.

The maintenance and improvements are the duties and the responsibility of Mr. Ray Dietz.

Outside of the Shelter House at Schiller Park where repairs were ordered by city council, the work here in the South Side is meager.

We certainly disagree with the Recreation set up in our city as too much emphasis is placed with adult recreation and far too little with the children.

We feel that the South Side is not the only place in this city that these conditions exist in our parks and play grounds that do not also exist in other parts of the city.

We feel that money spent for golf links should be spent for facilities for the children. This would have built eight pools.

In Syracuse, N. Y., they have free swimming pools all over their city. If they want a towel and locker they pay the small sum of 5 cents.

BOOSTER PHONES
GA 9262 or GA 71121

We have just one in this city and that is Maryland Park. This was donated by the late Robert Wolf. So the city has no public pools erected with city money which they should have.

We feel that the playgrounds are under-manned, both from the point of personnel and from the lack of properly trained personnel.

We feel that play grounds should be kept open the year around, weather permitting, especially after school and on Saturdays and Sundays during the school year.

In one city we know the school buses pick up children and take them home both morning and afternoon to their playgrounds.

In this city juvenile delinquency is practically nil.

We are calling on Mayor James A. Rhodes to see that recreation facilities are greatly improved and put on a modern basis.

We are also calling on him to see that the Superintendent of Parks and Forestry and the Director of Recreation get busy at once to carry out the promises made to the Council of South Side Organizations a year ago.

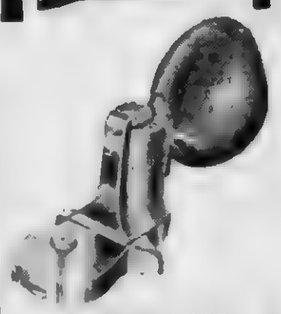
Coddington at Ga. 8862 or Mrs. Herbert Germaine at Ga. 7634.



Mrs. Dorothy Butt and her Circles are selling "Kleenex," and having a Rummage Sale, on October 10th. Call Mrs. Butt at Ga. 1850 or Mrs. Vara Henderson at Ga. 3437.

Mrs. Ruth Green's Circle is also having a Rummage Sale on October 21. Call Mrs. Green at Ga. 7976 or Mrs. Ruth Allspaugh at Ga. 2715.

Mrs. Paul Neufang's Circle is having a "Fish Fry" at Gates-Fourth Methodist Church, October 20th from 5 to 8 p.m. Give your reservations to Mrs. Paul Neufang, Ga. 4566 or Mrs. Paul C. Kaefer, Ga. 1311.

"Any Number Can Play" At Southland

It's a new Gable sweetheart in a new Gable picture in "Any Number Can Play," which opens this Sunday at the Southland Theater with redheaded Alexis Smith playing opposite the box-office champ for the first time. Wendell Corey, Audrey Totter, Frank Morgan, and others are in the exciting cast. The second feature with "Any Number Can Play," will be "Bomba, the Jungle Boy," with John Sheffield and Peggy Ann Garner.

Holiday On Ice of 1950

"Holiday On Ice of 1950", two and a half hour ice show which is again making its annual tour of the United States and Latin America, will come to the Coliseum of the Ohio State Fair Grounds in Columbus Friday, Oct. 7, to play nightly through Sunday, Oct. 16, with matinees on Sunday, Oct. 9 and Oct. 16.

This is the fourth local stop for the frosted extravaganza which displays a company of 115, a variety of swiftly-paced acts, a 36-girl skating line, "The Glamour-Icers", over 700 costumes and 7 production numbers. The 1950 edition of the ice classic is an all new show which has just finished its rehearsal. Columbus will be the third engagement on the road for this year's show.

Opening night of the show, Friday, October 7, will be sponsored by the Twigs of the Children's Hospital of Columbus for the benefit of the Hospital's Polio Center.

"Holiday On Ice of 1950" includes practically all of the stars of past productions in addition to a number of new faces. Headliners who will be familiar to "Holiday" fans are: Murray Galbraith and Dorothy Goos, Bobby Blake, Leo Freisinger, Karen, Holly and Day, Kay Farelli, Tommy and Susan LaVonne, Phil Hiser, Henry Lie, Ted Meza and Ray Carter plus such new stars as Mickey Meehan, Joe Shillen, Don Hooten and Ann Schmidt.

Production numbers include: "The Spirit of Winter", "Starlight Serenade," "Rumbalero," "The Princess with the Glass Heart", "The Enchanted Garden", "Oh, Let's Be Gay", "May I have this Dance", and "Little Bo Peep." All of these feature the Glamour-Icers and Ice Squires.

George D. Tyson of New York is again credited with the production of the giant show, with ensemble choreography by Marie Carr. Costumes were designed by Billy Livingston of New York.

Tickets for "Holiday On Ice of 1950" are now on sale at Heaton's Music Store, 90 N. High Street.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, "Yes, Sir, That's My Baby," starring Gloria DeHaven and Donald O'Connor. This picture in technicolor will be really appreciated by those married GI's now attending college. It's really a hilarious 1949 version of the three R's, Reading, Ritin and Rompers. You'll roar when this football hero asks for time out because it's time to rock the cradle. Also on the bill is "Girl from Jones Beach," another picture to tickle the funny-bone. For an evening of light relaxful entertainment, make this a must.

"Younger Brothers" at Russell Theater

Sunday and Monday the Russell Theater will show "Younger Brothers" with Wayne Morris and Janis Paige. This Technicolor western brings ten times the thrills you've ever seen on the screen before, as the Younger Brothers ride, raid and plunder on a rampage of murder and terror in blood-red days along the frontier. "Wake Up and Dream" with John Payne and June Haver is the second picture.

Thursday night is Amateur Night. If you can sing, dance, play a musical instrument or entertain in any manner, contact the manager of the Russell Theater. Prizes are given to those who are selected as the winners.

"Little Women" at The Ideal Theater

Sunday and Monday the Ideal Theater presents "Little Women" with June Allyson, Peter Lawford and Margaret O'Brien. This technicolor drama of Louisa May Alcott's classic story is a big bundle of laughter and love. It is an unforgettable entertainment treat. "Miss Polly" is the second picture with Zazu Pitts and Dick Clayton. News and cartoon completes the playbill.

St. Mary's Band Appears

In the game Saturday evening between St. Mary's and Rosary, the Ramblers had the backing of the school band, which hasn't made an appearance on the field in several years.

At the half, the band marched on the field led by five majorettes. They saluted the Rosary fans with a large "R." Crossing the field, they saulted their own followers with an "M," and played the school song. Their last offering was the "Bells of St. Mary's" which they played while forming a bell. Though they are small in number, their formations were well executed.

The band is under the direction of Mr. Alphonse Cincione, who is well known throughout the city for his musical talent and direction.

Report Bears Out Booster Story

Tucked away in an article in the Columbus Citizen written by M. D. Portman heading "Reveal Additional Findings against Auditor Barthalow" is this quotation.

"The state auditor's report also accused Barthalow of making deductions during 1947 on behalf of a local jewelry concern and for a uniform company. The findings in this case came to $13,369 for jewelry and $21,958 for employees uniforms.

In June, 1947 the South Side Booster exposed this jewelry sales and payroll deduction against R. P. Barthalow and his auditor's office.

In this exposure we brought out the fact that jewelry and other articles were being sold by a downtown credit jewelry firm on city property and that the City Auditor's office was being used to collect the payments for this firm.

These sales approximated $1,000 per week or nearly $50,000 per year.

The City Auditor's office was making deductions from City employees payroll checks for this jewelry firm and acting as bookkeepers for them.

While we have been given to understand that these collections have stopped we have received from sources we believe to be relinble that the jewelry sales have continued.

It has been further rumored that while deductions have been discontinued that a one eyed member of this firm does the collection now on city property.

It has been reported by one newspaper that State Auditor Ferguson is doing this for political purposes and the exposure should come after election.

We think not. We think the public should know what is going on before election.

Certainly when over $3,000,000 alleged illegal expenditures are being made by Barthalow, the public is entitled to know before election so that they can judge who they should vote for City Auditor.

Barthalow's opponent in the November election is Herbert J. Sifferlin, a South Sider.

Squirrel Season Closes Friday

The 1949 squirrel hunting season for Ohio closes Friday, September 30th.

Reports vary as to the success of this year's hunting. Hunters who bagged nothing, claim the season was a poor one while those who had some luck say, it wasn't bad. Others who reported getting their limits of four a day several times during the shooting season, declare it was the best shooting in years.

Hunting was difficult in most areas because of the lack of wet weather to soften the footstep of the hunter. Hunters report a good nut crop which is good news for the thousands of squirrels fortunate enough to look forward to a nice comfortable winter in [illegible] hollow tree.

Hunting license sales for the past few weeks would indicate that there was no shortage of hunters in the woods.

ST. MARY'S TIES SPRINGFIELD 12 — 12

EAST WALLOPS SOUTH 48 — 14

Ramblers Tie 12-12

The blue and gold of St Mary's were held to a 12-12 tie by a scrappy Springfield Central Catholic outfit Friday at Evans Stadium in Springfield

The Ramblers drew first blood when a punt by Bob Brakes was fumbled by Joe Lyons, Springfield quarterback, and recovered by St Mary's on the Springfield 19 From there the Rams went over in easy fashion with Harry Brown scoring from the 5

But the Tornadoes of Springfield came back strong and recovered a St. Mary fumble on the units 15 yard line where they scored on a pass from Joe Lyons to Bill Laub The conversion was blocked by John Butler.

Dan Donnelly received the kick off on the 20 and returned to the 30 where the Rams began a drive that netted 70 yards and a touchdown with Harry Brown scoring from the 19. The drive was highlighted by a pass from fullback Dick Schaefer to Jim Moore good for 30 yards which set the scene for Brown's touchdown jaunt.

The game was played on even terms for the remainder of the first half with St. Mary's leading at halftime 12 to 6.

The second half was a see saw affair with neither team being able to penetrate too deeply due to penalties, fumbles etc.

Then Springfield unable to push forward on the ground took to the air and completed two straight passes that took them to the St Mary's 13 yard line where they scored in three plays with Halfback Tom Crowley scoring from the 6 yard line with 3 minutes remaining until the final gun.

Both teams fought desperately to score once again but to no avail, the scoreboard reading St Mary's 12 Springfield 12 at the end of the game

St. Mary's led in the first down department 14 to 2.

Elephant Lumber Co. Enlarges South Side Store

Four years ago in September, the Elephant Lumber Co. opened their first store at 1895 South High Street. Spectacular growth of the organization, through the policies of the company, which included selling quality products at the lowest possible price, soon saw other stores opened at 2348 W. Broad Street, 2952 N. High Street, and in Marion and Mt. Vernon

Recently a $200,000 fire swept the South High Street yard and mill, but business has been carried on as usual at the store. A new addition has been added, which more than doubles the original floor space. The store carries a complete stock of building supplies and tools. Elephant's home building service offers complete arrangements for a custom built home, including architectural service, materials, inspection, workmanship and financing. This service was recently started and has become popular with prospective home onwers who desire to have every detail of their home handled through one reliable experienced building source.

The Elephant Lumber Co. has leased the largest retail lumber yard in central Ohio, located at E. Long Street and Nelson Road. In connection with the Lumber yard, Elephant has opened another store. The main office is now at this location.

Mr. Harold Fetter manager of the Elephant Lumber Store at 1895 South High Street (at the viaduct) says that since the new addition has been added, the South Side Store is Bigger than ever and ready to serve the South Side with such items as lumber, tools, hardware, roofing, millwork, insulation, plywood, wallboard, and many other items The store is open all day Saturday.

Dr. Fred Wiegman

The Emmanuel Lutheran church of 80 Markison Avenue, Rev. C. J. Sutorius Pastor, is cooperating with the other 31 Lutheran Congregations of Franklin County to plan the annual Reformation Rally which will be held on Reformation Sunday evening, October 30th at 8:00 o'clock at Memorial Hall in Columbus. Dr. Fred C Wiegman, Pastor of a large Lutheran Congregation in Akron, Ohio, will be the speaker. A festival choir, under the direction of Professor Wilbur Crist of Capital University, will provide beautiful anthems for this great Rally. Members of Emmanuel will sing in this Festival Choir.

"You'd have more chance of getting a job if you shaved, and cleaned your clothes neatly, and had your hair cut"

"Don't you think I know it? That's why I never shave, clean my clothes, or cut my hair."

ROOM 106

Thirty-two children in Room 106 have been neither absent nor tardy during the month of Sept.

—R—

ROOM 104

The 1B's in Room 104 have been making some very good animals out of their clay. Diana Leach and Gary Reinhardt have been bringing us some nice stories for our Story Time.

ROOM 109

The children in Room 109 will present the chapel program this Friday. Sandra Reed will announce our songs and Bible verses. We will start our program with Praise God. Our whole group has learned a poem which we will say together. The name of it is "I Thank You."

—R—

Citizenship is an ever present topic with school people. We are striving, day by day, to inject the principles of good citizenship into every boy and girl who attends Reeb Avenue School. In order to emphasize the importance of developing the proper outlook for life Reeb has devised a plan for all of its 5th and 6th grade pupils. This plan is called REEB'S A-B-C's of GOOD FELLOWSHIP — The "A" stands for Attitude — the "B" stands for Behavior — and the "C" is for Classroom work.

The following rules will govern

REEB AVEUE SCHOOL SEMI-ANNUAL 5B, 5A, 6B, and 6A CITIZENSHIP AWARDS

1. All pupils will be considered eligible as they begin the 5B grade.

2. Each pupil, as he moves thru the grades of 5B, 5A, 6B and 6A will be observed in the light of these "A-B-C" standards.

3. Each pupil will be rated as to his Attitudes, Behavior, and Class work.

4. As a pupil develops an improper attitude, takes part in misconduct, or falls short in his grades, he will be removed from the eligible list.

5. Any pupil, who has been removed from the eligible list, but asks for another chance, may be restored once and once only by the unanimous consent of the staff.

6. At the end of each school term all 5B, 5A, 6B, and 6A pupils, who have not removed themselves from the eligible list, will receive one of Reeb's Award of Merit cards for Good Citizenship.

7. During the school months of January and June, the departmental teachers and principal will consider the records of all eligible 6A pupils and, if they deem it wise, will select one girl and one boy as the outstanding citizens for that term. Each boy and girl, so selected, will receive a special Reeb Citizenship Award with special publicity.

The special Reeb Citizenship Award will have a place for the pupil's picture and the special publicity includes a picture and write-up in the South Side Booster.

We are including this explanation in our news to the public because we believe that not only our own parents are interested in such and idea but neighbors and friends of Reeb will be acquainted with the efforts that are now being made to make every moment count while we have these fine children under our supervision and care.

—R—

Have you registered so that you may vote on November 8th? We suggest that you stop at 214½ S. High and take care of this very important privilege offered to every American.

—R—

We wish to thank Mrs. Walden of 1817 Bruck Street for the collection of potted plants which she contributed to Reeb Ave. School recently.

—R—

The following children have had some special school work placed in our exhibit case during the past week: Walter Moore, Charles Hemming, Richard Byrd, Larry Stout, and Penelope Cordle.

—R—

All of Reeb's Room Mothers, five from each room, are invited to a tea to be held in the Auditorium next Monday, October 10, at 10:30. This is another mighty fine opportunity to get acquainted with other mothers who have mutual interests and, at the same time, help the interests of the entire school. We'll be looking for you next Monday.

— R —

Reeb's annual Membership Campaign for Parent-Teacher work opens next Monday. You'll receive the proper blank tomorrow, Friday, Oct. 7th when your child comes from school. In order to make sure that you are on record as working closely with us, please send in your 25c with each name just as soon as possible.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, "You're My Everything," starring Dan Dailey and Ann Baxter. The picture is in technicolor. The action runs from 1924 to the early 1940's featuring the daring doing & giddy goings-on on, when Mama and Papa were the flaming youth of their day.

A little home gal is catapulted to film fame as the Hotcha girl of the Silent Screen. You'll hear the song hits of the 1920's sung by your film favorites of today. Plenty of music and comedy for those who like lighter entertainment. Also on the bill is "Take one False Step" starring William Powell.

"Roseanna McCoy At Southland

Opening Sunday at the Southland Theatre will be "Roseanna McCoy, starring newcomer Joan Evans and Farley Granger in the title roles.

The romantic aspect of America's most famous family feud, that raged for generations between the Hatfields and McCoys, provides the theme for the new motion picture, "Roseanna McCoy," name of the ill-fated heroine of the tribal war. Based on Alberta Hannum's novel of the same name, this is the screen's first attempt to treat seriously this dramatic chapter of our national history without the usual hillbilly distortions.

Also included in the picture are Charles Bickford, Raymond Massey, Richard Basehart, Gigi Perreau and many others.

The second feature at the Southland Theatre will be announced.

American Legion Motorcycle Races

The Ohio State Championship Motorcycle Races will be held at Ohio State Fairgrounds next Sunday, October 9th. There will be nine motorcycle races, open to all riders in the United States and Canada, and a 10th race for Ohio expert motorcycle racers only.

The Winner of this race will be recognized by the American Motorcycle Association, as holder of the Ohio Championship, and will be awarded a trophy in addition to the purse.

Dick Klamfoth, Groveport, O., winner of the 200 mile National Championship at Daytona Beach, Florida, last March, has entered the races. Because of this, the best riders in the country have sent entries with the hopes of making amends for Klamfoth's time shattering victory in Florida.

Klamfoth rides an English-made Norton motorcycle.

Time trials will begin at 10 a.m. with the day's program starting at 1:30 p.m.

The races are being sponsored by Camp Chase Post No. 98, American Legion and the Golden Arrow Motorcycle Club, Inc. Proceeds from the races will be put in the Hilltop Veterans Memorial Building Fund.

Rummage Sale

The Auxiliary of Civic Center 3863 Veterans of Foreign Wars will hold a rummage sale Friday and Saturday at the Checker Box, 1935 Parsons Ave.

Amateur Night At The Russell Theater

The Russell Theater has Amateur Night every Thursday Night. They have had exceptional talent on their previous shows. The contestants who are chosen as the best are awarded prizes, with a grand prize being given at the end of eight weeks.

The Russell Theater is doing a fine thing in giving these entertainers a chance at stardom. Arthur Godfrey has had entertainers who received their start in this manner. Television has also been aided by groups selected from similiar Amateur Night Programs.

If you can entertain in any way, go to the manager of the Russell Theater, Parsons at Innis, and arrange to be on the program. This may just the chance for which you have been waiting.

"Adventures of Gallant Bess" at Ideal Theater

South To Present "Remember Mama"

The richly human and humorous adventures of a resourceful Norwegian immigrant's family in San Francisco at the turn of the century are told in the comedy-drama hit which is scheduled for presentation by the Dramatics Department of South High School on November 17 and 18. This is "I Remember Mama," the play by John Van Druten which chalked up a phenomenal run of 713 performances in New York, enjoyed a highly successful road tour, and formed the basis for a popular movie.

Mama and Papa Hanson's dreams for their ambitious children, the inevitable visits from the snooping Aunts Sigrid and Jenny, the bombastic Uncle Chris who terrifies everyone but Mama — these are some of the nostalgic ingredients of "I Remember Mama" which have endeared it to American audiences who see in its tenderly comic story a reflection of many of the same joys and heartaches in the lives of their own families.

There are both tears and laughs as the aunts offer their unsolicited advice, as Mama conceives her ingenious plan to visit little Dagmar in the hospital in spite of the doctor's orders, as Uncle Chris fusses and blusters to cover up his kind-heartedness, and as Mama teaches the children the value of money in those weekly "budget sessions" when Papa brings home the pay check.

Basing his well-loved play on the best-selling book by Kathryn Forbes, called "Mama's Bank Account," John Van Druten has written many of the theatre's most popular hits, including "The Voice of the Turtle," "Young Woodley," and "Old Acquaintance."

Tickets will go on sale for 50c October 17.

"Life with Father," last semesters' production will be remembered with great enthusiasm. This humorous adventure promises to top even that. In the screen version Irene Dunne portrayed "Mama."

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, "You're My Everything," starring Dan Dailey and Ann Baxter. The picture is in technicolor. The action runs from 1924 to the early 1940's featuring the daring doing & giddy goings-on on, when Mama and Papa were the flaming youth of their day.

A little home gal is catapulted to film fame as the Hotcha girl of the Silent Screen. You'll hear the song hits of the 1920's sung by your film favorites of today. Plenty of music and comedy for those who like lighter entertainment. Also on the bill is "Take one False Step" starring William Powell.

"Roseanna McCoy At Southland

Opening Sunday at the Southland Theatre will be "Roseanna McCoy, starring newcomer Joan Evans and Farley Granger in the title roles.

The romantic aspect of America's most famous family feud, that raged for generations between the Hatfields and McCoys, provides the theme for the new motion picture, "Roseanna McCoy," name of the ill-fated heroine of the tribal war. Based on Alberta Hannum's novel of the same name, this is the screen's first attempt to treat seriously this dramatic chapter of our national history without the usual hillbilly distortions.

Also included in the picture are Charles Bickford, Raymond Massey, Richard Basehart, Gigi Perreau and many others.

The second feature at the Southland Theatre will be announced.

American Legion Motorcycle Races

The Ohio State Championship Motorcycle Races will be held at Ohio State Fairgrounds next Sunday, October 9th. There will be nine motorcycle races, open to all riders in the United States and Canada, and a 10th race for Ohio expert motorcycle racers only.

The Winner of this race will be recognized by the American Motorcycle Association, as holder of the Ohio Championship, and will be awarded a trophy in addition to the purse.

Dick Klamfoth, Groveport, O., winner of the 200 mile National Championship at Daytona Beach, Florida, last March, has entered the races. Because of this, the best riders in the country have sent entries with the hopes of making amends for Klamfoth's time shattering victory in Florida.

Klamfoth rides an English-made Norton motorcycle.

Time trials will begin at 10 a.m. with the day's program starting at 1:30 p.m.

The races are being sponsored by Camp Chase Post No. 98, American Legion and the Golden Arrow Motorcycle Club, Inc. Proceeds from the races will be put in the Hilltop Veterans Memorial Building Fund.

Rummage Sale

The Auxiliary of Civic Center 3863 Veterans of Foreign Wars will hold a rummage sale Friday and Saturday at the Checker Box, 1035 Parsons Ave.

Amateur Night At The Russell Theater

The Russell Theater has Amateur Night every Thursday Night. They have had exceptional talent on their previous shows. The contestants who are chosen as the best are awarded prizes, with a grand prize being given at the end of eight weeks.

The Russell Theater is doing a fine thing in giving these entertainers a chance at stardom. Arthur Godfrey has had entertainers who received their start in this manner. Television has also been aided by groups selected from similiar Amateur Night Programs.

If you can entertain in any way, go to the manager of the Russell Theater, Parsons at Innis, and arrange to be on the program. This may just the chance for which you have been waiting.

"Adventures of Gallant Bess" at Ideal Theater

Sunday and Monday the Ideal Theater presents "Adventures of Gallant Bess", with the wonder horse. This color drama tells of the stirring fight in the west with a horse the victor's prize. Gallantry and thrills are shown against a background of scenic grandeur. Bess performs all of her wonderful tricks. The second feature is "Night Train to Memphis" with Roy Acuff and His Smoky Mountain Boys. News and cartoon complete the playbill.

South To Present "Remember Mama"

The richly human and humorous adventures of a resourceful Norwegian immigrant's family in San Francisco at the turn of the century are told in the comedy-drama hit which is scheduled for presentation by the Dramatics Department of South High School on November 17 and 18. This is "I Remember Mama," the play by John Van Druten which chalked up a phenomenal run of 713 performances in New York, enjoyed a highly successful road tour, and formed the basis for a popular movie.

Mama and Papa Hanson's dreams for their ambitious children, the inevitable visits from the snooping Aunts Sigrid and Jenny, the bombastic Uncle Chris who terrifies everyone but Mama — these are some of the nostalgic ingredients of "I Remember Mama" which have endeared it to American audiences who see in its tenderly comic story a reflection of many of the same joys and heartaches in the lives of their own families.

There are both tears and laughs as the aunts offer their unsolicited advice, as Mama conceives her ingenious plan to visit little Dagmar in the hospital in spite of the doctor's orders, as Uncle Chris fusses and blusters to cover up his kind-heartedness, and as Mama teaches the children the value of money in those weekly "budget sessions" when Papa brings home the pay check.

Basing his well-loved play on the best-selling book by Kathryn Forbes, called "Mama's Bank Account," John Van Druten has written many of the theatre's most popular hits, including "The Voice of the Turtle," "Young Woodley," and "Old Acquaintance."

Tickets will go on sale for 50c October 17.

"Life with Father," last semesters' production will be remembered with great enthusiasm. This humorous adventure promises to top even that. In the screen version Irene Dunne portrayed "Mama."

Antique Show Oct. 11, 12 and 13

The activity we see these days around St. Johns Parish House, located on the village green in Worthington is the Woman's Auxiliary preparing for the semi-annual antique show. Dealers are unloading and arranging their fine pieces of furniture, brass, glass, silver, doll collections, a great variety of the much in demand cups and saucers and old lamps. Many hanging lamps as well as the old oil "Gone with the Wind" stand or shelf types have found their way back into use and add interest to any room, however modern. A local dealer, who specializes in wiring and reassembling these old treasures, tells us of an original 10 inch hanging lamp which is a rare find.

Some of the collectors who display at this show are nationally known authorities on primitives and rare imports and will display bisque figureines, capo-di-monte, cut overlay Bohemian glass and fine china in Vienna, Victoria, Carlsbad, English Crown Derby, etc., which they have recently procured.

Auxiliary members are busy preparing a variety of good food with a different menu for each day. Vaughn has a friendly broad smile as he prepares that famous ham and bean soup—no show is complete without it.

Twenty-four dealers from all parts of Ohio have obtained space at the show and are bringing their choice pieces. The show is being held earlier this year, and the public green in its autumn dress, good food and a leisurely day of browsing among old treasures will make a delightful excursion. The Auxiliary extends a warm invitation to visit them Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, October 11, 12 & 13—11 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Cafeteria continuously, full meals through lunch and dinner hours.

ST. MARY'S — DELAWARE 12 — 12

SOUTH LOSES TO WOOSTER 40 — 0

Jack Miller speedy Delaware halfback took off on a 95 yard touchdown jaunt with but 30 seconds remaining, to give the Panthers from Delaware Willis a 12-12 tie with St. Mary's in a bitterly contested game on the Willis gridiron.

The game was played on even terms the first half with neither team being able to cross the enemy goal line.

The second half was a different story however as both teams offenses began to click.

The Rams received the kick-off and marched from their own 38 to the Willis 15 where Jim Moore scooted around the Delaware left end for the first tally of the game. Dick Schaefer, the Rams hard driving fullback, highlighted the drive with runs of 25 and 24 yards to set the stage for Moore's touchdown jaunt. The try for the point was no good.

Delaware struck back fast, marching to the Ramblers 47. Terry Johnson then shot a short pass to Harry Keebaugh. Keebaugh lateraled to Duke Davis who streaked 40 yards to the Rams 7. Three plays later Erpenshield smacked over from the one for the score.

The Rams scored again in the final quarter when Schaefer intercepted a pass on the Willis 35, and raced to the 4. He scored three plays later on a pitchout from Dan Donnelly. The conversion was blocked.

Delaware received the kick-off, but were unable to dent the Rams defense and were forced to punt.

St. Mary's took the ball at midfield and started a drive that was stopped by the huge Delaware line on the Willis 8 from where the Panthers took over with but 30 seconds remaining. Miller then took off on his dash down the side line to knot the count. The kick was blocked for the second time by John Butler as the clock ran out.

St. Mary's led in first downs 12 to 7.

Long Runs Feature Wooster's 40—0 Victory Over South

WOOSTER, Oct. 8—Backfielders Ron Calabria and all-Ohio candidate Jack Palmer had another sensational night here Friday in steamrolling South High of Columbus, 40-0. In a game heavily-accented by long-run touchdowns, the unbeaten winner maintained their 40-point-plus average for four games, sparked by 77 and 60-yard sprints by Palmer and 67 and 52-yarders by Calabria. Wayne Hershberger got into the act too, intercepting one of South's aerials and going 40 yards for another General score.

The losers were added to Wooster's previous list of victims — Dover, Painesville and Canton South. The Generals now have scored 175 points in 192 minutes playing time.

The Columbus squad, undermanned because of injuries, gave the home towners a first quarter scare, when Wooster was in front only 6-0. South got to Wooster's 30, but the threat died. The Bulldogs' 140-pound halfback, Dick Lusear, led his team's running attack.

Mr. and Mrs. George Robey, Jr. of 384 Jenkins Ave., have really enjoyed their hobby this summer. Raising Hybrid roses is their hobby. George, their son, was in the office recently and told us his mother and dad had cut 1500 beautiful roses from their bushes this year. We asked George what they did with them, and he said they gave them to friends and kept their own home beautifully decorated.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Willison are very proud of their farming efforts this year. The Willison's planted some tomato plants in their back yard and one morning Mrs. Willison called to tell us that she believes she has a tomato that is just about as tall as any she has ever heard of. The plant, which was full of green tomatoes, was pulled up the other night to prevent the fruit from getting frosted. Mr. Willison measured it before hanging it in the garage and to his surprise it measured 10½ ft. We think this is unusual too. Maybe you know of plants that have grown taller. If so, let us know. It will be fun seeing just who grew the tallest tomato plants this year.

We were sorry to hear that Mr. O. E. Sayre, father of Mrs. Fields of 1116 Bryden Road, was recently the victim of an auto accident. The car ran completely over Mr. Sayre's legs. He was taken to the hospital where he is being held under observation. No bones were broken and so far there seem to be no internal injuries.

We don't know how much truth there is in this one, but it was told to us the other day. A little South Side girl attending a church for the first time, was asked by her parents on her return home how she liked it. The child remarked "The flowers were very pretty, the music was real nice the crowd seemed very friendly, but the commercial was too long."

Dora Praither, Mickey Miles, Rosie Dohmer and Emily Bremer the ladies shuffle board team of Miles Bobcat Grill, played against Hazel Wilcox, Helen Foley, Fron Waidelich and Bea Weigand, the ladies team of the Rail Fence on Wednesday, Oct. 5th at the Bobcat Grill. The games were close interesting and the gals were really a swell bunch of sports The Bobcat Grill won the series, however Katherine Driggs, coach for the Rail Fence team was very proud of the showing her girls made. A return bout will be played at a later date, at the Rail Fence.

We were sorry to hear that Miss Dingler of 581½ Parsons Avenue has been ill. Mrs. Dingler's Hobby is crocheting. In her spare time she makes lovely crocheted chair and davenport sets.

Mrs. Engel has one daughter, Mrs. John Schmitt and four sons, Thomas, Madison, William and Robert Engel. She has one sister, Mrs. Daisy Williams now living at Marengo, Ohio. She has 15 grandchildren and 21 great grandchildren.

A party for the family will be held in her honor. Mrs. Schmitt (her daughter) told us it is getting a little difficult to get all the candles on her cake, but she enjoys it so much that she will try. The party will be held in the evening.

Peterfy's Grand Opening A Success

Louis Peterfy the owner of Peterfy's Tavern, 1356 Parsons Avenue is taking this means of thanknig everyone who attended the grand opening of his tavern, and helped to make it such a fine success on opening night. We understand that everyone who attended enjoyed themselves. Mr. Peterfy used a novel method of introducing his Hungarian Food by offering everyone present on his opening night, a Hungarian Cabbage Roll for only 1c. Louie says that a good many hundred were eaten before the evening festivities were over.

Central Community To Dedicate Organ

Glenn Grabill

On Thursday night, October 13, a new memorial pipe organ will be dedicated at the Central Community Church of Columbus. This will be the feature of the Annual Homecoming celebration of the congregation.

The dedicatory organ recital will be presented by Glenn Grabill, A.A.G.O., former head of the Music Department of Otterbein College. The recital begins promptly at 8:00 p.m. Mr. Grabill will play the following:

"Fugue in D Major" — Johannes S. Bach; "Organ Suite" —Jac. Bonset, Op. 67, (a) Prelude Festivo, (b) Romance, (c) Carillon, (d) Fantasie over het Koraal; "Dankt, dankt nu allen God"; "Coral Prelude", "A Lovely Rose is Blooming" — Johannes Brahms; "Will O' the Wisp" — Gordon Balch Nevin; "Prayer" — H. Stark.

Following the recital, the Reverend Rudy H. Thomas, pastor will lead in the service of dedication. The new organ is a gift of a faithful member of the church who chooses to remain anonymous until such time as the minister has been instructed to reveal the identity of the donor. The new pipe organ includes a set of beautiful Deagan Chimes and was installed by the Henry Durthaler Pipe Organ Service.

The Central Community Church is the oldest church building still in use in Columbus. It is interesting to note that the old pipe organ that has just been replaced was eighty-two years old.

Following the recital and service of dedication the congregation will retire to the social rooms of the church for refreshments and a program of entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Neff and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Heintz are co-chairmen of this annual event

Television Installed At Walters Grill

Television has been installed at Walter's Grill, 1203 Parsons Ave. corner of Thurman. Mr. Bell, the ever-genial host, says that this past week has been a trying one for him, due to the World Series. His popular grill was jam-packed every afternoon at game time.

Mr. Bell, answering to the whims of customers, was kept very busy tuning in his set, some wanting a dark contrast, some a lighter one, some wanting different stations and then there were others who just sat and agitated, causing Gaylord grief to no end, it's being said that Mr. Bell lost 25 lbs. in a round about way, the past week, but we're sure that everyone will agree that Gaylord is the perfect host. P. S. May we note that along with television, Ruth Wintera is at the organ nitely and that fine food and beverages are served at popular prices.

The Owls, piloted by Captain Eddie Holbrook, had rough sledding in downing a stubborn and determined Panther by a score of 7-6 in the South Side YMCA Middleweight Football league game played at Southwood Field.

The Owls score came early in the second period when fullback "Butch" Blackburn plunged the center of the Panther line. Holbrook scored the extra point on an end run.

The Panthers, disorganized, due to lack of practice, collected themselves at half time and came back threatening in the third quarter as Bill Bernhard took a 15-yard pass to the one-foot line. Carl Heinz took the ball on a line buck to score the Panther's lone touchdown.

For your convenience, sales tax stamps may be left at the following city fire houses throughout the South Side: Parsons Ave., Livingston Ave., Thurman Ave., Fulton St., or at the South Side Booster.

Let's get him that dog by Christmas as it will be used to help him make a living.

South Siders In Boys' Choir

When members of the Columbus Boychoir left Tuesday, Oct. 4 to give a concert in Bellaire, Ohio, they were starting a season's tour which includes no less than 75 out-of-town engagements. By the end of this fifth year of touring, the boys will have given more than five times as many out-of-town concerts as during their first year.

Herbert Huffman, director of the famed Boychoir, accompanied the boys on the tour and directs each of the 75 concerts. Points to be covered by the group extend from Holdrege, Neb., in the west, where they will be singing on Oct. 31, to Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, Canada, in the northeast, scheduled for Mar. 3. Cities throughout the midwestern states, the South, and parts of the East Coast will also be included in this year's itinerary.

In many cases visits to various cities along the route will give the boys an opportunity to renew friendships made on previous concert tours, for by this fifth year of touring the Columbus Boychoir has established a definite reputation for good music, and repeat performances are common occurrences with them. In a number of instances, upon returning to a particular city, the boys find that as a group they have attained one of their principle ideals—that of inspiring the establishment of similar choral groups throughout the country.

Although the personnel of the Columbus Boychoir stands at 114 this year, only 34 of these will be on tour at a time. Those chosen to sing outside of Columbus are mainly students in the 7, 8 and 9 grades, who have received one to two years previous training at the Columbus Boychoir School.

The 1949-50 season for out-of-town engagements is divided into three sections, with the fall tour running from Oct. 4 through Nov. 10; the winter tour from Jan. 9 through Feb. 6, and the spring tour from Feb. 13 through March 22. At the conclusion of the tour, the group returns to the school for further study and local concerts, and other members of the choir take their place on the road.

South Side Boys attending the Columbus Boychoir School this year include: Harold Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Martin, 224 E. Moler St.; Eugene Barban, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Barban, 1123 S. Champion Ave.; Robert Hart, son of Mr and Mrs. R. E. Hart, 598 E. Whittier St.; Ronald Huisr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Huiss, 789 City Park Ave.; Larry Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs Ludwig Myers, 443 Stewart Ave.; Leroy Bauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Bauer, 384 Reinhard Ave.; Landon Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Dunn, 1826 S. Rucher St.; Earl Love, son of Mr. and Mrs. Opher Love, 362 East Jackson St.

St. Ladislaus Wedding Scene

Miss Mary A. Abram, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Abram, 1827 Bruck St., exchanged wedding vows with Mr. Carl P. Yenichek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yenichek, 1876 S. 4th St., on Sept. 10, at 9:30 a.m. in St. Ladislaus Church with the Rev. Fr. Riehl officiating. White gladioli, palms and seven-branch candelabra trimmed the altar.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride was attired in a white slipper satin gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline edged in seed pearls. A sweetheart shaped tiara of orange blossoms held in place the illusion veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Pauline Abram was matron of honor in a pale pink dress of lace marquisette and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses completing her attire. Mrs. Hermena Nelson, sister of the bridegroom, wore a yellow dress of marquisette and lace and headdress of yellow pompons.

Mr. Anthony Yenichek was best man for his brother. Ushers were Mr. Charles Abram, brother of the bride, and Mr. Leor Nelson, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride is a graduate of South High School. The bridegroom attended schools in Bellaire.

Coddington has been appointed to work in an advisory capacity with the new officers in the Young Peoples Group, and new Young Parents are being groomed for the Cub Pack. All boys interesetd in entering the Cub Pack, Scout Troop, or Senior Troop can leave their names at the Church Parsonage. Michigans Upper Peninsula By Frank "Dude Ranch" Koch

Now don't start climbing all over me about not having a column last week—let me explain the thing. I missed the boat! You know how it is. You've probably missed a boat at one time or another. No? (They got me talking their language up here.)

Last Sunday. (I was interrupted at this point by Mr. and Mrs. "Duke" Fischer of the Sycamore Fischers and "Whitey" Frank Mehler of City Park Ave., Columbus & Buckeye Lake. The Fischers also have a cottage at Buckeye.)

Last Sunday, the Norman Yoders, the Dick Wrights, Yours truly and the two Koch boys, Dickie and Bobby, visited Mackinac Island and had a wonderful time.

We missed the two o'clock ferry to the Island from St. Ignace so had to take the 3:30 one. We ran into a crowd of last minute visitors who wanted to see what goes on the Island with horses, buggies, bicycles, etc., before starting on their journey homeward and back to the old grind. The bulk of this vacationing crowd comprised many nationalities. Some well dressed, some in our class and some that probably figured they had just as much right to go to the Island as we did since they had the dough for transportation.

You see a lot of characters over on the Island. Many of you, for instance, haven't seen those fellows who push a two-wheeled barrel around the streets to gather the "alley apples" behind the buggies & surries—horse drawn. The aroma down town takes you back to the days when there were no brewery motor trucks and automobiles in Columbus. The only thing I personally missed was the sparrows that tried to beat the street cleaners to the draw. It was cloudy and we had a little rain while on the Island, so maybe the birds were working the Stable area.

We didn't get a chance to inspect the interior of the American Fur Company's Warehouse which is the nucleus of the Astor Millions, but viewed this building and many others from the outside. Many of the old taverns and dwellings still stand as they did hundreds of years ago. They were first constructed of Log and later (maybe 100 years ago) they were covered with clap boards which still remain unpainted and warped today. The old hand carved signs still hang in front of these colonial taverns of years gone bye.

Fort Mackinac (Michillimackinac) in all its majesty, stands overlooking the harbor as you approach to land. Picturesque homes can be seen atop the huge cliffs as you approach the west side of the Island from St. Ignace. The Mackinac Lighthouse can be seen almost immediately after disembarking from the Dock No. 1 at St. Ignace. A sail boat can be seen to the port side of the boat. It was still coming in as Dick, Bobby and Yours truly were setting on the 887 foot long veranda of the spacious Grand Hotel—one and one-half hours after we landed, ourselves, in the harbor at the foot of Fort Mackinac.

While the Yoders and the Wrights were gathering souvenirs in the various shops down town, the boys and myself inspected the Grand Hotel's newly decorated lobby and Terrace room. The boys had their first experiance of walking on a $22,000 carpet installed in the lobby and terrace room this spring by President-Owner Mr. W. Stewart Woodfill whom we failed to contact. We however, spent some time with his secretary whose name we failed to learn. She was a most congenial hostess, and assured us Mr. Woodfill would contact us at a later date.

The journey (on foot) from the Grand Hotel downtown was all down hill and the going was good. We all agreed, before separating, to take the 6:15 boat back to the mainland. Arriving at the pier at five-ten, I decided to do a bit of window-shopping to kill time, and landed in the Lounge of the Chippewa Hotel, there to sip a bit of wine 'til the boat took off. Leaving the Cocktail Lounge at the Chippewa Hotel, I learned the boat was filled and left ten minutes earlier. The Yoders and the Wrights were on the 6:15 but we had to take the last boat to St. Ignace. Again, I missed the Boat. We lost Bobby three times on board and as we pulled into St. Ignace he was not on the upper deck. Was he overboard? We later learned he was caught in the current of humans and had to stay with them or else get trampled underfoot. Did he get heck? What do you think?—

Miss Altenbach Is Married

At 9:30 a.m. September 10th, in St. Leo's Catholic Church, the marriage of Miss Kathleen Altenbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Altenbach, of 298 East Molar St., to Preston B. French, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston B. French, Sr., 441 S. 6th St., was solemnised.

The altar was decorated in fall flowers, and Rev. Father Schmidt performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of heavy ivory satin designed with a sweetheart neckline, and long train. Her veil was illusion attached to a tiara of seed pearls. Her bridal bouquet was made of white carnations, which surrounded a lavender orchid.

Miss Joan Federer was maid of honor, and wore a gown of sandalwood colored satin. With this she carried purple asters. The Misses Ann Phillips, cousin of the bride, Miss Marylyn Dolder, and Miss Doris Lauber, were bridesmaids, and were gowned in lavender satin. They carried arm bouquets of purple asters. Miss Wilma Vass, sister of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid, and was gowned in ivory taffeta, trimmed in lavender net. She carried purple and white asters.

Mr. Roland Beardsley, 441½ S. 6th St., was best man for Mr. French. Mr. John Maloney, Mr. James French, Mr. James Bauman, and Mr. Jerry Green, acted as ushers. Mrs. Marjorie LoSchiavo was soloist for her sister's wedding.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Altenbach were hosts at a wedding breakfast, which was served by Mr. and Mrs. Walters, of the Walters Cafe, 1312 S. High St.

A reception was held at the bride's home from five until nine that evening. Miss Patti Smelser, and Miss Patty Draught acted as hostesses. At the close of the reception, the bride and groom left for a short wedding trip. On their return, they will be at home at 427¼ Frebis Ave.

The bridal couple are both graduates of St. Mary's High School. The bride is employed by the M. & R. Dietetics, and the groom is an employee of the Columbus Citizen.

Among the pre-nuptial parties given for the bride, was a miscellaneous shower given by Miss Sally Elson, 162 W. Weber Rd., a personal shower given by Miss Doris Lauber, and Miss Marylyn Dolder, and a linen shower given by Miss Joan Federer. A spinster dinner was given at the home of Miss Ann Phillips for the bride's attendants.

Dr. Drake Appointed Member of Defense

Dr. Leland N. Drake, Principal of Mound Junior High School, recently received notice of his appointment as a member of The United States Armed Forces Institute Committee. The appointment which is for three years, was made by the Secretary of Defense through the Personal Policy Board at that organization.

The USAFI is composed of eighteen nationally known educators selected at large throughout the nation. Dr. Drake is the first and the only member that has been selected for this important Committee from the State of Ohio. The USAFI is in reality a National Board of Education which determines the policies and practices of the educational program for more than 45,000 men and women in the Armed Forces.

Each member of the Armed Forces of this country is privileged to pursue courses on the Junior and Senior High School and the College level, during their free time toward graduation from their local school. The USAFI Committee is composed of Army, Navy and Air Force Officers, together with civilian educators.

The first meeting of this committee for this year will be in Madison, Wisconsin, October 14th and 15th and Dr. Drake will be in attendance.

Principal Drake's appointment came at the recommendation of the National Association of Secondary Schools on the committee.

Dr. Drake is the State Co-ordinator of The Ohio High School Principals' Association and is responsible for the organization and development of the numerous School Principal Discussion Groups over the State of Ohio.

He is a graduate of Ohio Northern University at Ada, Ohio, and has received a Masters and a Doctor of Philosophy Degree from Ohio State University.

For the past several years, Dr. Drake has engaged in Summer School teaching at Miami University, Athens, Ohio; and the New York State College for Teachers at Albany, New York.

His professional experience includes work as a teacher, principal and superintendent in the schools of Ohio. He has been in the Columbus Public Schools for over twenty-five years and for the past twelve years he has been principal at Mound Junior High School in this city.

One of Dr. Drake's interesting hobbies has been in connection with athletics, and he has been an official at the State Basket Ball Tournament since it started 28 years ago. He is a familiar figure at the score keeper's table each year at this affair.

Dr. Drake is also serving as a member of the Advisory Committee of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Dr. and Mrs. Drake live at 195 Tibet Road.

"Anna Lucasta" At Southland Theater

A dramatic furor on the stage, "Anna Lucasta" is coming to the Southland Theatre Friday thru Saturday, with Paulette Goddard in the title role and Broderick Crawford, William Bishop, John Ireland and Oscar Homolka co-starred. The co-feature at the Southland Theatre will be "Make Believe Ballroom," with Frankie Laine and Jerome Courtland.

"In The Good Old Summertime" At Southland

"In the Good Old Summertime," a delightful musical in color by Technicolor, is coming to the Southland Theatre. The star roles are played by Judy Garland and Van Johnson.

The story has Judy as an employee in the music store owned by S. Z. Sakall. Romantic and lonely, she has inserted a newspaper advertisement inviting correspondence with an intelligent young man. Unknown to her, Van, who has answered the ad, is head clerk in the store and is completely in the dark as to the identity of his feminine correspondent. Judy, at first convinced that she detests the patronizing and cocky Van, changes her mind when she believes him to be on the verge of marrying pretty Marcia Van Dyke.

The co-feature at the Southland Theatre will be "Air Hostess," starring Ross Ford and Gloria Henry.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, "The Secret Garden" starring Margaret O'Brien. It's a completely charming story of childhood frustrations and triumphs, filmed in an English background. Forbidding walls, hints of murder, prying eyes of servants, none of these frightened her. Cries in the night and strange sounds, secret meetings, adventure on Castle grounds. Three youngsters find happiness. This picture should be appealing to both adults and children. Also on the bill is "Arson, Inc." A story so tense you will be on the edge of your seats with suspense.

"So people avoid you because you're broke."

"Yes, nobody loves a flat man."

* * *

Tom: "Why did Gloria sell her leopard-skin coat?"

Jim: "She needed spot cash."

Amateur Night At The Russell Theater

Every Thursday is Amateur Night at the Russell Theater. The Talent is getting better every week. Al Shane, the master of ceremonies is making quite a hit with the Thursday night audiences. Winners are selected by the applause of the audience and are given prizes. If you can entertain in any manner, go to the manager of the Russell Theater, Parsons and Innis, and plan to participate on the Thursday Night Amateur Hour. There are many youngsters (oldsters, too) here on the South Side who are talented. All they need is a little encouragement to make the necessary plans to appear on the Russell stage. Remember, many stage, screen and radio stars received their start as the winner of an Amateur Hour program.

Ideal Sportsman Club

The Ideal Sportsman Club had a nice trip to Lake Erie last Sunday, the weather was nice and the lake was smooth but the fish did not bite very good Virgil Rhodes caught a nice mess of perch. John Sabo, the president, and Carl Berke, the Treasurer, did not even get a nibble. Harry Coverdale landed a 3¼ lb. pickerel which gave him some fun before he landed it, that was the only one he caught. Coming back in, there were about 30 sea gulls following the boat and John Sabo threw everything but the Pilot overboard for them to eat. Jim Danaher is the champ fisherman tho. He snagged two perch just pulling in his line to see if he had any bait on it. The club is planning to hold its next meeting at Blacklick Woods and have a wiener roast before the meeting.

"Massacre River" at The Ideal Theater

Sunday and Monday the Ideal Theater will show "Massacre River", with Guy Madison and Cathy Downs. To give this color picture spectacle and scope there are plenty of cavalry and Indians. The rugged scenic backgrounds are filmed in the wastelands of Arizona. Treachery and savage fury mark the winning of America's farthest frontier. The second picture is "Trouble Makers" with Leo Gorcy and the Bowery Boys. News and two cartoons complete the bill.

New Classes Meet Tuesday

The Henry George School of Social Science, a non-profit, non-political educational institution, chartered by the University of the State of New York, will offer a free economics course for men and women at the South Congregational Church, 16 E. Stewart St., beginning Tuesday evening, Oct. 18th at 7:30 p.m.

This course consists of ten weekly classes. Enrollments will be accepted only during the first and second sessions. Those interested in domestic and world problems are urged to attend, especially the first session, to investigate this free course of study. There will be no written work or exams; only stimulating round-table discussion in which everyone participates. Discussion leader for the group will be Mrs. Harry Merz, 743 Beech St., telephone Ga-0584.

The textbook used for the course will be the widely read classic on political economy, "Progress and Poverty," by Henry George.

Subjects to be covered include: The Distribution of Wealth; The Cause of Depressions; Are There Too Many People?; What Regulates Wages?, etc.

"I Remember Mama" at South High School

Mama Hanson will be sitting down at the kitchen table to count out the money in Papa's pay-envelope—and incidentally teaching the Hanson children the value of money—when the Dramatic Department of South High School put John van Druten's Broadway hit, "I Remember Mama" into rehearsal this week. The comedy-drama about a Norwegian immigrant's family and their adventure in San Francisco at the turn of the century is scheduled to be presented at South November 17 and 18 at 8:15 p.m.

Toni Hightong will be seen as Mama in South's presentation of this warmly human play which ran in New York for 713 performances, with Mady Christians in the title role. It is the industrious and resourceful Mama who copes with the problems of making both ends meet at she brings up her son and three daughters. There is Nels, the oldest, to be played here by Ralph Foster; Christine, the matter-of-fact Hanson, to be played by Donna McGerney, Ruth Kroff; and Dagmar, the youngest, to be portrayed by Marilyn Albert, Carolyn Perry; and Katrin, the narrator, is played by Mary Smith.

Adding to the nostalgic qualities of a play which mirrors the joys and heartaches of most American families are such characters in "I Remember Mama" as the snooping Aunts Sigrid and Jenny, to be played here by Joann Storts, Virginia McBee, and Pat Hills, Dorothy Rigney, and the blustering but good-hearted Uncle Chris, who will be portrayed by George Goldberg.

Other roles in South's production of "I Remember Mama" have been assigned to John DeLong, Mary Ann Bellman, Hilda Baker, Ed Cherryholmes, Jim Robey, Herb Kaufman, Fred Babbert, Don Callander, Norman Wolfe, Chestora Hall, Carolyn Frederick and others.

Softies Defeat Kittens 19 - 13

A rough and ready Marshmallow Softy Heavyweight team of the South "Y" Junior High Football League fought desperately to come from behind in the last quarter to defeat a smooth running Kitten aggregation at a score of 19 to 13 in a league game played Wednesday, Oct. 5, at Southwood Field.

All three "Softie" touchdowns were made on line plunges by hard driving left halfback George Scurlock. Don Wirtz converted the lone extra point on an off tackle play.

Fullback Don Wright carried the honors for the losers and scored their first touchdown in the opening quarter. Left half, Frank Markum intercepted a "Softie" flat pass and raced 30 yards untouched for the Kittens second touchdown. Wright plunged the line for the extra point and the half ended with the Kittens leading 13 to 16.

RAMBLERS DEFEAT MT. VERNON 13—10

ST. MARY'S BOUNCES BACK TO WIN

After being held to ties for two straight weeks the Ramblers of St. Mary's broke back into the win column with a hard fought victory over Mt. Vernon Yellowjackets on the Mt. Vernon gridiron.

The first quarter was a nip and tuck affair with neither team being able to make a first down. But as the second quarter began the Yellow Jackets recovered a St. Mary's fumble on the Saints 27 from where they marched on to score with quarterback Don Sweet carrying over from the 3 on a quarterback sneak. The kick by Jerry Noonan the Mount Vernon kicking specialist split the uprights to make the score 7 to 0 in favor of Mt. Vernon.

But the Blue and Gold were not to be denied as they came back strong and started a drive on their own 39 which carried them to the Mt. Vernon 3 yard line from where Harry Brown plunged for the six pointer. Brown skirted the Yellowjackets left end for the extra point. The drive which netted 61 yards was highlighted by sensational running by the Rams fullback Dick Schaefer.

The Rams started another drive from their own 37 late in the second quarter but were only able to get to the Mt. Vernon 6 yard line before time ran out. The scoreboard reading Mt. Vernon 7, St. Marys 7.

The third quarter was played the same as the first with neither team being able to start a touchdown drive.

With five minutes elapsed in the fourth quarter Jerry Neonan kicked a 37 yard field goal to put his team out in front by the score of 10 to 7.

Mt. Vernon sensing victory held the Ramblers intact until the clock read 25 seconds remaining when Bob Dolder faded back to the Mt. Vernon 40 and threw a desperation pass to the 10 where Dick Schaefer made a circus catch and raced to the one with the clock showing 5 seconds remaining. Harry Brown then received a pitchout from Dolder and scored standing up as the gun sounded.

New Sandwich Treat Featured at D & F Snack Bar

The new D & F Snack Bar, located at 1352 Parsons Ave., which opened recently, is really something to write about.

Dolores and Fred Dunlap, the owners, have spared no expense to make the Snack Bar a delightful place to eat breakfast, luncheon or that evening snack.

The Building has been completely remodeled with a stone front. The interior is finished in knotty pine. The floor is asphalt tile of a color which blends beautifully with the knotty pine walls. All fixtures are of glistening stainless steel, arranged to give the utmost in efficient service. Soft leather stools line the Bar. There is also a stand up counter for those in a hurry. Soft florescent lighting, reflected by huge mirrors and music from the lovely new Seeburg 100 record player, gives the place a charming atmosphere.

Despite the newness and charm of the Snack Bar service is fast, the foods deliciously prepared and appetizingly served. The Snack Bar is introducing to Columbus a new sandwich which is popular in the East. It's a pure Beef Wiener Sandwich on a grilled Bun with saurkraut. They also feature corn cakes, which are hard to find on the menu around these parts, also crisp golden brown waffles.

The "Snack Bar" opens at 7 a.m. and closes at 11:30 p.m.

Fred Dunlap, a residential builder, designed and remodeled the Snack Bar himself. Mr. and Mrs. Dunlap reside at 1920 Elsworth Avenue.

The Restaurant Business is a new venture for them. They invite and welcome anyone to inspect complete facilities at all times.

Have You Any Sales Tax Stamps?

Certainly there are a lot of sales tax stamps laying around in homes throughout the South Side that could be put to a good use.

You have just the place for them when you donate them to Frank Hutchinson so that he can get a dog to lead him.

He lost his eye sight while in the city fire department.

Now with a small pension he has to sell notions and greeting cards to the people of our city.

He needs the dog to lead him.

Sales Tax Stamps which he can turn into money, will, we hope, make him a Christmas present of a guide dog.

The stamps may be left at the Fulton St., Thurman Ave., Livingston Ave., or Parsons Ave. Fire Department Houses, or at the South Side Booster.

Council Approves School Levy

The Council of South Side Organizations went on record last Thursday night, approving the 4-mill School Levy.

Two mills of this levy will go to replace the old two mill levy, while the additional two mills will go toward buying new equipment and for special services toward improving old schools.

We of the South Side Booster wish to add our endorsement also.

First Report Of Community Chest Fri.

The first report meeting for the Community Chest campaign is to be held Friday noon, October 21, at the Southern Hotel. Elliot Lawrence and his 17-piece orchestra, currently at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel, will supply the program. Volunteers will lunch—at their own expense—in the large ballroom, while accounts are being tabulated and division totals compiled. The drive will continue through November 4.

This year's quota or the South Residential Division is $6,400 and our chairman Mrs. William Papler, 1018 Studer Ave., will, of course, try to turn in the largest percentage for the day.

Three of the downtown network stations will give the programs for subsequent report meetings which will all be held at the Southern Hotel. The second is scheduled for Tuesday noon, Oct. 25, with WCOL furnishing the entertainment. The third, Friday noon, Oct. 28, will have a program by WBNS.

The Georgia Crackers, WHKC, who made a hit last year will return to entertain at the Halloween luncheon, Monday, October 31, when members of Speakers Bureau and Junior Speakers Bureau are to be honored.

Ideal Sportsmen Club News

The Ideal Sportsmen took a fishing trip to Lake Erie Sunday, Oct. 2. Weather on the lake was fine and fishing was fair. Harry Coverdale got a 3½-lb. pike. It still seems Carl Berke can't get any fish.

The next meeting is to be Oct. 25th. This is a very important meeting. The By-Laws are to be made up at the meeting and other important business. Did you get your chance on the shot gun? You should stop in at the Ideal Sporting Goods, 1575 Parsons Ave., and see it.

ST. MARY'S PURCHASES NEW BUS

This is a picture of the bus the Ramboosters purchased for the sole purpose of transporting the team to the games.

St. Mary's Ramboosters Are Active

The Ramboosters of St. Mary's are again in full swing. They are the group which were formed last year at St. Mary's to assist with the athletic program.

New membership cards for $1, for 1950-51, are being distributed. This year again the general meetings will be held for all the members. Notification will be in this paper in advance.

St. Mary's football team's clubhouse has been undergoing a facelifting. A new heating system has been installed, the showers and lavatory fixtures have been replaced. In general, it has been completely done over. The cost for material alone will be close to $2500.00—

To offset this bill, the Ramboosters are trying to complete the distribution of chances on the new "Dodge" Wayfarer Sedan to be given away at the Alumni-Varsity game on Thanksgiving Day.

If you are interested in helping the school and its team, get in touch with Father Jones, the coach, Dick Coyle, or Mr. Lou Dimel.

St. Mary's have been on the way up for the last few years. The team has had a good following, and is known for its fighting spirit, so let's get behind the team as team supporters for win or lose they are real scrappers.

In connection with its annual Membership Drive from October 3rd to October 14th, 1949, the Siebert St. P.T.A. had a Potluck Luncheon for the Teachers and Room Mothers at noon October 13, 1949 at the school. The food was most delicious and plentiful and sincere thanks are offered to all those who either contributed food or their services to make this Luncheon such a success. More than fifty people were present. In order to get better acquainted both the teachers and mothers introduced themselves.

Mrs. Lee Fisher, President of the Siebert St. P.T.A. and Mrs. D. M. Crawford, Principal of the school, spoke in greeting to the guests. A most enjoyable time was had by all at this friendly get together

After the Luncheon a regular Executive Board Meeting was held and plans for the coming Bazaar were discussed.

SOFTIES EDGE KITTENS TO CINCH CHAMPIONSHIP

Marshmallow Softies squeezed through a touchdown in the final quarter to win the Heavyweight Championship of the South Side Y Junior High Football League from a determined Kitten eleven by a score of 6-0.

The game was the second meeting of the two teams and the Softies were victorious in each game by only a six point margin.

Left Tackle Roger McDaniel of the Softies was the difference in the driving force of the two teams. McDaniel played a bang-up game from the start to finish.

George Scurlock, Dick Baker, and Don Wirtz shared the ground gaining for the Softies; while Larry Evans, "Church" Rappold, and Frank Markum tried desperately for the losers.

The Softies lone score came on a pass from Wirtz to Frank Reeves.

South High's student body—ever-faithful and spirited despite the school's woeful football fortunes of the past few years—had something to cheer about about Friday night at Central. The Bulldogs were supposed to be buried under a barrage of Central touchdowns, but the favored Pirates were happy to get out with a 13-6 decision.

In recording their third straight City League win, the Buccaneers found a lot of unexpected resistance and plenty of offensive potency in South's line-up, but Central's diversified attack and effective line play, settled the issue.

The crowd was brought to its feet several times as each team put on persistent scoring drives. Stout-hearted goal line-stands and fumbles within the 10-yard lines thwarted all but three touchdown drives.

Central started out strong. In the opening minutes, the Bucs were knocking on South's door, but were repulsed. The next Central spurt, however, paid off. Halfback Harry Hoffman flipped a nifty 41-yard pass to Quarterback Emilio Ricevuto to make it 6-0, Hoffman adding the odd-point on a run.

The first Bulldog growl came at the outset of the second period. Central was on the way to another score, but a fumble on the eight-yard stripe was pounced on by South, which seemed to spark the Southerners. It was at this point that the game's prize eye-opener took place. On a daring pass play, Quarterback Charlie Robeson heaved one to the ailing Halfback Marion Wright. The play went for 39 yards and would've gone all the way if it wasn't for Central's speedy safety man, Harry Hoffman, who caught Wright from behind, six yards from a touchdown.

Central held, however, but South wasn't to be denied. The visitors took a punt and started all over. This time, Wright went the needed 30 yards, on an off-tackle cutback. Dick Ruh's attempted conversion failed.

Central was on the move again before a pass was intercepted on the South eight, just before half-time.

The Pirates put across their clincher in the third period. An 83-yard drive was climaxed with another accurate Hoffman pass, a 25-yarder to Howard Jackson. Hoffman tried to run for another extra point, in vain.

Fullback Adam Smith's vicious line-bucking piled up a lot of Central yardage in the last half as the Pirates threatened repeatedly, but the excellent punting of South's Ruh kept his team out of trouble.

Shuffleboard Sweeps The Country

The greatest program of leagues formation in the history of table Shuffleboard is now in progress in most of the 48 states with thousands of players participating, according to Ken W. Poulsen, Director of American Shuffleboard Leagues, Inc., the sponsoring organization.

In more than 500 cities, towns and villages, players will form teams to compete for cash awards running into thousands of dollars derived from individual player membership fees. Approximately half of the players will be new fans entering league and tournament play for the first time.

Poulsen said, the winning teams in each state will meet in the city represented by the greatest number of teams for State championship play-offs. Winning finalists from these states will, in turn, meet in a city geographically located most convenient for all concerned, in order to determine the coast-to-coast championships.

Throughout the entire United States A.S.L. promotion is now under way. In the East, such Shuffleboard strongholds as Schenectady and Philadelphia alone are expected to produce several thousand players. Already, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Toledo, O., have many teams enrolled under A. S. L. Other strong shuffleboard cities entering teams are Detroit, Flint, Grand Rapids, Michigan, and nearby areas.

The Owls, quarterbacked by Tom Stedman, defeated a stubborn Panther eleven 7 to 6 to win the honor of representing the Barrett district in the Junior High Middleweight Football League. The Panthers scored first after blocking an Owl kick on the 3-yard line. Carl Heinz made the score on a quarterback sneak. Jim Reimenschneider failed to convert the extra point.

Trailing in the game, the Owls took to the air and scored their touchdown after a series of passes. Tom Stedman passed to Ray Adams for their lone touchdown. Stedman's pass to Eddie Holbrook scored the extra point to give the Owls their slim victory margin.

Carol Fellure and Lyman Lindsey were strong blocks in the Owl line, which Ronald Bango and Luther Ranft worked all the way for the losers.

Mrs. Swift To Speak On India

Mrs. Priyamvade Chitambar Swift, of Amritsar, the Punjab, India, well known Indian lecturer and educator, will make two appearances in the South Side next week. On Tuesday evening, October 25, she will speak at Thurman Avenue Methodist Church, at Thurman and South Washington avenues. And on Wednesday, October 26, she will speak at Gates - Fourth Methodist Church, at East Gates and South Fourth streets. Both services will begin at 7:30 p.m., and both will offer attractive programs of music and worship.

Mrs. Swift is the youngest daughter of the late Methodist Bishop Jaswant R. Chitambar and Mrs. Chitamber. Her father was the first Indian elected to the episcopacy of the Methodist Church and the first Indian President of Lucknow Christian College in India.

Born in Almora, United Provinces, India, where her parents were engaged in the work of the Methodist Church, Mrs. Swift had her early education in Isabella Thoburn High School and Isabella Thoburn College, Lucknow. Later she came to the United States and received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Baker University, and a Master of Arts in Education at Columbia University. She is a fluent speaker of English, Urdu, and Punjabi.

Returning to India, Mrs. Swift taught in the Government Girl's School in Bareilly, and then became head of the English Department of the Lahore Government College for Women, and more recently has been on the faculty of the Modern College for Women in Amritsar, East Junjab. She is now a member of the All-India Women's Conference and a member of the Executive Committee of its Amritsar Branch. She is also a member of the Refugee Relief Committee of East Punjab.

Mrs. Swift, now on a speaking tour of the United States, comes as a representative of one of the newest free nations of the world, India. She is truly a charming person, a brilliant and inspiring speaker, and a thoroughly informed interpreter of the trends and movements in our modern world. She dresses in the costume of her native India.

In these two engagements, Thurman Avenue and Gates-Fourth Churches are pleased to offer this significant opportunity to the people of the South Side. Mrs. Swift will give different messages each evening and everyone is invited to attend at both churches. There is no charge, but free-will offerings will be received.

Rev. Bielenberg To Give Lecture

An inspiring presentation, "Footsteps of the Creator" by the Rev. H. Bielenberg, noted Oil City, Pennsylvania, pastor and Color Division Chairman of the Photographic Society of America, will be given under the auspices of the Columbus Chapter of Valparaiso University Guild on Wednesday, October 26, 1949 at 8:00 P. M. in the Central High School Auditorium.

This unique presentation has received wide acclaim at approximately 225 places where it has been shown. Most of the color photos have been taken by Pastor Bielenberg in Venango County, Pennsylvania, some of which have been given awards in various international color slide exhibits. Many of Pastor Bielenberg's nature photographs have found acceptance in Nature Color Slide salons, and last year the clergyman ranked second in a national listing of Who's Who in Nature Slide Photography.

In "Footsteps of the Creator" Pastor Bielenberg will trace God's creative work in seed dispersal, in a stream as it aerates water, in the changing seasons, in the spider's web, in the balancing of oxygen and carbon dioxide in the air, in the construction of a hornet's nest, in the formation of ice, in the clouds, and in the pollination of flowers.

The presentation should leave all who attend the feeling that the footprints of God are seen in all things—from the most beautiful to the most commonplace.

Tickets may be secured from any member of the Valparaiso Guild or in the lobby of Central High School the evening of the presentation.

The Sickle Or Cross

A sound motion picture entitled "The Sickle or the Cross," that is "Communism versus Christianity," will be shown Sunday evening, Oct. 23 at 7:45 p.m. at Zion Lutheran Church, corner Mound and Third. Free will offering will be taken.

Wiegman To Deliver Festival Address

Dr. Frederick C. Wiegman, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church of Akron, Ohio, will deliver the festival address at the annual Reformation Rally of Lutheran Churches of Columbus and Franklin County the evening of October 30 in Memorial Hall.

The son of a Lutheran missionary superintendent, Dr. Wiegman was born at Wellsburg, Ia. He is a graduate of Midland College and Western Theological Seminary, both at Fremont, Nebraska. He received his Doctor of Divinity Degree from Wittenberg College in 1940. He is a former president of Midland College and Western Seminary.

An occasional contributor to religious publications, he is the author of "John the Baptist," "Church and State in the United States," "Fervency in Preaching," and "The Christian's Persuasion."

Yes, give enough to your Community Chest so that none of the 66 Red Feather agencies will have to curtail their services to those less fortunate because of lack of funds. Let's not let them down!

No one else can make your Red Feather pledge. It has to be you. So, won't you give enough for ALL. And give enough for a FULL YEAR.

Hungarian Church Dedicated Nursery

Dedication services for the newly organized Nursery were held Sunday, October 16th at the Hungarian Evangelical and Reformed Church parsonage, 365 Woodrow Avenue. The Sunday School marched in a body to the Nursery singing "Holy, Holy, Holy." The Rev. Nicholas Sewell, dressed in his robe, dedicated the Nursery and gave his blessing to this additional and long needed service. The lay-president, Joseph Gonczol explained the purpose of the Nursery as did the Superintendent of the Sunday School, Joseph Farkas. Sincere thanks were extended for the many generous donations. Hymns were sung both in the English and Hungarian languages. The Sunday School Teachers, Members of the Church Choir and about 55 members of the Congregation crowded into the parsonage for the dedication ceremony. There were seven babies and children in the Nursery this first Sunday.

The Nursery is under the direction of the Sunday School Superintendent and Teachers. This free "baby-sitting" service was started so that parents of young children could attend Church Services, knowing that their little ones are well taken care of. Each Sunday a volunteer Mother and an older girl Assistant, both dressed in white uniform and cap, are in charge. The Rev. and Mrs. Sewell were kind enough to turn over one of the rooms at the parsonage for the use of the Nursery. Furniture, toys, and a beautiful easy to keep clean nursery linoleum rug were all donated. Parents can bring their little children in anytime before the services and they will be kept until called for.

Under the active leadership of Mr. Farkas, the Sunday School attendance has been growing in leaps and bounds. There are four separate classes:— Kindergarten for children from 2 to 5, Primary, Junior and Confirmation Preparatory Classes. All teaching is in the English language. Last Sunday two of the classes had perfect attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Farkas and Mrs. John Komives, Sr., of the Sunday School Teaching Staff attended the Religious Education Clinic held September 26th, under the auspices of the Franklin County Council of Churches and explained the methods used in the Hungarian Church Sunday School; the awarding of red and gold stars for attendance and the bringing in of new pupils, the pre-school work with the Kindergarten children, the use of Religious and educational films on the first Sunday of each month and the Bible Drills, pamphlets and workbooks used, each Sunday. They were most highly commended by this Religious Education Clinic for their excellent and progressive work.

Parents of babies and small children, who wish to attend Church Services are most cordially invited to take advantage of this nursery held each Sunday at the parsonage. Children from 2 years and up are urged to attend Sunday School, each Sunday morning from 9:00 to 10:00 at the Church on the corner of Woodrow and Washington.

A SURPRISE

Mrs. Gautz of the Nursery came back last week from a trip to Michigan. She brought back with her candy and a pencil for each of the children at the Nursery. The candy was shaped like initials. We all liked it very much. The children were good while Mrs. Gautz was gone.

Robert Gallitin, Room 205

—R—

ROOM 101

Our Chapel program will be made up of songs, poems, and Bible verses. The theme of the program will be October. All of the children in our room will take part.

—R—

Mrs. Dellenbaugh chose Delores Griffith, Barbara Carl, Jacqueline Hylton, and Ray Stover to represent Reeb Avenue School in the art competition at the Columbus Art Gallery.

—R—

P.T.A. Family Night at Reeb is always a big affair. The date for our opening meeting is Thursday, October 27th. Our program for the evening is somewhat different than other years. We are urging every parent to plan to visit his child's room to see some of his work for every child will have specimen of school work on the top of his desk and visitors are earnestly invited to inspect this regular school work from 7:15 to 7:40. Our regular meeting starts at 7:45 in the auditorium at which time Reeb's 6th grade chorus will present some special musical numbers and Mr. Dwight Swisher, president of the Columbus Board of Education, will speak. Then, we will serve refreshments and give our parents more of an opportunity to get acquainted with other teachers and parents.

—R—

Our annual P.T.A. Membership Contest is now being conducted. Every child, whose parents join, will be shown a free film. The number of memberships, now on record, according to Mrs. John Sabo, membership chairman, is very encouraging. Send in your membership now so that your child will not be disappointed when the reward is shown.

—R—

Reeb Avenue School wishes to be on public record, the same as for the past seven years, for discouraging harmful and damaging Hallowe'en celebrating. As has been our custom previously, every room is talking over how to celebrate Hallowe'en in a proper manner and each boy and girl is being asked two things, namely: 1. Will you confine your Hallowe'ening to the two or three nights before Hallowe'en? and 2. Will you promise to do no damage to any person or property? The children, who will co-operate with us in conducting themselves properly and help in our neighborhood relations, will be permitted to come to school on the afternoon of Monday, October 31st, in costume and parade with the rest of the school along a route which will be announced in next week's Booster.

As we work with your boys and girls in trying to build good citizenship habits, will you, as parents, please go over these same points at home. If we continue to attack these mutual problems together, our achievements will continue to raise the standards of our Reeb neighborhood.

—R—

In connection with our Hallowe'en celebration, Reeb is offering prizes of Thrift or Savings Stamps to the prettiest and the funniest costumes worn by the pupils of our three groups. Parents will help by encouraging pupils to plan their costumes for Monday afternoon, October 31st, so that they will have a good chance of winning one of these prizes. A disinterested party will be here to judge the costumes immediately following our parade.

Boys State For 1950 Announced

Buckeye Boys' State, the annual self-government school operated by the American Legion of Ohio, will be held in 1950 at Camp Perry on Lake Erie, it was announced today at state Legion headquarters in Columbus.

The dates will be June 10-20 and the tuition fee per boy sponsored by local posts and co-sponsoring groups will remain at $30.

W. L. DeWeese of the Legion staff, who is dean of Boys' State, said the 14th school will be the first at a northern Ohio site. It was held the past three years at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, and previously was located at Miami University, Otterbein College, Ohio Wesleyan, and the state fairgrounds in Columbus.

While previous "states" were limited in size by the accommodations, the one at Camp Perry may for the first time pass the 1000 mark in enrollment, provided the Legion can secure enough qualified help for instruction and supervision, DeWeese said. More than 9000 high school juniors, selected for their leadership ability and grades, have attended the 18 schools held to date.

Decision to move Boys' State to Camp Perry was made by the commission in charge at a meeting held at Sandusky and the camp. It followed conferences with Maj. Gen. Lee M. Kreber, state adjutant general, and a survey of facilities by DeWeese and W. S. Konold of Columbus, known as the "father" of BBS in Ohio.

Robert R. Bangham, Wilmington, representative of the Ohio Manufacturers Association and former state finance director, was re-elected president of the commission. James V. Suhr, Cleveland attorney and former state Legion commander, was renamed vice-president.

General Kreber told the Legionnaires it is the desire of his office that Camp Perry, which normally is used only by the Ohio National Guard, become more useful to all the citizens of Ohio.

Miss Pringle—Mr. Wold Are Wed

White gladioli, southern smilax and candelabra decorated the altar of Hope Memorial Church Sept. 17 for the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Hedges, 2885 Neil-av., to Robert T. Pringle, 303 E. Gates-st. The Rev. A. J. Wold officiated at the 2:30 p.m. service.

The bride wore a gown of white slipper satin. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a tiara of white satin, and she carried a cascading bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and gardenias.

Mrs. Bert Moore as matron of honor for her sister, wore an aqua gown of taffeta and carried a cascade bouquet of shattered yellow gladioli and waxed ivy.

Kenneth McClintock was the best man and seating the guests were Wilford Slater and Bert Moore.

For the occasion Mrs. W. T. Pringle, 303 E. Gates-st, mother of the bridegroom, selected a dark green crepe dress and black accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of orchids.

After a trip to Canada, the newly married couple is residing at 94 N. Cassady-rd.

Twenty-nine having 100 percent and over. The two rooms having the highest percentage were Miss Boyer's room with 300 percent and over. Mrs. Hecter's room with 200 percent and over. Central Community Plans Dance

Central Community House, 333 E. Mound St., a Red Feather Agency, is planning to send children into its' neighborhood from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m to ask for canned foods. The food collected will be sent to the Franklin County Children's Home. It is felt that this will be more profitable to the children and the community than the usual Halloween practice of begging for pennies. Each child will be given a different street so that no family should be approached more than once.

A block Halloween celebration lasting from 7 to 10 the same night is also being planned by the agency. Traffic will be restricted on Mound Street between 6th St. and Grant Ave., during the occasion.

An orchestra will provide music for dancing, and concessions operated by the clubs of the agency will be available for entertainment and food.

Costume judging will be an added feature. The judges will be selected by members of the agency's council which is composed of a member from each group.

The public is invited to attend the block party and all residents in the area bordered by South High Street, East Broad Street, Parsons Ave., and Livingston Avenue, are urged to help make the canned food drive a success.

There are many talented people on the South Side who really should appear on the amateur programs. The Columbia Theatre presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, "Madam Bovary" starring Jennifer Jones. You've never met a woman like Emma, who spun one enchanted moment into a network of deceit, a story which could be any woman's shocking secret. Croatian Lodge Presents Tamburitza Music

The Entertainment Committee of The Croatian Lodge 310 has worked this past year, trying to bring to Columbus a variety of Tamburitza Music in an effort to stimulate the same interest in their music in Columbus, as is shown in so many cities throughout the country. This work has not been in vain, as at every lance can be found new faces. And, once these people have heard the songs and danced to the music that is so well loved by the Croatian People, they return again and again to listen and to dance. This fact is evident by the number of people who attend the dances, each subsequent dance bringing more than the preceding.

Now again, the Committee has gone all out to top even the best of its social events. On October 29, 1949, at The Croatian Hall, 377 Reeb Ave., Croatian Lodge 310 is staging another dance. The popular Radio and Recording Artists, "The Ponega Family Tamburitza Orchestra," from Girard, Ohio, will furnish the music. The Ponega's are well known in all Croatian Circles of Ohio and Pennsylvania thru their personal appearances and radio programs. For the many new friends who have found such enjoyment in the Tamburitza Music, we assure you this will be a real treat.

Dancing is scheduled from 7:00 to 1:00 a.m., with admission set at 75 [illegible]

South High Presents "I Remember Mama"

"I Remember Mama," the Broadway comedy-drama hit will open a two performance engagement at South High School Starting Thursday, November 17. Telling a tenderly human and humorous story of Mama and Papa Hanson who came from Norway to raise their family in San Francisco, this play by John van Druten which chalked up a record 713 performances in its New York run, will continue as a presentation of The Dramatics Department through Friday, November 18.

"It is like a mandarin dinner which lasts for three hours in which every dish among innumerable courses is perfectly prepared, perfectly served and designed to whet your appetite for the course that follows," wrote Burton Rascoe in reviewing "I Remember Mama" for the N. Y. World-Telegram. "It is just wonderful, enchanting, deeply touching at times, but mostly filled with the joy of life."

Toni Hightower will be seen here in the role of the industrious and understanding "Mama," who resourcefully manages on Papa's slim pay envelope to keep the Hanson household humming and to plan for the fulfillment of their children's dreams. Katrin, to be played here by Mary Smith, wants to be a writer, and Nels, the only son, to be played here by Ralph Foster, must be a doctor. Then there are the younger children, Christine, who will be acted by Donna McInerney and Ruth Kroff, and baby Dagmar, to be played by Marilyn Albert and Carolyn Perry.

Other characters in "I Remember Mama" who make its true-to-life story one that reflects the stories of most American families include the blustering Uncle Chris, whose fuming and fussing merely covers a really generous heart, to be portrayed here by George Goldberg; Aunts Sigrid and Jenny, neither of whom are shy in offering advice to Mama, to be played here respectively by Virginia McBee and Joann Storts and Pat Mills and Dorothy Rigney; and Aunt Trina, who finds romance at the age of forty-two, to be acted by Mary Ann Bellman and Hilda Baker.

Tickets are now on sale for 50c at the school or from any member of the Radio and Dramatics Department.

If you've gotten a little rusty, or if you have never tried it, come on down. October 29th at 7 p.m. is the time and The Croatian Hall, 377 Reeb Ave., is the place. Waterfowl Season Opens Friday

The Ohio waterfowl hunting season opens at 12 o'clock noon (EST) Friday, October 21.

After the first day the hunting hours will be from one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset. The season closes November 29, providing 10 more days than last year.

Hunters are advised by Division of Wildlife law enforcement officials to consult local newspapers for sunrise and sunset hours for the areas in which they plan to hunt.

Hunters over 16 years of age are required to purchase a federal stamp costing $2.00, available at U. S. Post Offices. The hunter is required to sign his name across the face of the stamp in ink, and carry such stamp while hunting. The stamp is required in addition to the regular Ohio hunting license.

Lester C. Bailey, law enforcement chief of the Division, advises hunters to have the stamp in possession but "don't attach it to the Hunting License."

It is illegal to hunt with shotguns of the automatic or repeating type capable of holding more than three shells. The plug used to limit the gun to three shells must be incapable of being removed without disassembling the gun. The use of rifles for waterfowl hunting is forbidden.

Waterfowl may not be taken by luring or enticing with grain or other feed or with the aid of live duck or geese decoys.

Bag limit per day for ducks is four with a possession limit of 8. For geese the daily limit is four of which two may be Canada geese, or two white-fronted geese, or one each of these species. The bag limit for coot has been reduced from 15 to 10 a day because of the reduction in population.

RAMBLERS TROUNCE HOLY FAMILY 46 — 0

BULLDOGS WALLOPED BY WEST 27 — 6

South's losing ways were still intact Friday night at West, but, as in previous meetings, the battling Bulldogs continued to give the opposition a lot of uneasy moments before conceding defeat. South fans visioned Win No. 1 for the Blue and Gray when Halfback Marion Wright completed a touchdown march with a 18-yard sprint to make it 6-0 early in the opening period. The last time South scored on West was in 1945.

South was still in front by that score with four minutes to go in the half, but two sudden bolts of lightning struck, and West was in front to stay. Clarence Golden tied it up with a 30-yard dash and Bob Birle put the twice-defending champs on top with a placekick.

Two minutes hadn't lapsed before the Cowboys added another six points, this time on a 35-yard pass play, with Birle pitching to Ronnie James. Birle again converted and the dye was cast.

James made his second TD in the final period, from the one-yd line. West completed its offense on a Bill-Thrush-to-Jim Rudolph pass, covering the necessary 15 yards for a score.

St. Mary's Too Much For Rosary

A devastating St. Mary's attack proved too much for the Red Raiders from Holy Family as the Ramblers rolled up a convincing 46-0 Saturday night at the South Mahaffey Stadium.

The first quarter saw St. Mary's score twice, the first tally coming on a pass from quarterback Bob Doider to Harry Brown from 15 yards out.

The touchdown was set up when Swinne trying to punt dropped the ball and was snowed under by a host of St. Mary tacklers on the 18 yard line.

The second was scored by Dick Schaefer from the two-yard line after a 25-yard drive.

The Ramblers tallied once in the second quarter when Schaefer broke loose on a thirty yard jaunt to score standing up. Bill Endres kicked all three extra points to make the score 21-0 at halftime.

The Blue and Gold scored four more times the second half, the first two coming on 5-yard runs by Doider and Art Schneider respectively.

The last two touchdowns were made by passes from freshman Jack Waldo to Ronnie Vogel. The plays netted 18 and 63 yards respectively.

St. Mary's gained 327 yards from scrimmage and completed 5 out of 8 passes three of them going for touchdowns.

Holy Family was held to a net yardage of 75 yards by the Rams defense.

ROOM 109

We were very pleased to have Miss Margaret Parsons from Ohio State University visit our room Friday. She will return two more times to help us with our work. Miss Parsons helped us choose a Hallowe'en picture for our wall. We have made many pictures for our room.

—R—

ROOM 112

We hope many parents will visit us at our Open House and see what a nice room we have to work and play in. The kindergarten lockers are receiving nice bright coats of paint. Several of the boys from Mrs. Jones' room are doing this work.

This makes our room bright and pretty. Mrs. Dellenbaugh's children are adding to the beauty of our room with lovely pictures of animals.

—R—

The following pupils have entered Reeb Ave. School during the past school month: Gloria Gallicchio, 462 Marion Rd.; Darlene Moore, 99 Barthman; Connie, Russell and George Vance, 1861 Bruck; and Joseph Shrader, 431 1-2 Marion Rd. We are always glad to have new pupils and will do everything that we can to help them like Reeb as well as we do.

—R—

Don't forget that to-night, Thursday, October 27, is Reeb's first "FAMILY NIGHT" of the school year. Your boy and girl has some regular classroom work on display on the top of the desk. Each desk has the pupils name so that you can readily see who has done the work on exhibit. Be sure to visit your child's room sometime between 7:15 to-night and 7:40. All parents should sign the room register in order to decide which room has the largest percent of parents present.

Our program, which starts at 7:45, will feature some special 6th grade choral work under the direction of Mr. Charles Crook, and a brief talk by Mr. Dwight Swisher, president of the Columbus Board of Education. A social time will follow. You can't afford to miss this opportunity to mix with other Reeb Ave. School parents.

—R—

Next Monday afternoon is the the time for Reeb's annual Hallowe'en Parade which will leave the building about 1:30, go west on Reeb to S. Fourth, north to Woodrow, east to Parsons, south to Reeb and west to school. Every Reeb Ave. pupil is urged to wear a costume, false face, and carry at least one noise-maker. This is a chance for them to let off steam and use some of that extra energy in a harmless manner. Please keep in mind that every child in the parade, has promised his teacher and principal that he will not Hallowe'en except on the two or three nights nearest the date and then will do no damage to person or property.

As soon as we return to the building, Mrs. Dorothy Weakley, 373 Southwood Ave., president of Southwood School P.T.A. will judge our funniest and prettiest costumes. The winners will be presented with 25 cent savings stamps.

—R—

While there will be no classes at Reeb tomorrow all of our staff will be attending the annual meeting of the Central Ohio Teachers Association which will be in session at the fairground Coliseum and the down town hotels.

Several weeks ago we wrote an article about Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Robey, Sr., and their hobby of raising roses. By mistake, we wrote Mr. and Mrs. George Robey, Jr. It seems this has caused George Jr. some embarrassment, so just to keep the records straight, George Jr. is still a bachelor and free as air. Hope this squares it for you, George, Jr.

School Levy Is Needed

This year as in previous years, voters will go to the polls to vote for the 4 mill levy. To correct a misconception shared by many people, the vote they cast will not be for a completely additional sum, but a renewal of an already standing 2 mills and 70c per $1,000 additional. This levy is money which insures the future of our city and state. This money goes to buy more modern equipment, more advanced beginning teaching talent, and better materials, so that the future leaders of America, now only school children, will have the best possible education.

As the mechinization of our country grows more complete and complex, so the problems of government become more complicated. A free nation cannot be an ignorant one. Surely the future leaders must not be guilty of ignorance. An ignorant nation is prey to all!

Vote for the 4 mill levy! Keep our schools on top! Create better schools for a better Columbus.

Lockers Needed

The newly-improved Mahaffey Stadium at South High School is now completed. A need for such an improvement had been mandatory for some time. Before South had no accommodations for visiting teams. During football season over a hundred boys had to use seven showers which were in a bad condition. The new improvement under the stadium consists of home and visitors dressing rooms and showers, officials dressing room and shower, coaches offices, equipment room and two public rest rooms. This was made possible by the people of the South Side and friends of South.

The approximate cost of the Stadium was $24,000 which was raised by selling bonds.

Lockers are needed to finish the dressing rooms. These will be purchased by $10 donations with the name of the donor inscribed on the locker.

"The Great Gatsby" At The Southland

"The Great Gatsby" which is coming Sunday to the Southland Theatre, is set in that flaming, irresponsible time that is known as "the jazz age" about which F. Scott Fitzgerald wrote so revealingly. It tells the tempestuous love story of a man of mystery and violence who crashes Long Island society to win back the girl who jilted him for a millionaire playboy. And it re-created the complete irresponsibility of the law-breaking, money-to-burn set who tore recklessly through life as though the party would last forever.

Alan Ladd portrays the part of Gatsby and Betty Field is the society girl. Also included in the cast are Macdonald Carey, Ruth Hussey, Barry Sullivan and Howard DaSilva and features Shelley Winters.

The co-feature at the Southland Theatre will be "Lost Boundaries" starring Beatrice Pearson and Mel Ferrer.

South Schedules Play November 17th

John Van Druten claims that he doesn't know the recipe for a successful play—and doubts that there is one. With or without a formula, Van Druten has been consistently turning out some of the theatre's most popular plays for the past two decades. One of his most endearing comedy-drama hits, "I Remember Mama," will open as a presentation of the Dramatics Department at South High School, Thursday and Friday, November 17 and 18.

Much of the appeal of "I Remember Mama" is due to the basic reality and humanity in the play's characters, who originated in Kathryn Forbes' best-selling book, "Mama's Bank Account." When Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II, who had chalked up remarkable records in the musical theatre field as the authors of "Oklahoma" and "Carousel," decided to venture into the dramatic field as producers, they chose van Druten to adapt Miss Forbes' book to the stage, confident that a writer of his rare imagination and stage craftsmanship would preserve all the book's warmly human charm in translating it into theatrical terms.

That audiences have approved van Druten's dramatization of the struggles and hopes of Mama and Papa Hanson, who came from Norway to raise their four children in San Francisco, is indicated by the play's sensational two-year run in New York, its highly successful road tour, and its more recent conversion to a film version.

The joys and heartaches of most American families are reflected in the richly humorous and tenderly poignant episodes of "I Remember Mama." There are the "budget sessions" at the kitchen table every week when Papa brings home his little pay envelope and Mama figures out the Hanson expenses—and, incidentally, gives the children some lessons in economics. There is the time when Mama is separated from baby Dagmar for the first time, when visitors are barred from the child's hospital room. There are the visits from the advice-giving aunts and the blustering but kind-hearted uncle, there are the plans and dreams for the children—there is the time that Uncle Elizabeth, the cat, miraculously is resurrected after a dose of concentrated chloroform.

Perhaps, as van Druten contends, there isn't any recipe for writing a stage hit, but fortunately for theatre audiences, so many good ideas have chosen van Druten that he has had more than two dozen successful productions, including "The Voice of the Turtle," "Young Woodley," "Old Acquaintance," and "There's Always Juliet." As for his perennially popular "I Remember Mama," South's presentation of the comedy-drama will include in its cast Mary Smith, Toni Hightower, John Delong, George Goldberg, Ralph Foster, Donna McInerney, Ruth Kroff, Marilyn Albert, and Carolyn Perry.

Tickets are on sale at school for 50 cents.

"Neptune's Daughter" At Ideal Theater

Sunday and Monday the Ideal Theater presents "Neptune's Daughter," a technicolor musical comedy with Red Skelton and Esther Williams. This picture should have appeal for a diversified audience. For those who want grace, beauty and romance there are Esther Williams and Ricardo Montalban; beautiful glamour girls in masterfully staged numbers; handsome sets and backgrounds and Technicolor photography. Those who seek music will thrill to Xavier Cugat's orchestra. And for all there is comedy as only Red Skelton can serve it. Also showing will be "Blazing The Trail" with Smiley Burnett and Chas. Starett. News and Cartoon complete the program.

Mention the Booster To Your Merchant

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theatre presents on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "Scene of the Crime" starring Van Johnson. Realism highlights this cops and robbers murder mystery. The realism manifests itself mostly in authenic true-to-character dialog and an engrossing insight into how a modern metropolitan police department functions in tracking down a slayer. Van Johnson though youthful for the role of the seasoned detective turns in an excellent performance. Here's the real like story of a new era of violence, a new kind of gangster on the loose, told with bullet-sizzling speed. Also on the bill is "Trail of the Yukon" starring Kirby Grant.

South Side Councils Big Halloween Party For Kiddies

The Council of South Side Organization are planning a huge party for the children of the South Side, at Schiller Park Shelter House, on Halloween, Monday, October 31.

The festivities will start at 6 p.m. and run to 8 p.m. for children under 6 years of age.

Prizes will be awarded for the funniest, prettiest and most original costumed children.

Starting at 8 p.m., and running to 10 p.m., the children from 6 to 12 years of age, will be entertained. There will also be prizes for the older children, the same as the younger ones.

All children will receive cider, doughnuts, and all-day suckers.

There will also be good motion picture comedy cartoons and other subjects.

Music will be furnished for dancing to round out the evening.

Over at the Barrett Jr. High School auditorium there will be round and square dancing starting at 8 p.m., for the teen agers. The teenagers are asked to mask.

These affairs have been so successful that the Council of South Side Organizations have now operated them for several years.

Last year, over 1,000 children attended the parties, and were a credit to our community.

Parents are invited to attend to see just how fine parties are.

Come out, kids, get those costumes ready, and be there on time.

Council Meets Tonight

The Council of South Side Organizations meets tonight at the South Side Y.M.C.A.

Old members are urged to attend to complete final plans for the Halloween Party.

We could never understand why children are too young to work under 18, but are old enough to drive a 3600-lb. car at 80 miles per hour.

ST. MARY'S LOSES TO ST. ROSE 26 — 13

St Mary's lost their first game the first time this season, losing to a powerful St Rose team from Lima before a near capacity crowd at the South Side high school stadium

The Rams started off strong scoring two touchdowns in the first four minutes of play The first score coming when Tom Skunza recovered a Lima fumble on the opening kickoff on the 25 yard line The Rams scored in three plays with Jim Moore scoring from the 10 Moore scored the second touchdown also, the time from scrimmage 3 yards out, climaxing a 90 yard drive

From this point on St Rose took complete command scoring four successive touchdowns The first coming on a yard plunge by Captain Joe Lawler The play being set up when Jim Stolle recovered a St Mary's fumble on the Rams 35 The conversion by Tom O'Connor was good

The Cardinals scored once again before the first half ended on a pass from Daley to Bourk, the play covering 50 yards, to tie the score 13 13 at halftime

The Cards started the second half by recovering a St Mary's fumble on the 1 yard line, from where Lawler scored after three tries. The kick was blocked to make the score 19 13

The final tally was scored on a 45 yard pass from Lawler to Joe Weger O'Connor kicked to make the final score Lead Lima St. Rose 26, St. Mary's 13

Those who were eating luncheon at the Swan Grill last Wednesday afternoon sure had a lot of laughs when the ladies bowling league which bowls there on that day showed up in Halloween costumes. Bonded Oil Opens New Station

Formal opening of the Bonded Oil Company's new service center at 650 E. Mound St. (corner of Parsons and Mound) is being held this week end, Saturday and Sunday.

The Bonded Oil Co. was organized in 1942 and since that time has successfully been operating service stations throughout this section of Ohio, in Huntington, W. Va., Ashland, Kentucky and Muncie, Indiana

The company has three other large service stations in Columbus. They are at 1000 W. Broad St., 1905 Cleveland Ave. and Long and Olentangy River Road. The main office and warehouse of the company are in Springfield, Ohio.

The Altman-Coady Construction Co., building contractors in Columbus, constructed this station. The latest building techniques were used in construction of the most modern service centers in Columbus.

This new service center is unlike somewhat differently from most service stations in that there are four (4) gasoline pump islands and all islands are perpendicular to the street. The islands are built in that manner for the sake of safety so that when a customer pulls onto the street he can easily see both ways before pulling out into traffic. The arrangement of the islands also lends itself to speedier service. This company has always prided itself on its service and operates on the theory, "If we are to be first in service, we must put service first."

The Bonded Oil Co. has a unique method of helping its customers cut the cost of their motoring dollar. By using the Bonded Customer Discount Card, Bonded's customers have been able to save from 4 to 40 cents on the gallon cost of operating a car.

Another outstanding feature of the Bonded Oil Co. is the $5,000 bond which the company has with one of the leading bonding companies. This bond is backed by all of the company's products and assures the customers of 1. Honest measure 2. No misrepresentation 3. Uniform quality. Published specifications of the company's petroleum products are printed on each station throughout the land.

Wm. Lee Ward, Pres. Beer, president of the Bonded Oil Co. said "We have built this station with the right kind of being better able to serve our customers more efficiently, faster and safer. We look forward to continued and increasing patronage."

Marion E. Beer is manager of the new station.

TIRE THAT NEEDS NO TUBE

Tire builder at B. F. Goodrich plant shows inner layer of thick, gummy rubber in crown of revolutionary new tire, one which requires no inner tube and at the same time is self-puncture-sealing. The tubeless tire when mounted, looks exactly like any other tire but has several other important differences.

The new puncture sealing tube is the dawn of the automotive [illegible] which was demonstrated here recently to press and radio officials. Patrick J. Cleary, president of the Goodrich [illegible] and Rubber Co., said the tube will be available to motorists [illegible] after the first of the year.

The new tube will [illegible] less than a safe-speed tire. It is designed to [illegible] a safe cruising speed, maintains correct air pressure for months and continues safe performance at high speeds with puncture sealing protection.

The new product has been tested under the most severe conditions during the past four years—in the laboratory, on taxi fleets, state police cars and on a special fleet of Goodrich cars, he said.

No date has been set for the wedding

[illegible] year worry in the Aquinas and South camps during pre-game confusion over whether or not the game would be hampered by the dense fog. Would the boys be able to see the ball? Would they see the high punts and the forward passes?

Well, the fog lifted enough for the game to start 30 minutes late, but it was only a few minutes after both coaches knew they were wrong. About two hours after they were positive. Final score, Aquinas, 34; South, 19. The game was played at South's Maloney stadium

Wright Starts Scoring

South scored first when Marion Wright climaxed a 76 mark march by racing over from the 11. La-Marr Lucas and Newt Thomas [illegible] immeasurably in the drive Dick Rob converted. Aquinas came right back with a 62 yd march highlighted by a 17 yd pass from Russ Reckling to John Masden for a score. The kick was missed.

This came the turning point of the game. Aquinas' kick-off bounced away from Marion Wright, and he tried to run it out of the end zone, but slipped and was tackled for a safety. That made it 8-7 On the ensuing kick-off, Aquinas' speedy Tommy Kearns, one of the outstanding performers in the game, streaked down the sideline for 67 yards and another TD. Eight points in less [illegible] seconds

Ed John Visconne presented the Terriers with a scoring opportunity midway in the third period by recovering a fumble on South's seven. Jimmy Miller had put South in a hole moments before by punting 48 yards to South's seven. Four plays later Reckling tossed to Jack Schmidt for the Aquinas touchdown.

The South lads rebounded quickly to stay within range of the Terriers They put on a 61-yd march, the eventual touchdown coming on a 28 yd pass from Quarterback Charlie Robeson to Wright.

Aquinas next expedition into pay dirt was the result of another pass from Reckling—this time to End Jerry Miller for 21 yards.

South tallied the final Terrier score when after Bob Liska recovered a Bulldog fumble on Aquinas 19 the speedy Aquinas raced 81 yards for a touchdown.

South concluded the scoring in the final quarter, driving downfield 67 yards in seven plays, Wright scoring from six yards out.

Aquinas had an edge in rushing, outgaining the Bulldogs 240 yards to 174 South's five completed passes in 10 attempts good for 113 yards outdid the 103 yard gained by Aquinas on seven completions in 16 attempts. First downs were tied at 11 apiece.

Education Is One of the Corner Stones Upon Which America Is Built

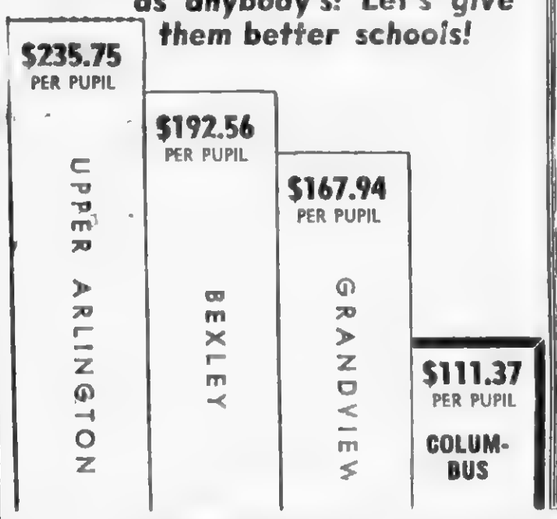
Education Is The Best Safeguard of Freedom

Our boys have fought all over the world for freedom and democracy. Schools are our most democratic institutions. Let's do our bit to support the schools. Our children and our neighbors' children have a right to expect an opportunity for an education which is so essential now.

Better EDUCATION MEANS BETTER CITIZENS, AND BETTER CITIZENS MEAN A BETTER CITY, A BETTER STATE AND A BETTER NATION IN WHICH TO LIVE

Better Schools For Your Community Mean Better Opportunities For Your Children

The schools are yours. 44,176 children need your support. The decision is in your hands.



Remember that all of us benefit as suitable educational opportunities are brought within reach of all our children. America can be successful only when her leaders are well trained.

School Levy Should Pass

For the past thirty years the citizens of Columbus have given their continuous approval of a special tax levy for the operation of the public schools. Again this year the amount of 4 mills will be submitted for their continued support.

As a citizen of his community, each voter is a stockholder in its school system. It is his right, then, to know some of the pertinent facts about that system.

The actual per pupil expenditure during the 1947-48 school year was $111.37 which, significantly, is the smallest amount spent by any of the large cities of Ohio.

There are six high schools, eleven junior high schools and 58 elementary schools with a combined attendance of 46,031 daily. Free books alone, furnished to the students, were valued at $207,095.

Last year buildings were used for 6,390 meetings with an attendance of 829,154 in addition to regular school programs.

Columbus schools provided instruction for the 848 veterans of World War II who qualified for high school diplomas since the end of the war and for the 1,044 physically handicapped and retarded pupils.

Fifteen playgrounds provided recreation for an average daily attendance of 1,436 boys and girls.

What does the 4 mill approval mean then to all these? It means a continuation of all that is being done and the filling out of the present framework for an educational program for which there has never been adequate funds. It will mean Health Education; expansion of facilities for Home Economics, Fine Arts, Radio and Audio-Visual Education and keener competition in the beginning teachers' market. It means expansion of library facilities, more adequate heating systems for all kinds of weather and improvement of sanitary facilities. All this can be done for only $1 per $1000 of property valuation.

Education is an investment in people! America's future depends on America's schools.

Miss Alebrando Was Married Sept. 7

In Corpus Christi Rectory on Sept. 7, Miss Rosemary Anne Alibrando, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Alibrando, 1323 Wilson Ave., exchanged wedding vows with Walter Joseph Cunningham, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harris of Toledo.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white chantilly lace over old ivory satin. The full skirt terminated in a cathedral train. She carried white roses and an orchid upon a white satin prayerbook.

The bridesmaids, Miss Jean Murnane and Miss Jean Bevinger, wore identical gowns of velvet embossed marquisette over taffeta slips of peach and ciel blue. Their heart-shaped bonnets matched the slips. Alfred Alibrando and Joseph Alibrando were the bridegroom's attendants.

A reception was held at the Amicon Restaurant. The bride then changed to a hunter's green wool ensemble with which she wore gold jewelry and clover accessories, for the couple's wedding trip.

The bride attended St. Mary of the Springs and was graduated in September from the Mt. Carmel Hospital School of Nursing. Mr. Cunningham is attending Toledo University.

Impressive Ceremony At St. Paul's

The Cornerstone Laying Program held at the New Church Building last Sunday was very impressive and highly successful. Members and non-members were in evidence in the audience which was held almost spellbound by the well organized procedure. The Architect, Engineer, and Brickmason of the project were all on hand to take part in the festivity.

Roof work and side wall work are next in line for construction in the race to beat bad weather. Much has been done in the days since Ground Breaking, and much more is on the docket for the near future. Meanwhile, the Reverend Paul C. Kaefer continues to hold Services for both Church and Sunday School every week in Schiller Park Auditorium, with the next Big Date to be Dedication Day for the New Church. Halloween Pranksters have caused little trouble and no vandalism at 225 East Gates Street, mainly through the Watch Dog tactics of the good neighbors, and the impromptu Cider and Wiener Fests held each night beside the material pile. Yes, that tiny fire that burned each night from dark till way late was always surrounded by the good neighbors, who watched the new laid cement while enjoying a late hour snack.

Lutherans To Hold Tour

The fall meeting of the Central Ohio Association of Lutheran Brotherhoods will be held November 8 at the Wartburg Press and Trinity Lutheran Church. A full evening of educational tours thru the publishing house and a prominent speaker from Capital University, Dr. J. A. Dell, are on the program.

Conducted tours will start at 6:30 p.m. at the Wartburg Press, 57 East Main Street. The entire publishing house will be in full operation for the occasion.

The balance of the program will be held at Trinity Lutheran Church, South 3rd and Fulton Streets. Films will be shown and Mr E. K. Dornbirer, acting manager of the Wartburg Press, will introduce the speaker of the evening.

The president of the Central Ohio Brotherhood Association, Paul G. Blakely, informs us that the entire program will be built around the close connection that existed between the Reformation work of Dr Martin Luther and the invention of the printing press.

The program will be followed by election of officers and refreshments.

Reservations may be made thru congregational Brotherhood presidents or by calling Mr. Blakely at Ra-9938. Members, wives and friends are invited.

Confirmed Fifty Years Ago

Fifty years ago, on Nov. 5th, 1899, Mrs. Rose B. Stimpfle and Mrs. Rachel C. Riley were confirmed in the Emmanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church by the Rev. Charles W. Bachman. High St. These two ladies are the only ones left, of the 1899 confirmation class, who are still attending Emmanuel Lutheran.

Adventists Raising Relief Funds

The Eastwood Seventh-day Adventist Church will participate in the denomination's fourth annual drive for famine relief funds, Saturday, October 29, Richard T. Minesinger, local pastor said recently.

Adventist churches in North America have given $2,845,000 in the three previous famine relief offerings. In addition they have spent $7½ million to rebuild churches, schools, and hospitals. Clothing amounting to 1400 tons has been sent overseas through regular church warehouses and a similar amount has been mailed by the churches' individual Dorcas welfare societies.

Thousands in East Germany still need food and clothing, reported Adventist leaders who have recently returned from visiting European countries. During the past four years, they have received only half the food necessary for normal strength and of a kind lacking body building materials. Clothing is desperately needed. Although clothes are obtainable in certain parts of Europe, prices are prohibitive. Shoes cost $40 a pair, men's suits $200, work shirts $9. Seventeen per cent of the children in one city visited have no shoes at all, the Adventist leaders said. Thirty-five per cent are wearing unrepairable shoes.

They extend a hearty welcome to one and all to enjoy these services with them.

News In The World Of Religion

Perhaps the most historic pig in American history was "Pete" whose 36th birthday was celebrated in many parts of the country last month. "Pete" was owned in 1913 by a ten-year-old Kansas boy who sold him and gave the proceeds to the American Mission to Lepers to help a ten-year-old victim of the disease in Siam. The story was told by the Mission (156 Fifth Ave., New York City), and more than 200,000 cast-iron, wooden, clay and plastic reproductions of "Pete" have been made through the years as coin-collectors [illegible] chiefly in churches, to assist leprosy work. It is reported that more than $2,000,000 have been stuffed in coins and bills into "Petes."

Dr. Donald F. Ebright, of Kansas City, Kan., Methodist missionary in India since 1936, has been named director of Church World Service—all-Protestant relief and rehabilitation service from America—for all of India. In this post he succeeds Dr. Edward D. Lucas, Presbyterian educator, who directed relief [illegible]rk during the years of Worl[illegible]r II and since.

After several months teaching in a university "behind the communist lines" in North China, a missionary of experience wrote to the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church: "If you should drop in on us, you would hardly be aware that anything unusual had happened, for the bells ring as of old, students and faculty hurry to classes with just as many of the same kind of books under their arms and the University life as a whole moves on in its usual round, but there is a difference. For those of us who have been here right through the years since the Japanese were driven out, the whole atmosphere has changed. Where there was disillusionment, despair, and apathy, there is now eager hope and enthusiasm and confidence in the future. If there are those of us who are older and more conservative, who cannot feel the same confidence that now all their problems are settled, and fear that their new regime may not bring about the 'brave new world' just as they desire it to be, we can still rejoice in the change wrought in their spirits and optimism, and can hope that the energy, enthusiasm and faith they have in this new government may remove the mountains of selfishness, and love of power and greed, which always rise in the path of such movements."

"We call statesmen and all men who in every nation seek social justice to consider this truth: a peaceful and stable order can only be built upon foundations of righteousness, of right relations between man and God and between man and man," says a recent statement of the central committee of the World Council of Churches, issued in Chichester, England. "Only the recognition that man has ends and loyalties beyond the State will ensure true justice to the human person. Religious freedom is the condition and guardian of all true freedom. We declare the duty and the right of the Church to preach the Word of God and to proclaim the will of God. We appeal to the churches to interpret and apply God's will to all realms of life. We warn the churches in all lands against the danger of being exploited for worldly ends. In the countries where the state is antagonistic to the Christian religion or indeed wherever full religious freedom is denied, we ask all Christians to remember that the liberty which they receive from their Lord cannot be taken away by the violence or threat of any wordly power, or destroyed by suffering. Therefore, we urge the churches to bear clear corporate witness to the truth in Christ and their ministers to continue to preach the whole gospel."

Ngelu K'Ongenongeno, the Village of Happiness," is a leprosy colony near the general mission station of Minga, Belgian Congo, Africa, directed by Dr. W. S Hughlett, Methodist missionary from Cocoa, Florida. "Like all up-to-date leprosy colonies it is a true community," says the American Mission to Lepers which provides funds for the colony's medical work, "not merely an asylum nor even a hospital. Its fifteen main buildings, all put up by the patients themselves, include a dispensary, a ward, six dormitories, a church, a school a home for boys, a home for girls, and a home for uninfected small children. Families live in their own cottages and are encouraged to live as normally as possible. Their one room, fourteen feet square, is supplemented by a porch, a kitchen and sheds, to make it as nearly as possible like the one they left in their own village. The 314 residents are given a chance to practice their trades or to learn new ones. Those knowing skills teach them in the five-grade school for both children and adults. Orchards and gardens are planted, and a grove of chaulmoogra trees. Church life is strong and sincere."

July Wedding Announced

In Corpus Christi Church on July 2, Miss Virginia Meier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Meier, 1132 Lockbourne Rd., became the bride of Mr. Richard L. Ramsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Ramsey, 569 S. 9th. St.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. Albert Kessler at 9 a.m. The altar was banked with white gladioli and candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white faille taffeta. She carried a satin covered prayerbook topped with a white purple-throated orchid.

Mrs. William French was matron of honor for her sister, and wore a gown of orchid faille taffeta with a full marquisette overskirt. Mrs. Lawrence Scholl, sister of the bridegroom, wore nile green, and Miss Catherine Kumler in yellow were bridesmaids. Their dresses were styled like the matron of honor's gown. They all wore halos of horsehair braid and mitts to match their gowns. Little Sharon Kay was flower girl in yellow taffeta worn over a hoop. Her headpiece matched her dress. All the attendants carried colonial bouquets tied with satin ribbons to match their gowns.

Mr. Lawrence Scholl was best man for his brother-in-law. Mr. William French and Mr. James Meier, brother of the bride, seated the wedding guests.

Following the ceremony, a breakfast for the bridal party and immediate families was held at Hoffman's Gardens. That evening, a reception was held at Corpus-Christi school hall.

The bride is associated with the Timken Roller Bearing Co. The bridegroom is with the transportation department of the Columbus Southern Electric Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey are at home at 1658 South Third Street.

Economic Highlights

U. S. News & World Report has published an unusually interesting interview with Geoffrey Crowther, editor of the Economist of London, dealing with Britain's difficulties and their possible solution. What gives it a particular importance is that Mr. Crowther, who is regarded both here and abroad as an outstanding authority on British affairs, has been sympathetic with many of the labor government's policies and actions—but, at the same time, sees grave dangers in some of them.

Thus, in one section of the interview, he said, "Taxation is so heavy now that there really is very little reward for anybody to work any harder. And I'm not only talking about the high-income executive. I'm talking about the ordinary working man. He knows that, as soon as his earnings exceed about $30 a week for a single man, as much as 36 per cent is deducted in tax off any additional money that he makes..

"Next the social services. Tho' I'm one of their most convinced advocates, I think they've been allowed to run riot in this country. It's been made a little too easy to lead a soft and easy life, and in various ways we have got to put that right...

"And the old Victorian belief that a high standard of living comes from a high standard of production, or, to quote another famous slogan, that 'He who does not work, neither shall he eat,' has been allowed to slide too much into the background....We have got to make some moral return in that direction."

Regardless of the side one takes, it is obvious that one of the greatest issues of the time is that of the welfare state—of ever expanding social services by government, paid for in one way or another at an enormous cost to capital, labor, and all the taxpayers. The situation Mr. Crowther speaks of has approached the crisis point in Britain, and the Labor government is being reluctantly compelled to impose a still greater degree of austerity on the people. In part, Britain's present economic emergency is due to the fact that her goods are too expensive to compete in world markets, and this, in turn, results from the problems Mr. Crowther described.

Here is one of the reasons why Congress has been cold to so many of the provisions of Mr. Trumans' legislative program. Our social security program is nowhere near so broad as England's Still, it is costing employer and employee very great sums in payroll levies, and the rates are to progressively rise. So cradle-to-the-grave social security has not found the favor among the lawmakers that the President hoped for.

Two snowballs never make a winter, either—at least, if they are the variety pictured here. What they do make, though, is a mighty pretty and delicious dessert — especially when the snowy whiteness and delicate flavor of vanilla ice cream rolled in coconut are complemented by the ruby color and tangy goodness of a cranberry sauce topping. Here is a taste thrill you won't forget!

Coconut-Cranberry Snowballs
1 pint vanilla ice cream
½ cup shredded coconut
Canned whole cranberry sauce

Scoop ice cream into balls. Roll in coconut and place in dessert dishes. Top with whole cranberry sauce. Makes 4 servings.

The Gold Star Mothers of Chapter 1 have been sewing each week for their bazaar which is to be held in connection with the annual Tom Johnson fish and ham dinner. It will be held in the same location as last year, the K of P Hall, 697 South High St., Thursday, Nov. 10th, from 5:30 to 8 p.m. The public is invited and tickets may be secured from members of the organization or at the door.

Women in charge are Mrs. Bertha Kellar, chairman; Mrs. James Semons, co-chairman; Mrs. Daniel Leonard, Mrs. Roy Young, Mrs. Anna Hatton, Mrs. H. A. Stoughton, Mrs. Freda Goble, ways and means, Mrs. E. A. Gerber is chairman of the bazaar and Mrs. Charles Shoemaker, Sr., and Mrs. Lois Lewellen, tickets.

The local chapter is outstanding in the state department in doing "something for the boys who came home." Last year a very large pop corn machine was purchased for Chillicothe hospital. It has been in constant use and at the recent convention in Cleveland it was voted to keep it in supplies for the coming year. Also a spinet piano was given the new hospital in Dayton.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater presents Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday "It's a Great Feeling," bringing those two terrific guys, Dennis Morgan and Jack Carson, back again, with a new gal friend, sensational Doris Day, in the kind of Comedy Musical, that will make you laugh and sing. Also on the bill is "Forgotten Woman," starring Elyse Knox. The story deals with unescorted women sojourning in cocktail lounges and bars. What is the merciless lure that leads women to wreck their homes? Hundreds of innocent children are victims of this shocking problem. This problem fearlessly exposed on the screen for the first time.

"Sorrowful Jones" at Russell Theater

Sunday and Monday the Russell Theatre will present "Sorrowful Jones" with Bob Hope and Lucille Ball. The picture is a 1949 version of "Little Miss Marker." It is one of the more widely acclaimed of the late Damon Runyon's hilarious tales of the horse players, heist guys, finger men and dames whom he knew and understood so well Hope's buffooneries make this a picture well worth seeing. Also showing will be Jackpot Jitters with "Jiggs and Maggie." Thursday night is Amateur Nite Don't miss seeing the local talent on the Russell Stage.

"Red River" at Ideal

Sunday and Monday, the Ideal Theater presents "Red River" with John Wayne and Walter Brennan. Most of the action takes place against the rolling plains and mountain country of Texas. The photography is excellent and the picture itself rates with the great westerns of all time. Also showing is "About Face" with Joe Sawyer & Wm. Tracy. News & Cartoon complete program.

Miss Sigler Is Recent Bride

Broad-st Church of Christ was the setting Saturday, Sept. 10, for the wedding of Miss Virginia Lee Sigler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forey O. Sigler, 509 East Whittier-st., and Glenn Curtis Lunsford, son of Mrs. Ethel Denny, 703 Welch-av., and Henry Mason Lunsford of Buffalo, N. Y.

The double ring ceremony took place at 7:30 p.m. before an altar banked with palms, baskets of white gladioli, roses and pompons, and seven branch candelabra. The Rev. Dr. Floyd Faust officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of traditional white slipper satin designed with a mandarin neckline and a plastron front of imported Venice lace. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion fell from a bonnet of white satin, lace and orange blossoms. The bride's only jewelry was a cameo brooch, gift of the bridegroom. She carried a cascading bouquet of snow-white roses centered with a purple throated orchid.

Miss Norma Jean Elder of St. Mary's, W. Va., cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and only attendant. She was attired in a gown of heavy pink satin, and carried a colonial bouquet of red roses and pompons.

James E. Cahill was best man. Guests were seated by Denver Anderson and Albert Ashton.

Carpenter Announces For School Board

Elwood L. Carpenter, a member of the law firm of Addison & Carpenter, 16 East Broad St., Columbus, Ohio, is a candidate for the board of education at the election to be held November 8th.

He is married, resides at 88 West Beechwold Boulevard, and is the father of two children, Mary Ann, aged 3, and Ralph, aged 6, attending the first grade in the Maple Grove Church.

Mr. Carpenter was one of the speakers before various P.T.A. groups throughout the city, favoring the school bond issue for the construction of new schools in the city. He is again speaking in favor of the 4 mill school levy to be voted on in November, and has stressed the fact that no part of the recently enacted city income tax is being used for school purposes. He further points out that 2 mills of the proposed 4 mill levy is merely a re-enactment of the present 2 mill levy which is expiring.

This candidate is particularly interested in raising funds for the construction of new schools and a modernization program for those schools which may be rehabilitated, along with the provision for adequate play ground equipment and supervision for every school in the city.

'SCHOOLTIME'

EDWARD L. HOON

By Edward L. Hoon

Our neighbor's boy, George, brought home a new French horn recently. After listening to his efforts, I'm not sure that I can recommend the French horn as a particularly fine solo instrument. But then, that isn't why George got it. He plays it in the high school band.

The band played the other night at the annual football preview which we have in our town. George was back there in the fifth row, swinging along and blowing away at the top of his lungs. Attired in a brilliant uniform he was part of a 80-piece group which was playing for the entertainment of those in the stands. The youngsters got a genuine round of applause when they left the field after putting on their 15-minute show.

I've been told that many of the spectators who attend high school games every week throughout the state are as interested in the half-time musical show put on by the bands of the schools which are participating, as they are in the football game, supposed to be the principal attraction. The fame of the Massillon Tiger's Swing Band is probably as widespread as that of the Massillon football team.

Dale Harper, band director in Euclid, told me recently that his Euclid group last year made more than 80 public appearances. They played at all the athletic contests at home and away from school for assemblies during the school week, and at a dozen or more night performances.

Then too, the band played for a number of community events such as the Memorial Day and Armistice Day Parades. During the years they have visited some of the large factories in Euclid and put on a lunch time musical show for the benefit of the employees.

Harper says there's more to high school band music than just putting on shows. Youngsters learn the real value of cooperation and team work. One squeal from the second clarinet can ruin the enjoyment of a fine passage; sloppy work in the drum section will throw the whole band off.

Youngsters quickly learn that it takes hours of hard, laborious practice to produce a few minutes of beautiful music. This is a valuable lesson.

Playing in the high school band or orchestra gives an opportunity for a lot of youngsters to make a public appearance, to get out in the limelight. They learn to appreciate good music by playing it. It's a good example of learning by doing, rather than have others do it for you.

OUR RECORD

1. Columbus is one of the first Cities in Ohio to completely mark all of its streets with easily read well made signs.
2. Much work has been done and much is still in progress for the enlargement of the present sewage treatment works.
3. Many miles of new sewers, both sanitary and storm are being built to eliminate flooded basements.
4. We have increased by more than 25% water storage to prevent shortage in case of drouth.
5. We have completely rehabilitated the Dublin Road Purification Plant which today is probably the most modern of its kind in the United States.
6. We have erected hundreds of new street lights and more will go up right along.
7. Our flower shows put on semi-annually receive favorable comment from our citizens as well as thousands of visitors who make a special trip to Columbus to see them.
8. When we took over, our City was last in the United States in recreation activities. We are not yet among the leaders but have come a long way and should be at the top in a few years.
9. An effective smoke abatement and smoke control program is now under way and getting fine results.
10. The City operates three markets. Two were destroyed by fire and rebuilt. Today our market houses are modern, well equipped and sanitary and a credit to our Community.

Darkroom Procedure Checklist

U. S. Camera last February published a list of principles for dark room procedure. The list is worth repeating:

1. Use clean equipment and utensils.
2. Check your thermometer for accuracy.
3. Follow directions; dissolve chemicals in the order given.
4. Be sure each chemical is completely dissolved before adding another.
5. Do not dissolve developing chemicals in water hotter than 125°F.
6. Keep all working solutions at same temperature.
7. Use distilled, filtered or boiled water in that preference for best results.
8. Allow developer to stand two (2) hours before using.
9. Use fresh, pure chemicals.
10. Store solutions in stoppered bottles in cool, dark place, when not in use.

Formulae

The choice of a developer should be determined by its use, type of film, size of film, size of finished picture as well as several other factors. In general the small size films require a fine grain developer. Films for pictures destined for the newspaper normally will be developed in a faster working, more contrasty developer. Edwal 12 Fine Grain Developer, can be used for small negatives Ansco 17 or Eastman DK-20 are good fine grain developers for roll film. DK 60A is a good standard all round developer for commercial or portrait use with the larger sized cut film. Kodak D76 is a good slow working portrait developer which produces long tone scales.

The film fixing baths contain hypo (Sodium thiosulphate), acetic acid, potassium alum, and borax. The borax and potassium alum can be eliminated for paper fixing.

An ideal film short stop is Potassium Chrome Alum. 28% acetic acid in water is the usual paper short crop.

General

Don't let your film solutions become warm. I work at 68°-70°F. Do not allow your solutions to become overworked. When your negatives develop pin holes or mottled effects or become soft, check your temperatures and check the solutions to be sure they are fresh and clean.

There is no excuse for paper stains, when fresh paper is used. You can tell when the developer is becoming depleted. Then throw it away and make up new. Keep your short stop on the acid side. Forget the gadgets and indicators—smell it. You can tell—keep it fresh. Keep your fixing bath clean and fresh. Keep rocking the bath, when fixing prints. Fix long enough and then wash thoroughly. If you do these simple things, your prints will last forever. Slip up and your prints will be a mess.

Miss Karch Has Church Wedding

A fan-shaped basket of white gladioli and chrysanthemums flanked by palms, huckleberry and seven-branch candelabra decorated the altar of St. John's Evangelical Church for the nuptials of Miss Margaret Ann Karch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. The visits to the different branches of our Government are part of the civics and Government and study work of the school and have been in operation over a period of some twelve years.

WASHINGTON REPORT

BY SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

THE first session of the 81st Congress has adjourned. It could have finished everything and adjourned on August 1 if there had been any definite plan on the part of the majority leadership. That leadership was torn between the insistence of the President for his Fair Deal Program, its own doubts about this program, and the determined opposition which it met from Republicans and Democrats alike. The 81st Congress has been more radical than the 80th Congress but a majority have rejected just as definitely the Truman philosophy of Government with the exception of the dangerous policy of spending more money than we have.

Literally thousands of measures have been proposed to this Congress dealing with every phase of human activity. It has been a difficult job of selection but, in general, I have been in accord with the decisions which have been made. We have rejected those measures which seemed to us calculated to destroy the basic principles of liberty, equality, and rule of law which have characterized the American system in the past. On the other hand, we have approved many of the measures which attempt to improve the present system, cure its abuses, check its excesses, and make up its deficiencies.

In the economic field, therefore, we have rejected proposals like the Spence bill, the Murray bill, and the Brannan Plan to subject all commerce, industry, and agriculture to government price-fixing, direction, and control. At the same time, we have approved a minimum, flexible price-support program to prevent the bottom dropping out of agricultural prices. We have approved a minimum wage to prevent economic oppression where the bargaining power of workers is weakened through lack of organization.

IN the welfare field, we have rejected a compulsory health insurance program proposing to turn over to a federal bureau complete control of all private and local health activities, a plan which would bring a federal bureaucrat into every home. At the same time, we have passed several bills to improve our existing health system, such as a bill to give federal aid to the construction of hospitals where the need is greatest, and federal aid to medical schools to permit the education of more doctors, dentists, and nurses.

We have passed a bill to subsidize housing for those who are so poor that they cannot afford to rent even the oldest type of decent housing, and thus check the development of slums. At the same time we have given almost unlimited financing aid to the housing industry to encourage the construction of homes for all those who can possibly afford to pay for them. The Senate has also passed a bill for federal aid for primary education where the state is so poor that it cannot provide a minimum, decent education for all its children. In all these measures, we have expressly prohibited federal interference and insisted upon administration by local communities.

We have rejected the proposal to repeal the Taft-Hartley law, insisted on the abolition of special privileges for labor union officials and on the restoration of equality in labor-management relations.

• • •

CONGRESS still feels that the greatest danger we face is the substitution of totalitarian government control for the system of liberty which has brought peace and prosperity to the United States. It has therefore rejected the proposals which would establish in this country the labor-socialist form of government which is bringing bankruptcy to the people of Great Britain.

The insistence of Congress on maintaining liberty and equality in America has met the bitter opposition of the officials of the national labor organizations and Mr. Truman's other left-wing supporters. They will carry that fight into the 1950 elections. In November 1950 the future course of America will be determined by the men and women who vote.

We Endorce James Hale

Every man should stand ready at all times to serve his community to the best of his ability, said James E. Hale, candidate for a seat on the Columbus Board of Education at the Nov. 8 election.

Hale reaffirmed a belief he expressed when he was elected in 1943 to serve a four-year term on the Columbus City Council, asserting:

"I feel I owe Columbus the duty to help make it a better place in which to live."

Hale pointed out that he was urged by friends to run for the Board of Education, adding:

"I felt duty-bound to be a candidate. If elected, I will work to the best of my ability to see that Columbus has the best schools possible. During my recent trip through Europe, I saw first-hand the importance of a well-educated nation."

School administration is not new to Hale. He was principal of the Lowell, Ohio, High School for two years. At the same time, he was a teacher in the Washington County Normal School at Lowell. He also served as an instructor at the Ohio State Highway Patrol School for four years and was a member of the teaching staff of Franklin University Law School.

A native of Dennison, Ohio, Hale attended Marietta College, George Washington University and Ohio State University.

He was admitted to the practice of law in Ohio in 1930 and has offices at 33 N. High St.

During the four years (1944-47) he served in City Council, Hale was chairman of the important Council Finance Committee and played the leading part in wiping out an inherited deficit of more than $1,000,000 and placing the city's finances on a sound basis.

He is married and lives at 210 Webster Park Road.

EDITOR'S NOTE: —

We have known Jimmy Hale for a long time. He would be a welcome addition to the School Board.

He is honest, fearless, and we believe would do much to add that zest to bring our schools up to a par with other Ohio cities.

We, at the South Side Booster, unqualifiedly endorse him for the School Board and ask the people of the South Side to do likewise.

Shott For Council

The South Side has a real top-notch candidate for City Council in next Tuesday's Municipal election. The race which Walter A. Shott, Jr. made in the August Primary was a complete surprise to many veteran political observers, who now say, 'Shott is the man to watch.'

To those who know Walter Shott here in the South Side, his nomination was not surprising. Walter comes from a large family which is well known to old-line residents of this section. Walter, the candidate for City Council, attended and graduated from South High School, went to the service during the war with thousands of other young men of the South Side, returned to Columbus after the War and went through O.S.U.

Walter lives with his wife, Helen, at 475 Southwood Ave., and is now employed by Ohio State Life Insurance Company.

Walter is a member of Southway Post, American Legion, and Benson Hough Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Sifferlin For City Auditor

"The financial tangle in the City Auditor's office today will take a corps of experts to straighten out if the public is to get the benefits of their tax money," Herbert A. Sifferlin, candidate for City Auditor, declared today.

"If I am elected City Auditor, only the most capable accountants, approved by the Public Accountants Society of Ohio, the Certified Public Accountants Association or the National Association of Cost Accountants, will fill key positions in the office not covered by Civil Service," Sifferlin asserted.

Sifferlin pointed out that over a period of years, certain funds running into millions of dollars, set up by law for specific purposes, have been dissipated by the present auditor.

"The progress of Columbus depends on the orderly functioning of the city's financial system," Sifferlin declared. "Conditions in the auditor's office are so chaotic, and the records so messed up, that essential services such as police and fire protection and refuse and garbage collections are facing a sad state of deterioration. That's all you can expect when political hacks are in charge of the city's fiscal system. The only solution now is to clean house completely and start over again with a clean record with capable people at the helm."

Sifferlin said his chief deputies and other key people will be recruited from the ranks of professional accountants who are familiar with municipal finances.

At the same time, Sifferlin pointed out that his own background and experiences as a state examiner, auditing municipal records and accounts for the past 12 years, eminently qualifies him for the office of City Auditor.

"Troubles"

Troubles-yes, we all have them today,
World uncertainties darken the way.
Troubles, troubles, it seems without end,
Trying our spirits, to break or bend.
Still we carry on in hope to arrive
To a brighter day when our spirits revive.
And as we approach each coming new day,
We inwardly hope and trustingly pray.
Troubles? you bet, we all had our fill,
Of headlines speaking of hatred and greed.
Oh, where is the peace and the good-will?
And why can't all follow in God's creed?
If all would band together in faith, in trust,
There would be much less trouble and grime.
Real love in mens' hearts, no evil thrust,
And there would be peace of heart and of mind.
Yes, it's worthy of our efforts and time,
To fight, to seek the peace that we want.
And we'll all succeed in our drive, our hunt,
For that peace we seek, we'll someday find.

Duck Hunters Report Good Shooting At Lake

Reports from duck hunters at the close of the first week of the season, indicate that, in spite of the exceptionally warm weather, shooting has been good.

Hunters at Buckeye Lake report a fair kill of Teel, Mallard and some Black ducks. Anthony Pfarr, Supervisor of Wildlife District No. 6, said this week that Indian Lake shooting has been unusually good considering the poor duck flight weather.

Mr. Floyd Chapman, assistant chief of the Division of Wildlife Game Management Section reported last week an estimated 6,000 ducks at Resthaven Waterfowl Refuge in Erie County. Eighty per cent were Mallards and Black duck.

Teels are reported on the move southward. The Teel can withstand the cold weather the least of all species and usually are found on the inland waters in Ohio the latter part of October. Mallards usually move out of the northlands next, followed by the heavier, Black ducks, when winter weather takes over in the north. There should be good Mallard and Black duck shooting throughout November, according to the duck hunting experts.

Daily hunting hours are from one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset.

The waterfowl season closes November 29.

Let's Explore Ohio

LIGHT HOUSE, LAKE ST. MARYS (GRAND LAKE)

The area within thirty miles of Fort Loramie, at the junction of Routes 66 and 705, has been of utmost importance in turn to the Indians, the French, the British, the pioneer Americans, the early builders of our canals and roads and those modern Ohioans seeking outdoor recreation.

This highest land in western Ohio holds the headwaters of the south-flowing Great Miami and the Scioto Rivers, the famed Wabash River of Indiana, and the St. Marys and the Auglaize Rivers that roll north and northwest to form the Maumee River whose mouth is at Toledo on Lake Erie.

Here also are the great reservoirs that supplied water for lockage on the Miami and Erie Canal —Lake St. Marys, Lake Loramie, and Indian Lake where state parks accommodate vacationers in large number. This year the state, in preparing for these vacationers, has cleared and dredged the lakes, stoned the driveways, planted new trees, converted fallen trees into firewood for the many outdoor fireplaces in the parks and prepared increased parking facilities for motorists.

Back in 1769, the French-Canadian trader, Peter Loramie, built his post and stockade at this busy crossroads, and gave his name to a creek, a town and a lake. Twenty years earlier, in 1749, the first point of British occupation in the Ohio Country was established as an English trading post at the Indian village, Pickawillany on Route 66 at the junction of Loramie Creek and the Great Miami River above Piqua. This spot was familiar to the military leaders of Paris and London two centuries ago.

The destruction of Pickawillany in 1752 by the French marked the real start of the French and Indian War that ended by cession of Canada and New France to Great Britain by the Treaty of Paris in 1763.

Near the boulder monument on Route 66 which marks the site of Pickawillany can be seen the brick residence of Col. John Johnson, who was the Indian agent in charge of the Indian Reservations at Ft. Loramie, St. Marys, Defiance, Maumee and Toledo which were created under Gen. Wayne's Treaty with the Indians at Greenville in 1795. The Miamis, Wyandots, Ottawas and other tribes that fought with the French and the Delawares, Shawnees, Munseys, Senacas, Cherokees, Catawbas and other tribes who fought on the side of the British in the early frontier days often visited Col. Johnson and set up their camps along the Miami River near his home.

In Greenville can be seen the Greenville Treaty monument on the site of old Fort Greenville. North of this town, on Route 49, is the most perfect reproduction of an Indian war fort of Gen. Wayne's day, old Fort Recovery which interests travellers today.

One of Ohio's earliest roads ran from Toledo along the Auglaize and Miami Indian Trails to Cincinnati. Modern highways follow this same path: Route 24 from Toledo to Defiance, Route 66 to Piqua, and Route 25 to Cincinnati. The Miami and Erie Canal also traced this same route.

The wilderness road followed by the army of General Anthony Wayne on his way to the Battle of Fallen Timbers at Maumee was along the Wabash Trail of the Indians and was marked in its day by a string of forts—Fort Washington at Cincinnati, Fort Hamilton at Hamilton, Fort St. Clair at Eaton, Fort Jefferson, Fort Greenville, Fort Defiance and Fort Meigs. All of these locations are points of interest for motorists.

Browns Win Y League

The Browns, from the Roosevelt Junior High District trimmed the feathers off a "fluttering" Southwood Owl to the tune of 21 to 7 to win the South Y Jr. High Middleweight Championship in a game played Thursday, Oct. 27 at Karn Field.

It was the fourth meeting of the two teams in determining the Championship. In the first game the Browns won 21-19. The second game ended in a 20-20 tie. The Owls took the third game of the series 21-6. The determined Browns capitalized on several Owl fumbles to capture the title in the fourth game 21-7.

The Browns first score came on a safety after the Owls had fumbled and recovered behind their own goal. Left end, Max Lindsey scored on a pass and was followed by another score by Larry Greenbere after a blocked punt. This left the score at the half 14-0 in favor of the Browns.

The Owls came back fighting in the third period and after repeated and hard line drives by fullback, Tom Burton and left half, Eddie Holbrook, managed to score on an off tackle play with Holbrook carrying the ball. Holbrook plunged the line for the extra point.

Fumblitis caught the Owls again in the final quarter and Ray Wood scored for the victors by recovering an Owl fumble behind their own goal. Woods made the extra point on a pass from Larry Eiseman. Thus ending the game 21-7.

May we suggest that these visits be continued from time to time because our classroom results are usually improved when we keep working closely together on our common interests.

The parents of Reeb Avenue School are supporting the School Levy which is to be voted upon on Nov. 8th, in a mighty fine way by endorsing the levy both in our Executive Committee but also endorsing it in open meeting after Mr. Dwight Swisher, president of our Board of Education explained the details. The Rev. H. H. Teague, pastor of Hosack_Baptist Church presented the motion in a very encouraging manner and an endorsement was quite spontaneous.

JOHN S. BOWERS

Pol. ad. 162 E. Dunedin

A Letter from Mr. Bowers

Dear South Sider:

During the past seven months it has been my great pleasure to meet and speak to several hundred South Side people. In the case of those whom I have not had the pleasure of meeting, I would like to introduce myself.

I am John S. Bowers, candidate for the Columbus City Council in the election next Tuesday, November 8. I am a graduate of Ohio State University and am now teaching courses in American government at the university. A member of the Franklin County Young Democratic Club, I am adviser to the O.S.U. Young Democratic Club. I am a native of Columbus, and now reside at 162 E. Dunedin Rd.

I firmly believe that the present all-Republican City Council lacks the imagination, foresight, and determination necessary to cope with the problems of a great metropolitan city. We have a chance this year to break this one-party monopoly and to restore to our city the type of good, sound, forward-looking government to which it is entitled.

I feel sincerely that the South Side has not had a square deal from the city administration for many years, that it has been and is a badly neglected, "forgotten" part of town. It is high time that the city administration gives a break to the South Side!

In the election next Tuesday, there are three of us Democrats who are opposing the present incumbents: Mr. Walter A. Shott, Jr., a very capable South Side man who is First Ward Democratic Committeeman; Mr. William H. Brooks, an East End attorney, and myself. We would greatly appreciate your support.

Sincerely,
(Signed)
John S. Bowers

MY NAME IS YOUR PROTECTION

I am an independent automotive service man, folks around here know me and my service business. We do business together as friends and neighbors. I give them the best of service, because when I help them they help me by telling their friends.

"Because I do business in my own name, I must protect that name, I must make it stand for GOOD SERVICE, FINE MERCHANDISE, and FAIR DEALING, my customers know this, so they come to me for dependable merchandise and service. Because they do, I supply them with only nationally famous brands of automotive goods."

DAVID B. SHARP, Ch.—JUDGE GALE R. KING, Sec'y

Democratic Attorneys Club Support Alcorn, Poorman and Halden

C. Russell Thompson, President of the Democratic Lawyers Club of Columbus announced today that David B. Sharp would be chairman of this fall's campaign for the election of Henry L. Holden as city attorney and Walton G. Alcorn and Joseph J. Poorman for municipal Judges. Assisting Mr. Sharp will be former municipal judge, Gale R. King, Stanley Schwartz, Sr., Arvin Alexander, John Benson, Catherine McGuire, Chas. J. McGreevy, E. B. Paxton, Wilbur E. Peecher, and Francis M. Thompson.

Heading up a special committee in behalf of Henry L. Holden, Mr. Sharp stated would be, Noel Greenlee, Geo. Tyack, Geo. Tarbutton, Forrest Smith, and State Senator Evan P. Ford.

A special veterans committee will be organized by William C. Bryant in behalf of the candidacy of Walton G. Alcorn. Other members serving on Mr. Alcorn's special committee will be Daniel S. Earhart, Chas. Linch and Robert Drury.

Mr. Sharp added that T. J. Duffy, former member of the Industrial Commission would head up a special committee in behalf of the election of Joseph J. Poorman for judge. Assisting Mr. Duffy will be Harry A. Dunn, J. Weller Igo, Kenneth B. Johnson and Merrill Brothers. Mr. Thompson pointed out that the entire committee was made up of Columbus residents and voters. Thompson added, how in good conscience could this "out of town" committee of Republican lawyers support the incumbents in view of the report of the Columbus Bar Association as made by Mr. Dunbar in a very frank speech before the Columbus Bar Association, at which time, Mr. Dunbar stated, "Regretfully, we must bequeath one sour legacy to the incoming administration—the serious problems of the Municipal Court of Columbus. The answers which the lawyer-practitioners before that tribunal submitted in response to the Association's questionnaire of last December concerning the Municipal Court, indicated that the overwhelming majority of them consider that the quality of the justice dispensed by the Court, especially in its Traffic and Criminal Divisions, and its courtroom atmosphere, to be of a very low degree."

"The electors of the City of Columbus can correct this situation by the election of Walton G. Alcorn and Joseph J. Poorman to the municipal bench," Thompson stated.

South Siders Aid Holden

Prominent residents of the South Side are playing an important part in the Henry Holden campaign for the office of City Attorney. Heading up the committee is William P. Hoermle, prominent South Side business man who resides at 1433 Linwood Ave. Harley Hicks of the Hicks Poultry Co., 638 Mithoff St., John J. Breckur, 15 S. 5th St., Albert R. Reinhar, 222 E. Main St., and Frank Burgstaller, 881 Ebner St., are assisting on the committee.

Mr. Hoermle stated, "Henry Holden has served well as Assistant County Prosecutor for the past 18 years, during the administrations of Donald J. Hoskins and Ralph J. Bartlett. In this service he has considerable experience in all kinds of legal work, both civil and criminal. It is important that Columbus have a capable city attorney and Mr. Holden is well qualified for this position."

Mr. Holden is a life-long resident of Columbus and a graduate of Ohio State Law School. The Holdens have four children, three of them have attended Ohio State University. He has long been active in the Charity Newsies and is serving on the Executive Board of the Boy Scouts of America, Central Ohio Area.

Richard W. Gordon Able City Attorney

City Attorney Richard W. Gordon, who is seeking re-election to his second term, is running on the slogan "Why Swap Lawyers in the Middle of a Lawsuit?" Mr. Gordon, elected to his first term in 1945, is presently engaged in the fight against public utility on four fronts. He is fighting for the lowest possible utility rates for electricity, bus service, telephone service and gas.

City Attorney Gordon has won the first round of the fight on the addition by the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company of a monthly surcharge to Columbus consumers' electric bills. The Common Pleas Court of Franklin County in a suit filed by Mr. Gordon has held that the electric company had no right to add the surcharge of 4.4% from August, 1948, to March, 1949. This suit involves approximately $245,000 collected by the company from Columbus consumers. Mr. Gordon is also fighting to recover the 6.4 % surcharge added by the same company in March of 1949, involving approximately $400,000. This case is now pending in the Common Pleas Court of Franklin County. On Friday, October 28, this company filed with the Public Utilites Commission of Ohio an appeal from the electric rate ordinance, providing for reduction in electric rates in Columbus passed by City Council on September 7, 1949 and which will be voted on by the people on November 8. The refund of past electric rates and the obtaining of lower future electric rates are both involved in these pending law suits.

Mr. Gordon is fighting the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Company and its "dummy" subsidiary, the Columbus Transit Company, for the lowest possible bus rates, and to keep the buses operating on the streets of Columbus.

Joining with the City Attorneys of other leading Ohio cities, Mr. Gordon is also fighting in the Ohio Supreme Court for the lowest possible telephone rates. This case is now pending in the Ohio Supreme Court on an appeal from the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

Recognizing that the application of the Ohio Fuel Gas Company, before the Federal Power Commission in Washington D. C., to increase its wholesale gas rates, would, if approved, ultimately cause an increase in the rates to the consumers of Columbus, City Attorney Gordon has filed an intervening petition with the Federal Power Commission protesting any such increase in gas rates. This matter, too, is now pending.

Mr. Gordon resides at 600 Glenmont Avenue with his wife and three children. He was educated in the Columbus Public Schools and graduated from Ohio State University and the Ohio State University College of Law. From the time of his admission to the bar in 1929, he engaged in the general practice of law in Columbus until 1938 when he became an Assistant City Attorney under John L. Davies until the beginning of his present term as City Attorney in 1946. He is a member of the Northbroadway Methodist Church and the Columbus Bar Association and other profesional and fraternal organizations.

As City Attorney, Mr. Gordon has a staff of eight assistants, five of whom are war veterans.

Harvest Carnival Dance Nov. 10th

The Trudeau Guilds of Benjamin Franklin Hospital will hold their Harvest Carnival Dance on Thursday, Nov. 10th, at Dance Gardens, N. 4th at Northwood.

Members of Trudeau Guild No. 10, have the Fish Pond booth at this dance. They are now soliciting merchandise from the South Side merchants to be used as prizes in this project. The response on the part of the South Side merchants last year was gratifying, and as a result, the fish pond was a great success.

The Guild would really appreciate the kind help and cooperation again this year when their members call for solicitation. All money from this project goes for the benefit of the patients of Benjamin Franklin Hospital and the Guild knows too, will be most grateful.

BULLDOGS AND RAMBLERS BOTH LOSE

Lucky North Defeats Stubborn Bulldogs

Coach Ellsworth "Red" Trego and his South High Bulldogs rolled up another "moral victory" but once again the actual outcome was negative. This time North's flashy Polar Bears felt the sting of an inspired South squad, and they can thank the trusty right toe of Halfback Jim Spung for their narrow margins—14-13.

It was homecoming time at Mahaffey Stadium, and the student body was as confident as the football team of springing the year's prize surprise. And the Southerners came within some 150 seconds of doing just that!

Faced with a disastrous upset which could've cost 'em the 1949 City League championship, North started its last-ditch drive late in the game from South's 30 and didn't stop until Eddie Keifhaber plowed over from the three. Then, with an electrifying tension hanging over the stadium, placekicker Spung booted one through the posts for the game-winning face-saving point, leaving North still unbeaten for its payoff skirmish at Central next week.

Until Spung made that dramatic final point, North never led. From the very start, South's relentless gridders outcharged and outfought their illustrious foe all the way, must to the delight of the victory-hungry students and alumni who cheered wildly for their team.

The two temas battled evenly in the first period, but it was all South in the next 12 minutes. The charged-up Bulldogs began a drive on their own 14 and went across 14 plays later on Halfback Marion Wright's one-yard plunge. Wright sparked the drive on runs of 11, 14 and 25 yards. Richard Ruh's placement made it 7-0.

During the entire half, North only once penetrated beyond South's 20, its one promising thrust ending on the 13.

Coach Mike Hagely must've said the right things to his Polar Bears during intermission, for they took the kickoff and soon scored. Spung took the kick from his own 38 to South's 47. He also ended the drive eight plays later with a nifty 27-yard sprint. Jim then completed the one-man show by converting and tying the game up.

South's spirit wasn't dampened however. Later in the same quarter, with North on its own 16, Herman Hill went back to punt, but the Bulldog forward wall broke through en masse to block the boot. Alert Right-end George Goldberg covered the crazily-bounding ball in North's end zone and South was back on top, 13-7.

North's punter Hill, whose blocked kick earlier might've made him the goat of the game, later got off the punt which set up his team's game-winning spurt in a wild fourth quarter.

Statistically, North's big advantage was in passing. Willson completed 7-for-10 to produce 64 yards. South's aerial game was absolutely nil. In first downs it was 12-to-9 for North.

St. Charles Too Much for Ramblers

Sparked by Quarterback Larry Doyle who scored three touchdowns on runs of 65, 74 and 20 respectively the Carolians of St. Charles rolled up a convincing 30 to 2 victory over St. Mary's Saturday night at the Bexley High Stadium.

The Rams marched down the field several times but due to fumbles were unable to cross the enemy goal line. Meanwhile Doyle and Company were running up a 24 to 0 halftime score.

The second half was played practically to a stand still with both teams tightening their defenses. The Ramblers did manage to score though when Dick Kessler was tackled in his own end zone, for a safety and two points. The final St. Charles tally came, when Paul Guttman intercepted a last minute desperation pass and raced 32 yards to pay dirt.

Dedication Of Organ Is Beautiful

A hushed audience awaited the first notes of the new organ whose melodious voice was to sing the glorious praises of those eighty-eight South High boys who so nobly gave their lives that such a gathering might remain a reality.

As Roger Garrett played the Hammond Organ at South's capacity-filled auditorium, many were moved to tears by such stirring selections as "Come Sweet Peace" and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring."

This beautiful instrument, dedicated in memory of South's war dead by Mary Smith, held the attention of all in the darkened auditorium. Roll call by Augie Graumlich and Norman Wolf followed by "God Bless America," sung by the audience, and Taps played by Mr. Garrett gave a fitting climax to this inspiring program.

TUBELESS TIRE CROSS-SECTION

The construction of the new puncture-sealing tubeless tire is shown in this cross-section. The special concentric ridges molded on the beads seal the tire against the rim and prevent air from getting out around the edges while rubber washers inside and outside the valve keep the air from escaping that way. The sealant on the inner side of the tread area, a thick, gummy rubber, gives the tire its puncture-sealing qualities. The B. F. Goodrich Company has announced that the tire is now available here for the first time.

Drivers Response To Tubeless Tires Tops Expectations

Columbus motorists' interest in the new puncture-sealing tubeless tire has resulted in many sales and countless inquiries, P. J. Cleary, store manager for The B. F. Goodrich Company, 1942 Parsons Ave., reported today.

One of the most common questions, he said, has been "Why hasn't this been done before?" Tubeless tires have been possible in the past, he explained, but they were not practical, economical or safe.

During World War II some military tires were run without inner tubes after special steps were taken to assure airtightness around the bead, Mr. Cleary said. Air diffusion, however, made them susceptible to formation of blisters and to ply separation. This problem has been overcome in the new BFG tire by a special rubber first ply that prevents the seepage of air.

"There is no mystery to how the tire seals punctures," P. J. Cleary said. "It has an inner lining of specially compounded sealant across the crown and shoulder that sticks to all puncturing objects. Upon withdrawal of nails or spikes the gummy substance is drawn into the small hole in the tire, automatically sealing it effectively against loss of air pressure. New type longer-wearing cold rubber has been added to all treads."

Another question, "What kind of a ride does it give?" already has been answered by some of the first drivers who purchased sets of tubeless tires last week, Mr. Cleary reported.

"Those who have called me up to express their satisfaction," he declared, "have commented particularly on the comfortable ride they are getting. I can't remember when a new product has aroused such widespread interest. Even people without automobiles are stopping in to find out what makes the tire 'tick.'"

National Kids Day Saturday, Nov. 19th

Upwards of 1,000,000 underprivileged children will benefit from programs initiating on National Kids' Day, Saturday, Nov. 19 in hundreds of communities throughout the United States and Canada, O. E. Peterson, executive secretary of Kiwanis International, estimated on the basis of reports received at the general office in Chicago.

Kiwanis International, with its 3,000 local Kiwanis Clubs and the National Kids' Day Foundation, are sponsoring the observance which will be devoted to the problems of underprivileged boys and girls and to attract public attention to youth accomplishments. Hundreds of Kiwanis Clubs already have completed plans for their local programs, according to reports arriving at the general office.

An outstanding feature of National Kids' Day, explained Peterson, is the fact that programs to aid the underprivileged are being developed on a local basis. Money raised to provide educational, medical and recreational facilities for the fortunate youth will be spent in the local communities.

"The problem of underprivileged children," commented Peterson, "is a local one and must be solved on a community basis. Problems of both the underprivileged and juvenile delinquency are tied together and in meeting the former we can reduce the dangers of the latter. Through National Kids' Day, Kiwanis hopes to rally all of the forces concerned with youth in the varous communities. It is gratifying to read of the enthusiasm with which Kiwanis clubs everywhere are launching their local programs.

"The local programs are noncommercial, and the day will not be observed as a gift-giving occasion. If we can provide aid and inspire hope in the future for the less fortunate, National Kids' Day will have accomplished its purpose."

Four More Weeks Should Raise Enough Money To Get Dog

Last week we had an exceptionally large collection of Sales Tax stamps for Frank Hutchinson.

The sales tax stamps are being used to get him a Pilot Dog.

Pilot Dogs are trained by Mr. Stanley Doran of Pataskala, and are used exclusively to lead the blind.

Hutchinson lost his sight while he was a city fireman.

If sales tax stamps continue to come in at the present rate he should have his dog in about four weeks.

You too can help in this project by leaving your sales tax stamps at the Parsons Ave., Thurman Ave., Livingston Ave., Fulton St. fire department houses or at the South Side Booster.

Do a good deed by helping in this project. It takes thousands of sales tax stamps.

County P. T. A. Meets Tuesday

The Parent Education Committee of Columbus and Franklin County Council will meet Monday, Nov. 14th, at the Administration Building, 270 E. State St. Topic: "Are Fads and Frills Fundamental?"

Discussion Leader, Mrs. Edna Abel, former Principal of Livingston Avenue School.

Livingston Ave. P.T.A. News

Oct. 13, the Executive Board held its annual luncheon at the school in honor of the teachers and principal. Mrs. Edna Adel, former principal of the school, was also an honored guest. Following the luncheon, the Board held its October meeting.

Plans are well under way for the annual Fall Frolic to be held at the school Nov. 18, from 7-10 p.m. Mrs. Ruth Bakie is chairman in charge of the Frolic and Mrs. Betty Mayfield is her assistant. The affair is not limited to members but is open to the public.

The Columbus and Franklin County Council of PTA held its School of Instruction on Nov. 3, at the Southern Hotel. Ten members of our Executive Board attended this all-day session. Those who attended were Mrs. Winifred Myers, Miss Dorothy Diehl, Mrs. Mary Thomson, Mrs. Betty Mayfield, Mrs. Barbara Sebring, Mrs. Edith Joachim, Mrs. Kathleen Meyers, Mrs. Ruth Sansbury, Mrs. Pearl King and Mrs. Beulah Guyton.

This year something new was added to our Open House which was held Wednesday, Nov. 2 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. School was dismissed at noon on that day so that the pupils could return in the evening for a full hour of regular classroom work. In this way, the working parents were given an opportunity to observe how the classes are conducted. We believe this demonstration proved beneficial to both the pupils and the parents.

"I Remember Mama" To Be Presented

Much of the warmly human appealing of John van Druten's comedy-drama, "I Remember Mama," which will be presented on Thursday and Friday, Nov. 17 & 18, at South High School, as a presentation of the Dramatics Department, is due to the play's nostalgic reflection of the childhood days of most Americans.

No matter how many and varied are the experiences one may have in a lifetime, no matter how much one may forget when memory becomes dimmed, the scenes of one's childhood can be vividly recalled, standing out as something ery special—like the lovely colored pictures in a stereopticon that used to provide many a pleasant evening's entertainment before the days of radios, juke boxes, and television.

"I Remember Mama" tells a leisurely story, alternately touching and comic, of the struggles and hopes of a Norwegian-American family who settled in San Francisco beacuse that's where Mama Hanson's sisters lived. The Hansons, like all American families, make their plans to help their children realize their dreams. Nels, the only son, must be a doctor, and Katrin, the oldest daughter, wants to be a writer. Then there are the younger two, Christine and baby Dagmar, who haven't yet made too definite plans for their futures, and are only just a little bit spoiled.

As in all really accurate family chronicles there are the visits from the aunts and uncles, too. There are Aunts Sigrid and Jenny who swoop in on the Hansons to offer unsolicited advice to Mama, and there is Aunt Trina, kindly and retiring. There is nothing retiring about Uncle Chris, though, who storms and fusses—probably to conceal the fact that he is really a great-hearted man.

Basing his play on the best-selling book written by Kathryn Forbes, "Mama's Bank Account," John van Druten has written in "I Remember Mama" a completely human drama whose audiences all over the country have been able to identify themselves with its true-to-life characters. One of the most endearing plays of the present period in the theater, "I Remember Mama" ran for almost two years in New York, enjoyed a phenomenal road tour, and has since become a prime favorite in the repertories of little theater groups. South's presentation of "I Remember Mama" will be on November 17 and 18 at 8:15 p.m. Tickets are now on sale for 50 cents by members of the Radio and Dramatics Department of South High.

Feeding Needy Children A Must

This is one of thousands of tubercular boys and girls who were privileged to spend ten days at a camp in Germany where for the first time in their memory they had all they could eat. The camp was set up as part of the relief program of Seventh-day Adventists who have raised almost $25 million in four special offerings. The 14th annual famine relief offering will be taken Saturday, Oct. 29 in all Seventh-day Adventist churches in North America. In addition to what has been raised by these special offerings, $7.5 million have been sent overseas for rehabilitation and rebuilding. Members of the individual Adventist churches have also sent 1100 tons of clothing and an equal amount of food overseas.

Barrett Boys Win Top Honors

Barrett boys and girls from home room 109 have a big evening planned for them tonight from 7 to 9 p.m. at Barrett Junior High School.

The boys in 109 received the highest percentage of members in the Parent Teachers' Association drive this year. Their score was 257%. The girls in 109 have the second highest percentage in the drive with 248%. The combined home rooms brought in 154 members.

The party tonight for the two home rooms is the reward for their earnest effort. Games and refreshments will be highlights of the evening from 7 to 9 p.m.

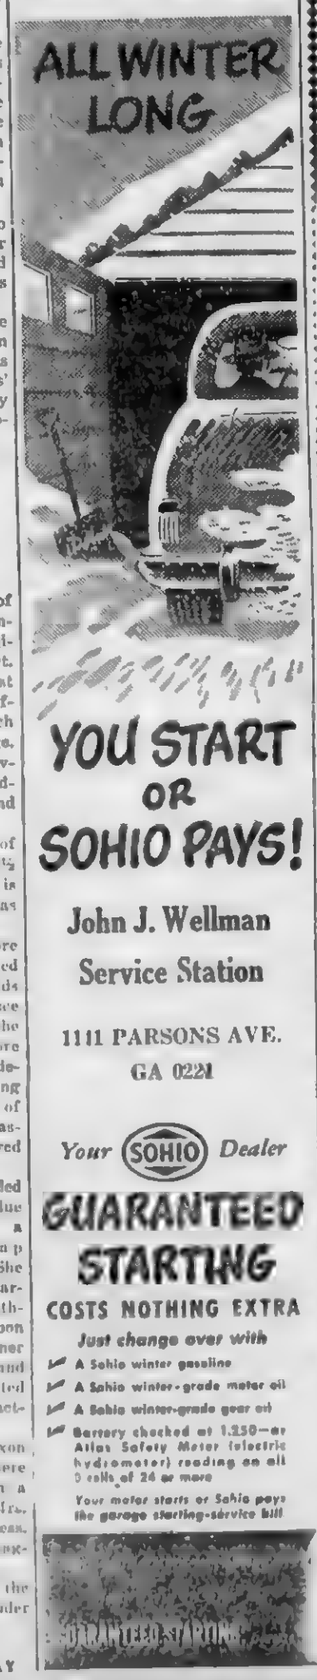
Miss Mary Gaal is the home room teacher for the boys in 109 with Mrs. Wanda Smith as home room mother. The girls' room teacher is Miss Ella Richey Wells, and their home room mother is Mrs. Ida Culp.

Miss Maxine Combs A Recent Bride

Miss Maxine Louise Combs, of 402 Gates-st, and Charles Brunner, 1750 Demorest-rd, were united in marriage at 4:30 p.m., Oct. 15 at the Gates-Fourth Methodist Church. Rev. Paul C. Knefer officiated before a wedding arch formed of huckleberry foliage. The altar was decorated with seven branch candelabra, white gladioli, chrysanthemum pompons and greenery.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Herma Offenburger, 604½ Livingston-av, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Brunner.

For her wedding the bride wore a toast satin coat dress styled with a full skirt with deep folds at front and back, a tight bodice and self-covered buttons at the neckline and waist. She wore brown accessories with a side-swept hat, trimmed with jutting feathers, and a triple strand of pearls. She carried a double cascade bouquet of white feathered chrysanthemums.



Mrs. Robert Michel attended the bride wearing a smoke blue satin dress fashioned with a mandarin neckline, short cap sleeves and a draped skirt. She wore wine accessories and carried a cascade bouquet of feathered white carnations and maroon pompon dahlias. Tommy Brunner was his brother's best man and another brother, James, seated the guests. Bill Haynes also acted as usher.

A reception followed at Saxon Hall, 324 Woodrow-av, where Mrs. Offenburger received in a rust dressmaker suit and Mrs. Brunner in a blue crepe dress. Each wore white rosebud corsages.

After a short wedding trip, the couple is residing at 1312 Studer Avenue.

Bureaucrats and Politicians Get The Welfare In A Welfare State

The following remarks were made by the Hon. Lawrence H. Smith of Wisconsin in the House of Representatives, Wednesday, October 19, 1949:—

"Who gets the welfare in a welfare state?" That is easy: the State. Which is to say, the bureaucrats and the party politicians.

There is a formula. You have seen it. Be sure you recognize it next time. Here's how it goes:

Somebody promises to give you something—a subsidy, or a wage increase without a productive increase—if you will give him a little something— a vote, perhaps. This is where the party politician comes in.

So, you give and you get, or think you do. Maybe what you get increases the national debt or decreases corporation profits. What do you care? Let us see:

National debt? That is mortgaging your child's future. Let the rich pay it? That is silly. Take every penny every one of them has, and you would not make more than a dent in the national debt. Every dollar added to it by the give-away Congress has to be paid back by you and your children and your grandchildren.

Take it out of corporation profits? If all the profits of all the corporations were taken, you would pay only a tiny fraction of the national debt.

The plain truth is that no one can give you anything. Last year the Federal Government said it gave to the States $5,500,000,000. That money, of course, first came from the States. But $625,000,000 of it never got back to the States—that was the cost of taking it away from you, and giving part of it back.

When anyone promises you something for nothing, you can be sure he gets a lot of the something, and you get a lot of the nothing.

Editor's Note:—The folly of the statement "Tax the rich," which is made so often for political vote catching is on the face of it ridiculous. Seize all of the wealth in the United States of over $50,000 per person or corporation and it would not pay the expenses of our government for 90 days.

Every tax or increase in wages must be added into the product which you buy. There is only one tax payer, and that is you, the consumer!—

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "The Lady Gambles," starring Barbara Stanwyck. A compelling drama of relentless desire, the story of a woman who lost her heart, her soul, her honor, to the tragic lure of gambling fever. She fought back to sanity, but it was almost too late. Also playing is "Blondie Hits the Jack Pot," starring Arthur Lake.

Barrett Girls Retain Banner

Barrett girls carry a scholarly edge over the boys, according to recent study by the Student Council.

The girls' home room of 302 has held the scholarship banner of Barrett Junior High School for the last 4 semesters. This banner is placed in the home room making the highest scholastic percentage record for that 6 weeks grading period. This percentage is based on number of pupils in the room who have made the Barrett honor roll.

Miss Mary Catherine Richter's home room of girls started in Barrett in September 1947. That semester the Student Council originated the idea of the school scholastic banner. The girls in 302, then 7B's, received the banner the first six weeks of their Barrett career and have kept it ever since, now going on the fifth semester of their achievement.

The school was open from the basement to the belfry from 7 to 9 p.m. Activities typical of a Barrett school day were carried on including the use of the wire recorder, film strip projector, movie picture machine, and the microprojector. A tour of the library, class demonstrations in several fields including the Physical Education Department, Science laboratory, Wood, Metal, Machine, Mechanical Drawing, Art, Music (vocal and instrumental), rhythmic typing, Spanish, Sewing, and Business Arithmetic were among many of the other features.

New B.F. Goodrich tire has no tube, seals punctures

*8—4=4: now—you can equip your car with four tires without needing four tubes, too! The eight units you've had on the wheels of your car can now be reduced to four because this amazing new tire has no tube—no tube to buy, to puncture, to blow out!

SEALS ITS OWN PUNCTURES, while you ride! Yes; drive this new B. F. Goodrich Tubeless Tire over a bed of spikes and it still does not go flat. A self-sealing material under the tread instantly seals punctures by plugging the hole before air escapes: Your tire stays air-tight and sound as if it had never been punctured.

HOLDS AIR MANY TIMES longer than tires with old-style prewar tubes! An inner lining of special rubber does the trick, combined with a specially designed tire bead with rim-seal ridges that form an air-tight pressure lock against the rim:

GIVES FAR GREATER SAFETY at high speeds! The new B: F. Goodrich Tubeless Tire runs cooler, handles better, stays in better balance than tires with safety-type tubes! That means extra safety for fast driving.

GIVES GREATER RIDING COMFORT! Its flexible tubeless construction seems to take up jolts and jars. And the "rythmic-flexing cord" body gives you the B. F. Goodrich "Rythm Ride"—added comfort, greater safety, extra mileage! Extra mileage, too, from the tread that now contains new longer-wearing cold rubber!

PROVED AND TESTED—ready for you! In millions of miles of rugged service this tire has been proved and thoroughly tested by state police; in day-in, day-out, curb-thumping taxi use; by the B. F. Goodrich test fleet at high speeds in all climates; and by individual car owners under every possible operating condition:

There's no need to wait. You can put these tires on your present car today: See one of the B. F. Goodrich retailers listed below. With the allowance for your present tires, you'll be surprised how little a set of these new tires will cost you:

SOUTH WINS 27-7

ST. MARY'S DEFEATED 26 — 7

South Tops Lindenettes 27-7

South High's Bulldogs finally achieved the victory trail—and at a most appropriate time—for in winning their first triumph in nine starts by a 27-7 count at the expense of Linden's hapless 11, the Southenders escaped the City League cellar, the losing Panthers grabbing the dubious position before a disappointed Homecoming throng.

HIT PAY DIRT

After the ball had changed hands several times early in the first period, Bill Banks raced a Linden punt back to the latter's 30. Seconds later Geo. Goldberg stole away a supposed Panther interception on the seven. Marion Wright then tallied on an off-guard buck from the five.

Early in the second quarter Berwin Drake smashed over from the five to top off a 43-yard pay dirt drive. Dick Ruh booting his first of three successful placements.

IN BREAK-THROUGH

In the middle of the same stanza Goldberg smeared a Linden potential punter on his own goal line, setting up Bud Lusear's TD effort.

On the last play of the first half, Jimmy Tuff snared a Linden aerial on his own five and then behind some beautiful down field blocking galloped 95 yards for the final Bulldog score.

An Eddy Brockman to Myron Hutcheson flip accounted for the victim's lone six pointer.

Kline Roberts Heads Christmas Seal Drive

Kline L. Roberts

The appointment of Kline L. Roberts, 1868 W. Sixth Avenue, as chairman for the 1949 Christmas Seal Sale in Columbus and Franklin County was announced today by Mrs. Hynes Pitner, president of the Columbus Tuberculosis Society.

"The Christmas Seal Sale, which will open on November 21 and continue until Christmas, is the only means of financing the work of the Tuberculosis Society," Mrs. Pitner said, "and the extent of our work next year depends upon the results of the Seal Sale."

"Since Christmas Seals were first sold in this community, more than a quarter of a million free chest x-rays have been provided to the people of Franklin County and are now being taken at the rate of about 30,000 per year. In addition, services that protect the health of the public are being demonstrated, thousands of people are being taught that good health is an enemy of tuberculosis, and many existing services are being supplemented. These will be continued and expanded if the Seal Sale is successful," Mrs. Pitner continued.

Mr. Roberts, a member of the law firm of Knepper, White and Dempsey, is a veteran of World War II, having served in the 333 Field Artillery Battalion. During the Battle of the Bulge, he was taken prisoner and spent the remainder of the war in a prison camp.

Since returning from service, Mr. Roberts has been active in numerous community activities. During the 97th General Assembly, he served as Parliamentarian and Speakers Clerk in the House of Representatives. He is a member of the Taxation Committee, Postwar Planning Commission; the Industrial Committee of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce; Secretary of the Franklin County Veteran's Service Council; the Columbus Bar Association; the Ohio State Bar Association and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Columbus Tuberculosis Society.

Firemen's Wives Help Hutchinson

Last week's collection of sales tax stamps for Frank Hutchinson is the largest we have had a 30 pound sack full.

Frank Hutchinson is the blind ex-city fireman we are trying to get a Pilot Dog to lead him.

Monday morning we had a nice visit from Mrs. Alaise Riebel, president of the City Firemen's Wives Auxiliary, which organization gave us a $25.00 check and a large bunch of sales tax stamps for Hutchinson. Mrs. Margaret Lytell is the official stamp counter for the group.

Gregg's Photo Studio of Livingston and Kelton Aves. turned over to us at least 10 pounds of sales tax stamps last week.

These donations are surely fine and it shows just how fine people of our community are..

The fact that you may have only a few sales tax stamps makes little difference, the little contributions are just as important as the big.

Remember you too can leave your stamps at the following city fire houses: Fulton St.; Livingston Ave.; Thurman Ave.; Parsons Ave., or at the South Side Booster's Office at 1542 Parsons.

Lets go South Siders. Christmas is coming and it takes a lot of stamps to get a Pilot Dog. Let's give Hutchinson his dog for Christmas.

Mifflin's County League champions ended their season undefeated Friday night by defeating St. Mary's 26 to 7 on the Mifflin gridiron.

Left Halfback Joe Hans was the individual star of the game scoring all four of the Cowpunchers touchdowns. Three of the tallies were scored on passes from Mel Clemens and Bill Heltz, the plays netting 65, 8, and 60 yards respectively. The final touchdown came late in the fourth quarter when he intercepted a last minute desperation pass and raced 60 yards to pay dirt. His speed and all around play was the big difference in the contest.

The Rams scored their lone touchdown late in the second quarter when Moore scored from the six on a pitchout from quarterback Bob Dolder, climaxing a a 40-yd. drive. Bill Endres kicked the point.

Ramblers gave the "champs" a real run for their victory however, holding their ground game down to 105 yards while they ——— collecting 155 for themselves.

Mifflin led in the first down department 9 to 8.

Livingston P.T.A. To Hold Frolic

The Livingston Ave. PTA Fall Fun Frolic will be held Friday, Nov. 18 from 7-10.

This is the one time of the year when Parents, Teachers and pupils work together for an evening of fun.

A big feature is the Silhouettes. What child doesn't like to have his picture taken or made and what parent doesn't want one of his pride and joy? These make lovely Christmas gifts. This department is under the management of Mrs. Beulah Guyton.

The White Elephant Sale and Bazaar is under the management of Mrs. Edith Brixner. This department also presents a wonderful selection of hand-made gifts.

Everyone loves a home-made cake and there is a big chance of winning one at the Cake Walk. Mrs. Edith Joachim has been very busy seeing that the best of home-made cakes will be plentiful.

Of course there is the fun of fishing for a surprise package and playing games to win a prize of your choice. Mrs. Barbara Sebring has hunted high and low for the nicest prizes to be found in Columbus.

Then comes the Rhythm Band presented by the second graders under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Crites, their teacher.

This year we will have something new. Cartoon movies. These are enjoyed by children and adults alike. Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Thomson are making these possible.

The big attraction of the evening is the Talent Show. Mrs. Katherine Moore and Mrs. Helene Sliter have spent many hours preparing this variety show entitled Country Style. Perhaps the children have worked off some excess energy in preparing the show, too. The children to be seen in the show are Sally Shade, Paula Melrose, Sonya Sansbury, David Harris, Terry Mosely, Florence Jackson, Phyllis Theobald, Sharon McCoy, Karen McCoy, Charlotte Highland, Charlene Highland, Paul Jones, Sherman Adams, Louis Byrd, Linda Gracey, Carol Danison, Barbara Johnson, Bonnie Brown, Barbara Greenberg, Virginia Boland, Harold Chapman, Ronald Rinella, Robert Pierce, Donald Custer, Patty Rose, Leni Rosen and Beverly Brown.

If you know a Talent Scout, send him around, we know our talent is the best.

And last, but not least, is FOOD. Mrs. Pearl King and Mrs. Marjorie Francis will see that there will be plenty of Hot Dogs, Pop, Potato Chips, Coffee, Ice Cream and Candy. What more would you want?

All Room Mothers, Board Members and the PTA in general and teachers have been working hard to make our Frolic a success and are given the heart-felt thanks of Mrs. Ruth Bakle and Mrs. Betty Mayfield, co-chairmen of the Frolic for their cooperation.

Come one, Come all, to the Fun Frolic at Livingston School.

Good Pheasant Season Predicted For Ohio, Starts November 15

Pre-season game population surveys just completed by the Ohio Division of Wildlife show that there is a reasonably good population of pheasants in about 50 per cent of the State's 88 counties. Game management officials predict good shooting for Ohio's one million hunters for the 11 day season opening on November 15 and closing at 5 p.m. November 25.

Dr. E. D. Martin, Chief of the Division's Game Management states that there is a far better distribution of pheasants this year.

Hunters will find good shooting closer home. For years hunters have imposed extreme hunting pressure on the counties in northwestern Ohio, normally considered the best shooting in the State, but this year, altho these counties continue to have a good population of pheasants, there are other sections of Ohio that will provide exceptionally good hunting.

The increase of game this year is attributed to the Division's wildlife habitat development program started in 1947, providing winter nesting and food areas, together with ideal nesting weather throughout most of Ohio last spring.

Over 650 wildlife areas have been established in Ohio, leased for a five year period from landowners who are paid on a crop-value basis. Areas are approximately 300 acres each for pheasants and about 50 acres for rabbits. Nearly $200,000 was spent this year for crops in fields surrounding these areas to provide unharvested hay and legumes for undisturbed nesting and a food supply for wildlife.

Daily hunting hours will be 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. for rabbits and pheasants. The rabbit season opens November 15 and continues through December 26. The daily bag limit for pheasants will be two cock birds and the possession limit, two. For rabbits, the bag limit will be four a day, and four in possession.

Book Week Being Celebrated

Book Week is being celebrated November 13 through November 22 at the Parsons Avenue Library, 1124 Parsons Ave., with a flannelgraph, "Squeegie Bug," which is being shown to the children of the South Side [illegible].

All teachers are invited to call the library to reserve a period for their classes to visit the library. Last year, 46 classes visited the library during Book Week, and the staff hopes for an even greater attendance this year.

In addition, the flannelgraph will be shown at 2:30 Saturday afternoon, November 19, for any children who wish to attend, but especially for pre-school age children and those whose classes do not visit the library.

New window displays are in both the juvenile and the adult windows to carry out the theme, "Make friends with books." Special displays of new books are featured inside the library. An invitation is extended to all South Siders to visit their library.

The Art Of Getting Along

Sooner or later, a man, if he is wise, discovers that life is a mixture of good days and bad, victory and defeat, give and take.

He learns that it doesn't pay to be a too sensitive soul; that he should let some things go over his head like water off a duck's back.

He learns that he who loses his temper usually loses out.

He learns that all men have burnt toast for breakfast now and then, and that he shouldn't take the other fellow's grouch too seriously.

He learns that carrying a chip on his shoulder is the easiest way to get into a fight.

He learns that the quickest way to become unpopular is to carry tales and gossip about others.

He learns that buck-passing always turns out to be a boomerang, and that it never pays.

He comes to realize that the business could run along perfectly well without him.

He learns that it doesn't matter so much who gets the credit so long as the business benefits.

He learns that even the janitor is human and that it does no harm to smile and say "good morning," even if it's raining.

He learns that most of the other fellows are as ambitious as he is, that they have brains as good or better, and that hard work, not cleverness, is the secret of success.

He learns to sympathize with the youngster coming into the business, because he remembers how bewildered he was when he first started out.

He learns not to worry when he loses an order, because experience has shown that if he always gives his best, his average will break pretty well.

He learns that no man ever got to first base alone, and that it is only through cooperative effort that we move on to better things.

He learns that bosses are no monsters, trying to get the last ounce of work out of him for the least amount of pay, but that they are usually pretty good fellows who have succeeded thru hard work and who want to do the right thing.

He learns that folks are not any harder to get along with in one place than another, and that the "getting along" depends about 98 per cent on his own behavior.

Burma Social Club

The Burma Social Club of the Burma Chapter of O.E.S. 471 will meet Thursday, Nov. 17th at Schiller Park Shelter House for a casserole luncheon. Mrs. C. E. Abbott, President, will preside at the business meeting following the luncheon. There will be an election of officers. All members are urged to be present.

Potatoes... Few Cents And Good Sense

Another bumper potato crop is now on our Columbus markets. Plan to use them more than once a day while they are plentiful and low in cost. They are an inexpensive source of energy for children and adults alike. When used often, their vitamin and mineral content makes a notable contribution to the adequacy of the diet. A serving of potatoes will provide more than four times the amount of iron and thiamin provided by an average serving of rice or macaroni, foods which are often mistakenly thought to be of equal food value. But, remember to cook them in their skins to preserve all of these nutrients. Potatoes peeled and left soaking hours before they are cooked rob this food of many of its precious food elements and steals its subtle flavor. Girls in home economics classes have noted a distinct improvement in the flavor of mashed potatoes if they were peeled after they were cooked. Try it, you will too. It's a little more inconvenient, naturally, but a very easy way to guard your family's health.

Those who watch their calories can safely include potatoes for they are not a fattening food unless eaten to excess. In fact, an average sized potato is a little lower in calories than two slices of bread, and much lower than a piece of cake or pie, or a few candies or cookies.

Trapping Laws For Coming Season Given

The Ohio fur-trapping season opens November 15 and will continue thru Jan. 15, 1950 in the inland trapping district. Mink and muskrat may be taken thru March 15 in the Lake Erie district, comprising the waters of Lake Erie and all counties bordering the Lake plus Geauga and Huron counties.

Raccoon may be taken by dog or gun or both only between the hours of 6 p.m. and 6 a.m. of the following day, throughout the season. The daily bag limit is 2 and the field possession limit is 2.

Non-resident trappers are limited to 25 traps in use at any one time.

Any trap placed or set to take fur-bearing animals, except on bona-fide fur farms, shall have attached thereto a durable waterproof tag bearing the name and address of the owner or have the name and address stamped into each trap.

It is unlawful to place any trap to be used in the taking of fur-bearing animals, within, under, or upon the confines of any public highway and in or upon any cart or wagon road or path ordinarily used by domestic animals or human beings or within five feet of any muskrat feeding structure or muskrat house not including bank den.

There is no bag or possession limit for opossum, skunk, mink or muskrat.

Being Elected Doesn't Make Right

It seems to us that any candidate that runs in Columbus who is connected with State Auditor Joseph Ferguson, no matter what his ability, has the automatic, "Kiss of Death" hung on him.

There isn't any doubt that Herbert Sifferlin was a more competent auditor than Barthalow, but somehow the fact remains Columbus people just don't want any part of little Joe Ferguson.

The facts printed in a circular issued by Sifferlin, against Barthalow, must have been true, because Barthalow didn't deny them. The suit filed in Franklin County Courts for over $1,500,000 against Barthalow and his bondsmen shortly before election, should go on.

We hope Joseph Ferguson doesn't stop 'til it is completed.

Because a person is elected does not make him right. We hope R. J. Barthalow will clean up the wrong acts he has been charged with. Here is an opportunity for him to regain the respect of the minority which voted against him because they thought he was wrong.

Miss Secchi Recent Bride

Sept. 10 marked the nuptials of Miss Rosina Secchi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Secchi, 1529 Parsons Ave., and Mr. Oscar M. Cordell. The garden of St. Leo's Church with the Rev. Fr. Robert Schmidt officiating, was the setting.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of ivory satin with a fingertip veil and a bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Miss Maria Secchi was maid of honor wearing a pink gown with a bouquet of red roses.

Mr. Bernard Oltenbach was best man.

The Kimco Club was the setting for the reception in the evening.

Margaret Cooper To Be December Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Aurice Cooper, of 1349 Kossuth St., are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Margaret, to Mr. Joseph L. Davis of Denver, Colo., son of Mr. White Davis of 915½ Whittier St., Columbus, and the late Mrs. Davis.

The bride-elect is a graduate of South High School and is associated with the F. & R. Lazarus Company. Her fiance, also a graduate of South High School, was awarded his degree cum laude from the college of education at Ohio State University in August. He formerly was a member of the editorial staff at The Ohio State Journal and now is teaching school in Denver.

Their wedding will take place December 28 at seven thirty p.m. in the Oakwood Methodist Church.

Roof Trusses Arrive For St. Paul's

The huge trusses for the roof have arrived and been installed at Saint Pauls New Church Building, 225 East Gates Street. The weight of the wood alone is near three tons, and this is strengthened by steel angles and shafts. With this installation, and the completion of cut rock work on the windows and front steps, the carpenters will be starting the inside finishing in the next few days. The Young People's Group have planned a fitting ceremony for the latter part of November and they will use the new Building. True, the heating plant will not be in operation, all the windows will not be in place, the floor will not be laid, and it might be cold and snowing, but the Young People WILL USE THE NEW BUILDING.

They have planned a Consecration Service, in their Overcoats by Candlelight. It will be a brief Service, which will start and be resumed in their present meeting quarters in the Old Church. These Young People, under the guiding hand of the Reverend Paul C. Kaefer, will Consecrate their efforts towards the new Youth Center which is being built for them.

Meanwhile, the New Senior Explorer Unit No. 77 has had its second hike of the season, and they too are looking forward to their new quarters at 255 East Gates. Cub Pack 84, Scout Troop 77, and Senior Unit 77, are all open for any interested South Side boy from eight years of age on up.

The Reverend Paul C. Kaefer is a very busy man these days, but he is never too busy to talk to a young person about joining one of his groups, all of which are operated by most capable advisors.

True Love

True love should be treasured
True love can't be measured
For its value is untold.

Far more than money and gold.
Words and acts of goodness
Spell out the words, "true love."
And bring happiness
The kind like that above.

True love for a Sweetheart
Between a woman and man
Will never let them part
Because true love never can.

Too, true love for a friend
Will bind friendship that will hold.

That friendship will ne'er end
Cause they're bound heart and soul.

—Charles W. Widmaier

Michigans Upper Peninsula

By Frank "Dude Ranch" Knox

It's Tuesday morning. Snowed last night and it's cold outside. Six o'clock is like a pig's tail this time of year but we have to pack our luggage etc., for our trip back to Columbus.

Pete was supposed to come down at six but it's almost seven and no Pete. He'd remind me that I have to take this and that, but we know we're going to overlook something, because it's dark and the kerosene lamps throw little light where you need it most.

Pete comes in perspiring. Had to do a bit of packing at home before coming down to the "Ranch." We're off to St. Ignace and the Bus Station. Starting to drizzle. Small patches of snow can be seen on the north sides of the trees and stumps along the road. It's going to be a gloomy day. No sign of sun in the dark blue skies. But that's the way we like it when we leave up here. Makes it easier on us. With a nice sun-shiny day on our hands we hate to leave.

It's eight-twenty so we'll have time to run down to Wright's Hotel for a short snort and a good-bye handshake. We leave at eight-forty-five, which will just give us time to board the nine o'clock Ferry for Mackinaw City and Columbus.

We take 31 out of Mackinaw City thru Carp Lake, Petoskey, etc. Carp Lake seems larger from the bus. Cottages here are the same as you see all over Upper Michigan along the highways. This time of year, however, they look more like Shanties and won't be dressed up again until next Spring when the snow goes away. One Shanty (a homestead) set in the center of a plat of ground that looked like about an acre. As far as you could see there was nothing but tobacco, save a small spot near the house about the size of your kitchen where a garden had been planted. It was typically Hill-Bill. Guess to the occupant—tobacco was more important than food.

At Levering, Mich., the cows had broken down the newly hung snow fences. The airport at Pelston is as large as Port Columbus and looks sorta out of place in this neck of the woods.

We steer east to Gaylord, where we have a thirty-minute stop for food and stretch. The old log eating place is still under the same management but slightly improved. A new oblong bar was installed this Spring. This place is directly across from the Court House on U.S. 27.

At Clare we passed the Doherty Hotel where we stopped on one of our trips north. They have new parking meters in Clare, but they're limited to 60 minutes on some streets and two hours on others. They are in operation the year around. Back in St. Ignace they took them down two weeks ago. The residents park for free after all the tourists go back South.

At Bay City we changed operators. Mr. A. Erickson drove us from St. Ignace and before leaving the Bus at Bay City, turned and thanked the passengers for their cooperation on the trip. Reminded us that he had a job to do and couldn't do it without the cooperation of his passengers. Also, you could be half asleep but you knew just where you were for Mr. Erickson announced each town and village we passed thru.

Harold Lake took over at Bay City, changed the front Bus marking from Charleston to "Express," and stopped wherever a passenger chose to board or leave the bus. To add to the convenience of the passenger, the busses have a two-way radio phone.

An old gent boarded the bus, I believe at Alanson, bound for his son's home in Marion, Ohio. His appearance suggested poverty, but I wondered if he didn't have a couple hundred bucks in his shoe or sewed in the lining of his coat (if there was a lining). You couldn't help feeling sorry for the old guy whom we called Pop. All he spoke of during the entire trip was his son in Marion. He seemed bewildered at times and all the way from Toledo, he remarked, "I think the next stop is Marion" or, passing thru a small town "Yep, this is Marion, there's the railroad tracks." As a matter of fact, we weren't in Tiffin yet, and had passed hundreds of railroad tracks.

We stopped for 30 minutes at Tiffin where some drunk bought the old fellow a sandwich and a glass of beer. He hummed me for a cigarette. I'll never forget the expression on his face when we finally did reach Marion.

Hunters Calm Over No Deer Season Decision

The Ohio Wildlife Council, at the October meeting in Columbus, officially turned "thumbs-down" on a deer season for 1949 after a thorough study of population surveys just completed.

Ohio deer hunters generally throughout the State were reported this week to be accepting the Council's action without serious complaint, confident that the decision was following the policy of wise conservation.

Commenting on the sportmen's attitude, H. A. Rider, Chief of the Division of Wildlife, said that in his opinion Ohio deer hunters have looked upon the open seasons of 1943, '44 and '45 and again in 1947 and '48 as somewhat of a "bonus" in hunting privileges provided thru the courtesy of farmers and landowners in those areas where crop damage was heavy.

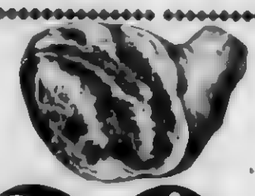
The unexplained increase in deer population had to be brought under control. The hunters were invited to do the job. They did it and it was for the best interests of everyone.

Recent deer population surveys indicated that the present population will not reasonably support unlimited shooting following an estimated kill of some 3,000 deer last year in 13 northeastern Ohio counties.

Although population surveys in some counties showed a slight increase over last year's estimates, those counties which were heavily hunted in 1948 reported decreases ranging from 30 to 50 per cent.

Nine counties were considered as a possible hunting area for 1949, but considering that even if there was no increase in the number of hunters over last year, it would mean that about 30,000 hunters would take to the fields and woodlands in those counties.

Council members generally felt that it just wouldn't work out. Such hunting pressure, they agreed, would be taking unfair advantage of the landowners and aside from that the hunter's chance of bagging a deer would be too slim.



John Holliday, Gallipolis, and Leonard Yochum, Sabina, both favored an open season this year and opposed the motion for "no open season."

The Council does not favor eliminating the deer herds of Ohio completely, but rather believe they should be kept under control to keep crop damage and highway hazards at a minimum.

Members considered the fact that some hunters wanted an open season while others did not and were sympathetic in their consideration toward the hardware and sporting goods merchants who have heavy stocks of deer hunting shells in anticipation of an open season. Taking everything into consideration, however, a majority of the members felt that an open season this year would be unwise.

Stream Fishing Produce 29 Species

A state-wide survey of Ohio streams from May thru August, by the Ohio Division of Wildlife, shows that 29 different species of fish were taken during this period by Ohio Anglers. Of the more were bullheads, 19 per cent sunfish, 13 per cent carp, 10 per cent suckers and 8 per cent black bass. Suckers and sunfish were caught more often in the spring and black bass and catfish were taken more abundantly in July and August.

Ohio Game Protectors checked 17,446 miles of streams during the period and recorded 81,245 fishermen. This indicates a pressure of 1.9 fishermen per mile.

Throughout the fishing season 20,765 stream fishermen were contacted. These anglers had fished an average of 2.4 hours each and caught 26,172 fish for an average of 1.3 fish. However, during the same time 10,550 of these same fishermen (51 per cent) caught no fish, therefore, the catch for those who caught fish would figure about 2.6 fish each. Using these figures as a basis, if the million and a quarter Ohio fishermen who fished in 1949, fished once each in the streams, over a million and a half fish were taken.

Using these same figures, each person who fished, whether successful or not, average .6 fish per hour.

To determine populations and fish size, fish management men of the Division, surveyed 825 streams in 87 of Ohio's 88 counties with small seines. Twelve hundred and twenty-two tests were made covering nearly a half million square feet of surface water.

Over 115,000 fish were caught during this survey, recording an average of 48 fish for each one hundred square feet. This amounts to about one fish for each area of stream the size of a circle three feet in diameter. Since these seines did not catch all the fish because of interference of brush, logs and rocks the true number of fish would no doubt be considerably larger.

Over 80 species of fish were taken during the survey, including 3 species of black bass, white bass, northern pike, suckers, carp, perch, crappies and blue gills. abundant species, 22 per cent

Her finger-tip veil was of silk illusion held in place by a tiara of pearlized orange blossoms.

Mrs. Clay wore a gown of gold slipper satin fashioned with a square neckline and the bridesmaids wore gowns of slate blue satin. All wore mitts and sweetheart hats matching their gowns. They carried bouquets of large dahlias.

Top of Morning at Southland

"Top of the Morning," starring Bing Crosby, Ann Blyth, Barry Fitzgerald and Hume Cronyn is coming Sunday to the Southland Theatre.

Bing's presence implies music, and there is plenty of it in this beguiling story of the theft of the famous Blarney Stone from the town of Cork, Ireland. The Groaner, in the role of an American insurance investigator, is sent to Ireland to solve the mystery and there he comes up against police officer Fitzgerald, who belligerently resents the American's interference, as well as the latter's interest in his daughter.

Co-starred with "Top of the Morning," at the Southland will be "Buckskin Frontier," starring Richard Dix and Jane Wyatt.

IDEAL THEATER

"Smoky Mountain Melody" with Roy Acuff and his Smoky Mountain Boys will be shown at the Ideal Theater Sunday and Monday. Roy is not a rough, tough, two-gun menace to desperadoes, but a soft spoken advocate of the rights of man and spreader of sweetness and light on the ranch which two brothers have mismanaged with their father for a number of years. He turns the jail into a playroom for the fruit pickers' children and even converts the brothers into nice, neighborly folks. Also showing is "The Smugglers" with Michale Redgrave. News and cartoon completes the bill.

Smith - Rathman Vows August 20th

A double ring ceremony in St. Leo's Church united in marriage Miss Rosemary Rathman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rathman, 663 E. Gates-st, and Mr. George M. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Smith, Sr., 111 E Russell-st, at 9:30 a.m., Aug. 20. the Rev. Fr. Schmidt performing the nuptials.

The bride wore a satin lace gown. She carried a white prayer-book topped with a white orchid and stephanotis and streamers.

Miss Betty Wiesner, maid of honor, wore a light pink marquisette gown. She carried a colonial bouquet of blue delphiniums and Johanna Hill roses. Miss Mary Smith and Miss Martha Smith, sisters of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids.

Mr. Fred Salomé was best man for Mr. Smith. Ushers were Mr. Charles Gilligan and Mr. Frank Perone.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of Polytechnic Institute.

Miss Swisher Is Married To Mr. Justice

Vows were exchanged Sept. 25 between Miss Velma Swisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Swisher, 391 Deshler Ave., and Mr. Robert D. Justice, son of Mrs. James English, 269 South Brinker Ave., and Mr. Elmer E. Justice of Cambridge, Ohio.

The Rev. Mr. Paul C. Kaefer read the vows in South Methodist Church before a background of white gladioli, palms and seven-branch candelabra.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of heavy satin in soft candlelight shade, designed with a deep, sheer off-the-shoulder neckline edged with a ruffle of chantilly lace. The long fitted sleeves came to points over the hands. Her skirt was fitted plainly over the hips and worn over an old fashioned hoop, cascading into a full length circular train. A tiara of matching chantilly lace held in place the full length veil of imported illusion. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses and pompons.

Preceding the bride down the aisle, the flower girl, Patty Stonerock, wore a full length dress of pale yellow taffeta and carried a colonial bouquet. Miss Jacqueline Kanable was the maid of honor. Her silk taffeta dress was designed with a wide off-the-shoulder neckline edged with a satin fold which formed cap sleeves. The fitted bodice dipped into the extremely full skirt of marquisette over taffeta. She wore a small bonnet shaped hat of satin matching her gown.

Miss Mary Etta Adams and Miss Jo Anne Richardson were bridesmaids and were attired in identical gowns of aqua. The maid of honor and the bridesmaids carried colonial bouquets of colors contrasting with their dresses.

Mr. Paul E. Bonnell was best man for his brother. Ushers were Mr. William M. Garwood and Mr. Robert E. Adams.

Mrs. James Rankin served as hostess at the reception which was held immediately following the ceremony at the Southern Hotel.

The bride is a graduate of South High School and is associated with the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. The bridegroom is a graduate of South High School and is now a senior in the college of engineering at Ohio State University.

Miss Herderick a Bride Of September 10

Before an altar decorated with seven-branch candelabra and vases of colored gladioli and huckleberry, Miss Eileen C. Herderick became the bride of Mr. Otto C. Waidner.

The Rev. Mr. Hugh Robinson and the Rev. Mr. E. L. Motter performed the double ring ceremony in Asbury Methodist church on Sept. 10 at 4:30 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Herderick of Canal Winchester, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Waidner, of 228 Reinhard Ave., Columbus.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white marquisette trimmed with white lace and ruffles of lace around the yoke and hem and a hoop skirt. The bodice was close fitted buttoned down the back with a double fold at the midriff, draping into a bustle. She carried a satin covered prayerbook topped with purple-throated orchid.

Mrs. Millard Meloy, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown was of deep green fashioned with a skirt of marquisette over faille taffeta.

The bridesmaids were Miss Dorothy Herderick and Miss Jane Wilde with Miss Marilyn Leonard as junior bridesmaid. They wore gowns fashioned alike with marquisette over faille taffeta. They were attired in orchid, nile green and yellow. They carried gladioli in contrasting colors of their gowns and wore crochet halos of matching colors.

Mr. Albert H. Waidner served his brother as best man, and the ushers were Mr. Woodrow W. Waidner, brother of the bridegroom from Detroit, and Mr. Edward A. Herderick, brother of the bride.

The reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of the bride. Hostesses were Mrs. William Herderick, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Pauline Palsgrove.

The new Mrs. Waidner is a graduate of Groveport High School and is employed by the City National Bank & Trust Co.

Mr. Waidner, a graduate of South High School and Bliss College, is employed by the Ohio Department of Agriculture.

The couple is residing temporarily at 228 Reinhard Ave.

Miss Horch Is Married To Mr. Rouse

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Rita Jeanne Horch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mallen Horch, 1133 S. 22nd-st, to Ralph Rouse, son of Mrs. Jennie Rouse of Ironton. The wedding took place at 4 p.m. Oct. 1, in the Horch home with the Rev. Samuel R Dunham officiating.

The bride wore an ankle-length gown of aqua lace and a floral headdress. Her bouquet was of white roses centered with a white orchid. Miss Gail Powell served as maid of honor while John Fuller acted as best man.

The former Miss Horch is employed by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. and Mr. Rouse is associated with the Veterans Administration. Following the wedding reception they left for a trip to New York and are now residing temporarily at 1133 S. 22nd-st.

REEB CALENDAR

Thursday, Nov. 17, 2:15 p.m. Reeb Parent-Teacher Ass'n.

Friday, November 18, Chapel with Mr. Crook's room leading.

Tuesday, Nov. 22, Educational Films 1:30-Washington D. C.; 2:10-Washington D. C.; 2:35-The Airliner.

Wednesday, Nov. 23, Sale of Saving Stamps.

The above calendar of the events of the coming year is announced so that our parents and adult friends may plan to come to Reeb to visit us.

ROOM 201

The 5B and 5A class will lead the Chapel program on Friday, the 18th of November.

—R—

ROOM 207

Our class enjoyed the movie last week. It was about the Navago Indians. We had a long talk about the things we learned from the movie.

All of us are sorry that Jack Cooper is not able to be in school. We hope he will be well soon.

OUR BREAKFAST CHART

The children in Room 205 have made breakfast charts. Our chart shows friut, cereal, bread, butter, cocoa, and eggs. Each day we put a check mark on the things we have for breakfast. Today I put a check mark after cereal and cocoa. Each day I am going to try to eat the right foods. The chart is to help us to eat the right kind of food.

— Wanda Fowler

—R—

Most of us know that there are very few films that are really fit for children to see. Reeb is trying to do something about this. About every Friday from 12:45 to 1:15 we show two reels of pictures which are interesting to our girls and boys. These films are selected with extreme care. We charge 9c for each showing and the money is used to pay the rental and transportation charges. Any profit that comes from these pictures is divided between Reeb's Parent-Teacher Association and Reeb's general school fund for the purpose of purchasing more needed equipment for the school.

—R—

We have a new basket-ball basket which has been made especially for us, Because we have had three baskets completely ruined by someone outside the school hours we have had one made that can be brought inside the building as soon as we are thru playing each afternoon. We are sorry that we have to make these plans in order to take care of our equipment because we would like to have all of our neighborhood have the good of it but just a few spoil the fun of so many others.

—R—

The November meeting of the Reeb P.T.A. will be next Thursday, Nov. 17th at 2.15 p.m. Rev. Nicholas Sewell, pastor of our Hungarian Reformed Church, will speak to us on "Thanksgiving." Parents cannot afford to miss these programs which are specially planned for them. The pupils in Mrs. Blackburn's room will present a few musical numbers and the Rev. A. A. Sebastian will open the meeting with prayer. Our hostesses will be Mrs. John Santo, Mrs. Jerry Cordle, Mrs. Arthur Smith, Mrs. Alex Sebok, Mrs. Harry Schottenstein, and Mrs. Kenneth Forbis. Mrs. Ray Cooper and Mrs. Paul Barton will have charge of the nursery.

St. Leos P.T.A. To Meet

St. Leo Parent Teachers' Association will hold its regular monthly meeting in the school hall at 7:45 p.m. on Thursday, November 17th.

Dr. Lowell Smith of Children's Hospital will speak on immunization of children's diseases.

Final arrangements will be made for the poultry games party to be held on November 22nd.

Refreshments will be served by the seventh grade room mothers.

We are glad to see such a large attendance at our October meeting and expect to see some new faces at this month's meeting.

Crosley Contest Deadline November 30th

Bush Hardware and Appliance, 1242 Parsons Ave., Heil & Scheiderer Hardware, 1683 Parsons Ave. and The Buckeye Radio Lab, 368 E. Whittier St., are three of the thousands of appliance dealers participating in a $2,000,000.00 "Giveaway to top all Giveaways."

The "Giveaway" is to be conducted by the Crosley Division, Avco Mfg. Corp., and its distributors and dealers thruout the country.

Bush, Heil and Scheiderer and The Buckeye Radio Lab described the "Giveaway" as "the simplest to enter and easiest to win —and by far the biggest - in the history."

Prizes will include nearly $2,000,000 worth of New 1950 Custom Model Crosley Shelvador refrigerators to be given away by dealers, and 125 awards to grand prize winners nationally.

To enter, it is necessary only to write, in a few words, "Why I Should Be Given a New 1950 Shelvador Refrigerator." Entry blanks on which to write may be obtained without obligation at Bush Hardware, Heil and Scheiderer and The Buckeye Radio Lab.

The best local entry, as judged by a committee of prominent citizens of the community, will be awarded a new 1950 custom model Shelvador refrigerator, having a capacity of 9 cubic feet.

National entries will be forwarded to Crosley headquarters for the additional selection of national grand prize winners.

First national prize will be $10,000 in cash and complete Crosley kitchen, having a retail value of $1,520; second prize $5,000 in cash plus a complete electric kitchen; third prize $2,500 in cash and a complete electric kitchen; fourth prize, $1,500 in cash plus the kitchen; fifth prize, $1,000 in cash plus the kitchen; next 20 prizes, complete electric kitchens; next 100 prizes, new 1950 custom models 9-cubic-foot Shelvador refrigerators.

Both national and local entry blanks are available now and the final deadline will be November 30.

A revolutionary new design and the latest in features are incorporated in the new 1950 Shelvador refrigerator to be awarded locally as part of the giant national $2,000,000 "Giveaway" being conducted by the Crosley Division, Avco Mfg. Corp. and its dealers.

The new Shelvador provides up to 23 percent additional storage capacity in the same size exterior cabinet. This new design provides close to two cubic feet of "plus" storage space at the "convenience level," where foods are easy to reach without bending or stooping.

The exclusive Shelvador feature has been restyled with sturdy white plastic shelves that are completely recesssed within the interior of an extra thick insulated outer door.

A unique feature of the Shelvador CB-9 is the "butter-safe," a compartment for butter storage built into the door of the refrigerator. It is electrically heated and thermostatically controlled to keep butter at the proper spreading consistency. Constructed of white plastic, it is easily removable for thorough cleaning.

An outstanding feature of this model is the separate horizontal freezer and frozen food compartments that hold up to 53 pounds of frozen foods and ice cubes. In the full-width freezer compartment there is a freezer shelf with sub-zero temperatures for home freezing. The frozen food compartment provides extra space for ice trays and day to day supplies of frozen food.

Among the many additional features is the exclusive new door latch that provides for effortless opening of the door and a firm door-seal.

Maximum shelf flexibility is provided by lift out and sectional shelves. The interior is finished with acid-resisting porcelain enamel. All models in the Shelvador line are powered by the "Crosley Electrosaver Unit" hermetically sealed and self-lubricated.

Remember, Folks, the most important part of this contest is that each of the three above dealers will give away a new Crosley Shelvador refrigerator in the local contest here on the South Side. The deadline for this contest is Wednesday, Nov. 30th, so stop in today and get your entry blanks. Another important feature of this contest is that the entries submitted to the above three merchants are to be judged by a committee from the South Side. Each store will judge its own entries separately and will award to the best letter received the new Crosley Shelvador refrigerator. Let's everyone join in on this contest today.

St. Mary's Loses Four Straight Games

St. Mary's lost its 4th straight game Friday night bowing to a "highly spirited" Reynoldsburg eleven on the winner's gridiron.

The only tally of the game was scored early in the first quarter when Jim Kielmyer plunged over from the one climaxing a drive that started on the Rams' thirty yard line after a recovered fumble on the first play of the game.

St. Mary's drove down to within the Reynoldsburg ten yard line three times but seemed to lack the necessary punch to push the ball over for a score.

Statistically the Ramblers were the victors, gaining 201 yards from scrimmage to 134 for Reynoldsburg. They also led in first downs 13 to 11.

Dog Stories Spurs Interest

By Arlene Lesfein

"Boggs On Dogs" is a funny essay, according to the 9A English Class at Barrett. In fact, it so interested the class that one of the members, Elza Jo Fodor, tried to find out more about the author, Mr. Norman H. Crowell. Elza Jo says her first effort was the local Public Library and the State Library here in Columbus, and finally wrote to Mrs. Grace Noll Crowell, who was chosen American Mother of 1938 and Poet Laureate of the State of Texas.

"I wrote to Mrs. Crowell and asked her several questions concerning her husband's writings and her own works of literature which would give us more information on 'Boggs On Dogs,' " says Elza Jo as she was recently interviewed. She received a letter from Mr. Crowell, the author of "Boggs on Dogs" telling of the various types of work that he has pursued, as well as many interesting items concerning his home and family.

Mr. Crowell published the Sportsman's Primer in 1907; he wrote 12 or 14 Boggs tales and sold more than [illegible] articles to Hunting and Fi[illegible]ts Magazines, however the later paid mostly in lanterns, [illegible]er boots, and fishing tackle. He gave up writing for work that might be more profitable. Two [illegible] years later, he returned to the publishing field in which he's active at the present time.

Miss Lucille Cornetet, teacher of this 9A English class, says that the class plans to follow up this letter with more intensive study of Mr. and Mrs. Crowell's work.

Ebright's Petitions In Circulation

Don H. Ebright, Treasurer of State, disclosed that his nominating petitions for the Office of Governor in the 1950 Republican Primary Election are now in circulation in every county in the State.

"We sent out our petitions at the time of my announcement last Thursday," Ebright said, "and many of them have already returned completely filled out."

Ebright reiterated the need of a survey of all state government activities, and a reorganization of the Department of Public Welfare and other departments. He stressed the importance of a positive, constructive program. He said he would aggressively present such a program to the voters in the coming election.

Mr. Ebright was the only Republican State official elected in the 1948 election.

Jr. Red Cross Box Yields Letters

Three letters from the Philippine Islands have been a center of interest in Room 101 of Barrett Junior High School this fall. These letters are thank you notes for the Jr. Red Cross box that was sent last year from the home

"I have studied about your country and I know it's the best country in the world and it's the country I have studied and dreamed about" is a comment from one of the letters. One of the boys wants to know more about western cowboys. These letters, which were addressed to 101 home room teacher, Mr. C. S. Sherwood, tell about their country and its products, and asks to know more about this country.

Mr. Sherwood and the pupils are planning to send another Red Cross box, this time enclosing a copy of the school paper, which each pupil will autograph.

Four Barret Boys Played At Akron Bowl

The Akron Rubber Bowl is a highlight in the memories of four Barrett boys. The Columbus All Star Bantam Weight Football Team played the Akron All Star Bantam Weight Team at Akron, Saturday, Nov. 12. Barrett Boys on the team were Jack Frost, Frank Reeves, Ronald Buel, and Lionel Sisk.

If you ask them what the score was there isn't much cause for rejoicing, because they came back with a 51 to 0 defeat. In spite of the score, Jack Frost was given a trophy for best lineman.

The boys traveled by bus to the Akron Field and will not soon forget their experience in spite of the score.

Buzzin With Bea

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davies and Douglas are looking forward to the coming Christmas holidays when they will be host to the Scott family.

* * *

Dan Davies, former South High and Denison University athletic star, was a visitor in Columbus this week. His stay was short because he had to return to work at his drug store in Lexington, Tenn. While in Columbus, he stayed at the home of his mother, Mrs. Estelle Davies, 985 Mithoff St. Dan's sister, Mrs. Chas. F. Lucks, his niece, Betty May Lucks, and his mother drove back to Lexington with him for an indefinite visit with Dan and his wife.

George Lenky, Jr., held a group of friends spellbound the other day describing a fishing experience. George was fishing the Olentangy River when he made a strike, a big 12-lb. cat fish took the bait and the struggle began. George finally brought his fish to the bank . . . he paused . . . wiping the sweat from his brow. Everyone was on the edge of their chair waiting for the finish, but George didn't continue. "What happened," was asked, to which George replied, "Shucks, I woke up." Seems this should be titled "I Can Dream Can't I?"

Bob Winniestoffer, who makes photography his hobby, just purchased a 4x5 speed graphic camera. The picture he recently took of Charlie Fisher is exceptionally good—ask Charlie.

* * *

George Robey, Jr. and Harry Kreutzer, Jr. and Harry Kreutzer, Sr. made a trip to Carey, O., last week to do a little hunting. The boys ran into quite a few restrictions around that part of the country. Most of the farmers would not permit hunting on their lands, due to the destruction and poor sportsmanship shown by hunters in previous years. The boys finally got permission to hunt a field. They said they raised a lot of hen birds, which of course, it was against the law to shoot,but they didn't even get a shot at a cock pheasant.

Those who were present at the Grove City Duck pin alleys, Nov. 15th really had a thrill, when Charlie Schock turned in a 300 game. Mr. Paul Decker, owner of the alleys, said it is the first 300 game rolled there since they opened 10 years ago. Mr. Schock's average is 180 in ten pins, but for real sport he prefers the Duck Pin game. He resides at 2655 Harrisburg Pike.

News In The World Of Religion
By W. W. Reid

"We must make it plain that in resisting Marxian communism we are defending the elementary rights of man against an attack which would deprive him of freedom and change him into a robot," said Dr. Cyril F. Garbett, archbishop of York, England, during a recent visit to the USA. "Everything must be done by Christians to remove causes leading to communism which flourishes mostly in countries where poverty is greatest, and in which there is a glaring contrast between the luxury of the few and the misery of the multitude. Social injustice has been the powerful ally, often the parent, of revolutionary communism." The contest now on between communism and western civilization, Dr. Garbett said, is "for nothing less than the soul of man."

Neither the Japanese occupation beginning a decade ago, nor the present communist threat today seem to divert the faculty and students of Lingnan University, Canton, China, from their appointed rounds of helping the people of that area of China from securing more and better foods.. In 1939 the University started a rice mill and it is continuing its service to rice farmers over a wide territory; it is also developing better hogs by interbreeding of American and Chinese stock; it is producing better seeds for better rice and garden vegetables; and better cattle giving more and better milk, bottled under cleaner conditions. The Lingnan greenhouses have long been experimenting with adapting seeds from America to China's soil.

Methodist church ministers and laymen in both California and Arizona have recently urged upon President Truman that steps be taken to initiate "a meeting of high-ranking officials of both Russia and the United States" to discuss their differences: and that there be exchange of cultural leaders of the two nations.

Dr. Hachiro Yuasa, noted Japanese educator, who resigned his post as president of the far-famed Doshisha University when Japan's militarists clamped down on his ideas of international educational outlook, and who spent the war years lecturing and writing in the United States, has been announced as the president elect of the new International Christian University of Japan which is to be opened in 1951. Dr. Yuasa was educated at Kansas State Agricultural College and at the University of Illinois, from which he received the Ph.D. degree, and for a time taught zoology at the University of Chicago. Returning to Japan he was named a professor at Kyoto Imperial University, and his research in the field of zoology brought him international note, and then the Doshisha presidency.

"The church of Christ . . . catholic," say the bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church in their recent pastoral letter." "The word "catholic" in its commonest meaning tells us that we belong to a universal church intended by God to carry the truth to all men. A true priest is not the servant of a little society; he is the pastor of a whole community reaching out to all men. If we are a universal church, let us free ourselves from that parochial mindedness which does not see the 'Lord' will for his church. We sometimes are asked when the appeals for missions will cease. The answer to that is 'Never.' The church is catholic and militant, concerned with the feeding of the hungry and the educating of its children. Its mission is to bring all men into a right relationshp between God and men, and between man and man, or it degenera es into a social club or aesthetic society."

American Freedom Sprang From Ashes Of Socialism

Socialism or Communism is not new in America. Many of our Colonies were founded on Communism. The Jamestown settlers of the south and the Pilgrims of England were both communist colonies. In the last three and a half centuries more than 200 such groups have tried out some form of socialism or communism on American soil. Every one has failed in the past and for the same reason that they continue to fail in modern times.

The first English speaking settlers landed at Jamestown, Va. early in 1607. At first all industry and land were held in common and as colonial secretary Ralph Hamor reported, "Our people were fed out of a common store and laboured jointly." The settlers failed to produce enough to sustain themselves. Captain John Smith demanded a compulsory 6-hour work day and decreed that: "He who will not work shall not eat." Captain John failed. A tougher dictator, Sir Thomas Dale, who ruled with an iron hand, also failed.

The English backers found the settlement a growing expense and sent still another governor, Sir George Yeardley, who established the RIGHT of PRIVATE PROPERTY and the first representative Assembly in America. From that time on the colony prospered. In commenting on the change, Secretary Hamor wrote, "The most honest of them, in a general business, would not take so much faithful and true pains in a week as he will now do for himself in a day." And so, "by working for themselves" the settlers saved the day and grew into a prosperous colony based on FREEDOM To MANAGE THEMSELVES and THEIR PROPERTY!

When the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth, Mass. in 1620, their chief aim was not material gain. So, by the famous Mayflower Compact they agreed that the products of their labors were to be kept in a common storehouse from which food and clothing were to be rationed on an equal basis. This pious and conscientious group felt that all would do their utmost for the "common good."

The young single men did not see why they should work for other men's wives and children. The older men thought it disrespectful that they should be called on to perform unskilled labors. Neither husbands nor wives liked having the wives do the cooking and sewing for other men. The colony lacked incentives to produce.

So, 200 American colonies ran the gamut of their SOCIALIST alphabet from Auro, Brook farm, Economy, Equality, Harmony, New Harmony, Oneida Community, etc., to Zion City, each tho't it had a new wrinkle that would work in spite of earlier failures.

Some were founded by deeply religious groups; others by atheists. All of them KILLED private incentive and personal responsibility. When any country does that it matters not whether IT BE FOUNDED ON prayers or curses. It violates a fundamental law of God and must fail.

IF WE DON'T LEARN from EUROPEAN EXPERIENCE, surely we will profit BY OUR OWN HISTORY!

Stamps By The Thousands

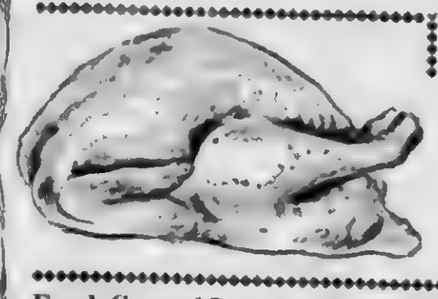
In the collection of sales tax stamps for Frank Hutchison's Pilot Dog, we had 10 lb. of stamps.

Hutchison lost his sight while he was in the service of the Columbus Fire Department.

It takes a lot of stamps to get this dog to guide him, but there is no task the good people of the South Side cannot do when they set their minds to it.

Three more weeks should bring in enough stamps if they continue to pour in.

It will be a glorious feeling for you to know you have been part of this. It doesn't matter whether you send or bring in a few or a large quantity, as they all count.



Stamps may be left at the Parsons Ave., Thurman Ave., Livingston Ave., Fulton St. fire houses, or at the South Side Booster.

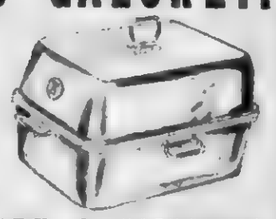
Economic Highlights

The latest chapter in the long controversy between the Navy and the Air Force shows how easy it is to effect unification of the services in theory—and how difficult it is to achieve it in practice. As the Wall Street Journal said, "You do not make two belligerent cats peaceful by putting them together in a barrel." The differences between the views of the forces are fundamental, they affect our whole concept of offensive and defensive war, and they are held with great passion and sincerity on both sides.

The layman, of course, is not equipped to accurately weigh the merits of the arguments over the B-36 super-bomber. Ranking Navy admirals said in their testimony that it was a 1941 airplane in all essentials, that it would be easily picked up on radar screens, and that it would be pretty much of a sitting duck for our new jet fighters, and, more important, for the jet fighters that Russia is developing. The Air Force top brass, in answer, held that the plane is as nearly invulnerable as aircraft can be, that it is our basic offensive weapon, that it needs no fighter escort on long bombing missions, and that its speed, service ceiling and firepower make it able to deal with any jets. It is worth remarking in this connection that not only the Navy disagrees with the Air Force view. As an example, some British experts published a scientific study some time ago which cast doubt on the operational efficiency of the B-36 under combat conditions, and which also advanced the theory that in these days of swift development of the jet engine the piston engine may be on its way out for military planes.



Be that as it may, the Navy, in the view of many, has one very strong talking point—and that is the too-many-eggs-in-one-basket idea. There seems little doubt that Air Force heads believe there is no need for Navy combat air strength, and that the Air Force should have it all. This was the reasoning that lay behind the order stopping construction of a 65,000-ton aircraft carrier after a start had been made on laying the keel. That order came as a body blow to naval men, who saw in it a plan to relegate their service to the status of a secondary, subsidiary force. The Navy's position, as presented by Admiral Denfeld, Chief of Naval Operations, holds that "each service within budgetary limitations be permitted to design and develop its own weapons," and that the "views of a particular service are entitled to predominant weight in the determination of the forces needed by that service to fulfill its missions." This is one of the basic points which underlines the whole controversy.

Serve fruited plum pudding flaming for a memorable climax to Christmas dinner. Remove the hot pudding from its mold to a serving plate, then pour brandy over it. Light a tablespoon of brandy held just over the pudding, then pour it over the rest of the brandy to ignite it. Carry the flaming pudding to the table.

"White Heat" At Southland Theater

"Stay out of my way," James Cagney warns Edmond O'Brien in this tense scene from the drama, "White Heat" coming Sunday to the Southland Theater. The co-feature at the Southland Theater will be "Stampede," with Rod Cameron and Gale Storm.

Real Communists Strength Daily Worker

The fiery organ of the Communists in America is the Daily Worker published in New York City and while this party organ is permitted here in this country to print its daily venom and has many guessing if not worried, it is a satisfaction to know how small its actual circulation is for last week the Daily Worker reported its average circulation over a 12 month period at 23400 copies. This figure provides a rough estimate of the party strength in the U. S.

Presumably, every good Communist reads the Daily Worker if he can read English. If each copy is read by 2 faithful stalwarts of Muscovit persuasion, the party must be some where around 5,000 if you allow for those members who must depend upon the few scattered Communist foriegn language papers. That figure might be shaded a little, considering that many people who read the Worker are not Communists at all but newspapermen or political science scolars who try to keep themselves informed of all shades of opinion.

If the party membership is so small, it is proper to ask why all the fuss? Why is this insignificant splinter group of political lunatics considered a menace to the republic? Why are efforts made to deport its alien members and to convict its officials of intent to overthrow the government by force? Is this not like trying to kill a few mosquitoes with cyanide gas when DDT would do the job?

The answer is that the threat of communism is not a matter of mere numbers. Every Communist is a man with a deadly mission. All his actions and words are dictated by his political gospel. He is obliged to worm him.

Winter Deer Census Planned For Ohio

The Wildlife Council of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources authorized the Division of Wildlife to conduct a winter census on deer in several Ohio counties.

The census figures are expected to provide the necessary information to guide the Council's decision for or against an open season in 1950.

The decision of the Council last month that there would be no open season this year was based on an estimated reduction in the deer population ranging from 35 to 50 per cent in some areas.

The census will be conducted during the winter months when the deer are concentrated in herds and when winter snows afford more accurate observation.

Further action of the Council at the November meeting included a resolution prohibiting field trials on game refuges. Members generally agreed to an expansion of the State's interest in field trial areas for the organized dog men when funds are available and the Council plans to be on the lookout for suitable areas which could be leased or purchased outright

St. Ladislaus Dance

Thanksgiving Matinee At Columbia

The Columbia Theater will have a matinee on Thanksgiving Day, starting at 2 p.m. They will present Thursday, (Thanksgiving Day) Friday and Saturday, "Down Dakota Way," starring Roy Rogers and his famous horse, Trigger. This is an excellent picture for the children with the usual amount of riding, shooting and fighting, with somewhat more emphasis on moralizing children to obey parents and teachers. Also on the program is "The Black Book" starring Robert Cummings. The program offers James Cagney in "White Heat," and R. Widmark in "Slattery's Hurricane" to be shown Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Russell Theater

Sunday and Monday the Russell Theater presents Roseanna McCoy with Farley Granger and Joan Evans. The feud between the Hatfields and the McCoys is the theme of this picture. While the expected feudin', fussin' and fightin' is there, and in large enough doses to please those who seek suspense, action and bloodshed, the major theme of the picture is a torrid love story. "Make Mine Last" with Ray Bolger is the second picture. A cartoon completes the bill. Thursday only the Russell will have a matinee showing "The Great Stagecoach Robbery" with Bill Elliott.

"Hellfire" At Ideal Theater

This Sunday and Monday the Ideal Theater presents "Hellfire" with William Elliott and Marie Winsor. The story concerns a two-fisted, lead-slinging gambler who turns sky-pilot, and his efforts to redeem an outlaw gal. Despite the religious overtone, the film lacks none of the wanted western ingredients. Also showing is "Ifold That Baby" with Leo Gorcy and the Bowery Boys. News and Cartoon complete the bill.

"Meet The Killer" At Southland

"Abbott and Costello Meet the Killer," starring Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, will open Friday at the Southland Theatre. Co-starring Boris Karloff with the comedians, the film concerns the troubles of a resort hotel bellhop (Costello) who is suspected of murdering a guest at the hotel. His pal, the house detective, (Abbott) tries to help him out of the mess, but only succeeds in pushing him in deeper.

The co-feature at the Southland Theatre will be "The Westerner," starring Gary Cooper.

National News Service

Washington, D.C., October—Secretary of Commerce told the public a few days ago that the steel strike has reversed the employment trend and that the Nation's welfare is at stake. The Secretary warned that the shutdown after November 1 will produce stoppage of mass production such as autos, machinery, electric appliances, construction and metal containers. Furthermore, the Secretary said that strikes must be struck-out by January 1, or "there will, in effect, be a complete shutdown in the metal consuming industries."

"Until two weeks ago," he added, "there was a definite upward trend in business and employment. That has been changed by strikes and threats of strikes."

Meanwhile the existing Labor Law has been defended on Capitol Hill against attacks from the White House. The legislation as it now exists provides that employers and employes must deal together through their representatives, and that those agents of the Union must be chosen by a majority of the employes themselves. The law very clearly accords equality in the representatives of labor and management. Read and study the Taft-Hartley Act and you will find that it furnishes an absolutely square deal to employers and workers. Then why not use it?

The blockade is: White House politics!

Senator Taft of Ohio reviewed the Capitol Hill situation in a broadcast and he charged "the philosophy of the Eighty-first Congress is the same as that of the Eightieth—it being based on the continuation of the principles of liberty under a free economy . . . I think the issue is whether the people want to take up this Fair Deal program and turn this country into a Socialist government very much like Great Britain's, in which the Government directs the details of all industry, commerce, agriculture, and the daily lives of the people." Other Senators agree that the trend is toward Socialism.

School Time

By Edward L. Hinn

I have often wondered how many young pairs of eyes are being damaged because of out-of-date or inadequate lighting in our schools.

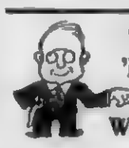
Recently I learned that most students, when sitting at their desks in a classroom, are receiving less than one-fourth the amount of illumination which the U. S. Bureau of Standards has found to be the minimum for school lighting.

This startling information was produced in a recent national survey which included schools of all sizes and types.

Scientists have devoted quite a bit of study to better school room lighting. I had an opportunity just the other day to see the new techniques for proper illumination when I was invited to visit the famous Nela Park, research laboratory of General Electric at Cleveland.

While at the laboratory I witnessed a lighting demonstration which was attended by members of boards of education and superintendents from all parts of the state.

One of the engineers, a Mr. Eastman, told me that the U.S. Office of Education, working with the Bureau of Standards, had established 30 foot-candles of light as the minimum for school lighting. The national survey showed that most students are required to do their work with about seven foot-candles of light.



Mr. Eastman also showed me how quality of paper, color or the size of type used in printing is an important factor in proper school illumination.

Thirty foot-candles was enough illumination for reading a standard high school textbook comfortably. Then he substituted one of the more popular "comic books" for the school text.

I was amazed to learn that as much as 300 foot-candles of light were required for small lettering on a dark red or green background.

Our youngsters read the comic books as do their playmates, but I'm going to insist they read them under our best reading lamp. In fact, I've already burned a few that we had around which were poorly printed.

Next time I visit our school I'm going to take a good look at the classroom lighting. With the dark winter days coming on, the children will need plenty of light for their work. If there isn't enough light, and larger bulbs won't do the trick, then I'm going to have something else to talk about at our PTA meeting.

South High School News

South High School is holding a Backwards Dance, November 22, in the gym. This dance, sponsored by Student Council, is a turnabout, for the girls invite the boys and buy the tickets, which are $1.00 a couple. The girls make corsages for their escorts to wear, out of anything but flowers. Some use fresh vegetables or kitchen utensils (Poor Boys). A committee of parents will choose the boy wearing the best corsage and he and his date will reign as King and Queen.

Eight students represented South High School at a discussion conference, sponsored by Ohio State University, at University High School November 18 and 19. The purpose of this conference is to formulate a public opinion on the topic, "Socialized Medicine." The students participating were: Christopher Treneff, Chestora Hall, Ernie Simon, Norman Brody, Shirley Aisel, John Pfeiffer, Phyllis Schottenstein, and Jim Harris. There were 150 students from different Columbus schools attending the conference.

• • •

Mary Smith, of South High School, will represent her school in the 1950 Junior Speakers Bureau of the Franklin County Chapter for Infantile Paralysis.

A luncheon is given to honor these Junior Speakers, and they will be given two or three speaking assignments during the month of January. These students speak to the organizations and Federal Clubs of Columbus and Franklin County for the March of Dimes Campaign.

South High Students had a chance to view part of the World Series Games on South's new R.C.A. television equipment. There are five parts to this set: the receiver, the projector, the speaker, the screen, and two outside antennae.

This equipment, which was purchased in October, projects a 10x12 picture on the screen for the series, but the projection can be made anywhere from 3x4 to 15x20, according to the distance between the set and the screen.

This set was purchased through money accumulated from the noon movie, just as our $6,000 sound system was achieved in part from money saved from the noon movie fees.

Mr. Stauffer, of the Physics Department, says that the school hopes to handle certain outlooks by having representatives from classes attend certain educational programs and then report back to their classes. South also hopes to have a multiple set up in the future, whereby television can reach the rooms, somewhat like our present sound system. Another desired goal is that of having programs which originate within the building, but this would involve a television camera chain.

South was given a Merit Award for being distinguished as a "Pilot School."

LETTERS to the Editor

Booster Receives Letter from Santa

November 30, 1949
South Side Booster
1542 Parsons Ave.
Columbus 7, Ohio

Dear Editor.

I would like you to notify all the kiddies of the South Side of Columbus, that I will make a personal appearance at Hoermle's Toyland, 1894 Parsons Ave., this coming Saturday, December 3rd, also Dec. 10th and December 17th between the hours of 1 p.m. and 5 p.m.

I would like every kiddie on the South Side to stop in and see me and also see what a fine selection of toys I'll have for them this Christmas. There will be a treat for every kiddie who stops in to see me. In the meantime, I'm sure that a visit by Mom and Pop to Hoermle's Toyland will delight them. Toys and gifts of every description are on display: Lionel Electric trains, games, doll, books, wind up toys, doll houses, doll carriages, Gilbert tool chests, completely furnished gas stations, doll strollers, pool tables, boxing gloves.

And for the adults, what finer gifts than:—Sunbeam Appliances, RCA, Magnavox and General Electric Television and Radios, Easy Washers and Ironers, Maytag Dutch oven Ranges. Just about everything to make this your best Christmas ever are at Hoermle's.

So, stop in any time and pay a visit, and above all delight the kiddies by bringing them into Hoermle's Saturday between 1 p. m. and 5 p.m. for a nice visit with me.

P. S. Watch for me Saturday. I'll be riding around the South Side.

Stamps Slow Down

With the Christmas season approaching, you South Siders should have plenty of Sales Tax Stamps for Frank Hutchinson, who is trying to procure a dog to lead him in his daily work

Hutchinson lost his eye sight while in the City Fire Department

There was a noticeable drop in stamps turned in last week

We think it is just an oversight of our good people in the community thinking they only have a few sales tax stamps and they won't count much.

Accumulation of stamps is just like a river; a spring starts it, little creeks run into it, then larger streams join it When it gets to the ocean it is a mighty stream

So it is with sales tax stamps A few here, a few there, but when they all get together they spell a Seeing Eye Dog for Frank Hutchinson

Turn in your stamps at the following Fire Department Houses: Fulton St., Parsons Ave., Thurman Ave., or Livingston Ave., or if you prefer, at the South Side Booster, 1542 Parsons Ave.

Let's Go South Siders!

21 MORE SHOPPING DAYS 'TIL XMAS

Do your Christmas Shopping in our COMMUNITY

Mother and Dad holding secret conferences . . . Junior being very well behaved . . . Christmas is definitely on its way!

We think that this Christmas will be one of the biggest and happiest ever. And to make it extra merry, we've stacked our shelves to the rafters . . . filled our showcases 'til they're fairly bulging with nationally known brands of "just what you've always wanted."

Now the only question is, how to take the bustle and push . . . the fatigue and short tempers, out of your annual Yuletide shopping tour. We've a suggestion.

Shop AT HOME, where you will be served by friends and neighbors . . . where you will be served best, because your salespeople KNOW YOU! Shop at home because you save time and money — and still can obtain anything and everything that's available anywhere else. Shop at home because you are supporting the merchants who are supporting YOU . . . through their interest in better schools . . . better churches . . . better public services.

And on Christmas Day, let's all go to church . . . rich in the knowledge that this Christmas, by shopping right here, we've contributed to a better Holiday Season for ourselves—and a better community for all!

Watch For The Lions' Special Edition

Members of the Southeast Lions Club are as busy as beavers working toward their special edition of the Booster, which will be sold in our community Dec. 9 & 10

Every South Sider will be asked to buy a copy of this special edition.

The Southeast Lions in the last few years have had outstanding accomplishments for the South Side. The most important of these is the playground at Barthman and S. 6th St., which was given ten lots and the equipment for the Southeast Lions playground.

They also gave $11,000 to the Children's Hospital for Rheumatic Fever Research.

In the past year they have given South High School $1,000 for band uniforms, Barrett Jr. High School $1,400 for band instruments, $200 for projected book machine and books for invalids placed at the South Side Branch Library.

Besides this we have had Jack Paul operated on and restored his eye sight. It is a wonderful thing for a man to see again.

Boys Clubs To Be Organized

The organization of Boys' Athletic Clubs, by the Columbus Recreation Department, in various sections of the city, is being announced by N. J. Barack, City Recreation Director.

As meeting and activities places for these clubs, the Recreation Department will use six of its own recreation centers and five school buildings leased for this purpose.

The first, and the organization meeting for all clubs, will be held on Saturday, December 3, at 9:00 a.m., at the Roosevelt Jr. High Shcool.

The Boys' Athletic Clubs will be organized in 3 age groups; namely, covering 4 & 5, 6 - 7 and 8 - 9 grade youngsters. The program will consist of participation and coaching in basketball, volleyball, boxing, wrestling, and table tennis during the indoor season, and in various outdoor games such as baseball, softball, tennis and others during the outdoor season. Competitive programs in sports for each group will be provided, with a possible tournament in all sports on a city-wide basis.

To assist the Recreation Department to carry on the organization of the clubs, and to provide the program and supervision, several Ohio State University students majoring in physical education have been obtained as instructors and coaches under the supervision of Mr. Bill Taylor, Physical Education Instructor, Ohio State University.

Truman Endorses Christmas Seals

Pointing to the "needless suffering and tragic waste of life" caused by tuberculosis, President Truman today urged support of the fight being waged against this preventable disease in the United States.

In a statement to Dr. James E. Perkins, managing director of the National Tuberculosis Association, in accepting the first sheet of the 1949 Christmas Seals, President ruman called tuberculosis "the most important of the truly preventable diseases in the United States today." The 43rd annual Christmas Seal Sale is raise funds for the tuberculosis control work of the National Tuberculosis Ass'n and its 3,000 affiliates throughout the country opened Monday, November 21, and will continue until Christmas.

The President's complete statement follows:

"Tuberculosis is the most important of the truly preventable diseases in the United States today. Conservative estimates place the number of persons in this country with active tuberculosis at 500,000. And the disease is killing at the rate of nearly 1,-000 Americans a week.

"These figures spell needless suffering and tragic waste of life, for we know that tuberculosis can be prevented. Good progress in this direction already has been made, but we cannot afford to be content with past progress so long as tuberculosis continues to threaten the lives and happiness of so many of our people.

"It behooves each of us to support the efforts of all individuals and groups in the forefront of the fight against tuberculosis.

"The National Tuberculosis Association, which was founded 45 years ago, has today 3,000 affiliated organizations throughout the United States which are conducting extensive programs to help bring this communicable disease under complete control. At this time of year these voluntary associations ask the American people to help their campaign by the purchase and use of Christmas Seals through the sale of which the associations finance their work.

"I hope the American people will support the campaign of the tuberculosis associations by responding generously to the 1949 Christmas Seal appeal."

Miss Stertzer Is Bride Of Mr. Thompson

Gates-Fourth Methodist Church was the setting Nov 11, for the wedding uniting Miss Jeanne Annabelle Stertzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Stertzer, 171 Hanford St., and Mr Gilbert James Thompson, son of Mr Alex Thompson, 690 S. Ohio Ave. Carl E. Hicks officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated in tall white tapers in seven branch candelabra beneath an arch of roses and fern.

Escorted by her father, the bride chose a gown of traditional ivory satin fashioned with a sweetheart neckline while the bodice was closely molded to a low waistline. Tiny satin buttons extended down the back to the waistline extending into a long circular train. The veil was made of ivory illusion fingertip in length with a sweetheart shaped bonnet scattered with orange blossoms. Completing her bridal attire was a white satin prayer book belonging to Mrs. Robert G. Hoehl on which the bride carried a white orchid.

Mrs. Ralph Seaman of Springfield, Ohio was matron of honor while Miss Novello Craft and Mrs. Robert B. Hoehl were the bridesmaids. Mrs. Seaman was attired in peacock blue satin styled in a tight fitting bodice over a hoop skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of American Beauty roses. Miss Craft and Mrs. Hoehl wore identical gowns of American Beauty satin. Each wore satin mitts with matching bonnets with ostrich tips.

Miss Dianne Frank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orland Frank and Miss Caren Frank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Frank of Grove City, cousins of the bride were flower girls. Both were dressed in white taffeta styled to match the bridesmaids. Each carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Robert G. Hoehl was best man and ushers were Mr. Paul Allerding of Mt. Vernon and Mr. Jack Denyes of London, O. The ring bearer was Roger Burkett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burkett of Pandora, Ohio, a cousin of the bride.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the church. Hostesses were Miss Edna Mellor, Miss Audrey Taylor, Mrs. Richard E. Richards and Mrs. Harry West.

The couple left immediately following the reception for a trip to Chicago and are at home at 20 W. Sycamore Street.

Miss Scheaufele Was Wed Sept. 24

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Mary Ellen Scheaufele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Scheaufele, 705 Thurman Ave. and Mr. [illegible] Joseph Scarpitti, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Scarpitti, 3464 Tribue Rd., on Sept. 24 at 9:30 a.m.

White [illegible] a background of [illegible] palms illuminated by [illegible] candelabra decorated [illegible] Corpus Christi Church [illegible] remony read by the Rev. [illegible] of Kisler assisted by Mr. Edmond B. McC[illegible].

Given in marriage [illegible] her father the bride wore [illegible] tional white satin gown [illegible] long princess lines with a V-neckline and soft rolled collar which was boned to stand up in back. Hand-run slencon lace trimmed the points of the long fitted sleeves and formed a deep plastron of lace at the front and back of the bodice. The bouffant skirt was formed by soft, unpressed box pleats at the hips and cascaded over an old fashioned hoop and into a full circular trim. Her three quarter length veil of imported illusion was edged in with lace matching that of her gown. The veil was caught to a half crown tiara of matching illusion studded with orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of white pompons and American beauty roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Janet Scheaufele, sister of the bride, wore a gown of ice blue satin with a soft rolled collar and fitted bodice trimmed down the front with self covered buttons. The full length skirt was worn over an old fashioned hooped skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of shattered red and white carnations edged with lace. The bridesmaids, Miss Bessie Scheaufele, sister of the bride, Misses Nellie and Dora Scarpitti, sisters of the bridegroom, and Miss Mary Bissmer, wore identical gowns of ice blue satin and carried colonial bouquets of red carnations edged in lace.

Best man was Mr. Veto Scarpitti, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Mr. Hugho Scarpitti and Mr. Albert Scarpitti, brothers of the bridegroom, Mr. Herman Scheaufele, brother of the bride, and Mr. Veto Del Cirello, brother in law of the bride-groom.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride is a graduate of Sacred Heart Commercial School and has been employed as secretary of the Catholic Youth Bureau, where she served as secretary-treasurer of the Diocesan Catholic Youth Council.

The bridegroom attended Hilliard High School.

Adventists Council Gives Annual Report

A report of the annual Seventh-day Adventist Autumn Council held in St. Louis Nov. 6-16 was given Saturday to the members of the Eastwood Seventh-Day Adventist Church by the local pastor, Richard T. Minesinger.

A call for a sanctified ministry and the relentless preaching of of the gospel in all parts of the world despite changing political trends highlighted the council, he said.

During the 10-day meeting, 500 delegates heard of church gains everywhere. A total of 63,014 adult baptisms in 1948 marked the largest membership increase in any one year. European division presidents reported membership at an all-time high.

Record offerings totaling $42,302,388 were given by 672,658 Seventh-day Adventists throughout the world last year. Per capita giving for North American Adventists was $135.70. Sabbath school members alone gave in their weekly offerings $4,643,939 for foreign missions, it was disclosed by Washington, D. C., church officials who credited this branch of the church with raising more than $70,000,000 for overseas work in the past 40 years.

Arthur S. Maxwell, Mountain View, California, editor of the "Signs of the Times," declared that political changes in the Far East, developments in Palestine, and the race for supremacy in atomic weapons fulfill the prophicies of Scripture and indicate that "We are swiftly moving into the closing scenes of human history which will climax with the return of Jesus to this earth."

J. L. McElhany, Washington, D. C., the denomination's world president, urged Adventist leaders to curtail expenditures in this country in order to provide a larger budget for overseas expansion. Adventist missionaries have been withdrawn from the Communist-dominated areas of China, and work there has been placed under the leadership of Chinese officials, he disclosed.

Speakers emphasized the need for prayer and consecration in this atomic age of impending peril. They warned Christian leaders in this nation against encroachments on religious liberty and stated that Adventists operate their own system of 3,947 schools because they believe religion to be an integral part of education.

Plans for church members to visit 6,000,000 homes in 1950 were approved by delegates. March 4, June 3, and Sept. 2 are the days designated by the council for a mass visitation by ministers and lay members.

Annual budget adopted by the council, the largest ever reported in the history of the church, provides for appropriation of more than $15,000,000 for work overseas and special projects in the homeland. Church building development and radio Bible school extension are included in the pro-

Thanksgiving Program Aired At Barrett

On Wednesday, the day before Thanksgiving, Barrett Junior High School had a program somewhat different from the traditional Thanksgiving assembly. The program was an experiment in the use of the public address system. Students were assembled in first and second floor rooms, to which the program was beamed.

At 10:15 the pupils reported to their own registration rooms, the Boys' Chorus assembled near the school office, and the program started with "America, the Beautiful," as done by the Boys' Chorus.

A pupil in each home room announced the purpose of the meeting to that home room group. The Boys' Chorus gave a series of three songs.

The principal, Robert F. Darrow, used the public address system to explain the historical background and present significance of the late November holiday.

A pupil representative in each home room read a Thanksgiving poem for that group.

"Thanks Be To God" was recorded on the wire recorder by the Girls' Senior Glee was given through the public address system, and the program closed with the Boys' Chorus singing "We Gather Together."

He received his grade schooling at a county school and at a parochial school at St. Paul's Church, New Rochester, Ohio. Three years later, he graduated from Capital Seminary.

His first charge was in New Bedford, Ohio. It was here that he brought his bride, Martha Elizabeth Schwartz of Columbus in 1929. Both of his children were born there, a daughter, Ruth, and son, Charles.

In 1934 he was called to serve First St. Mathews Congregation in Hanover, Ontario. In 1946 he followed the call to Salem Church near Fremont, Ohio, and is now following the call extended by Martin Luther Church in Columbus, Ohio.

He, together with his wife, will take up residence at 611 E. Moler St., Columbus 7, Ohio, after December 1st. His daughter, Ruth, is at present enrolled at Capital University and son, Charles, in High School, Fremont, Ohio, who will remain there until he finishes this term.

Disabled Vets Take Notice

Disabled veterans of World War II were counselled today by Evert C. Strickland, Manager in Charge of the VA Office, 209 So. High St., Columbus, Ohio, to investigate thoroughly an upcoming deadline which may affect their entitlement to National Service Life Insurance.

Until January 1, 1950, Mr. Strickland pointed out, the Veterans Administration has authority to waive service connected disabilities less than total in degree on applications for reinstatement of lapsed NSLI, or for new applications for NSLI.

Under this privilege, many disabled veterans who are presently uninsurable through other insurance plans because of a service incurred disability may "pick up" lapsed NSLI. Thus, a disabled veteran can have the protection of NSLI, despite his physical condition, if that condition is a result of his service with the armed forces during wartime.

Mr. Strickland urged interested veterans to visit the VA Office in Columbus for a personal discussion of this provision of the insurance regulations prior to January 1, 1950.

"That Midnight Kiss" At Southland

Make way for Hollywood's youngest star—ten week old Patty Kate Johnston. Miss Patty makes her screen debut with her mother, Kathryn Grayson, in the new Technicolor musical, "That Midnight Kiss," which is coming Sunday to the Southland Theatre. One of the directors persuades Miss Grayson to permit the baby to be photographed in a park sequence of the picture. The scene shows Kathryn and Mario Lanza strolling through the park singing. They stop, peer into a nearby baby buggy—and there is Patty Kate. What's more, the camera was trained not on star Kathryn Grayson but on the miniature star!

The co-feature at the Southland with "That Midnight Kiss," will be "Trouble Makers," starring Leo Gorcey and Huntz Hall.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, "Scarlet Street," starring Edward G. Robinson and Joan Bennett. The picture, a tragic drama of a married man whose secret love affair with a trollop leads to ruin, has tense dramatic acting and a good story plot to make this picture worth seeing. Also on the program is "Back Street."

IDEAL THEATER

The Ideal Theater will show "Crazy House" with Olson and Johnson, Sunday and Monday. As usual, Olson and Johnson give a top notch performance. If you missed this picture, now is your chance to see it. Also showing is "The Unknown Island" with Virginia Grey and Barton MacLane. News and cartoon complete the playbill.

RUSSELL THEATER

Sunday and Monday the Russell Theater presents "It's a Great Feeling" with Dennis Morgan and Jack Carson. This technicolor comedy with the amazing antics of the uproarious "Two Guys" and a new girl friend, Doris Day, will truly make you want to laugh and sing. The story is a continuous caravan of gags — some old and some new, all of them funny. This is a good comedy you won't want to miss. Also showing is "Bandit King of Texas" with Alan Lane. A cartoon completes the bill.

Ohio Guard Women's Aux. Meet Today

The Ohio Air National Guard Womens Auxiliary will hold a meeting this coming Thursday, December 1st at 7:30 p.m. in the Club at the base.

The features of the evening will be a movie on "Healing of the Home" and a sale of baked goods. All members are urged to come and bring something for the Bake Sale.

Members of Trudeau Guild No. 10 of Benjamin Franklin Hospital would like to take this opportunity of thanking the South Side Merchants who gave so generously in donations for the fish pond at the Harvest Carnival Dance.

We would also like to thank the South Side Booster for their wonderful publicity on this project.

Due to your kindness and cooperation, the fishpond was a great success.

Property Owners Meet Friday

The Property Owners' Association of Franklin County, will meet Friday night, Dec. 2nd, in City Hall Council Chamber, City Hall, at 8 p.m. Election of officers will take place at this meeting. Members be present and the public is invited.

Famous Shakespearian Troupe December 2

Setting out on its second coast-to-coast tour on October 10th, the Margaret Webster Shakespeare Company will roll into Columbus on Friday, December 2 for a performance of Julius Caesar at University Hall, on the O.S.U. campus. On Saturday, December 3, there will also be a matinee of Julius Caesar at 2:30 p.m. The Taming of the Shrew will be given one performance at 8:00 p.m., Saturday. Portraying featured roles in the forthcoming productions will be Louisa Horton, Kendall Clark and David Lewis, all accomplished Broadway performers.

"The Taming of the Shrew" and "Julius Caesar" were chosen by popular demand of schools and colleges throughout the nation. The company, which last season set a milestone in theatrical road history, covering 40,000 miles, will again appear in 34 states, presenting some 300 performances. At the conclusion of the initial tour, Edwin Schloss reported in the Philadelphia Inquirer: "Miss Webster is one of the most distinguished Shakespearian directors of our time. In her current enterprise she is serving the Bard in a new and immensely interesting approach. The performances have movement, cohesion, vitality and persuasive Shakespearian stature."

Return engagements this year had to be limited to 70 per cent in accordance with Miss Webster's desire to reach new audiences. A bus and specially constructed trailer-truck, loaded to the roof with scenery, costumes and other paraphernalia, transports the 21 actors and five technicians who compose the troupe.

Tickets went on sale at the O.S.U. Theatre Box Office in Derby Hall on Nov. 21. The prices for evening performances are $1.20 and $1.80, for the matinee 75 cents, $1.20 and $1.80. All seats are reserved.

Grandmother Four Times in 28 Days

Mrs. F. L. Geiger of 369 Gates Street, is very proud and happy these days, and she has the right to be. We are not sure, but it looks as though she has broken some kind of a record for Grandmothers. Mrs. Geiger became a Grandmother four times in 28 days.

The first granddaughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Segman of 843 Mohawk St., on Oct. 22, the baby being named Linda Sue. The second granddaughter arrived on Nov. 8th to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Leach of 835 Macon St. She was named Phyllis Elaine. The third granddaughter was born on Nov. 14th. Her name is Barbara Jean, and her parents are Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Geiger, Jr., of 1459 Cole St. The fourth granddaughter, Janet Lynn was born on Nov. 20th to Mr. and Mrs. H. F. McQuillen, 658 Gates Street.

Mrs. F. L. Geiger, Sr., has always wanted a granddaughter. Her wish has certainly been granted fourfold. If Mrs. Geiger is not a member of the Grandmothers Club, this should make her eligible.

Concordia Circle Meets Sunday

Ancient Order of Druids will hold their regular meeting Sunday, Dec. 4, at 8 p.m. at Druid's Home, 964 So. High St.

Hostesses for the evening will be Catherine Leiss, Hilda Lowery, Blanch Lucas and Helen Knodell.

Heyl P.T.A. Christmas Meeting

The Heyl Ave. P.T.A. will entertain the Mothers, members and friends with a Christmas Tea on Tuesday, December 6th, at 1:30 p.m. The speaker will be Mr. W. C. Stone, Flower Arrangement Group of Ohio Florists. Come and bring a friend.

Confessions of a Co-ed

When Joe kissed me, I said to myself, this is emotional; When Tom kissed me, I said to myself, this is devotional; When Dick kissed me, I said to myself, this is intellectual; But when you kissed me, it was simply ineffectual.

All Reeb mothers and housewives will be glad to know that they can now buy their vanilla from Reeb P.T.A. at a reduced price of $1.00 for a 12 ounce bottle. This is a quality product which usually sells for $1.50 so you can make this saving by purchasing from us. Headquarters have been established at the home of Mrs. Paul Barton, 341 Innis Ave. You can either call for your order or telephone Ga. 7581 and we will be glad to serve you. Please keep in mind that we are asking for a contribution but we are offering you a good "buy" and you will be helping our P.T.A. finances at the same time.

R

Several of Reeb's grades have been treated to an interesting Puppet show, during the past two weeks. The play, entitled "Snow-White & Seven Dwarfs" was presented under the direction of Miss Mary May by the following pupils: Snow-White, Linda Miller and Carolyn Stout; Mirror, Marion Graham; Queen, Bertha Cooper and Sharon Capacciama; Huntsman, Jas. Rice and Oliver Steward; Prince, James Waugh and Darlene Carl; Witch, Carol Paul and Rose Carl; Grumpy, David Vargo and William Davis; Doc, Dennis Mayse and William Davis; Happy, Oliver Steward and Ray Moore Sneezy, Wesley Crosby and Richard Stewart; Bashful, Dennis Mayse and Roger Stewart; Sleepy, Ballard Trippiett and Dopey, Richard Stewart. The stage and scenery managers were Carolyn Webb, Kathleen Carpenter and Carolyn Stout. The story narrator was Mary Kottyan.

This has been a mighty worthwhile project, providing numerous valuable experiences for these pupils and making of the characters from used material for about a total of $2.00 for the complete set.

R

Reeb is now starting to register girls and boys for entering its afternoon Kindergarten on Monday, January 30th. Please keep in mind that this early registration is quite important in order that the proper blanks are completed for Vaccination against smallpox and immunization against diphtheria. All the children who will be five years of age on or before next May 1st will be eligible to enter on Jan. 30th.

R

There are some pupils, who have not been attending Reeb's kindergarten, but will be six years of age on or before next May 1st, who should be registered now so that the vaccination and immunization can be taken care of in time for them to start on Jan. 30th. We cannot urge you too strongly to come in NOW in order to save your time and that of your child later.

R

Roberta Wolfe, 3A had a piece of special work added to the display case this last week.

R

The regular monthly meeting of Columbus and Franklin County P.T.A. Council is in session at Central High School this afternoon. Reeb is well represented by its elected officers.

Barrett Varsity Beats Faculty

The Barrett Varsity basketball team met a faculty squad of seasoned veterans in the school gymn, Friday evening, November 18th.

The Barrett band, under the direction of H. L. Germain, furnished spirited music for the occasion. As the varsity squad appeared on the floor the band broke into a spirited version of the school song. As the faculty appeared "The Old Gray Mare" was drawled across the air waves by the alert bandsmen.

Herbert Bingmer and Ronald Cohagen refereed the annual event.

The varsity showed brilliant color by defeating the faculty 47 to 21.

Santa Arrives At Hoermle's

Santa Claus arrived at Hoermle's Toyland, 1894 Parsons Ave., last Saturday at 1 p.m. Between his arrival and departure back to the North Pole at 5 p.m. he visited with over 500 kiddies from the South Side and gave each one a gift to tide them over 'til Christmas.

The response to his visit was so great that he's coming back this Saturday, Dec. 10th and the following Saturday. Dec. 17, to make sure every kiddie on the South Side has a chance to pay him a visit. He'll be at Hoermle's between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. both Saturdays, so if any of you kiddies haven't paid Santa a call talk to Mom and Pop and have them bring you down on either Saturday. Remember the dates and the time this Saturday, December 10th and the following Saturday. December 17th between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m.

Lion Club Salesman Sells Advanced Copy

Mr. Dumaree or one of the corps of salesmen will be at your door tomorrow evening to sell you their special edition.

All proceeds from the paper will be spent on worthy causes here in the South Side during the next year.

Give and give freely. Remember, you get no change.

Tomorrow night the Southeast Lions Club will sell a special edition of the South Side Booster throughout the South Side for the benefit of their Betterment Fund.

It has never been the privilege of your editor to work with or sponsor a more worthwhile project.

During the past nine years since the Southeast Lions Club received their charter, almost $25,000 has been given to our community for causes particularly beneficial to it.

This year, alone, the Southeast Lions Club have given $1,000 to South High School for band uniforms, $1,400 to Barrett Junior High School for band instruments, $200 for ceiling projectors and books which will be used for the sick.

They have also had Jack Poole operated on for cataracts on both eyes. This group paid the surgeon's bill, the hospital expenses, and equipped him with glasses.

In the tomorrows special edition will be an announcement of a gift to St. Mary's High School. No, we are not going to tell you for what. Just buy a paper and find out.

In years past the Southeast Lions Club have presented Children's Hospital with $10,300 for Rheumatic Fever research which has ravaged the lives of thousands of young children.

In fact, the pioneer work of the Southeast Lions Club for setting up this fund gave rise to the National Rheumatic Fever Research fund which now has taken over the work of this splendid group.

Also donated in past years was the Southeast Lions Playground at Barthman Ave. and S. Sixth St. This group donated the city 10 lots and the playground equipment for the benefit of the community.

You can be sure when you buy this special edition of the Southeast Lions Project Edition that the profits from this sale will go for projects as worthy as they have accomplished in the years past.

Remember every cent you give will be used for the community.

The South Side should be truly thankful to have such groups as the Southeast Lions Club which give so unstintingly of their time and money for the benefit of the community.

Remember, no gift too small, or none too large!

Buy the Lions Special Edition. Remember you are investing in your community.

Frank Hutchinson Sales Tax Drive Bogging Down

After weeks of splendid cooperation in our community sales tax stamp collection has dropped to practically nothing.

Now, we are sure that there are many tax stamps laying around South Side homes which would help us get Frank Hutchinson his Seeing Eye Dog.

Unless you people kick in your sales tax stamps this will not be accomplished by Christmas.

We think when you realize that when you do not turn them in that you are keeping Hutchinson from getting his Christmas present of the Seeing Eye Dog, you will get busy.

Hutchinson is a former city fireman living in the South Side. He lost his eye sight while on the fire department duty.

Sales tax stamps may be left at the South Side Booster or at the following firehouses: Thurman Ave., Parsons Ave., Livingston Ave., or E. Fulton St.

Let's go South Siders! Donate your sales tax stamps—be a part of giving that dog to Frank Hutchinson for Christmas.

Letter Of Thanks

We wish to thank our many kind friends, who helped our son, Dick, who has been seriously ill since Easter, have such a Happy Birthday Sunday, Dec. 4th. on his tenth birthday. We wish especially to thank the Mothers Variety Club, the Beck St. P.T.A., and the Boys and Girls from Mrs. Chamber's room for the cards, gifts, money, flowers, suit and birthday cakes, which poured in, to make his room look like fairy land. May this kindness come back into your lives a hundred fold.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott of 1470 So. High Street.

South Opens Season With 95-35 Victory Over Mifflin Team

South High's Bulldogs, voted by rival coaches as the first semester "toughie" in the City High League, opened the 1949-50 cage season on the home floor with a 95-35 victory over Mifflin Tuesday night, Nov. 29.

Pug Hood's towering outfit rolled to a 29-2 quarter lead over the cowpunchers, who showed first-game jitters as they went scoreless for the first six and a half minutes. It was only the fifth time out for the visitors.

Paul Ebert stole scoring honors as he flipped in 18 points during his 16-minute stand. The seasoned center, who will be lost to the team in January, also did a hang up job of controlling rebounds. He had plenty of help in the scoring from Bob Strawser, who hit for 13 points, and Sophomore Jack Keller with an even dozen. Johnny DeLong chipped in with 10, while Dave Jones and Bob Holderle managed nine each.

All-County Center Mel Clemens held to one foul the first half, came back with 13 markers in the third and fourth quarters to lead Mifflin.

Paul Bass and Chuck Hawes contributed 24 points as South's reserves won the opener, 52 to 19.

The New Steelton Furniture Store Holds Grand Opening

The New Steelton Furniture Store, located at 1857 Parsons Ave., which is celebrating its GRAND OPENING this week, is offering to the people of the South Side one of the finest, most modern furniture and appliance stores in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Schottenstein started in business 34 years ago. In 1937 they opened the Steelton Furniture Store, located at 1837 Parsons Ave. in a small store room. In 1941, the store was enlarged by taking over the store room at 1839 Parsons Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Schottenstein and their sons worked hard to give service and quality merchandise to their customers, dreaming of the day when they could build a new modern store for their business. With the advent of the War plans for the new building had to be delayed, as the sons entered the military service. After the boys returned home, plans for the new building went ahead again. Bernard and Irving, the sons, both well-known on the South Side and graduates of South High School, are now affiliated with the business.

The New Steelton Furniture Store opened on Nov. 1st. The Grand Opening of this Lovely Store, is really a dream come true to Mr. Meyer Schottenstein and his family. It's a success story of a business man who has worked hard to achieve his goal.

The New Steelton Furniture Store is completely stocked with the most modern in lovely furniture, appliances and floor coverings. They handle Nationally advertised Products, in fact, every home need may be found at the new store.

They invite everyone to visit the store. To each visitor they will give a chance on a television set or a Grand Range, no purchase is necessary. There are also for gifts for the visitors. They are proud of their new store and welcome visitors, friends and customers to come in and see the beautiful merchandise on display.

The store is open all day Sunday and evenings until 8 p.m. Stop in and get your free gift and chances, there is no obligation.

Puppet Show At South High

On Friday, December 9th at 3:45 p.m. at South High School, The Community Junior Theatre will present "A Bowser From Chris" which is a puppet production by Peg Bickle and Vivian Michael. The play is about Christmas and is written around the two popular television characters, Stinky and Chris Columbus. Stinky is a mischievious little fellow who is always in some kind of trouble; but usually manages to come out all right with the aid of Chris Columbus.

The Christmas season brings more problems to Stinky because he wants a present that his Mother and Father can't buy for him. He goes to Chris for help, but Chris is unable to produce the present; so they have to call on some fantastic creatures for help.

There are twenty puppets in the cast. They are exclusively fist puppets (Punch and Judy type) and hand-and-rod puppets (combination of fist and rod puppets). The fist puppets are quite large, and many of them have movbale mouths. Although some of the characters were designed and created by Mrs. Michael and Mrs. Bickle for television, many others have been designed exclusively for the children's theatre show.

Vivian Michael, a native of South Bloomfield, co-author of The Hand and Rod Puppet Book, teaches art at Everett. She will be remembered for her presentation of Rip Van Winkle on the 1947 Children's Theater program. She is a well known puppeteer and is education advisor in the Puppeteers of America.

Peg Bickle, for Ohio State University English Department has presented many children's plays and puppet plays throughout the country. In 1945 and 1946, she presented the Lazarus puppet show for Christmas.

Season tickets as well as single admission tickets will be on sale at the performances.

Inspiring Christmas Display Given By Blue Star Coal Co.

Beautiful life size 6 ft. high by 10 ft. long, Bibical and Christmas scenes in colors projected upon a huge front window, which can be easily seen while passing or while parked in your car, scenes changing, every 20 seconds, is announced by the Blue Star Coal Co., 660 East Weber Road. With this in mind, they have originated this wonderful portraval of Biblical scenes and welcome the people of the city to drive by on their tour of decorations, pause and reflect, on the true meaning of Christmas.

East Weber is at the first traffic light north of Olentangy Village. East off of High and West off of Cleveland Ave., just North of the 3 C's triangle. Did You Find $15.00?

"Bill" Moore has lost his paper money. He was in the vicinity of the Citizen Paper Station on Lisle Alley when he discovered his money was gone. "Bill" lives at 254 Hanford Street so there is a possibility that the money slipped from his pocket on his way to the paper station. He had a ten dollar and a five dollar bill just folded and in his pocket. He lost the money Saturday, Nov. 27. If you know of anyone who may have found "Bill's" money, please ask them to get in touch with him by calling GA. 3419 or GA. 9269. Bill has to pay his paper bill even though he doesn't find the $15.00. His Christmas will be much happier if the money is found.

The play, entitled "Snow-White & Seven Dwarfs" was presented under the direction of Miss Mary May by the following pupils: Snow-White, Linda Miller and Carolyn Stout; Mirror, Marion Graham; Queen, Bertha Cooper and Sharon Capacciams; Huntsman, Jas. Rice and Oliver Steward; Prince, James Waugh and Darlene Carl; Witch, Carol Paul and Rose Carl; Grumpy, David Vargo and William Davis; Doc, Dennis Mayse and William Davis; Happy, Oliver Steward and Ray Moore Sneezy, Wesley Crosby and Richard Stewart; Bashful, Dennis Mayse and Roger Stewart; Sleepy, Ballard Trippiett and Dopey, Richard Stewart. The stage and scenery managers were Carolyn Webb, Kathleen Carpenter and Carolyn Stout. The story narrator was Mary Kottyan.

This has been a mighty worthwhile project, providing numerous valuable experiences for these pupils and making of the characters from used material for about a total of $2.00 for the complete set.

R

Reeb is now starting to register girls and boys for entering its afternoon Kindergarten on Monday, January 30th. R

There are some pupils, who have not been attending Reeb's kindergarten, but will be six years of age on or before next May 1st, who should be registered now so that the vaccination and immunization can be taken care of in time for them to start on Jan. 30th. We cannot urge you too strongly to come in NOW in order to save your time and that of your child later.

Santa Arrives At Hoermle's

Santa Claus arrived at Hoermle's Toyland, 1894 Parsons Ave., last Saturday at 1 p.m. Between his arrival and departure back to the North Pole at 5 p.m. he visited with over 500 kiddies from the South Side and gave each one a gift to tide them over 'til Christmas.

The response to his visit was so great that he's coming back this Saturday, Dec. 10th and the following Saturday. Dec. 17, to make sure every kiddie on the South Side has a chance to pay him a visit. He'll be at Hoermle's between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. both Saturdays, so if any of you kiddies haven't paid Santa a call talk to Mom and Pop and have them bring you down on either Saturday. Lion Club Salesman Sells Advanced Copy

Mr. Dumaree or one of the corps of salesmen will be at your door tomorrow evening to sell you their special edition.

All proceeds from the paper will be spent on worthy causes here in the South Side during the next year.

Give and give freely. Remember, you get no change.

Tomorrow night the Southeast Lions Club will sell a special edition of the South Side Booster throughout the South Side for the benefit of their Betterment Fund.

It has never been the privilege of your editor to work with or sponsor a more worthwhile project.

During the past nine years since the Southeast Lions Club received their charter, almost $25,000 has been given to our community for causes particularly beneficial to it.

This year, alone, the Southeast Lions Club have given $1,000 to South High School for band uniforms, $1,400 to Barrett Junior High School for band instruments, $200 for ceiling projectors and books which will be used for the sick.

They have also had Jack Poole operated on for cataracts on both eyes. This group paid the surgeon's bill, the hospital expenses, and equipped him with glasses.

In the tomorrows special edition will be an announcement of a gift to St. Mary's High School. No, we are not going to tell you for what. Just buy a paper and find out.

In years past the Southeast Lions Club have presented Children's Hospital with $10,300 for Rheumatic Fever research which has ravaged the lives of thousands of young children.

In fact, the pioneer work of the Southeast Lions Club for setting up this fund gave rise to the National Rheumatic Fever Research fund which now has taken over the work of this splendid group.

Also donated in past years was the Southeast Lions Playground at Barthman Ave. and S. Sixth St. This group donated the city 10 lots and the playground equipment for the benefit of the community.

You can be sure when you buy this special edition of the Southeast Lions Project Edition that the profits from this sale will go for projects as worthy as they have accomplished in the years past.

Remember every cent you give will be used for the community.

The South Side should be truly thankful to have such groups as the Southeast Lions Club which give so unstintingly of their time and money for the benefit of the community.

Remember, no gift too small, or none too large!

Buy the Lions Special Edition. Remember you are investing in your community.

Frank Hutchinson Sales Tax Drive Bogging Down

After weeks of splendid cooperation in our community sales tax stamp collection has dropped to practically nothing.

Now, we are sure that there are many tax stamps laying around South Side homes which would help us get Frank Hutchinson his Seeing Eye Dog.

Unless you people kick in your sales tax stamps this will not be accomplished by Christmas.

We think when you realize that when you do not turn them in that you are keeping Hutchinson from getting his Ghristmas present of the Seeing Eye Dog, you will get busy.

Hutchinson is a former city fireman living in the South Side. He lost his eye sight while on the fire department duty.

Sales tax stamps may be left at the South Side Booster or at the following firehouses: Thurman Ave., Parsons Ave., Livingston Ave., or E. Fulton St.

Let's go South Siders! Donate your sales tax stamps—be a part of giving that dog to Frank Hutchinson for Christmas.

May this kindness come back into your lives a hundred fold.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott of 1470 So. High Street.

South Opens Season With 95-35 Victory Over Mifflin Team

South High's Bulldogs, voted by rival coaches as the first semester "toughie" in the City High League, opened the 1949-50 cage season on the home floor with a 95-35 victory over Mifflin Tuesday night, Nov. 29.

Pug Hood's towering outfit rolled to a 29-2 quarter lead over the cowpunchers, who showed first-game jitters as they went scoreless for the first six and a half minutes. It was only the fifth time out for the visitors.

Paul Ebert stole scoring honors as he flipped in 18 points during his 16-minute stand. The seasoned center, who will be lost to the team in January, also did a hang up job of controlling rebounds. He had plenty of help in the scoring from Bob Strawser, who hit for 13 points, and Sophomore Jack Keller with an even dozen. Johnny DeLong chipped in with 10, while Dave Jones and Bob Holderle managed nine each.

All-County Center Mel Clemens held to one foul the first half, came back with 13 markers in the third and fourth quarters to lead Mifflin.

Paul Bass and Chuck Hawes contributed 24 points as South's reserves won the opener, 52 to 19.

The New Steelton Furniture Store Holds Grand Opening

The New Steelton Furniture Store, located at 1857 Parsons Ave., which is celebrating its GRAND OPENING this week, is offering to the people of the South Side one of the finest, most modern furniture and appliance stores in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Schottenstein started in business 34 years ago. In 1937 they opened the Steelton Furniture Store, located at 1837 Parsons Ave. in a small store room. In 1941, the store was enlarged by taking over the store room at 1839 Parsons Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Schottenstein and their sons worked hard to give service and quality merchandise to their customers, dreaming of the day when they could build a new modern store for their business. With the advent of the War plans for the new building had to be delayed, as the sons entered the military service. After the boys returned home, plans for the new building went ahead again. Bernard and Irving, the sons, both well-known on the South Side and graduates of South High School, are now affiliated with the business.

The New Steelton Furniture Store opened on Nov. 1st. The Grand Opening of this Lovely Store, is really a dream come true to Mr. Meyer Schottenstein and his family. It's a success story of a business man who has worked hard to achieve his goal.

The New Steelton Furniture Store is completely stocked with the most modern in lovely furniture, appliances and floor coverings. They handle Nationally advertised Products, in fact, every home need may be found at the new store.

They invite everyone to visit the store. To each visitor they will give a chance on a television set or a Grand Range, no purchase is necessary. There are also for gifts for the visitors. They are proud of their new store and welcome visitors, friends and customers to come in and see the beautiful merchandise on display.

The store is open all day Sunday and evenings until 8 p.m. Stop in and get your free gift and chances, there is no obligation.

Puppet Show At South High

On Friday, December 9th at 3:45 p.m. at South High School, The Community Junior Theatre will present "A Bowser From Chris" which is a puppet production by Peg Bickle and Vivian Michael. The play is about Christmas and is written around the two popular television characters, Stinky and Chris Columbus. Stinky is a mischievious little fellow who is always in some kind of trouble; but usually manages to come out all right with the aid of Chris Columbus.

The Christmas season brings more problems to Stinky because he wants a present that his Mother and Father can't buy for him. He goes to Chris for help, but Chris is unable to produce the present; so they have to call on some fantastic creatures for help.

There are twenty puppets in the cast. They are exclusively fist puppets (Punch and Judy type) and hand-and-rod puppets (combination of fist and rod puppets). The fist puppets are quite large, and many of them have movable mouths. Although some of the characters were designed and created by Mrs. Michael and Mrs. Bickle for television, many others have been designed exclusively for the children's theatre show.

Vivian Michael, a native of South Bloomfield, co-author of The Hand and Rod Puppet Book, teaches art at Everett. She will be remembered for her presentation of Rip Van Winkle on the 1947 Children's Theater program. She is a well known puppeteer and is education advisor in the Puppeteers of America.

Peg Bickle, for Ohio State University English Department has presented many children's plays and puppet plays throughout the country. In 1945 and 1946, she presented the Lazarus puppet show for Christmas.

Season tickets as well as single admission tickets will be on sale at the performances.

Did You Find $15.00?

"Bill" Moore has lost his paper money. He was in the vicinity of the Citizen Paper Station on Lisle Alley when he discovered his money was gone. "Bill" lives at 254 Hanford Street so there is a possibility that the money slipped from his pocket on his way to the paper station. He had a ten dollar and a five dollar bill just folded and in his pocket. He lost the money Saturday, Nov. 27. If you know of anyone who may have found "Bill's" money, please ask them to get in touch with him by calling GA. 3419 or GA. 9269. Bill has to pay his paper bill even though he doesn't find the $15.00. His Christmas will be much happier if the money is found.

First Service Held In New Church

Sunday evening, December 4, marked the first service in Saint Pauls New Church, 225 E. Gates Street. About thirty five Young People gathered in the Choir Room of the Old Church and then were led to the unfinished Chancel of the New Building by the Reverend Paul C. Kaefer. In front of the old Altar and a full color sketch of the New Altar, the group held a very impressive candlelight Consecration Service. It will be about two weeks before the roof is installed on the new edifice, and probably four weeks until the basement is finished, but the Young People go on record as having held the First Service in their New House of Worship.

Corpus Christi P.T.A. To Meet Sunday

Corpus Christi P.T.A. will hold their meeting Sunday afternoon, Dec. 11th, at 2:00. The children of the 1st and 2nd grades will furnish the entertainment, a play entitled "Telephone in Heaven," under the direction of Sister M. Kenneth by the 1st grade and a "Christmas Playlet," by the 2nd grade, directed by Sister M. Carolita.

Refreshments will also be served by the mothers of these two grades.

The P.T.A. will also sponsor the annual Christmas Party for the children on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 20th in the school hall, a half hour of entertainment by Robert Verbeck and a visit by Santa Claus will conclude the program. The banner for attendance for Nov. was again won by the 8th and 10th grades.

Mothers Club Notice

All members of the Mother's Club of the South Side Day Nursery, please take notice that the meeting and Christmas Social has been changed from our regular Thursday night, to Wednesday, Dec. 7th, at 7:30 p.m. This change to Wednesday will only be for the December party and meeting.

Our Christmas Social and Gift Exchange will follow our regular meeting. Hostesses for the evening are Ann Butsko and Mary Hoppes.

Southeast Lions Drive Nets $3,800

The Southeast Lions' Club, special edition of the South Side Side Booster, was received with open arms by the people of the South Side, Friday and Saturday night.

Every place that the Lions salesmen knocked at the door, they were well received and generously the money was handed to the men.

When the salesmen started coming in to make their reports, the money started to pile up in heaps.

Almost $2000 was taken in from the paper sale Friday night.

The Southeast Lions men were out again Saturday night, which is to be reported yet.

The first copy of the paper went to John Feiter, who paid $50 for it, closely followed by a bid of $25 for the second paper, which went to Dr. William Ramoser.

The third paper went to business men of Parsons Ave. between Innis Ave. and Kran St. with the money left over from their Christmas decoration fund.

Practically every home in the South Side made a donation with nickles, dimes, quarters, halves and dollars coming from every pocket of the salesman as they checked in.

Ross Benbow and his crew from the Steelton Branch of the Ohio National Bank were the official counters of the money.

We are really proud of the way that the people responded with their donations. But of course the people of the South Side are always generous to any worthy cause.

President Dr. O. L. Coddington, has assured us that all money from the paper sale will be used as beneficially as it was last year.

South Side Florists Ready For Xmas

Many times at Christmas there are persons on our gift list that are hard to select appropriate gifts for, maybe it's the shut in, or a friend in the hospital or maybe just one of those persons who seems to have just about everything, or maybe the neighbor or friend who has been kind or thoughtful to us on some occasion that we would like to remember. If this is your problem it is solved. Your Side Side Florist Shops are now supplied with gorgeous Christmas flowers and ready to fill your orders.

There are dish gardens, potted plants, cut bouquets, the traditional and always beautiful Poinsettia plants and corsages to select from. For those loved ones, no longer present, there are beautiful cemetery wreaths, grave blankets and cemetery bouquets.

Flowers can be wired to those living in distant cities. Delivery will be made in surrounding districts.

Keep in mind flowers are always an appropriate gift. The following South Side Florists will be glad to give personal attention to your orders. Whitacre Flowers, 158 Southwood Ave., Premier Floral Co. (owned and operated by Julia Zish), at 1853 Parsons Ave., Roberts Florist, 938 Parsons Ave., and Herbie Wolff Florist(new location), 354 E. Whittier Street.

Seeing Eye Dog In Two Weeks

After two weeks lapse of the usual large amount of sales tax stamps for Frank Hutchinson to get his dog, a large amount of them came in last week.

We are on the last lap and with luck in this week and next if people turn in their stamps, we will have sufficient funds to get that Seeing Eye Dog.

We hope that you turn those stamps in fast so that the drive will be completed before Christmas.

Turn your sales tax stamps into any of the Fire Department houses, Thurman Ave., Parsons Ave., Livingston Ave., or Fulton Street.

You may also leave them at the South Side Booster, 1542 Parsons Avenue.

Sealing The Program For 1950

SEALING THE PROGRAM FOR 1950—Pretty Marilyn Reed, 1233 South Ohio Ave., Columbus, has found a way to insure a better and bigger program of tuberculosis control for 1950. "Buy lots of Christmas seals," Marilyn says, "and make unique designs for your holiday gifts." Marilyn is concerned because the Christmas seal returns to the Columbus Tuberculosis Society are slower this year than last, and the organization must have remittances for the seals in order to carry out its tuberculosis control work for the coming year. "Don't delay," Marilyn urges. "Send in your check today. The address, in case you've lost your return envelope is 503 Oak Street. Or why not order extra seals? There are plenty of ways to use them!"

Southway Xmas Party

The Southway Post will play host to the children of the South Side Settlement, St. Stevens and the Greenlawn Project with a Christmas Party, Sunday afternoon, Dec. 18, 2:00 to 4:00 p.m., at the Post Hall, 864 S. High St. Harold Gall will entertain the children with his Big Show!

Lincoln Park's Christmas Program

When Lincoln Park presents its annual Christmas program on Friday, Dec. 16th at 7:30 p.m. for the parents, the Christmas Story will be read (according to Luke) and illustrated by tableaus accompanied by the familiar carols depicting the various scenes of the nativity.

The vested choir under the direction of Bertha Schilffarth will be featured in the following group of numbers: While Shepherds Watched, by Praetorius; Lo How a Rose E'er Blooming, by Praetorius; Gesu Bambino, by Yon; Jesus, Jesus Rest Your Head, by Kentucky Mt. Carol.

The risers, a gift to the school from the Parent Teachers Association, will be used for the first time on this occasion.

His china consists of many open stock patterns and also novelty patterns. His stock contains many times that are especially nice for Christmas Gifts. Stop in soon at 1262 South High Street where Mr. Ruder will help you with your selections.

Lions Thank South Side

Since it is impossible for me personally to thank all who helped to make our Southeast Lions' Club paper sale a success, I take this method to express my great appreciation to all who helped in any way—the staff of the South Side Booster, those who gathered material, all who placed ads in the paper, those who advertised the sale by radio or press, those who helped with the distribution, both members and non-members, and all who bought the paper.

We feel that the project was a great success, and you may be assured that the funds raised by it will be put to good use.

O. L. Coddington, M.D.
Pres., Southeast Lions

Heinie Butler With Newsies

Heinie G. Butler of 1025 Linwood Ave., one of the most energetic and resourceful of the 125 Charity Newsies holding their paper sale Dec. 17, promises a new, howl-gaining, money-raising stunt for his stand at Gay and High Sts. (southwest corner) that day.

Butler's shows are traditional with these Newsie days, and this forty-third annual solicitation will find him with a surprise that promises to rival Barnum, Billy Rose and even Ziegfeld. His work-a-day business connection is as president and general manager of The B. & B. Door Closer Co., 488 E. Main Street.

As chairman of the Newsies' stunt committee, Butler has as a co-chief, Larry Baer, the Town-and-Grant restaurant operator. Heinie's cousin, Joseph O. Butler, 735 E. Rich St., also will be whooping it up Dec. 17. He's another veteran welfare worker.

Fred Schmidt of 273 E. Kossuth St., is chairman of the committee planning the annual "pep dinner" Dec. 16, in the Seneca Hotel. This is the final, over-the-top event in preparation for the sale of the special edition "open your heart" newspapers. Edwin P. Brinkman of 1196 Lockbourne Rd., and Adam Maurer of 464 E. Livingston Ave., also are assisting Mr. Schmidt.

Forget-Me-Not Gift Shop Purchased

The Forget-Me-Not Gift Shop, located at 220 Thurman Ave., has recently been purchased by Mrs. Lois Jenkins. Mrs. Jenkins is ordering new and attractive merchandise daily, in order to make the Forget-Me-Not Gift Shop the place to think of when gifts are in order. She will carry many inexpensive gift items suitable for the bridge party, shower, or for just that little friendly gift suitable to express appreciation. For the convenience of the ladies who like to do fancy work, she will carry crochet thread and embroidery cottons. In order to make room for new merchandise, Mrs. Jenkins has drastically reduced many items that were in stock at the time of purchase. A visit to her shop will make gift buying easy.

Mrs. Jenkins is an accomplished musician. She attended Baldwin Wallace College in Berea, O., where she studied music. She also attended the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. Mrs. Jenkins is a widow. She has one daughter, Phyllis Jane, who will help her Mother in the gift shop. Mrs. Jenkins will be pleased to have friends and neighbors drop in the shop and get acquainted.

Kennel Club To Meet

On Dec. 15, the club will have as speaker, Mr. Will Rannells, art professor at Ohio State and nationally known dog artist, will present his dog, Ginger. Mr. Rannells sketched dogs each Sunday afternoon on WBNS-TV.

THANKS BLOOD DONORS

Hugh Wolcott, of 1735½ Parsons Ave., wishes to thank those people of our community who went to Dayton to donate blood for him.

The Dayton Veterans Hospital is always short of blood and it would be a fine gesture for people going there to stop in at the blood bank in the hospital and donate blood for the veterans.

Wolcott is well on the road to recovery and has started asking for pinochle buddies to come to his home.

Livingston PTA News

The Executive Board of Livingston Ave. P.T.A. met at 1:30 p. m. at the school on Friday, Dec. 9. Plans were made for the Christmas Party for the pupils on December 21 and will include a visit from Santa Claus as well as a treat for each youngster.

The regular monthly meeting of the Livingston P.T.A. will be held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 15. A play with music, "Christmas Jewels," will be given by the first grade pupils. The play is unique in that it includes group singing by the audience. This entertainment will be under the direction of Mrs. Frances Schliebeck, assisting by Miss Florence Gaughran. A Christmas Tea will conclude the meeting.

The Livingston Ave. P.T.A. wishes to extend their many thanks to the Firemen and the three Policemen from the South Side Auxiliary Police. These men did a wonderful job at our Fun Frolic which was held November 18. The South Side Auxiliary Police can certainly be recommended for their fine service. At this time, the organization would also like to thank all the mothers and fathers for their splendid help and co-operation with our Fun Frolic.

"A Message From The Angels"

Rev. Henry Oestreich
Martin Luther Ev. Lutheran Church

"Greetings and Best Wishes!" These are the usual Christmas words that meet eye and ear everywhere we go. Over and above all the "Good Will Among Men," we are not to lose sight of the "Good Will" about which the Angels sang and spoke on the night in which Christ was born. This in fact, is the only true foundation on which any "Good Will" among men can be brought to pass. In my message for this Christmas, I shall confine my attention to this message of the angels.

There is a Christmas message for the world today, even as there was one for the world at the time that Jesus Christ was born a Babe in the stable at Bethlehem. It would be well if the angelic voices could once again sing their words into our hearts and minds. This first announcement at the instance of the angels has not yet completely died away, it is our annual celebration of Christmas which needs must keep these words alive also in our hearts. Such an important message must never be permitted to be lost to us, especially

Let Us Complete Stamp Drive

There is still a chance that we can complete the sales tax stamp drive for Frank Hutchinson by Christmas.

All you have to do is turn in those stamps between now and Christmas, in increasing numbers and Hutchinson will have enough money to get that dog.

Stamps may be left at the Fulton St., Livingston Ave., Parsons Ave., Thurman Ave. Fire Dept. Houses, or at the South Side Booster.

Our Greetings To All Of You

By C. E. Walcutt

We of the South Side Booster staff send special greetings to all the people in the community. "May you have a Merry Christmas with all your loved ones with you."

When you gather for the giving of presents, let us not forget the significance of Christmas and what it represents.

Remember the appearance of angels in the heavens, of the birth in the manger of the Infant Jesus—the promise of what it represented to mankind.

For unto you a savior is born—does not mean just the giving of gifts. It means the greatest gift to us that man can ever receive, the promise of spiritual well being. The promise of that guiding light thru all generations Christ our Lord.

Take your gifts to the poor children to your churches, lodges or community houses, so that the poor may be fed and their children have toys and dolls.

The spirit of giving should not be for your own home alone. But should also be so that no one here in the South Side should be hungry or without gifts for the children who are not as fortunate as our own.

We of the Booster staff will be with our own families. It will be a big day. We will probably overeat, but throughout it all we will be happy.

Every member of our staff sends you a personal greeting in the simplest and most important of words Merry, Merry Christmas!

Traditional Service To Be Held

The Traditional Christmas Eve Service at Saint Pauls Evangelical and Reformed Church will be held as usual this year. Once again the good neighbors of Gates Fourth Methodist Church have come to the aid of the Council of Saint Pauls. Since it was definitely known of the impossibility of holding the Service in the new church basement at 225 East Gates Street and the additional heating requirement made in unfeasable to ask for Schiller Park Auditorium, the Church Council was on the verge of cancelling the Traditional Service for this year. But as has often been the case in the past few months the neighbor Church will be used. The Reverend Paul C. Kaefer will occupy the pulpit and deliver a special sermon for the occasion after which the choir will offer Christmas music. You are invited to attend the annual Christmas Eve Service at Saint Pauls Evangelical and Reformed Church, held this year at Gates Fourth Methodist Church. Services start at 11 p.m.

"A Child Is Born To Us".

Rev. James Kulp
St. Marys Roman Catholic Church

Christmas always gives us the shock of a delightful discovery. We never get over the joy of it. It is a perpetual and enchanting surprise. Each of us will laugh this Christmas as our fathers before us have done for generations, and as their fathers did before them for centuries. Men would have forgotten long ago how to smile in this sad, sinful world, without the blessed event each year of the coming of the Child of Bethlehem. He Who has heaven as His home, God the Son, is come to earth to live with us and to be one of us. That news can never be old.

Saints and sages and poets have left us their treasures on Christmas. But words become worn. They are old and withered like last summer's trees and flowers. We would need a language that is always new with the freshness of eternity upon it, like Christmas itself.

For when He appeared to brighten the earth and to gladden all men by His Presence, shepherds left their flocks at the thought of seeing Him and kings their kingdoms and later—fishermen their nets. With each He exchanged gifts. It was not an even exchange. His gift of love

"A Message From The Angels"

Rev. Henry Oestreich
Martin Luther Ev. Lutheran Church

"Greetings and Best Wishes!" These are the usual Christmas words that meet eye and ear everywhere we go. Over and above all the "Good Will Among Men," we are not to lose sight of the "Good Will" about which the Angels sang and spoke on the night in which Christ was born. This in fact, is the only true foundation on which any "Good Will" among men can be brought to pass. In my message for this Christmas, I shall confine my attention to this message of the angels.

There is a Christmas message for the world today, even as there was one for the world at the time that Jesus Christ was born a Babe in the stable at Bethlehem. It would be well if the angelic voices could once again sing their words into our hearts and minds. This first announcement at the instance of the angels has not yet completely died away, it is our annual celebration of Christmas which needs must keep these words alive also in our hearts. Such an important message must never be permitted to be lost to us, especially

Let Us Complete Stamp Drive

There is still a chance that we can complete the sales tax stamp drive for Frank Hutchinson by Christmas.

All you have to do is turn in those stamps between now and Christmas, in increasing numbers and Hutchinson will have enough money to get that dog.

Stamps may be left at the Fulton St., Livingston Ave., Parsons Ave., Thurman Ave. Fire Dept. Houses, or at the South Side Booster.

Our Greetings To All Of You

By C. E. Walcutt

We of the South Side Booster staff send special greetings to all the people in the community. "May you have a Merry Christmas with all your loved ones with you."

When you gather for the giving of presents, let us not forget the significance of Christmas and what it represents.

Remember the appearance of angels in the heavens, of the birth in the manger of the Infant Jesus—the promise of what it represented to mankind.

For unto you a savior is born—does not mean just the giving of gifts. It means the greatest gift to us that man can ever receive, the promise of spiritual well being. The promise of that guiding light thru all generations Christ our Lord.

Take your gifts to the poor children to your churches, lodges or community houses, so that the poor may be fed and their children have toys and dolls.

The spirit of giving should not be for your own home alone. But should also be so that no one here in the South Side should be hungry or without gifts for the children who are not as fortunate as our own.

We of the Booster staff will be with our own families. It will be a big day. We will probably overeat, but throughout it all we will be happy.

Every member of our staff sends you a personal greeting in the simplest and most important of words Merry, Merry Christmas!

Traditional Service To Be Held

The Traditional Christmas Eve Service at Saint Pauls Evangelical and Reformed Church will be held as usual this year. Once again the good neighbors of Gates Fourth Methodist Church have come to the aid of the Council of Saint Pauls. Since it was definitely known of the impossibility of holding the Service in the new church basement at 225 East Gates Street and the additional heating requirement made in unfeasable to ask for Schiller Park Auditorium, the Church Council was on the verge of cancelling the Traditional Service for this year. But as has often been the case in the past few months the neighbor Church will be used. The Reverend Paul C. Kaefer will occupy the pulpit and deliver a special sermon for the occasion after which the choir will offer Christmas music. You are invited to attend the annual Christmas Eve Service at Saint Pauls Evangelical and Reformed Church, held this year at Gates Fourth Methodist Church. Services start at 11 p.m.

"A Child Is Born To Us"

Rev. James Kulp
St. Marys Roman Catholic Church

Christmas always gives us the shock of a delightful discovery. We never get over the joy of it. It is a perpetual and enchanting surprise. Each of us will laugh this Christmas as our fathers before us have done for generations, and as their fathers did before them for centuries. Men would have forgotten long ago how to smile in this sad, sinful world, without the blessed event each year of the coming of the Child of Bethlehem. He Who has known as His home, God the Son, is come to earth to live with us and to be one of us. That news can never be old.

Saints and sages and poets have left us their treasures on Christmas. But words become worn. They are old and withered like last summer's trees and flowers. We would need a language that is always new with the freshness of eternity upon it, like Christmas itself.

For when He appeared to brighten the earth and to gladden all men by His Presence, shepherds left their flocks at the thought of seeing Him and kings their kingdoms and later—fishermen their nets. With each He exchanged gifts. It was not an even exchange. His gift of love

Former Student Sends Check

It is not unusual for the pupils in the public schools to have a Christmas treat just before the holiday vacation, but there is a unique story concerning the treat which all Livingston Avenue School children will receive on December 21.

More than forty years ago a little boy whom we shall call Jim entered Livingston Ave. School in first grade. He came from an under privileged home where the father was a laborer and money was scarce. He loved to come to school, because he found in his teachers understanding and kindness which he never forgot. Each Christmas through thoughtful planning on the part of the teachers a treat such as a bag of candy, a candy cane, or a little Christmas stocking was provided. To Jim this meant everything for there would be no other Christmas gift.

Each year Jim looked forward to Christmas in his school and he was never disappointed for kind teachers always planned treats for the boys and girls.

Years passed and Jim through hard work built a successful contracting business. He is in a position now to buy anything he wants for Christmas, but his thoughts always go back to that simple treat which the school provided for him as a little bay. He will never forget his favorite treat — a little Christmas stocking filled with candies,

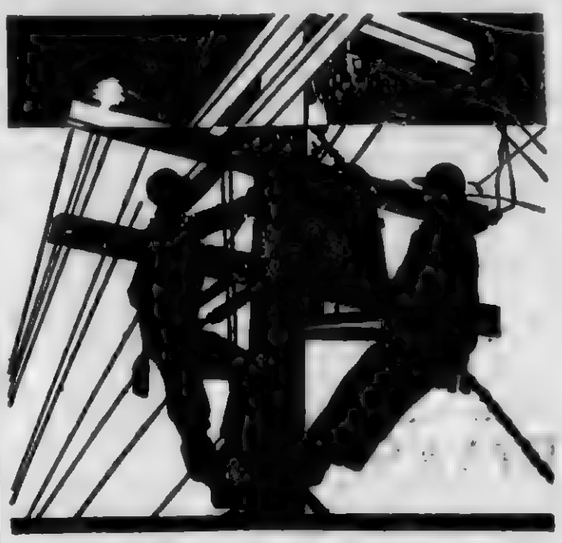
Consequently Jim who now lives out of the city pays an annual visit to Livingston Ave. School and brings a generous check which will be the means of providing an ice cream treat for every child in the building.

If some child is made happy by this treat who would not otherwise be remembered at the Christmas season, then Jim's generosity has not been in vain. He has thus symbolized the true spirit of Christmas.

Schiller Craft Class

Beginning Tuesday, Dec. 27, the Monte Beaver's girls' and boys' Schiller Craft class will be open from 1 p.m. till 5:30 p.m. during the holiday school vacation days. Monte says all children are creative, and are invited to enroll in the class and make something during vacation days. The invitation is extended to south-side girls and boys ranging in age 7 to 14 years. No charge of any kind to join and everything is free, and intelligent guidance throughout the class periods.

The children will build bird houses, bird feeding shelters, sleds, and specialize in repairing toys.



Use your Schiller recreation center and enjoy the spirit of youth and take an active part in some activity scheduled daily.

* * *

The craft class members at Schiller have many toys made up and the needy youngsters will be taken care of Xmas. They have contacted several homes. Toys include peg boards and hammers, checker board, spinning games, whizes, perpetual vibration toy, ring toss, blocks, stand for desk, letter openers, Indian book marks, popeye animals, puzzles and book ends. Parents are invited to pay a visit and use the suggestion box, says Monte every little bit of suggestion help in some way.

"A Child Is Born"

is of infinite value and it is something that makes the receiver happy and increases rather than diminishes in the sharing with others.

Down through the ages, the gift continues to be given. Not only at Christmastide but every day, every hour, the warmth of His love is transmitted by those who already know and possess it to those who have not known it. Missionaries, religious and lay men and women, give and keep giving of themselves as the Divine Missioner gives and continues to give of Himself in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass.

If Christmas teaches us anything, it tells us this. Our opportunities for holiness are greater than we are willing to admit. We deliberately underestimate them to ease our conscience. It is not pleasant to think how much better we could be, if we but tried just a little more. We even put a low value on the graces we receive. We willingly admit that God gives us generous graces that we may be saved. But the fact is, He is giving us a lot more. Great holiness is within our reach through the measure of grace we have.

It was fidelity to grace that made Mary the Mother of God. It was fidelity that, made saints out of His first friends. When you do faithfully the duties of your state of life, the touch of your friendship with Jesus will transform them into treasures of Heaven.

The spirit of Christmas then, is to desire to become a true lover of the Infant King, Jesus.

The Club also extends season greetings to one and all. "A Message"

when we remember that they who were the first to make it known, were none other than the angels of heaven. We must yet wonder at this message which angels were privileged to proclaim and make known. Mankind has long pondered these words which the lowly shepherds heard on the plains of Bethlehem that one Silent, Holy Night. This message was brought to the shepherds, it came not from usual sources, nor was it about the common things of life about which man likes to speak and talk. It was rather the fulfillment of a longing, the desire of generations past now coming into being That which poets had dreamed had now become a reality, for God had come to dwell with men. We too will want to hear this angelic host proclaim the "Good Tidings of great Joy," to us this Christmas. We shall hear it, if we are expecting to hear about the birth of a King, if our hearts are yearning for a Redeemer, if we will but expect great things of God. If in the midst of our daily labors we take and find time to ponder on the coming of Jesus Christ into the world, we will attune our ears to the angel

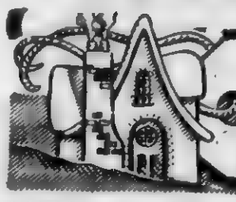
The Christmas message is a personal message, it is personally sent for every individual who will hear, because the angel said, "Unto you, I bring, good tidings of great joy." This 'unto you' reaches down to you and to me today, so that we personally are to know that this message is ours. The angel was glad to bring this message, because he knew it would bring great joy to man. It is so that he seeks to bring great joy also into our lives. How much real joy will you have this Christmas? Where will you seek to find the true joys of Christmas? There will be joy in many homes where children come to visit father and mother, where brother and sister meet again after some time of separation; there will be joy at the family tables where bountiful dinners are being served to the delight of all, yet all these things tend to leave a great void unless the angel message is heard over and above all this.

The shepherds were not the only ones to benefit by this joy which so singularly came to them. They may have wondered why they were so chosen? Why they should have been so blessed of God? While they were the only ones who heard this music from heaven, it was by no means confined to them nor even to their day. We have it because the shepherds did not keep it unto themselves, but proclaimed where-ever they went. This message could not be kept by anyone then, nor will it be kept by anyone today who has heard it aright. They praised and glorified God, because it was God who had brought this miracle to pass. We too are blessed with this message which shall be to all people. We too need to make it known so that many others may come to know him who came on Christmas Day.

Do we know who was born this Day? It is difficult to conceive of anyone not knowing that Christ was born, when the very word Christmas receives its connotation from His Name. Many may be aware of this fact yet not know who Christ is. The angel knew who Jesus is and we too shall know Him if we but hearken to the angel's word about Him. He is the Savior which all mankind needs. Many do not feel the need of a Savior and therefore do not catch the true Christmas spirit, nor do they see much in the Christmas message. How much need is there for a Savior from sin in your life? How much time are you giving Him this season? He brings salvation to all who will learn to know and believe in Him because he is a real Savior, a true Redeemer. Of this we can be assured for we have the word of angels to tell us that He is "Christ the Lord." This lowly Babe of Bethlehem is the promised one of God, He is the Messiah, the Savior of mankind. There can be no question about His ability to save because He is the Lord of heaven and earth. Jesus is not just another Lord, but the Lord of all. Make no mistake the angel knew whereof he spake, and all who will may check back through the Old Testament and so learn that this Jesus is God's promised Son and Man's Savior. The place of His birth must bear witness to the fact that He is such. In the city of David, Bethlehem, this child was to be born. He is the descendant of a King even though He was born in humble circumstances. It was so that Jesus came into the world, born of a woman, born unto man. God came to dwell with man in order that man may now dwell with God. "This day He is born" the angel said, and it is so that we keep this day in His honor and to His glory.

What is more the angels set the pattern for our observance of this day, in that they praised God. Surely this is the least we can do and that is to praise God for the everlasting gift of His Son. We can thank Him that we have seen Him in the word and that we have experienced His companionship in our life. All who have seen the Christchild will glorify God continually.

This is the great joy of Christmas that we have Jesus, the promised One of God. Without Him there can be no Christmas in any heart and life; there can be no true love of God or of man. We too need to exalt and say, "Glory to God in the Highest," because only God could have devised and planned such a deliverance and given so great a Deliverer. Join in the song of the angels and give glory to God in the highest.



It is this word that needs to fill the heart and mind of man today. In this world of strife and fear it can bring peace. The angels sang, "And on earth peace." There is peace in and through Jesus Christ; here is the peace that passeth all understanding. If we would labor for peace, the word of the angel is what we need on this Christmas Day then we can have peace with God and peace with man. The birth of Jesus Christ is not just a jesture of Good will, He is the ambassador of "Goodwill." He makes the goodness of God known to men and makes it possible for goodwill to be among men generally, if they but heed His call and word.

The world surely needs the angel message on this Christmas, even as at all others, for it continues to bring "Tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people." We too may hear this message and be a party to bring them to others and so join in the angelic chorus of voices which proclaimed His birth from the first. Our desire at every Christmas time should be that we may hear the angels speak to us as we read the words of the Gospel writer or hear them read. In Christ Jesus we all shall have a truly blessed Christmas season.

An attractively wrapped gift for each room is found under the tree. The children are eager to see what the package contains—is it a game, a book, a picture?

St. Ladislaus Party A Success

"One of the outstanding social events of the year" is the way critics are describing the dance given for the benefit of St. Ladislaus Building Fund, Saturday, November 26, at Croatian Hall, 737 Reeb Avenue.

Music furnished by the Slovak Gypsie Band of Cleveland, was, by unanimous opinion of those in attendance, as good as has been heard in many years.

Rev. Frank T. Riehl, pastor of St. Ladislaus, wishes to thank all who assisted in making this party a success.

Columbus Girl Appointed Assistant Fire Chief

Maj. Gen. Walter L. Weible, Headquarters and Service Group Commander, has appointed honorary fire chiefs and honorary assistant fire chiefs in Tokyo American Schools.

The move was made recently in an effort to prevent tragic stateside school fire losses—one dead and two injured every 24 hours—from striking schools in the Far East.

Among those appointed was Susan Erlenbusch as an Assistant Fire Chief for Yoyogi Grade School. Susan is the 11 year old daughter of Lt. Col. Robert C. Erlenbusch, a graduate of South High School and West Point and now stationed in Tokyo, Japan.

Christmas Meeting

At the December 1 meeting of the Club, Walter Furniss, radio announcer for WCOL, was the guest speaker. Officers for the second semester were elected.

The program and entertainment committee are combining this month in preparing an exciting Christmas Party. There will be a ten cent gift exchange which will be on the comical

The fourth grade won last month's attendance prize.

D. A. R. Recently Reorganized

About ten years ago, a group of South High School Alumni formed a club called Dramatics Art Guild. The club lasted until the outbreak of war when most of the members marched off to war.

A few months ago, a group of recently graduated alumni of South High School met and reorganized the club, keeping the same name, Dramatics Art Guild, or more commonly referred to as D.A.G. Officers were elected and the club went into full swing.

The club has taken on many differens activities. They have produced plays for song fests and different organizations here on the South Side. They are making puppets and are planning to put on a puppet show and Christmas play for Children's Hospital. At their next meeting, they are planning to have a party for the cast of South High's "I Remember Mama." At the beginning of the New Year, they are planning to start a mixed chorus of their own members.

D.A.G. meetings are held every other Saturday from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at the South Side Y. Their next meeting is this Saturday, Dec. 10th. If you are interested in dramatics or musical work, why don't you drop in? Everyone from the South Side is welcome.

Knight Pins Awarded At Mound

Five Mound students, member of the 9A Graduating Class were awarded Knight Pins, Friday, in an assembly meeting of the school. The awards were made on the basis of high scholarship and outstanding citizenship.

Special music was furnished by the Mound Junior Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Ethel Cox Ellis, and the address was made by Mr. Thomas Gleba, Program Director of WLW-C. Rosella Calvert, South High School student, and former Knight at Mound Junior High School, spoke on the topic, "What My Knight Pin Means To Me."

Students given this award were Montas Bowen, Dorli Kuepfer, Margaret Schaffran, Jenny Swank and James Dover.

The program was under the direction of the Department of Education and is sponsored by Miss Mary Crum. Barbara Hermann presided.

Schiller Park Round Up

Last Thursday night, Dec. 8, we really had a swell dance. The music was furnished by the Columbus Federation of Musicians Union Trust Fund. We have had a different band for every dance. The dance started at 7:30 and lasted until 10 p.m. At the halftime we had a program put on by our girls' stunts and tumbling club. They were really good and everyone enjoyed them. Also we had a special act by Susanne Weldon. She also was good. So all of you boys and girls talk to your mother and father and ask them to come with you this Thursday. Remember to tell everyone that they have to dress up. I don't mean formal, just shirts and tie or sport shirt and coat. You girls can come with sweaters and skirts.

Also last Saturday morning Len Fauver took our wrestling team down to the Y.M.C.A. for a wrestling tournament. We came out with second place honors. I think that our boys deserve a big A for their hard work. It was only our first meet so next time we will do better.

We are still looking for some boys to enter the Golden Gloves boxing for Schiller Park. We feel that Schiller Park ought to have a whole team. So lets hear from some of you boys who are interested.

The names of the boys who were on the wrestling team are as follows: John Butler, Melvin Ramey, Fred Beck, Jimmy Barton, Kenny Webb. Butler took first 165 lbs., Beck took second in 145 lbs., Burton took second in 95 pounds.

The names of the girls who put on the act for the dance are Patty Trainer, Sandra Fee, Dorothy Duttin, Doris Gutheil, Elso Gutheil, Hazel Erb, Judy Gatten, Sharon Fee and Marjorie Trout.

Davis, author of "Joe and Bob on Northland Trails" spoke at a school assembly in connection with Book Week.

The book marks which all received were donated to Miss Peirsol by Walter Gast, who graduated from South in 1930. These bookmarks are made by the Pfeiffer Press in Columbus.

Druid Principles

For the information of the general public and for the guidance of those who contemplate membership we present the following facts about the United Ancient Order of Druids.

The order of Druids is of Asiatic origin. History speaks of it as an Order of priests and learned men among the Ancient Celtic—the race of people who left the parent hive in Asia migrated into Western Europe, the Druids were a prominent and powerful Order, they presided over the religious celebration of the people and were their judges, etc.

The order first assumed the present character in England in the year 1782, where it is powerful to this day. The first Druidic order was organized in New York City in the year of 1832. The first order of Druids was organized in Columbus in the year of 1857.

The United Ancient Order of Druids is a Fraternal, Social and beneficial Society. The Order is firmly established in many states. The object is to unite men together irrespective of Nation, tongue or creed, to foster among its members the spirit of fraternity and good fellowship benefits to provide for the relief of the sick and destitute, the burial of the dead. Applicants for membership must be males of the white race, of the age of eighteen years and upwards, good health and character. Sabrey To Head March Of Dimes

For the fifth consecutive year, Thomas A. Sabrey, 1049 Franklin Avenue, will be the chairman for the "March of Dimes" polio fund campaign in Franklin County, according to announcement Sunday by Sid R. Phillips, chairman of the Franklin County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis

The campaign will begin Monday, January 9, with house-to-house solicitation by more than 2000 women volunteers. It will continue through the month with more than 700 men volunteers joining in January 16 for canvassing of business and industrial firms

"Polio epidemics swept the nation in 1949, with more than 40,000 victims," Mr. Phillips bro't out in announcing the campaign organization and dates. "This is a tragic new record in the history of the disease in this country, making our appeals for help more urgent than ever before. In Franklin County we had 69 cases which is twice as many as in 1948 and we expect to have to carry over a large proportion of those cases in 1950. While no specific goal has been set, we need at least $200,000 in Franklin County to pay our way and take care of every victim of infantile paralysis in 1950."

Mr. Sabrey, who is managing director of Hotel Breakers, Cedar Point, O., and former manager of the Neil House, will be assisted in his direction of the campaign by the executive committee of the chapter. Headed by Mr. Phillips as chairman, it includes Geo. W. Hicks, vice chairman; Jack L. Ratner, secretary; Noel L. Greenlee, treasurer; Richard Abel, Mrs. Phil S. Bradford, R. Neil Grove, Mrs. Geo. W. Hicks, Mrs. Warren Metcalf, Mrs. Chas. Pegler, Robert M. Porter and Harry Shaw, Jr.

The medical advisory committee is headed by Dr. Edward Harlan Wilson, and includes Dr. Marion Ainsworth, Dr. E. H. Baxter, Dr. Clyde Dawson, Dr. John Gallen, Dr. O. M. Goodloe, Dr. Duane Kackley, Dr. Henry B. Lacey, Dr. Dwight Palmer, Dr. Miner W. Seymour, Dr. Chester C. Shinbach, Dr. Warren Wheeler, Dr. Judson Wilson, Dr. Ben Wiltberger, and Dr. H. P. Worstell.

Adventists To Open Mission

In keeping with the Christmas spirit and God's great love gift to humanity the members of the Eastwood Seventh-day Adventist Church Sabbath School will give a special missions offering at the end of the year to help build a hospital in Belem, Brazil. All of the denomination's 16,000 Sabbath Schools thru-out the world will participate in this project. The Sabbath Schools have made a three month's study of the medical needs of the 2 million people living on the banks of the rivers in the Amazon River valley.

Seventh-day Adventist missionaries have for several years dispensed medical aid from a fleet of mission "clinic" boats to natives along the banks of the 40,000 miles of navigable rivers of the Amazon Valley. Each medical missionary treats from 15,000 to 20,000 people a year. All travel from the mouth of the Amazon to 1,000 miles inland is done by boat, because there are no roads thru the swamps and jungles. The people live in huts on stilts at the shores of rivers swollen by six months of steady rain. Whole villages are often wiped out by malaria. No other place needs medical help more.

The Adventist mission recently purchased a hospital site in Belem, the Amazon's principal city, 70 miles from the mouth of the river. Here will be built a 40-bed, two-story hospital and a hospital and a separate clinic. It will be used to care for cases needing more than the temporary care the medical launches can give. Native young people will also be trained here to become medical missionaries to their own people.

News In The World Of Religion

By W. W. Reid

A call for 50 young men and young women to enlist for three years of missionary service in South America, Central America and Mexico, and to be prepared for their jobs by August 1950, has been issued by the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Church. The call was signed by Dr. M. O. Williams, Jr., and Miss Kathryn J. Bierl, in charge of the Board's missionary recruitment at 150 Fifth Ave., New York City. In 1948 the Board sent 50 three-year missionaries to Japan and Korea, and this year 50 to India and Pakistan. The countries to which the 1950 group will be assigned are Argentina, Brazil, Bolivia, Chile, Cuba, Costa Rica, Mexico, Panama, Peru and Uruguay. The positions offered are high school teaching, youth work in churches and community centers, assistantships to pastors, adult education in night schools, religious education, health and nurse service, agricultural training. Applicants for these fifty places must be between 21 and 28 years of age, single, graduates of college, active members of some evangelical church—not necessarily Methodist.

Chief Abbot Kocho Otani, titular head of 10,000 Buddhist churches in Japan, and his wife Countess Satako Otani, sister of the Empress of Japan, are on a visit to the United States and Canada. They are thanking the American people for aiding in Japan's post-war reconstruction, and they are studying the practical working of American democracy. This is their first visit to America. The Abbot says that the Japanese militarists suppressed both Christianity and Buddhism during the recent war; but that Buddhist priests and Christian missionaries and Japanese pastors are now working together for the betterment of the nation. Only one in seven Japanese, he says, are Buddhist.

Men forget that the great religions of mankind arose in the East and that wonderful civilizations grew up there when Europe and America were still unknown to history, Pandit J. Nehru, India's prime minister, is telling American audiences. "The West has too often despised the Asian and the African and still, in many places, denies them not only equality of rights but even common humanity and kindliness," he says. "This is one of the great danger points of our modern world. . .The progress of some races in knowledge or in invention, their success in war and conquest, has tempted them to believe that they are racially superior and has led them to treat other nations with contempt. A recent example of this was the horrible attempt, so largely successful, to exterminate the Jews. In Asia and Africa, racial superiority has been most widely and most insolently exhibited."

The Protestant Film Commission, which represents the major Protestant churches in their approach to America via the silver screen, reports that five new productions are ready for issuance this fall. The most pretentious is "Prejudice" which was produced jointly with the Anti - Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, and is a study of the Christian approach to racial and religious prejudice. Another is "Kenji Comes Home," which shows the place of Christianity in the new Japan; and the three remaining interpret Christian principles for children: "Birthday Party," "What Happened to Jo-Jo," and "The Right Job for Bob."

Signed by more than 100 leaders of government, church, business, education and the arts of America, a "message of gratitude and of admiration" has been presented to Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, prime minister of India, now in the United States. Says the message: "We recognize with gratitude the large part you have played in bringing self-government, through political and peaceful means, to a great section of humanity. We admire your dedication to ideals, your personal integrity, and the generosity of mind and spirit in which you carried on the struggle and face the future. We need all these qualities in our present effort to prevent war and to establish political machinery to govern world affairs, capable of securing humanity's inalienable rights to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. The achievement of a world federation of delegated powers resting upon the consent of the governed we regard as of immediate and paramount importance. We hope that. . .you will be inspired to wield your great influence to the utmost of the courage and capability for which you are noted, for the early achievement of self-government for the whole human race." Among the signers were Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill, Dr. E. Stanley Jones, Prof. Harrison S. Brown, Dr. Charles P. Boss, Scientist Samuel K. Allison, Standard Oil President W. T. Holliday, Editor Mark Van Doren.

'SCHOOLTIME'

By Edward L. Hoon

Would you like to go to school and eat the lesson?

Well—one Cleveland school is offering interested mothers and fathers a chance to use the home economics room in the evenings for a class in cake decorating. The response has been tremendous.

The revival of interest in square dancing is another factor which brings folks to the school houses in the evenings. Expert callers and instructors, a group of happy neighbors, and some "mountain music" can be depended upon to provide a pleasant time.

Handcraft and sewing classes, badminton, volleyball, chess and checker tournaments are all popular. In Cuyahoga Heights the school shops are open nightly. Many a kitchen cupboard, coffee table and sewing cabinet has been made by fathers and taken proudly home.

There is no reason why the facilities of the schools should be used only by the children. It's just good common sense to use our schools as community centers. Either the regular teacher or qualified citizen should be called upon to lead activities or teach courses in which folks are interested.

Years ago we had night schools in English, American history and citizenship training. Now in Cleveland a survey shows that more than 60 different activities are offered in the community center program.

The only thing that is really amazing about it all is that there are still so many communities where school facilities are not made available under proper supervision for community use.

Some programs now operating in Ohio were started under P.T.-A. sponsorship, others were put into operation by recreation groups or by boards of education. It doesn't matter who organizes the program as long as folks who want to learn Spanish, make jewelry, or play basketball, get a chance to do so.

As for me, I'm going to look into that business about the cake!

Miss Margulis Is Bride Of Mr. S. Kayne

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Margulis, 867 E. Fulton St., announce the marriage of their daughter, Regina Leah, to Mr. Sanford A. Kayne, son of Mrs. Sol Kotosky, 988 Carpenter St., and the late Mr. Sol Kotosky.

Kentea palms, ferns, white mums and pompons decorated the canopy under which the ceremony was performed by Rabbis Nathan Zeliser and Samuel Rubenstein and Cantor Leo Halpern at the Tipfereth Israel Temple on Nov. 6 at 4:30 p.m.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents wore a white brocaded satin gown designed with semi-princess lines. It had a standup collar with points rolled back, unpressed box pleats and long sleeves coming to points over her hands. The extremely full skirt extended into a full cathedral train. The fingertip veil of imported illusion was held in place by a tiny cap of satin brocade embroidered with tiny seed pearls. She carried a bridal Bible topped with a white orchid, from which cascaded a swag of feathered white mums and satin ribbons.

Miss Faye Margulis, who attended her sister as maid of honor, was dressed in a gown of gold tissue faille with a boat neckline, clip sleeves and bouffant pleated skirt. Her headdress was a small Dutch cap of matching material and she carried a crescent of bronze mums. Mrs. Harold Kayne, as matron of honor, wore a gown of sea foam green corded faille with high neckline, cap sleeves and full skirt. She wore a matching Dutch cap and carried a crescent of large yellow mums.

Cousins of the bride, Miss Miriam Baker and Miss Miriam Carlstein, served as bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of forest green taffeta, fashioned with strapless bodices with bolero jackets and shirred half sleeves. The dresses had pencil-lined skirts sweeping in full-length down the back with an overskirt bustled in the back and draped up the front. They wore matching Dutch caps and carried crescents of yellow and bronze pompons.

Mr. Harold Kayne served his brother as best man. Ushers were Mr. Jack Rubin, Mrs. Charles Mendelson of Springfield, and Dr. Bernard Sugarman of Steubenville.

The bride's parents were hosts at a dinner immediately following the ceremony.

The couple is living at 848½ S. Drexel Avenue.

The service was read by the Rev. Mr. S. E. Hicks, under a wedding arch formed of ferns. The altar was decorated with two candelabra, white gladioli and pompons.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of floor-length white satin, fashioned with an off-the-shoulder net yoke neckline edged with a wide fold of satin. She wore matching mitts extending to points over her hands. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a tiara of pearlized orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and shattered carnations with a corsage centered in it. Gowns of the bride's attendants were identical to the bride's. They wore half wreaths of pink roses and carried colonial bouquets with bows matching their gowns.

Mr. William Erler, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Mr. Roger Groves, cousin of the bridegroom, and Mr. Donald Walker.

A reception was held in the church following the service.

Msgr. Albert Kessler read the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white gladioli.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a gown of traditional white satin with sweetheart neckline. The sleeves were long with points extending over the hands, while the bodice was closely molded to a low waistline, pointing front and back, into a full skirt which terminated in a train. Her fingertip veil of illusion edged in chantilly lace was held in place by a tira of seed pearls. The bride carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and roses.

Brotherhood Hears Fine Sermon

Ott Menser, Richard Rueckel, Arnold Mercer, Gene Pindell, Paul Berger, and Jim Hott were installed as new officers in the Brotherhood of Saint Pauls Evangelical and Reformed Church. The Reverend Paul C. Kaefer held the ceremonies at St. Johns Church.

Guest speakers of the evening were Reverend Evans and his able assistant from Columbus Goodwill Industries. This assistant spoke about five minutes and he constantly smiled. He told all the things he was thankful for. Actually the short talk was one of the finest Sermons the Brotherhood ever heard. The young man was thankful for all the good things he had, and he offered not one word of complaint against any thing or any person. If you are interested in hearing this well worthwhile Sermon, regardless of your religious affiliations, contact the Goodwill Industries and make arrangements to hear the lad who talked to Saint Pauls Brotherhood. Yes, the lad is what we call a Physically Handicapped Person.

Regarding construction work at the New Church at 225 East Gates Street all outside work is being held up awaiting arrival of Steel Window Frames which should be on the grounds this week. The engineer promises ten days after their arrival the Brick, Stone and Roofing work will all be completed.

Future Dates on Saint Pauls' Calendar are the Sample Fair, sponsored by a branch of the Dorcas Society and a Venison Sportsman's Dinner staged by the Brotherhood. Both of these dates are tentatively planned for the basement in the New Church sometime in January.

Don't Dump Your Ashes!

The Columbus Health Department has issued a warning that continued violations of an ordinance against dumping ashes and rubbish in alleys may be prosecuted.

Dr. Joseph Drayer, deputy health commissioner, said cold weather has brought an increase in the number of violations—even where containers for ashes have been provided.

The ordinance definitely states that ashes, rubbish, and garbage each be placed in separate containers which are placed conveniently for collection.

Dr. Drayer indicated that continued violations of the ordinance may force the city to prosecute.

Grads From 206 Hold Reunion

Twenty-two former Barrett pupils, who registered in Room 206 with Miss Isabelle Wallace, returned Thursday evening, Dec. 1, for a reunion of fun and fellowship. All of these pupils are now enrolled at South High School. They were members of the June graduating class of 1948.

The fellows and girls are intensely interested in the movie pictures film that Miss Wallace showed at the reunion. They were movies of home room people during their 7th grade and their 8th grade years at Barrett. The students enjoyed reminiscing, each one wanted to tell about the incident that he felt the funniest thing that happened while he was at Barrett.

Many of these pupils had made recordings of recitations when they were in Miss Wallace's home room and in her English classes. These recordings were a fond topic of conversation to them. The students who met from 3:30 to 5:30 December 1, closed the evening with ice cream and cake for refreshments.

Lest We Forget

It has been almost five years since the end of World War II. The World is settling down to the routine troubles of reconstruction. Our town did its bit in winning the war. And our school contributed also: buying bonds, stamps, and war implements; giving scrap iron, paper, and—men's lives.

It was because of the last that on a November evening I looked down from the choir loft upon the group assembled to dedicate an organ to those who had gone to war, never to return. They numbered eighty-eight—the eighty-eight who, but seven years before were singing in the choir, holding "that line," hungrily trying to decode between soup and mashed potatoes for lunch, and facing the footlights with stagestruck ...

Seated before us were their parents, assembled not to see their Johnnys take part in a regular high school presentation, but to pay a lasting tribute to their sons. We were solemn; some of us were inexperienced in grief; we all felt the impact of the thought and work that had gone into securing this permanent memorial. But it could only have been the sight of the tear-lined faces of mothers and fathers that really set the note for the occasion.

The strains of "Over There" rang out intrepidly through the auditorium. "Come Thou Holy Spirit," arose tranquilly into the serene congregation.

All hearts were joined as one vast and mighty river,—but all thoughts and memories were as tributaries, flowing into that stream.

We prayed that the melodious strains of our new instrument would be powerful enough to open up the heavens and bring them joy.

Soon the melodies of the organ passed into the background to give way to the roll call: Aikire, Arnold, Bates—All the lights were turned off—it was better that way. The list went on and on, until Wolstein, Zimpher, Zwicher—We rose to chant Kipling's verses written for another generation.

Barrett Pupils Record Good

Barrett boys and girls find their school a good place to be, according to facts and figures turned in at the close of November 1949.

The enrollment for the school month of November shows Barrett's enrollment for this year was exactly 3 pupils more than they had at the same time last year. The percent of attendance for the school month of November was 90.8, while the percent of attendance for the same period of time last year was 86.6 percent.

Attendance records for September, October, and November of the past 3 years show a marked improvement in attendance for these months in 1949.

The percent of attendance for the first three months of each school year for the past 3 years has been over 90 percent each year. The percent of attendance for this year has been over 92 percent present for the 3 months period just closed. This reflects credit on the South Side as a community which is conscience of its school responsibility.

Economic Highlights

"The government," says U. S. News & World Report, "has become the biggest source of income in the country. In the single year to end next June 30, the Treasury will spend an estimated $46,000,000,000 in cold cash. This means that $1 out of every $6 spent in the United States will be spent by the government." The magazine then goes into considerable detail as to how all this money is to be divided.

The biggest item in the budget—$17,300,000,000—is accounted for by benefits and subsidies of many diverse kinds. Nearly half of that amount—$8,300,000,000—will go to veterans and is one of the payments we are making because of past wars. Then farmers will come in for something over $2,000,000,000 in direct payments and government crop loans and price supports. Large sums will be paid to the old, the blind, and the unemployed. Finally, $5,800,000,000 will be paid out to foreign governments and for foreign-aid purchasing.

Item number two—$10,200,000,000—will go for salaries. It will go to 3,700,000,000 people, the number of civilians and military personnel now on the federal payroll. As the U. S. News points out, this does not include those who work indirectly for government, such as the men and women employed in plants producing materials for federal agencies.

Third is a $10,900,000,000 item for goods. This includes an enormous number of items, running all the way from airplanes and tanks to paper and ink.

Interest on the public debt will require the sum of $4,100,000,000. That will be a cash payment, and does not include the interest accruing on war bonds and saving bonds.

Services, such as printing, rent and utility bills, will cost the taxpayers $2,400,000,000. And something like $3,000,000,000 will be used for loans and investments.

The above items cover the major expenses of the government. Perhaps the most striking fact is the great increase in the number of individuals who now live off the Federal Treasury. To quote U.S. News again, "Ten years ago, when the New Deal was pouring out billions for direct and work relief, fewer than 20,000,000 persons were getting checks from public agencies. In the period that has followed, the make-work programs of government have disappeared. Prosperity has taken over. Personal incomes trebled. Yet, persons living on public dollars, in whole or in part, jumped 29 percent."

The implications of this can be argued indefinitely. But it indicates the reason for the uneasiness of those who wonder how much more government the country can stand.

Alfred Houser Honored For 48 Years Service

Fifty-seven management men of the Buckeye Steel Castings Company, 2211 Parsons Avenue, Columbus, honored retiring general quality supervisor, Alfred C. Houser, 70, 1027 Linwood, with a testimonial dinner at Mrs. Rout's Party House, 1114 East Broad St., Tuesday, December 27.

Houser's forty-eight years of continuous employment without missing a pay day is unequaled in Buckeye's long history, and, according to the plant's personnel department, his record can never be matched because the company's retirement plan now requires retirement at age 65.

Following a reception for Houser and his associates at 6:30 p.m., a dinner "A-la-Houser" was served, comprising all of his favorite dishes: jumbo shrimp cocktail, tossed salad, home style steak, baked potatoes, string beans, hot rolls, strawberry preserves, celery curls, rosebuds of radishes, carrot strips, olives, pickles, mincemeat pie, pumpkin and coffee.

Toastmaster, Frank L. Houck, foundry superintendent, conducted the program honoring the veteran Houser which consisted of congratulatory remarks offered by Will J. Bennett, secretary-treasurer of the company; remarks of appreciation by A. H. Thomas, chairman of the board; presentation of the tribute, Frank H. Bonnet, president and general manager; acknowledgement by the guest of honor, Alfred Conrad Houser; and a pictorial trip down memory lane recalling high spots in Buckeye's history since Houser was employed by the firm.

Born and schooled in Chillicothe, Ohio, Alfred Conrad Houser, at age 22, traveled to Columbus in search of a temporary job, after completing a correspondence course in mechanical drawing and engineering. He hired out at The Buckeye Malleable Iron and Coupler Company on November 18, 1901. In 1902 he was transferred from the old north plant on Russell Street to the firm's new South plant on its present site and began to work as a patternmaker, the job from which his father, Geo. Houser, retired after working for forty years in the Chillicothe shops of the B. & O. Railroad.

Houser witnessed the pouring of the first heat of steel at the new plant and more than 100,000 subsequent such heats. He was appointed assistant foreman of the pattern shop in 1904, and on June 12, 1914, became general foreman of the shop, a job he held for 26 years.

Shortly after becoming general foreman, Houser married Marguerite McCann. His two daughters, Geneal and Marilyn, are married and live in West Jefferson, Ohio, and Baltimore, Maryland, respectively.

He was promoted to the post of general quality supervisor on December 1, 1940, and will complete his 49 year service at Buckeye on December 31, 1949.

On one page of the blueprinted program prepared by testimonial dinner committeemen, Harry D. Glenn, chief inspector; Raymond G. Mangold, foundry general foreman; and Richard E. McClaine, core department general foreman, are these words: "We, your fellow associates of The Buckeye Steel Castings Company, congratulate you. All and give you our warmest best wishes on retirement after forty-eight years of continuous service. Those of us who have had the [illegible] association with you, and those who have joined you recently, have been helped by your sincere, efficient and friendly cooperation. We, your friends, delight to do you honor, and wish you all the satisfaction of a life of great usefulness, because you are so deserving."

Houser's fellow patternmakers presented him with an electric sander, and his other associates at the plant will give him an electric scroll saw, with which they hope he will complete a boat for his hunting and fishing expeditions that he has been talking about for many years.

In attendance at the dinner were: Belford M. Anders, Lee T. Assion, Will J. Bennett, Pearl Bennett, Wilbur L. Betz, Leo E. Boland, Frank H. Bonnet, Paul V. Crossier, Paul R. Carruthers, John O. Donahue, Walter R. Eckert, John W. Elder, Joseph A. Fisher, Russell A. Foust, John C. Friedlinghaus, son-in-law Robert E. Gibbs, West Jefferson attorney, Harry D. Glenn, Christian C. The Eleven Ages Of Man

By Nancy Michael, Director
Columbus Milk Council

We're not sure who originated this classification of man's food habits, but we're passing it on to you as our holiday thought.

After the age of green apples, hot dogs, caviar, and obesity, you can see they all turn back to MILK. How much more sensible to keep milk in the daily diet thru every age. At least three glasses a day is all that is required in the diet of man or women for the zip and zest demanded in the daily rounds.

WASHINGTON REPORT

BY SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

I HAVE just completed a trip through the State of Ohio lasting 13 weeks and covering 75 counties. I spoke three or four times in each county to public meetings and to non-partisan groups of farmers, businessmen, workmen, students, teachers, veterans and others. I asked for questions and discussions at the close of each talk and I obtained a fairly clear idea of how the people are thinking.

The greatest concern was shown about the size of the public debt and the spending policy of the government. Many questions related to the possibility and necessity of adopting the Hoover Report.

The spending of money in loans and gifts to foreign countries seems to be also their principal concern in the field of foreign affairs, except perhaps the danger of our past and present policy in China. My impression is that the people thoroughly approve of a vigorous policy against Communism, both in Europe and in China, but that they question the wisdom of gifts and loans to European countries to support that policy. At any rate, they hope that the necessity for such spending may rapidly come to an end.

There seems to be no questioning of the necessity of our maintaining adequate armed forces, particularly in the air, regardless of expense.

* * *

I HAVE talked to many workmen regarding the Taft-Hartley Law. I believe a substantial number of union members, and a much higher per cent of non-union workmen, approve the law today as in their interest. The rest have a prejudice against it, growing out of labor newspaper propaganda, but are unable to state what their objections are. I believe most of them are open to persuasion whenever they can be reached by argument. Nor do I think that workmen are by any means persuaded in favor of the socialistic, planned economy, "Handout State" principles, supported today by the C.I.O. and A.F. of L. leadership. This is no grassroots movement, but one imposed by the intellectual left-wingers employed by Mr. Green and Mr. Murray.

The program of price fixing and controlled business, of deficit spending and the nationalization of medical care and other services excites little support, and not as much interest as it should. I do not agree at all with those who fear that the workmen are inclined to vote for anyone who promises them free services from a Federal bureau.

So also with the farmers. The idea that the Ohio farmer can be bought by government handout seems to me a complete fallacy. His most definite thought is resistance to production controls by the Department of Agriculture, telling him how many acres of each crop he can plant, and how many hogs, sheep and cattle he can feed. I think he does feel that he is in a weak position compared to the average businessman and that some government assistance is needed to secure an equality of position, through support prices at some reasonable point below which he would suffer loss, and through government aid and advice in selling the products of a more efficient and abundant agriculture.

* * *

IN short, I do not detect any "slide toward socialism" among Ohio voters but rather a resentment against governmental control and taxation. The real danger is lack of interest. Washington is too far away and too many people feel helpless to determine policy. In the last election in Ohio more than one-third of those who might have voted failed to do so and I'm sure that they and many others did not realize the crucial issues between Liberty and Socialism, which will be finally determined by the votes cast for a President and Congress. The most encouraging factor in the situation was the great interest and intelligent questions asked by college students and high school students.

My own job and that of others concerned with the preservation of Liberty and the American system is to bring the issues directly and forcefully to the people. That is not an easy task and has not been well done in the past. Even when these issues are clearly stated, it is a difficult job to reach those who show little or no interest.

If the issue is presented, I have no doubt whatever that a great majority of the people will desire to go forward within the principles of American government, of Liberty and equal justice under law, under which we have made such extraordinary progress in the last 160 years, rather than discard that system for the regulations and government controls of any Handout State.

St. Catherine's Wedding Scene

St. Catherine's Church was decorated with white chrysanthemums for the wedding of Miss Betty Jeanne Shetler, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. John S. Shetler, 69 Bullitt Park Pl., and Mr. William H. Frank, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Frank, 87 Hanford St.

The ceremony took place Saturday, Nov. 26, at 10:30 a.m. with the Rev. Mr. Richard Andres officiating.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a heavy white slipper satin gown styled with an extended sweetheart neckline detailing the fitted basque bodice. The long tight sleeves tapered to points over each hand and were edged with heirloom lace. The graceful contour-peplum was inset with lace and encrusted with pearls accenting the smooth fitting waistline. The full folds of the skirt swept into a circular train. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was caught to her hair with a wide tiara fashioned of the same heirloom lace that detailed her dress.

Attending the bride were Mrs. James J. Lewis, matron of honor; Mrs. John H. Oesch, Youngstown, and Mrs. Paul Aukeman of Springfield, bridesmatrons; Miss Irene Frank, sister of the bridegroom, bridesmaid, and Kathlyn Aukeman of Springfield, flower girl. The flower girl wore a white organdy dress and carried a colonial bouquet.

The attendants wore identical gowns of ice blue slipper satin. They featured an unusual slanted plait treatment which detailed both the low necklines and the full skirts worn over hoops. They also wore satin mitts and bonnets and carried colonial bouquets.

Mr. Vincent Hermann was best man. Groomsmen were Mr. Paul Aukeman, Mr. Elgin Van Meter, of Delaware, and Mr. James D. Fitzgerald of Miami, Fla.

The bride's mother wore a winter rose crepe dress which she combined with a matching hat and white accessories. An orchid corsage was pinned at her shoulder.

The bridegroom's mother wore a powder blue crepe with chantilly lace bodice and a hat of black velvet and lace and an orchid corsage.

The reception was held at the Seneca Hotel.

Mrs. Frank is a graduate of Bexley High School and Ohio State University. She has been associated with Dr. Murrell Turton.

Mr. Frank is a graduate of Aquinas High School and Xavier University, Cincinnati. He is vice president and secretary of the Josephinum Church Furniture Company.

For her wedding trip to Florida, the bride changed to a melon wool crepe dress with a navy fitted chochilla and matching hat.

Franklin Co. Pupils Can Win Prizes In Tuberculosis Contest

Franklin County pupils, thru their school newspapers, will have an opportunity to win cash prizes totalling $90 in the annual school press project, aimed at educating young people about tuberculosis, according to an announcement this morning by Sally Bray, health educator for the Columbus Tuberculosis Society.

The nation-wide project is sponsored by the National Tuberculosis Association and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association but is directed locally by the Columbus Tuberculosis Society. It coincides with the Christmas Seal Sale which makes the work in tuberculosis control possible.

Entries will be submitted from contributions appearing in November and December issues of school papers throughout Franklin County on either of two subjects: "Our Community Program for Tuberculosis Control" or "How We Can Help Prevent Tuberculosis." Prizes are offered in each of three divisions—editorial, feature story and cartoon. They are: first prize, $15; second prize, $10; third prize, $5. Awards will be based on originality, accuracy of information and intelligent handling of the subject.

Winning entries, to be announced in late January, will be forwarded to the Ohio Tuberculosis and Health Association for state judging. Winners in the state competition will go to the National Tuberculosis Association to compete for national honors. A certificate of merit will be given each student who enters the project, and a copy of the cartoon book on tuberculosis, "Huber the Tuber," will be presented those who do not win cash awards.

Judges in Franklin County are James E. Pollard, Dean of the School of Journalism at Ohio State University; Katherine Sullivan, reporter for the Columbus Citizen; and Dr. Arnold B. Kurlander, Chief of the Division of Tuberculosis and Acting Chief of the Bureau of Local Services of the Ohio Department of Health.

Last Year's Winners

Winners in last year's contest were: Editorial, Mary Kay Yoakum, Rosary High School; Beth Hamilton, North High School; Nancy Edgar, South High School; Feature, Charles Duffey, St. Charles Preparatory School; Wolf Veith, Aquinas High School; Peggy Jones, North High School; Cartoon, Nanci Campbell, Grandview Heights High School; Nancy Growden, Hilliards High School; and Mary Catherine Calloway, St. Mary of the Springs.

Miss Joanne Nehr Is Bride Of Mr. Cavanaugh

St. John's Church was the setting Nov. 26 for the wedding of Miss Joanne Nehr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam E. Nehr, 763 Wager St, to Mr. Daniel B. Cavanaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Cavanaugh of Atwater, Ohio.

The Rev. Fr. Edmund Kiefer, uncle of the bride, performed the double-ring ceremony.

Escorted down the aisle by her father to an altar decorated with pompon chrysanthemums, the bride wore a gown fashioned of traditional white slipper satin, designed with a deep round chantilly lace yoke. Matching lace fashioned a deep bertha collar. The long tight sleeves tapered to points over her hands. The very full skirt extended into a wide circular train. A bonnet-shaped head-piece of the same chantilly lace as on her gown, held in place the fingertip veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of white shattered carnations and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Maid of honor, Miss Antoinnette Pancotto, was attired in a satin gown of a pale blue shade, designed with a heart-shaped neckline, cap sleeves, a fitted bodice and an extremely full skirt tiered with braids of self-cording matching mitts and sweetheart headpiece. She carried a colonial bouquet of red roses.

Little Charlene Luvisi was flower girl and was dressed in a gown of pink satin with matching sweetheart headpiece. Tiny pink rosebuds and white shattered carnations made up her colonial bouquet.

Mr. Eugene Cavanaugh was best man for his brother, and seating the guests were Mr. Duane Randall and Mr. Robert Wood.

A wedding breakfast for the wedding party and immediate family was held at Hoffman's Garden. In the evening a reception was held at the Woodman of the World hall. Hostesses were Miss Charlotte Cunningham, Miss Marjorie Ault and Miss Ann Schirtzinger.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Cavanaugh are residing at 763 Wager St.

TUBELESS TIRE "TAKES IT"

This picture demonstrates how the new puncture-sealing tubeless tire, now on sale in this area for the first time, can "take it" — and not breathe a sigh. In this destructive spike-board test one spike, underneath, has completely pierced the tire and another, right, is about half way through. But air does not leak out of the tire. A gummy inner layer of special rubber which "surrounds" the piercing objects, then closes the hole when they are withdrawn, gives the new tire its self-sealing ability.

TELEVISION - RADIO - HOLLYWOOD

By GEORGE LILLEY

RONALD COLMAN, it is generally conceded, is the most constant, most reliable of Hollywood actors. It is said that, in his 29 years of acting, he has never given a bad performance. The Academy Award winner, a rich tweedy dresser, is often called Hollywood's best carelessly dressed man. For the first time in his long career, Colman embarks (Jan. 6) upon a regular radio program of his own. "The Halls of Ivy," Friday nights, NBC, is a humorous insight into the campus life of "Dr. Wm. Todhunter Hall," a serious-minded college president, played by Colman. His wife, the former Benita Hume, co-stars as vivacious wife "Victoria," one-time English variety star.

ODD THINGS HAPPEN

As you may expect, some odd things happen back of the scenes of the famed Friday night NBC "We the People" radio-TV simulcast. A fellow wrote emcee Dan Seymour asserting that he could hypnotize a lobster and wanted to appear on the program, with the lobster, to prove it. A woman demanded an appearance because she said a small snake lived in her stomach. Nature Boy Eden Ahbez wandered off at broadcast time from Hollywood to Brooklyn. A process server nabbed one guest at show time. Hoaxes are tried and a couple of people have gotten as far as New York at the show's expense. But for a program that shoots high and wide for timely guests, Seymour thinks "the procedure is pretty smooth."

TV FAVORITE

The favorite television show in 14 cable connected cities is the NBC-TV Wednesday night "Television Theater." It is also the oldest one-hour TV dramatic program on the air. Its birth goes back to May 7, 1947. It was the first program to lure a major sponsor (the cheese company who long backed Bing Crosby) from the AM to the television waves. The program's dramatic bill varies from specialized TV originals to established favorites (Wuthering Heights, Berkeley Square). One week the size of the cast was two, the next week 28. The show rehearses each script for more than a week. Veteran video performers, like Valeria Cossart, sometimes find themselves studying the lines of two plays at once.

Very Little Things

Some writers search the phone directories for interesting names for their characters. Robert Shaw, writer on NBC Wed. night "Mr. District Attorney," subscribes to railroad timetables. His characters are named after small towns and whistle stops. ... Vivacious Lucille Ball, star of CBS' Fri. night "My Favorite Husband," looks forward to the daily 1-hour drive to and from her California ranch. Only time of the day, she says, she gets a chance to think. Irene Beasley, emcee of CBS' "Grand Slam" quiz, thinks she has a sure-fire cure for nervous contestants. She suggests knee-bending exercises. Says people can't be tense with the knees relaxed.
